Commissioners commend four employees

Owyhee County Commissioners commended four county employees for their quick response to a near disastrous flood that shut the courthouse down on Aug. 20.

Charlotte Sherburn, county payroll and auditor, Chris Collett, county recorder, and Mark Fuchs, county maintenance supervisor were given a letter of commendation from the commissioners last week for taking actions to prevent the destruction of important county documents and further damage to the courthouse facility.

"The Board takes this time to commend you on the accomplishment and recognizes your dedication to the betterment of Owyhee County," Commission Chairman Hal Tolmie read from the letter. "We thank you for your continued service to the people of Owyhee County and thank you for your dedication to this county."

Owyhee County Clerk Cindy Eaton said the total amount of damages caused when a water pipe broke and flooded the courthouse had not been tallied yet. She said the building had received damage to the tile in the restrooms and to the edging around the lobby floor. -CP

Council to decide fate of commissioner

The Homedale City Council will decide the fate of one of its own after the city's police commissioner was arrested last month for driving under the influence.

Homedale City Councilman and appointed police commissioner David Frelove was arrested on August 17 near Homedale. Mayor Harold Puri said Frelove has not been removed as police commissioner, "yet."

"He has not been removed as police commissioner yet; that is a council decision," Puri said after being asked if Frelove had been removed from his appointed position. "The council will discuss the appropriate measures to take during the next council meeting. It is not a decision I can make, it will be in the hands of the council."

A council meeting was scheduled for August 21, after Frelove's arrest, but was canceled due to not enough members present for a quorum. The next council meeting is scheduled for Sept. 11 in which Puri said the subject would be on the agenda.

Frelove was arrested by a county deputy near the Homedale Middle School at approximately 1:41 a.m. Saturday. He was issued a misdemeanor citation for driving under the influence and transported to an Owyhee County jail after he refused to submit to a field

Serial rapist sought in Southwest Idaho area

DNA links serial rapist to three-year-old crime

Officials from Oklahoma, Nevada, California and Arizona are searching for a serial rapist who could be on his way to the Southwest Idaho area.

James Allen Selby, 35, is wanted on nearly a dozen counts of sexual assault, one attempted murder and kidnapping charges in four states. People close to him say he may now be looking for his children and their mother who live in the Treasure Valley area.

Police in several states and in Idaho are cautioning that there is no solid information that Shelby is on his way here, but one family member is certain he is either in or on his way to the area.

"He is a destructive, psychotic pedophile and I know he will be searching for his kids," a close family friend who asked to remain nameless, reported last week. "He is a rapist and a kidnapper. The last time a family member had a run-in with him, the police had to be called because he tried to kidnap his two boys. We need to keep a close watch to make sure if he comes into this area, he is caught and jailed for a very long time."

The family friend said Selby is rumored to be coming to Idaho to find his children, two sons and a daughter, who have been separated from their father for many years.

Selby is wanted in four states in connection with many sexual assaults, kidnap, rape of a nine-year-old child and attempted murder.

He is charged with kidnapping and raping a young Norman, Oklahoma child. He's suspected of sexually assaulting a young girl in Sparks, Nevada. He is linked to at least three sexual assaults in San Diego, four sexual assaults and one attempted murder in Tucson, Arizona.

Last week, officers in Arizona posted flyers throughout the University of Arizona campus,

Silver Stars and Masons donate school supplies

Donated school supplies

Homedale Elementary School Counselor Leslie Parker joined Silver Star Chapter 83 Worthy Matron Tonya Garrison and Silver City Masonic Lodge 13 Worshipful Master Rick Holloway with 25 backpacks the Silver Star and the Masonic Lodge donated to the school for students.

Members of the Silver Star Chapter 83 and the Silver City Masonic Lodge 13 delivered 25 backpacks full of school supplies to Homedale Elementary School last week as part of an ongoing donation the groups plan to continue.

Nearly $600 was raised by the two organizations to purchase school supplies for a selected group of students in the local school and the groups plan to continue the project with shoes, coats, mittens and hats this winter.

“We plan to do this every year,” Masonic Lodge Worshipful Master Rick Holloway said Wednesday. “We hope to eventually cover four of the surrounding schools by helping them with school supplies for children who need them.”

Silver Star Worthy Matron Tonya Garrison said her chapter worked hard to collect the funds for the supplies, but the smiles received from the children who were given a backpack replaced any work the group did.

“It’s a wonderful feeling,” Garrison beamed. “To be able to help a child who may not have been able to get some of the supplies for one reason or another is worth any work to be able to provide it to them.”

