Commissioners to repeal ordinance, hold hearing on solid waste fees

The Owyhee County Commissioners have stated they plan to repeal an ordinance which they adopted last month, increasing solid waste fees. The annual fees, which doubled the previous charge, were to be set at $40 per household and $80 per commercial unit.

Any time a fee increase proposal is made by a government entity which would exceed 105% of the amount of the fee last collected, it first must hold a hearing upon such proposed fee increase after it gives public notice of the hearing.

A notice of hearing is published in this issue of the Avalanche, which states "This proposed increase is deemed necessary by the increasing costs for operating the system. Since 1987, the increasing costs have been met mainly by property tax revenues.

While that main reliance on the property tax will still exist, the increase will distribute more of the cost to the users."

The hearing will be held Tuesday, Oct. 14 at 10 a.m. in the magistrate room of the courthouse at Murphy. Anyone interested in commenting or to hear the explanation of the proposal may attend.

Local girl hit in eye by paint-ball shootist

A homecoming prank has left a Homedale teen with severe eye damage and several young men possibly facing criminal charges.

Hailee Garrett, 15, daughter of Randee and Gregg Garrett of Homedale, received severe damage to her right eye when she was shot in the face with a paintball.

Aloha in the Owyhees celebration in Murphy Saturday

The community of Murphy will come to life Saturday night with Hawaiian dancers, authentic cuisine and historic speakers in a fundraiser for the Owyhee County Historical Museum.

"Aloha in the Owyhees" will be held in Murphy Saturday evening to celebrate and raise funds for a 6,000 foot addition to the Owyhee County Historical Museum.

Coordinator Debra Lindner said last week that special speakers will be attending the event including Sara Edlin-Marlowe from the Idaho Humanities Council Speakers Bureau. She will perform the "Six Women of the Hawaiian Monarchy."

"What we are doing is making a connection between Owyhee and Hawaii," Lindner said. "That is what we have decided to celebrate. We hope that it will be an annual function."

As a graduate student at the University of Hawaii, Edlin-Marlowe worked to document the strong women of the Hawaiian Monarchy. She will perform at 5 p.m. Saturday evening.

At 5:30, a half hour presentation of the capital campaign will be given followed by the luau with authentic native Hui O Aloha Hawaiian dancers. The dancers will be accompanied by the Keki dancers.

The luau will consist of roast pig and follow the Hawaiian tradition by being roasted in the ground with lettuce leaves. Teriyaki chicken, rice, tossed salad, fruit and dessert will also be served.

Museum expansion plans

The charge for the evening of entertainment will be $25 per person. Pre festivities will begin at 4 p.m.

Lindner said the addition will give 14 additional rooms to the complex with a multipurpose room with kitchen facilities for banquets and family gatherings. It will have a library, shop, artifact storage area, two vaults, gift shop and an office for the director.

"It will be a fantastic addition to this community," Lindner said. "People will be able to rent the room for functions. There is no place around this area where people can have large functions, family reunions or meetings that a large number of people can attend."

The name Owyhee comes from early fur trappers. In 1819, three natives from Hawaii, part of Donald McKenzie's fur-trapping expedition, were sent to trap a large stream that emptied into the Snake River. When they did not return, McKenzie investigated and found one man murdered in camp and no sign of the others. The stream was named in their honor. "Owyhee" is an early spelling for the word Hawaii.

The museum is located in Murphy which is perhaps the nation's smallest — to page 5

A Marsing woman died last week after her vehicle rolled down an embankment on Highway 78 near mile marker four. Phyllis McDonnell, 72 died in the single car accident Tuesday afternoon. Witnesses at the scene said she was traveling east when she “just drove off the road.” A dispatcher at the Owyhee County Sheriff's Office said the cause of the accident was still under investigation. County Coroner Joe Bongiovi said Wednesday that he has determined that McDonnell died from injuries she sustained in the accident.

Sagebrush Postoffices book back in print

Mildretta Adams' book, Sagebrush Postoffices, A History of the Owyhee Country is again available, after being out of print for some time. The 396-page book was the late Mrs. Adams' work of a lifetime. She had compiled the information over many years of research and interviews with old-timers of Owyhee County. The book was originally published in 1986, then again in 1992 by the Idaho State University Press as a historical project. The latest printing is by Owyhee Publishing Co., Inc. of Homedale.