“It is tough for parents,” Homedale Elementary School Counselor Leslie Parker said. “Parents work so hard to make ends meet. With everything parents have to buy the kids for school, if you have more than one child, it gets very expensive.

“We want to thank the members of the Silver Star and the Mason’s for their donation. I know many families will be grateful for the assistance.” -CP

School district works with city to solve irrigation woes

Residents on California Avenue in Homedale will be able to rest a little easier now after the Homedale School District and the City of Homedale worked together to purchase a "Big Gun" irrigation sprinkler for the local elementary school.

For more than a year, residents in the neighborhood of the school have been fighting flooded basements when the school district would irrigate the west end of the school grounds.

Lisonbee said recently children in the area turned on the flood irrigation at the school grounds and flooded three homes in the area. He said the problem had been ongoing, but he hoped now with the new system the problem would be taken care of.

"We haven't turned the water on down there for most of the summer, which you can see in the grass down there," Lisonbee explained. "We have been wetting the south end, but we haven't been irrigating most of the summer."

Lisonbee said the school district and the city split the cost of the new system because it was unsure whose responsibility it was to take care of the flooding.

"The problem is in the western section of the lawn at the elementary school," Lisonbee said. "What they (city) have been telling us is every time previously that we irrigate the water has to back up on the whole field and three days later it will flood neighborhood homes."

The total installation cost the city and the district approximately $6,000. The new sprinkler was installed last week and Lisonbee said the gun is removed from the area to allow local soccer teams to use the field. He said the district is still considering installing a fence, which they have considered for several years. - CP

Flooding solution

A new "Big Gun" sprinkler was installed at the Homedale Elementary School last week to attempt to cure problems of flooded homes after the school irrigates. The school district and the City of Homedale jointly purchased the sprinkler.

Owyhee County Sheriff Gary Aman said when a person refuses a field sobriety test they automatically loose their license for up to 180 days. He said the accused then must file for a hearing to show cause as to why they refused the test in which Freelove had done.

Freelove was issued a temporary license for seven days and will be able to drive on a temporary license until his hearing later this month.

Freelove is scheduled for arraignment on Sept. 9. -CP warning students that Selby could be nearby, but now Arizona officials say Selby may have left the state and their best lead takes them to Southwest Idaho.

Reports from Cleveland County Oklahoma Sheriff's Office show that a DNA match has connected Selby to the kidnapping and rape of the young Oklahoma girl in September 1999 and to several other cases in Nevada, California and Arizona. The family friend said the DNA testing matched up to Selby a short two weeks ago and law enforcement officers have been searching for him since.

"I want to repeat that it is not confirmed that he is on his way to Idaho, but I know that he is," the friend continued. "He has always been obsessed with two of his children. It is rumored he has made the statement and I believe he will be coming for them."

Selby is 35 years old, 5 foot, nine inches and 160-180 pounds. He is a prior military veteran and has a tattoo of a skull with a cowboy hat and kerchief on his right upper arm and the name "Robin" on his right arm. He has spent time in prisons in Georgia, Alabama, Oklahoma, Nevada, California, Arizona, Florida, Idaho and Colorado. He was previously employed as a maintenance man and a tow truck driver. He reportedly is known to frequent homeless shelters and utilize services provided for the homeless.

Local law enforcement said Selby is considered highly dangerous and should not be approached. If he is seen, please call 911 or local law enforcement agencies. -CP

4-H news

The sale will take place at 18 East Idaho Avenue and the club is still accepting donated items.

The club would like to extend a sincere thank you to everyone for their continued generous support of the 4-H program at the Owyhee County Fair.

Silver City open house planned

The "Queen" of Idaho's ghost towns once again will host the annual Silver City open house from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, September 14-15.

Ten buildings will be open to the public for tours. Tickets will be available for $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Ticket sales will be by donation from 12 p.m. until 4 p.m. both days.

The annual event is held to help raise funds for a full-time watchman to protect the existing buildings from vandalism and fire. The watchman is paid on a voluntarily basis by the homeowners of Silver City.

Two roads are open for public travel to the tiny historic town. The Murphy/Silver City road off of Highway 48 is 23 miles of good gravel road. The Jordan Valley road is on Highway 95 and is a well-maintained road to DeLamar. Then it is eight miles of single lane dirt.

Silver City was the county seat of Owyhee County and was one of the first cities in Idaho to have electricity, and was the first to have a daily newspaper. The town survived several "boom" and "bust" years but lost the bulk of its population during World War II. During the war many of the buildings were torn down for the materials. By then the county seat had been moved to Murphy.

All the buildings in Silver City are privately owned, many by the descendants of the original families. Silver City is not an abandoned town and function coordinators ask the public to respect private property by not trespassing.

The town has limited food service, snacks and drinks at the Idaho Hotel and coordinators said prior reservations are wise. Pat Nettleton's Pat's What Not Shop will be open and has many gifts and souvenirs. Public restrooms are available.

MSD bond election to be held Sept. 19

by Cheryl Peterson

The Marsing School District will ask voters for nearly $2 million in a bond election this month. The good news, the district says, is that a senate bill passed in 2002 legislature will help offset the interest costs by nearly 76 percent.

The district says it needs the funds to add five classrooms and build a new kitchen facility. The election will be held Sept. 19 from 12 p.m. until 9 p.m. a time which Superintendent Ron Hopkins said will give the district first priority on receiving funds from senate bill S1474 over school districts who wait to hold elections in October or later months.

The 2002 legislature passed S1474 that provides substantial state financial assistance to pay a portion of the bond interest, if the School District passes a bond issue after Sept. 15.

“So our election was scheduled during the first allowable week in order to qualify for this funding source,” Hopkins said last week.

The total bond principle is $1,985,000 and includes all construction, site development, furnishings, kitchen equipment, landscaping and several plant projects. Hopkins said the bond will amortize over 16 years or less, which in today’s market will ensure a very competitive interest rate.

“The total interest cost is estimated to be $1,238,082 of which the Marsing School District currently qualifies to receive $934,694 from the State,” Hopkins explained. “This will offset the interest payments by about 76 percent. State funding is anticipated to pay all but $303,388 of the interest cost thereby providing an opportunity for an extremely low financing cost for District taxpayers.

“If we combine the bond principal and interest, the State will be paying 29 percent of the total bond dept for us, if this levy is successful on Sept. 19.”

The centerpiece project of the bond election is a free standing food service building. The district says there is evident need for the facility since the current kitchen is in “dire” need of extensive equipment replacement and remodeling to modernize the building.

The proposed kitchen and lunchroom would be a freestanding building located in the open ground between the elementary school and the high school. Use of the old kitchen would be eliminated and it would be turned into storage. The lunchroom would be fitted with gym carpet, basketball backboards, and would be utilized for elementary physical education and youth basketball programs.

The district’s kitchen currently serves nearly 628 students every day with breakfast and lunch. Unlike most schools, the district only has a single kitchen to service three schools. Hopkins said the current kitchen was built between 1953 and 1960. He said the existing lunchroom allows 16 tables to be set up to seat 210 students per serving. The new lunchroom will be capable of allowing 24 tables and allowing 312 secondary students or 384 elementary students to eat at the same time. The increase will allow the district to shorten the serving time by one third. The school employs two full time and four part-time cooks.

Hopkins said the district currently is in violation of 30 UBC codes, as sited by the various codes officials. He said this includes electrical, mechanical, drainage, pressure and several others.

“Right now we have to send our students to the high school for physical education,” Hopkins said. “It breaks my heart everyday to see those little children walking to the high school in the rain and snow. With this bond, we will be able to turn the cafeteria into a gym and hold classes there so the kids will not have to leave the school in the bad weather.”

The new levy will increase a property owner’s taxes by an estimated 14 cents per $1,000 or taxable assessed market value. A $95,000 Marsing home, including the homeowners’ exemption, amounts to an additional cost of $8.33 per year.

The bond will require a 66 and two-thirds approval rate to pass. A levy election held in February was defeated by voters when it received a 64 percent approval from those who cast ballots. Of the 420 votes cast in that election, 269 voted yes to the bond, but it was not enough to override the 151 who said no to the levy.

Voters most recently approved a $2.65 million school bond in April, 1998 for multiple classroom additions to the elementary school, a multi-purpose/physical education facility for the elementary and middle school and a new vocational agriculture shop.

In 1993, voters approved a $1.65 million bond election for the purpose of refinancing outstanding bonds at a lower interest.

An informational meeting will be held at the elementary multi-purpose room from 8-9 p.m. on Sept. 11. Mary Blackstock, Food Service Supervisor, will conduct tours following the public meeting.

From the past

Bob Richcreek, a 1954 projectionist for Homedale’s “Rosalind” Theatre brought in this 1955 photograph of the establishment which used to be in the building currently occupied by Paul’s Markets main office. Richcreek said the owners, Bill and Rose Wegman closed the theatre in 1955 before it became a grocery store. He said that in 1955 it cost 50 cents for adults and nine cents for children to watch a movie. He said the theatre was open seven days a week and had matinees on Saturday and Sunday.

The family of Frank Elam Trotter will gather on Sept. 7 and 8 for a dedication ceremony and the presentation of a headstone on the grave of Trotter whose life as a local journalist and politician ended in a duel with Theodore Nye, a local banker and postmaster.