This is the third book authored by Mrs. Adams. Her popular Historic Silver City book has resulted in the printing of nearly 25,000 copies over the years. In 1978 she published 100 Years in the Saddle as a tribute to the Owyhee Cattlemen's centennial meeting.

Sagebrush Postoffices is available at the Avalanche office in Homedale, and at the Owyhee County Historical Museum in Murphy. Price is $34.50 plus tax. Shipping fee is $3.00.

Local grocer to open Boise store

Homedale-based Paul's Markets has announced the grocery chain will open yet another store early next year. Paul Zatica, president of the firm, Z, Inc., said last week that he has arranged to open a new store at Lake Hazel and Five Mile, in the Old Lake Hazel Shopping Center, south of Boise. The store will be a 41,000 square foot facility. The family operation, has eight stores, located in Homedale, Caldwell, Nampa, Kuna, McCall, Mountain Home, ID, and Ontario, OR. Sons Stan and Steve Zatica are officers in the corporation. “We're very proud to make this announcement, and we are excited about this new facility. It will be supplied with gasoline, pharmacy, dollar store, bakery, and deli, and we'll provide quality meats and produce at that market”, Zatica said. In 1955 Zatica opened Paul's Groceteria on East Idaho Avenue in Homedale. Offices are located at Main and East Owyhee, in the building that was previously the Homedale store.

Tax notices mailed

The first installment of property taxes for Owyhee County property owners is due Dec. 20 and notices will be mailed the first week in November. Owyhee County Treasurer Barbara Wright said last week that county tax payers who have had an address change in the last year, will need to make certain that their address has been changed with the county assessor. Wright said according to local post offices, if the address is not correct, some tax notices may not be delivered. Property taxes in Idaho are collected in two semi-annual installments. First half is due into the treasurer's office by 5 p.m. on Dec. 20 to keep from having any late charges. The second half will be due in June.

Subdivision hearing goes on as scheduled

The Homedale Planning and Zoning will gather for a public hearing Monday night at 7 p.m. to review an application for a subdivision filed by Big View Builders, Inc. to subdivide 2.76 acres on Main Street just east of the Homedale Garden Apartments.

After a city council meeting last week, questions were raised as to if the hearing would proceed as scheduled after the council was informed that the appropriate steps have not been followed for a subdivision.

Mayor Hap Duryee said Monday that the appropriate steps have not been taken in applying for permits for the subdivision. He said he feels the “cart has been put before the horse.”

“I asked Kevin (Barlow, councilman) to take that back before planning and zoning to get the steps corrected before the special meeting,” Duryee said. “At this point I asked Pam (Dugger, City Clerk) if she had sent out the letters of notification and she stated that she had not. I feel that the hearing is a little like putting the cart before the horse.”

Duryee said the planning and zoning ordinance on subdivisions says the developer must come to the city clerk first and file an application. He said that step has not been done.

“Then it goes to the city engineer for his review, then to the administrator,” Duryee said. “At that point the planning and zoning can address it. The first two items have not been done. We need to get the cart back behind the horse instead of in front of the horse and get the paperwork done, the review and then send it to planning and zoning. I don’t think we need to have a special use permit. I think we just need to have a hearing on the subdivision.

“The first step is to come to the clerk and file the paper work and that has not been done,” Duryee said. “You have to file the paperwork, the engineer has to look at it and he may have some suggestions, then it goes to the planning and zoning.”

Planning and zoning administrator Silvia Bahem said Monday that to the best of her knowledge, the meeting is still scheduled as planned. She said property owner Tony Valdez and Big View Builders have been working with City Engineer Bob Walker and the only thing missing had been the plat. She said the preliminary plat was to be submitted to the clerk on Monday.

“The only thing missing was the plat and that needs to be turned into me,” Bahem said. “They have been working directly with Bob Walker after they were finally able to get a hold of him. They didn’t have a preliminary plat done until late last week. I understand that they have been able to go over it with Bob Walker. The way I read the ordinance they will get it to city hall and they will forward it to me.”

✓ Hailee...

Deputy Al Showalter would not release the name of the suspect who shot Hailee, but said an investigation into the incident continues. Showalter said three 17 year-old boys and an 18 year-old boy have admitted to participating in the incident. But he said he would not release the name of the adult young man because no one has been arrested.