Nye was arrested, but later released when a court ruled the shooting as self-defense. Trotter died in his home, the day after the shooting, from a gunshot wound to his stomach.

Trotter’s great grandson Richard Moore said the dedication of the headstone will be held on Sunday at 11 a.m. at Canyon Hill Cemetery in Caldwell. After the dedication, a potluck dinner is planned.

Trotter began his journalism career in Owyhee County in Silver City as the editor of The Owyhee Avalanche. He later relocated to Homedale and began the Homedale Empire Press. The Press’ first edition was published on Feb. 14, 1917. He was owner, publisher and editor until his death in 1920.

Trotter was also the postmaster of Homedale and was elected to the 13th session of the Idaho House of Representatives. He represented Owyhee County on the Republican ticket.

During his time in office he had several bills passed for water works projects for the county. He was responsible for fund appropriation to build the first bridge over the Snake River between Canyon and Owyhee Counties.

During the dedication and dance of the Snake River Bridge, Trotter, was shot several times and wounded Nye, but it is reported that when his gun jammed, Nye shot him twice. The cause of the shooting was not released. -CP

ICA plans water quality workshop in Grand View

The Idaho Cattle Association will present the Environmental Enhancement Program at workshops to be held in September in Grand View, Blackfoot and Weiser.

Environmental Enhancement Program Workshops will provide beef producers with information regarding federal and state regulations for Animal Feeding Operations (AFOs) and Concentrated Animal Feeding Operations (CAFOs). Topics will include wastewater storage and containment facilities, nutrient management plans, cost-share assistance and reviewing of your own operations. Experts on these topics will be present from the Idaho State Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Commission, U of I Extension Service and Natural Resource Conservation Service.

The Environmental Toolkit will be provided to all workshop participants. The toolkit provides an easy reference for producer questions concerning regulations and serves as a convenient resource for where to get technical and financial assistance.

The Grand View workshop will be held on Sept. 19 at the Grand View Senior Center at 6 p.m. Dinner will be provided free of charge. Those attending will need to make a reservation with the Bruneau Soil Conservation District at 845-2299.

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

HILTON HEAD, S.C. -- A doctor believes that a natural formula containing the extract of a small Asian fruit can help cause significant weight loss.

Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported in an American Medical Journal that the formula, now called Bio-Rex 3000®, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as those in a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition says that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Dr. Conte says that animal studies suggest the mechanism behind the weight reduction is due to interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. He says it may work the same way in humans. According to Dr. Conte, "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a dietary food supplement. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Rex 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

Suggested retail price for a four week supply of Bio-Rex is just $19.99. Available through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446. www.hcdsales.com

Practice, practice, practice

Homedale Trojan Varsity volleyball coach Kevin Murphy shows his varsity team what it takes to be a winning volleyball team. The team hit the courts in a match against Pama yesterday, but results were unavailable at press time.

Lady Trojans:
Experience at the net

Homedale will show skill and experience on its volleyball team this year with six returning senior players, one returning junior and one returning sophomore behind the net. Senior players Erica Miyasako, and Christine Tiddens will join junior Christine Truesdell on the varsity team this year, having played on the junior varsity team last year.

Kelsi Haylett, Jenni Silveria, Jennifer Anzaldua, Taci Morris, Alysa Gluch and Michele Gibbens will be the eight returning seniors and they will be backed up by juniors Karianne Vanderhoff, and sophomore Kim Silveria.

Homedale was listed with the Idaho Athletic Association as the number two-ranked team last year winning the conference title, but losing in the district tournament. They went on to compete in the state tournament and won its first game against Prairie. But number one ranked Ririe came out in a second game showdown with the Trojans and beat the team 2-0. Homedale bounced back and still attempted a trip for the state playoff by beating Orofino, 2-0, but was stopped by Grace with a 0-2 loss.

Homedale varsity coach Kevin Murphy said he hopes he has a competitive team this year and predicted the team to beat would be the Nampa Christian Trojans.

Homedale's last state title was in 1980 under the direction of Sharon Frost.

Homedale will travel to meet the Marsing Huskies on Thursday at 5 p.m. On Sept. 7, they will participate in the team's first varsity tournament of the season. The time of the game has not been released and the tournament will be held in Twin Falls. Also on Sept. 7, the junior varsity team will travel to Weiser for an 8:30 a.m. serve.

On Sept. 10 the team's first home game will be held on the Homedale court with a tri-match beginning at 5 p.m. -CP

Weiser overpowers Trojans in season opener

Returns opening kickoff 92 yards for opening TD

Weiser's Cory Youngberg returned the opening kickoff 92 yards as the Wolverines were able to come out of Homedale with a 16-6 non-conference victory Friday night at Deward Bell Stadium in Homedale.

Youngberg grabbed the kickoff at the eight, weaved through traffic along the Trojan sideline and scampered the distance for six points. That would be all the scoring for both teams in the first half.

A strong Trojan defensive effort in the first half kept the Wolverines scoring to just the kick off return. Weiser drove down to Homedale's six yard line in the first quarter and then had a first and goal from the six again after recovering a Homedale fumble, but were unable to reach the goal.

In the second quarter, a 15-play drive by Weiser reached the 15-yard line, but Trojan defense held and forced a missed field goal.

Homedale (0-1 overall) finally got on the board when Trojan quarterback Matt Naumann found Cole Cooper on a 10-yard pass. The key play, in the 73-yard drive, was Brandon Hawthorn's 38-yard run, to set up the score. The extra point was blocked by Youngberg to preserve the Weiser (1-0) lead. Hawthorn led Homedale with 108 yards on 14 carries.

Weiser responded with a long drive, helped by a roughing the passer penalty on Homedale, and extended its lead to 10-6 on a 32-yard field goal by Brock Drake. Drake ends the game with a 58-yard burst with just over a minute left in the game. The Weiser senior led the way with 144 yards on 24 carries and the touchdown.

Homedale could not mount another serious scoring threat again until Weiser took a 16-6 lead on a 58-yard burst by Drake with 1:16 left to play.

Homedale drove down to Weiser's five-yard line in the last minute and looked like it was going to close the gap, but then fumbled and Weiser killed the clock.

Neither team played error-free, as Homedale committed four turnovers and Weiser was flagged for seven penalties. Homedale out gained Weiser 238-227.

Homedale will travel to Middleton to face the Vikings on Friday. Kick off is at 7 p.m.

Owyhee airports discussed

The need for additional landing strips in Owyhee county was voiced Tuesday night at a meeting of the Homedale Chamber of Commerce, when Chet Moulton, State Director of Aeronautics, spoke at the dinner meeting.

Moulton said that Owyhee county needed several strips for landing in the back country, where winter conditions made air travel the only method of transportation. He said that the Primitive Area of Idaho is “twenty times more accessible than Owyhee county.”

In his talk, Moulton listed the towns in Idaho which were yet without airport facilities, and two of the eight communities named were Owyhee county towns, Homedale and Marsing. Moulton urged the chamber members to endeavor to build an airstrip or airport as close to town as possible in order to get in on the growth of air transportation.

Teacher staff full at local schools

School will open in Homedale Monday morning with a full staff of teachers ready to begin the 1952-53 term. Mr. James A. Goller was hired this week to complete the staff of the schools. He will teach junior high school physical education and other subjects in the eighth grade.

FIRE MEETING. – We are requested to announce that a meeting will be held at 7 o’clock to-night at the Golden Chariot Saloon for the purpose of organizing a Fire Company and transacting other business connected therewith. There is already some money on hand for the benefit of a Fire Company – turn out to-night and let us see what can be done.

SOMETHING NEW – The Elastic Sponge Mattress, a new invention for all upholstery purposes and said to be superior to feathers, hair or pulu, has been introduced at Taylor’s new Lodging House, and elicits much commendation from his patrons. Mr. Cole, of Silver City, has purchased the sole right to manufacture and vend this new material in Idaho Territory, to whom parties wishing an excellent outfit in the bed line, are referred.

The Pickens and Edwards tunnel at Cottonwood is now in on the ledge 70 feet, where the vein is three feet wide and shows exceedingly rich in silver. The boys are highly elated and believe they have their fortune in sight. There are other valuable ledges at Cottonwood among which is the Cloud, owned by Prescott and Co., with considerable work done on it and affording encouraging prospects.

GEO. MERRITT informs the public by means of an advertisement in our columns to-day that he has his new Restaurant ready for those who want good fare, got up in a superior style. We have been acquainted with George a long time and know that his motto is “what is worth doing at all is worth doing well.”

TAXATION OF CAPITAL STOCK. – At the recent session of the Board of Equalization, Capital Stock was declared not taxable which accounts for the assessments being reduced just so much as the Stock amounted to.

***

FROM THE FORKS. – The following note received after having gone to press last week, will be found of interest to the public generally. We would say to friend Smith that we should rather dig roots than partake of the myriads of grasshoppers.