Showalter said the Canyon County Sheriff's Office received a report from Mercy Medical Center in Nampa when Hailee was taken in. He said the officer's report stated that Hailee and some friends were standing on Ustick Road preparing to "toilet paper" a friend's house in conjunction with homecoming. He said as the group was gathered on the road, a pickup with four male teens drove by and opened fire on the group. Showalter said the suspects are all from Homedale.

"The investigating officers from Canyon County have contacted four teenage suspects," Showalter said. "They are very remorseful and fearful. Right now no charges have been filed nor have any arrests been made. There were three different shooters and a driver. All of them have acknowledged their participation in this event. They have all been released to their parents and the case will go to the prosecutor for disposition."

Showalter said a paint ball gun is considered a weapon and the boys could be charged with aggravated battery. He said it would be up to the prosecuting attorney's office what, if anything, the suspects would be charged with.

Homedale School Board Superintendent Bob Lisonbee said the incident did not happen on school property and was not a part of school scheduled homecoming events. He said the district is aware of the boys accused of the incident, but the district does not have any jurisdiction over the event.

A source from Homedale High School said the Garretts have sent e-mail letters to staff members and say the Hailee is under observation by doctors, and that she is in good spirits.

"As of Thursday, we have not received many calls concerning vandalism," Lisonbee said. "I have heard of some acts of aggression, but the incidents have not happened during our activities."

High school principal Mike Williams said he has been made aware of several incidents involving students throughout the homecoming week, but said only one has happened on school property. The rest have happened elsewhere in the city, and not during scheduled school events.

Williams said an incident in Homedale of a teen threatening kids with a belt had been reported, and several reports of fighting.

As the popularity of paintball has increased over the past several years, so have eye-related injuries.† The game is played with gelatin balls measuring about 0.68 of an inch in diameter that are filled with water-soluble paint. When fired through a gun at 300 feet per second, they have been said to turn into small missiles.† Doctors have stated that injuries with this sport are often serious because the paintball fits perfectly in an eye socket, increasing the risk of perforating the globe.††

According to American Sports Data Inc, the number of paintball players has increased to over 6.4 million in the past ten years.†

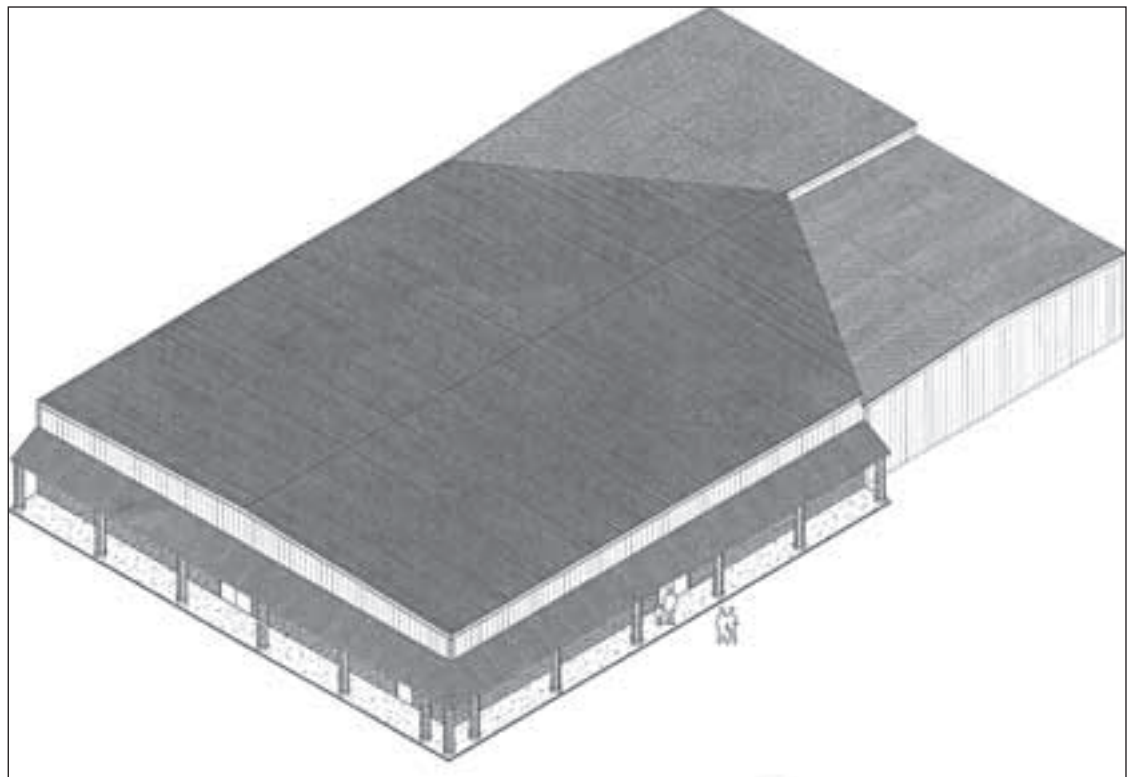

Showalter said kids need to avoid taking these kinds of risks. "If they use poor judgment and someone is hurt, they will have to suffer the consequences."

✓ Elections

Marsing has two four year city council positions up for grabs as well. Both positions will have some competition.

Incumbent Paul Holzhey, Ed Pfeifer, a teacher, Paula Enrico, a librarian and Jim Natale, a driver for the Meals on Wheels program in Marsing will seek the two seats.

In Homedale three council seats will be contested. Two four year terms will see incumbent Charles Garrison, Steve Schultz, and appointed councilman Dave Downum campaigning for the seats. Businesswoman Cindy Sims and local attorney Lois Hart, who declared in the final hours before the deadline Friday, will compete for the two year seat.

For the mayor position, incumbent mayor Hap Duryee is running against former mayor Paul Fink for the top office.

In Grand View, the mayor and one council position will run unopposed unless a late candidate files as a write-in candidate.

Paul Spang will run for the mayor's office and incumbent Franklin Hart filed for one of two four year council terms. A spokesman from the City of Grand View said Monday that write in candidates can file for office until Oct. 21. If no one files for the second council seat, the mayor will appoint someone to the position and the seat will be up in the next general election.

SOUTH MT. MINING DISTRICT LOOKS PROMISING

Falk of the New Rail Road Awakens
Interest in Famous Old Owyhee
Copper and Lead Camp.

Chas. Harvison came in Sunday from South Mountain where he has spent the past four months doing some development work on the Standard group of mining claims. Mr. Harvison is very enthusiastic over the out-look in that district and believes that it will some day in the near future develop into one of the biggest and best mining districts in the west.

Mr. Harvison states that while running the cross-cut tunnelling on which he had a contract he encountered a good ledge of ore which showed a rich streak of from 18 to 24 inches while carrying very rich ore. He did not prospect the ledge but sent some samples to the company in Denver and although they did not inform him of the assay value of the samples they seem to be well pleased with the showing. The tunnel on which he is working will cross-cut another ledge which has a good surface showing in about 200 feet further in.

Mr. Harvison has finished his contract but since coming to town he has received word from the company to secure another man and resume work on the property. The property is owned by the Standard Mining and Milling Company of Denver, of which company L. F. Clemmons is general manager. Mr. Clemmons informs Mr. Harvison that he will pay a visit to the property in about a month and will be accompanied by some capitalists and mining men. It is believed that the company will do considerable development work on the property this summer.

There is no question but that the South Mountain country is a rich copper and lead district and that the only thing that has held it back has been the lack of transportation facilities. With the building of the proposed Boise-Winnemucca line this district will be given good transportation facilities and its future will be assured.

Mr. Harvison states that it is reported that another large company which owns property in that district is preparing to take up development work on a large scale this summer. Considerable snow is still on the ground in that section and it will be at least 30 days before surface prospect work can be taken up to good advantage.

Homedale Middle School seeks volunteers

Homedale Middle School is seeking adult volunteers to assist in the areas of gym in the evenings, morning or lunch playground duty, classroom help, tutoring children with class work, correcting class work, assisting with bulletin boards, working with kids that need a role model and being a listening ear.

Sign up sheets were available during an open house held last month, but only three people signed up to help at the middle school.

District Drug Education Coordinator Sharon Frost said on Sept. 15, 102 of the students at the school were represented at a “beginning of the school year open house.” The fifth through eighth grade students were able to show their parents, friends and families their rooms, introduce them to their teachers and show them around the school. She said all of the staff was in attendance, expect for music teacher Mr. Thompson who had a previous engagement.