Forks of the Owyhee, Aug. 19

EDS. AVALANCHE. – We have found a splendid route across the South Fork at Warm Springs and can adapt any grade on it we choose. This is a better route than any found heretofore. Yesterday we made over a mile of road between the Forks. Have a strong force of men at work and hope to have the road opened and the travel on it at an early day. Mr. Hite started to Paradise valley yesterday morning to set men to work on the other end of the route. Nights cold and days very warm. Myriads of grasshoppers. Better for soup than crickets. Come out and try some.

Yours, Smith.

STAGE TIME CHANGED. – Bill Beachy now has arranged matters so that passengers either for Boise or California, do not now lay over here nights. The stage for Humboldt leaves here immediately upon the arrival of Boise stage – at present about six o’clock in the morning. The Boise stage leaves here upon the arrival of the Humboldt generally a little before dark. The time from here to Sacramento is now made inside of three days.

***

COL. DAVIS, who has been engaged in surveying the route for the Idaho Central Road Co’s road, informs us that work has already commenced on this end of the road. The Company possess abundant means and with such men as Mr. Walbridge and Col. Preston to manage the enterprise, the road will doubtless be ready for travel early next Summer.

Full disclosure to
Marsing City otters

Donald D. Osterhoudt
Marsing City Councilman

RE: James E. Thomas Letter to Editor dated 8-28-02

I, Donald D. Osterhoudt duly elected member of the Marsing City Council made the motion to not accept the proposal of ION for the much bandied “Free Well” they were offering Marsing for the following reasons. If after reading the information below you feel a recall is in order, and the present City Council is not acting in your best interest, be my guest.

The former City Council spent approximately $7,000.00 of your money out of General funds to pay drilling costs of the “Free” well. That means there was no budget provision for this expenditure.

They had in principle agreed to reimburse ION $15,000.00 for a well house built to DEQ specifications, and spend up to an additional $14,000.00 for a water purification system. At the meeting I asked why ION’s contract did not contain any language regarding costs of the system over and above the $14,000.00 and was told out of the blue that $14,000.00 was a number obtained 2 years ago on a used system not currently available, and a new system would in fact cost $25,000.00

ION’s contract proposal called for them to deliver water to the city limits. The original written proposal called for delivery of water to the nearest like compatible source, i.e. 8” main line. Mr. Wallen insisted this provision was non-negotiable. Interestingly enough it seems with ION on the north side of US 55 and the nearest 8” main hookup on the south side of the road an underbore of the state highway would have to be made, and this cost estimated by the city engineer at $21,000.00 plus additional hookup costs would have increased Marsing’s cost by a total estimated $31,000.00

As part of the original proposal agreement by the former Council, ION would have received 2 years of free water and sewer privileges or until an unspecified “pumps” amount was paid for.

Let’s see how this adds up. $7,000.00, $15,000.00, $25,000.00, $31,000.00 and for guesstimate consideration for another $20,000.00 in water and sewer. In my mind that works out to $98,000.00 for a “Free Well.” Let’s also explore the deep pockets of the City of Marsing voters as to the source of this repayment. I see no “bond election” proposal by the former Council to allow voters to decide if this was a good deal. Rather I see city council (myself included) budgeting this year an additional $40,000.00 in 2003 budget to cover potential commitments made by the previous council in this well development. We budgeted $40,000.00 and total hard costs now running $71,000.00 and WE HAVE NO AUTHORITY TO PAY ANY AMOUNT OVER $40,000.00.

In addition, the city engineer has repeatedly stated this is not a good deal for the city, the city attorney advises we have no way to annex, therefore have limited authority over the proposed site since we are governed by 2 different agencies (city vs. county) and City of Marsing will bear full legal responsibility for any problems or DEQ violations.

The final point I wish to make is that signing the contract means the pipe runs both ways. In the event the well had ever become contaminated as some of the wells on the Canyon County side have done, the City of Marsing has agreed to eternally deliver water to the ION regardless of their ability to generate water at their site.

Mr. Thomas makes a good point regarding involvement by voters to become informed as to the actions of their city council members. I am not anti growth, in fact I wish only the best for ION’s independent development. Nor do I feel I have a blanket over my head in regards to proper conduct of the city’s business. In my mind and with the reasons stated above a non approval vote was not only proper it was the only option. The voters of Marsing put me in office, and the voters can take me out.

Rope confusion

Fred called confused. He’s one of those good team ropers always on the lookout for an edge. He selects his ropes the way the Pope selects a tiara. He believes the endorsements of the pros, and scrutinizes each catchy name and advertising slogan. But there are so many, he doesn’t know which to believe;

Speedster Ropes, “packed full of body, extremely fast,” endorsed by Speed Williams.

Walt Woodard’s Rattler Xcel - “Laser balanced, nothing comes close.” “Hit the mark - Bullseye Ropes” with Joe Beaver.