Georgette Carrol representative of the JUMP grant West Canyon Mentoring project joined Frost and passed out “Keep your Kids Safe” books.

“You can put as much or little time as you have to volunteer,” Frost said. “Any where from one half hour to a class period or longer. We are flexible to work with schedules.”

Frost said anyone wanting to volunteer can call the middle school and ask for Sara Cornell at 337-5780 or to volunteer at the elementary school call Pam Gibbens at 337-4033 or Rich Hoyt at the high school at 337-4613. She said both male and female volunteers are needed.

Three Creek

Margaret O. Thompson, a long time resident of Murphy's Hot Springs celebrated her 90th birthday September 14th at the new Senior Citizen Center in Twin Falls. Her son in law Gene Sundberg of Kodiak, Alaska was also honored for this 70th birthday. Around 150 people attended the party and everyone mingled and had a good time.

Much good food was served and Don Luchsinger entertained us be singing good old western songs. Margaret's ex brother in law, John Gibbons from Anchorage, Alaska attended and gave us many, many polished jade pieces in the size for earrings and rings.

Many pictures were displayed and Margaret had pictures of her 3 husbands who had all passed away. She said they were all good men. She was married 8 years to Phil Sullivan, the father of daughter, Phyllis Sundberg. They lived near Challis, Idaho and he died of pneumonia. After being widowed for 6 years she married Dick Lightfoot and they moved to Alaska. They were married for 10 years when he got drowned. She stayed a widow for 6 years again and then married John Thompson. He was a civil engineer and they traveled all over. They came to Murphy's Hot Springs where they built a beautiful log home doing much of the building their selves. They were married nearly 27 years when he died of cancer. Margaret's father had been killed in a mining accident in Jarbidge when she as 11 years. She had taken him his lunch just shortly before the accident happened. Despite all these tragedies Margaret is still a vibrant and alert person.

Her two grandsons, Paul Sundberg of Spokane, Washington and David Sundberg of Kodiak, Alaska were in attendance as well as daughter Phyllis Sundberg of Kodiak. Gene was master of ceremonies and kept everything going merrily along. He told of what a good mother in law Margaret was. Many toasts were made.

Happy may the bride be that the sun shines on. We hope the old saying goes for Kimberly Williams of Twin Falls who wed Gus Brackett of Three Creek in a double ring ceremony September 20th, 2003. The wedding took place in back of Alexander's Barn at Filer. It was a beautiful setting and the weather perfect. The groom, best man, Jake Brackett brother of the groom and groomsmen Ira Brackett, brother of the groom, Jared Brackett, cousin of the groom and Kevin Williams brother of the bride came out of the trees from the west.

Bridesmaids Tina Irish, Mandy Street and Tiffany Johnson friends of the bride came down the steps out of the barn from the east. They were followed by the maid of honor Judi Farson in a medium blue gown. The bride in a beautiful gown was given in marriage by her father, David Williams.

Reception was held in the loft of the barn, Sage Brush was entwined in the banister. A large crowd enjoyed the ceremony and good eats.

Middle school football teams continue winning spree

The Homedale Middle School seventh and eighth grade football teams continued their winning streak with victories over Nyssa, Melba, and Parma last month. The young Trojans lost to Nampa Christian early in the season, but have not been stopped yet.

Middle School Athletic Director Luci Mereness said Michael Wilhelm, Zach Tolmie, Justin Mashburn have run the ball well this year for the eighth grade team. She said the offensive line of Brady Potter, John Bittick, Seth Burton, and Terrence Thomas along with others have played well and opened some huge holes.

Tuesday, the eighth graders defeated Parma by 34-12 and were led by Michael Wilhelm with two fumble recoveries for touchdowns and a run up the middle from 55 yards out.

Matthew Hansen and lineman Seth Burton added to the score with two point conversion catches and Daniel Valdez scored twice on a 30 yard TD run and a fourth down punt attempt that went awry.

“Seventy yards later and a path of destruction in his wake, Daniel put six points on the board,” coach Dave Hann said. “Parma was a very tough and physical team.”

The eighth grade team will travel to Marsing to meet the Huskies Tuesday and will host Vale on Oct. 14.

The seventh grade team also lost to Nampa Christian early in the season and have also preformed well against Nyssa, Melba and Parma.