Does this mean Classic also makes ropes for slower ropers? i.e., “Too fast? Switch to Classics new Snail 2 and add seconds to your time!”

Sometimes the slogans excite Fred: “Calloway Ropes - When your times count - count on us.”

So, if you drew a bad heeler you could just use an old rope?

“Bury your competition with the Undertaker!”

Or just bury your rope and save the money

“The Equalizer, not just another green rope!”

For a guy that’s been a 2 for seventeen years this doesn’t offer much hope.

“The best choose the best! It’s Fast Back time!”

Whew, that takes the pressure off for those of us who are 2nd best!

™Catch the fever! This rope is on fire! Use NRS

Ropes.

As if you haven’t peeled enough hide off your fingers already.

•Ride the wave with Coastal Ropes!•

So if you didn’t catch the fever you can at least count on getting seasick.

Rope names ring in Fred’s head - Grabber, Paycheck, Hammer, Pure Smoke, Stryker, Red Eye, Baby Rainbow, Money Maker, Gold, Platinum, Avenger, Predator, Magnet, Rebel, Bad Boy!

Fred’s obsession to roping excellence has been driving us all crazy. At the request of his wife, I’ve had him in counseling for several weeks trying to convince him to lighten up. I presented an estimate of his last 20 years roping balance sheet, i.e., the cost of trailers, duallys, horses, hay, self-help tapes, ropes, tack, Valium, Maalox, beer, barns, Bufords, diesel, dummies, shoulder surgery, Ben-Gay, and entry fees...vs. winnings.

I showed him for the same money he could have bought American Airlines and still had enough left over to build a wing on his doublewide. None of my logic dissuaded him.

Don’t take it so seriously, I told him, enjoy it. He said that doesn’t make any sense. He’d never seen a single rope ad that promised to make roping fun.

What happened?

We hope you have an answer to our question. “What happened to our Homedale Rodeo?”

We commented on the entrance to the Fair area. Looked real good. Chirizos were excellent as was the home made pie. But the lights in the arena needed help as did the P. A. system and the announcer. The first event left you coughing from all the dust. A clown should be colorful and funny – nothing great there.

We’ve gone to the Homedale Rodeo since the Frank Matteson times – an outdoor rodeo, with hometown contestants – truly western with all the fans, your neighbors, cheering for their favorite contestant.

What’s happened? I hope you can do some “first aid” here, cuz this was a “good thing.” Don’t let it die. This year’s performance could not rate a “good”. In fact, it was the worst one we’d seen in Homedale.

Every vote counts

by John Thompson
Director of Information

About one of every three registered voters in Idaho went to the polls during primary elections last May. In the 2000 presidential election a little over half of the registered voters in Idaho participated, slightly better than the national average. Nationwide in 2000 there were 205.8 million people in the voting age population. Yet only 105.5 million of them went to the polls in what turned out to be one of the most hotly contested presidential races in a long time.

For those in the voting age population wondering if your vote can really make a difference, ask Al Gore.

Just one vote can and often does make a difference in the outcome of an election. Here are some recent examples provided by the Federal Election Commission of real elections decided by one vote:

*In 1997, Vermont State representative Sydney Nixon was seated as an apparent one-vote winner, 570 to 569. Mr. Nixon resigned when the State House determined, after a recount, that he had actually lost to his opponent Robert Emond 572 to 571.

*In 1989, a Lansing, Michigan School District mill levy proposition failed when the final recount produced a tie vote 5,147 for, and 5,147 against. On the original vote count, votes against the proposition were ten more than those in favor. The result meant that the school district had to reduce its budget by $2.5 million.

*In 1994, Republican Randall Luthi and Independent Larry Call tied for a seat in the Wyoming House of Representatives from the Jackson Hole area with 1,941 votes each. A recount produced the same result. Mr. Luthi was finally declared the winner when, in a drawing before the State Canvassing Board, a ping pong ball bearing his name was pulled from the cowboy hat of Democratic Governor Mike Sullivan.

*In 1997, South Dakota Democrat John McIntyre led Republican Hal Wick 4,195 to 4,191 for the second seat in Legislative District 12 on election night. A subsequent recount showed Wick the winner at 4,192 to 4,191. The State Supreme Court however, ruled that one ballot counted for Wick was invalid due to an over-vote. This left the race a tie. After hearing arguments from both sides, the State Legislature voted to seat wick 46 to 20.

Six-month subscriber

I have only been a subscriber for about six months but have been pleased with your willingness to openly criticize organizations and government bureaucracies that seem to be trying to drive the western cattlemen off the BLM and Forest Service grazing lands which they have been used and managed for, in some cases, more than one hundred years, to the great benefit, by the way, of our over-all economy.

Your subscriber list for the most part must be made of ranchers, farmers, and agriculturally related businesses who are vitally affected by the so-called “War on the West,” so popular in the nation’s liberal news media.

With the departure of Bob Boatman, I have noticed a definite change in the content of your editorial pages. Although you continue to print columns that express some distrust of “Big Government”, you have eliminated any direct criticism of the BLM. I hope this is not the result of behind the scenes pressure and veiled threats by either government agencies (IRS, BLM, UFS, EPA, OSHA, ad infinitum ad nauseum,) or pressure from the many private groups that seem to think that we can better survive by knuckling under to “Big Brother”.

Whatever the reason for the change, I miss your paper’s colorful revelations on the latest outrages perpetrated by the BLM. I hope to see a return of your previous aggressiveness.

Facing the WMD threat-finally

by Notra Trulock

President George W. Bush has announced a new approach to defeat those who try to acquire the ultimate weapons of mass destruction (WMD)-chemical, biological and nuclear warheads. No longer will the United States wait for arms control schemes to fail, wait for efforts to “buy” compliance with international obligations to fail, wait until rogue states or terrorist organizations complete their preparations to use these weapons against us or our allies, or wait until a thug like Saddam Hussein has his “finger on the trigger.” Bush is right to conclude that the WMD threat is without precedent, and old policies, like deterrence and containment, are irrelevant when confronted with the likes of Saddam or Osama bin Laden. We must be willing and ready to use military force to “preempt” states intent on employing these weapons or sharing them with the likes of al Qaeda.

Not surprisingly, this more muscular policy has made some “opinion makers” queasy. The New York Times’ opposition to war on Iraq becomes more pronounced daily. So its editors must have been delighted to hear “leading Republicans,” like former National Security Adviser Brent Scowcroft and Senators Chuck Hagel and Richard Lugar urging caution and prudence on the White House. The Democrats have wisely gone silent, content to let these establishment Republicans make their case for inaction on Iraq.

“Our European allies aren’t on board.” “War on Iraq would destabilize the Middle East.” “Our Arab friends wouldn’t understand taking on Iraq before we have settled the Israeli-Palestinian conflict,” and on and on. The most fatuous reason: “we should give United Nations’ inspections just one more chance.” Let Saddam know that this is his last opportunity to comply with UN resolutions to destroy, remove or render harmless Iraq’s WMD, really. These foreign policy “experts” must have been living in a cave for the past ten years. Why would Saddam cease his shell games to hide his WMD capabilities, when his policies of obstructionism have worked so well. Thanks in no small measure to our “allies,” the Russians and the French.

The history of those inspections should give “the experts” pause. Before the Gulf War, we didn’t know that Iraq was only about six months away from producing a crude nuclear device, according to Richard Butler, the last chief of the UN inspection team. We didn’t learn until 1995 that Iraq had produced VX, one of the deadliest chemical warfare agents, or until 1998 that it had “weaponized” VX. We didn’t know that Iraq had filled warheads with anthrax. We still don’t know what happened to several tons of SCUD missile propellant and, beyond its admissions about anthrax, Iraq’s biological weapons program is a “black hole.”

The CIA believes that Saddam has used the four years since inspectors were kicked out of Iraq to reconstitute his chemical weapons program. Contrary to his UN obligations, Saddam has continued to develop the means of delivery for these weapons, including converting a jet trainer, the L-29, to an unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV). We didn’t know that Saddam had 1,800 scientists and engineers working in his nuclear program. Now we don’t know whether he has managed to procure nuclear materials from Russia. Pleas to give inspections just one more chance seem almost feckless.

A fallback for Senator Lugar and others is to claim that the President hasn’t yet “made his case to the American people.” The herd mentality of the national media has picked up this refrain and repeated it endlessly. Maybe they haven’t been paying attention. The President’s speech at West Point in June laid out a radically new and different approach to confronting the threat of terrorism and WMD. After a decade of the “let’s pretend” policies of Clinton, this President has acknowledged the hard reality of coping with these threats: “We cannot defend America and our friends by hoping for the best.” He went on to say, “If we wait for threats to fully materialize, then we have waited too long.” Vice President Cheney, National Security Adviser Rice, and Defense Secretary Rumsfeld have all contributed to “making the case.” The main problem seems to be, as William Kristol has said, Bush’s opponents just don’t like the case.

We have already tried “hoping for the best.” Bill Clinton tried all the usual arms control approaches to stopping proliferation. He even resorted to pinprick cruise missile attacks on suspected Iraqi WMD facilities in Operation Desert Fox. That approach failed utterly and left the threat much greater than before.