Mereness said Rodrigo Villarreal had a 90 yard run at Nyssa with two minutes left in the game, and Ryan Garrett made a finder†tip catch in the end zone to beat Nyssa. In the Melba game, there was only one Melba team, so a 5th quarter was played.

With Parma, Austin Emery led the Trojans with a 33 yard touchdown pass and a 25 yard run for a 20-16 victory. Eric Mercado went up the middle with a 69 yard scamper up the middle and Ryan Garrett added a two point conversion.

Craig Dayton and Toby Johnson also help coach the middle school team.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx™ and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more. Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. www.hcdsales.com © 2003 HCD

The freshman class won first place in the homecoming parade last Friday afternoon with their float "sink the Pirates."

The sophomore float was dedicated to Hailee Garrett who was seriously injured during homecoming week. The float won fourth place.

Homedale's junior class won second place in the float competition Friday.

The senior float won third place.

Tackle

Homedale Trojan Nick Williams takes down a New Plymouth Pilgrim during last week's homecoming game. Homedale defeated the Pilgrims 7-0 in a key WIC victory.

Trojans sink Pilgrims 7-0 in WIC football

Penalties and a strong defensive line kept the New Plymouth Pilgrims winless in Western Idaho Conference in a key 7-0 loss to the Homedale Trojans Friday night at Deward Bell Stadium in Homedale's homecoming game.

The Pilgrims committed 11 penalties, including a roughing the punter and several false starts and lining up in the neutral zone infractions, against the Trojans.

"I stressed to the kids all week to fight with their heart to the end," Homedale coach Thomas Thomas said. "We had to move the ball in the end and we did."

The WIC foes battled to a scoreless standstill through three quarters, until it looked like New Plymouth would finally break through.

Junior quarterback Dane Edmunson hit senior wide-out Adam Shockley for a 51-yard gain to the Homedale 4-yard line.

Set up with first and goal, the Pilgrim offense went to work. On 3rd and goal, Edmunson threw an incomplete to the corner of the end zone. New Plymouth took the chance in the fourth down and came up short with a pass to Shockley.

Homedale had 89 yards of offense in the fourth quarter, and finished with 150 yards thanks to Jeff Lindbloom who rushed for 61 yards on the drive and the game-winning 29 yard scoring run with 5:54 left in the game. Ryan Regis picked up the extra point.

"It was key for us to play with heart the whole game," the first year head coach said. "I stressed it all week and our kids never buckled."

The Pilgrims next drive, which began at their own 31, got out to the New Plymouth 47. On fourth down, Edmunson fumbled the ball, which was recovered by Mark Mashburn with just over three minutes left in the game.

Three plays got New Plymouth to the Homedale 39, but on fourth down, the Trojan defense sacked Edmunson sealing the win.

Mashburn was the top rusher, leading Homedale with 119 yards. In passing, Homedale had 12 attempts, two completions for a total of 32 yards. Mashburn completed a pass to Clay Haylett for 33 yards. Haylett went 1 for 33.

In rushing, Brett Hopkins had 10 for negative 14 including sacks, Nick Williams had two for 3 yards, Mashburn had 17 carries for 98 yards and Lindbloom had eight for 74 yards.

Edmunson completed 13-of-23 for 146 yards. The junior was sacked six times for 26 yards. White led New Plymouth with 69 yards on 19 carries.

Soccer team defeated

Javier Sotelo rushes for the ball during last weeks soccer match with the Payette Pirates. Payette defeated the Trojans 5-0, but head coach David Correa said it was the best game played by his team so far. "Even though we lost the game, the team proved that it is possible to play experienced teams such as Payette and hold their own. The team showed they have a lot of potential, and everything is finally coming together. The players' hard work is showing as they seem more comfortable on the field," Correa said.

Mustangs struggle with victory over Trojans

The Melba Mustangs may have beaten the Homedale Trojans volleyball team last Tuesday evening, but they didn't do it without a fight.

Melba narrowly defeated rival Homedale in five sets in a 2A Western Idaho Conference victory on Homedale's court.

The Mustangs won the first set 25-20 but were easily overthrown in the second and third sets 15-25 and 16-25 by Homedale. But Melba came back in the fourth set to slide by the Trojans with a 25-23 win. In the tie breaking game, Melba earned the victory with a 25-23 score.

Homedale was led by Kim Silveria's 12 kills and Alicia Mackenzie's 16 assists. Arbor Frost scored 19 service points, eight of those aces for Homedale.

Homedale will travel to meet the Parma Panthers on Thursday evening.

Baxter Black, DVM

On the edge of common sense

I kin fix yer cow

I have a friend who is a well-known actor. We see him in the movies and on television often. However, he started out shoein' horses. I've always appreciated that in him. He has a useful skill. Sure, he can act, but can he do anything? You bet, when the chips are down, he can shoe your horse.

I went to veterinary school so when I graduated and went lookin' for a job and the prospective employer asked me, "What can you do?" I could say, "I kin fix yer cow!"

Nowadays I spend a lot more time travelin' than I do doctorin' critters. The locals are mildly amused by my cowboy poetry but my rhyming skills don't necessarily make me a very valuable neighbor. I don't get many calls saying, "Bax, I've got a broken pipe in the shop and the water is up to my knees! Could you come over quick and do us a poem?"

That is not to say that literary and artistic skills such as being a cartoonist, a ballet dancer or a newspaper reporter can't add seasoning to our world, but compared to skills such as laying brick, roping or navigation, they lack gravitis.

It is one of the injustices of civilization that the farmer is paid less than the chef. That the movie star is emulated more than the hero she plays on the screen, or the baseball player makes more than the policeman.

The more civilized people become, the more our communal perspective is skewed. In the highly industrialized countries, power, money and prestige is bestowed upon people whose skills involve splitting hairs, finding loopholes and hypnotizing the gullible. But the true evaluation of essential skills should be made against a more primitive background, like present-day Afghanistan, the Amazon Jungle, or being adrift in a lifeboat. Being able to track, shoot and row carries a lot more weight in preservation of the species, than do card players, TV anchorpersons or senators. Who would you rather have covering your back at a mugging, Albert Einstein or Jesse Ventura?

This fall the Democrat party is trying to select a presidential nominee. Philosophically they aren't much different, but under the ground fog of speeches, I expect we'll find some carpenters, cowboys, soldiers, sailors, gardeners, hunters, electricians, plumbers and fix-it folks. Unfortunately, these useful abilities will have less influence on their success than clever sound bites, a celebrity endorsement or a full head of hair.

Maybe it's just me, but wouldn't you feel more secure if you had a president in the White House who could shoe a horse and weld?

Not important ... but possibly of interest

I don't live in a disposable world

Nowadays, we throw almost everything away. When a computer drops behind the technology curve, it is sent to the crusher. Family snapshots are made with cameras that are thrown away when the film is processed or digital cameras that are obsolete the day they hit store shelves. Most modern furniture won't last more than a few years.

It's a disposable world.

In the spring of 1945, my mother was president of the Kuna, Idaho PTA. She also was expecting her third child. To show their appreciation for mom's service, the parents and teachers chipped in and got a high chair for the expected blessed event. The high chair was of all wood construction because metal was needed for the war effort. There wasn't any fancy scrollwork or decoration. The finish was plain, clear varnish. Less than a month before Germany surrendered, mom gave birth to a relatively bouncing baby boy—me.

My very first memory is of sitting in that wooden high chair. It served me well and was still in good shape when my niece used it a few years later. Eventually, the chair was decommissioned and placed in the attic.

In 1972, our first child arrived. I hauled my old high chair out of storage. The years hadn't been kind. The varnish had literally lifted off the chair. I scraped off the finish and covered the entire chair with avocado green enamel paint (it looked very "in" at the time but so were leisure suits). The chair didn't have safety straps. We lashed Daughter Number One, and Daughters Two and Three into it with dish towels. It may not have been a Consumer Safety Commission-approved restraining device, but no one ever fell out of the chair.

When our young ones passed the high chair stage, it went off to the storage shed. There it remained for about 25 years, to reappear recently when Granddaughter Number One arrived.

The chair appeared to be a lost cause. It was nicked and scratched and dirty and covered with that awful green paint. The only hope was to take it back to its original state. I re-glued all the joints. After stripping the paint and doing considerable sanding, I applied multiple coats of varnish. The project is almost finished now and the chair looks like it did when I was a kid. There are a few flecks of green paint still showing but that's OK. They are reminders of the second generation that used it.

Now, when grandchildren come to visit, they will have a chair to sit in while they eat. And hopefully, when Generation Three gets done using it, someone will store it away to await babies of the future. And maybe someday a mother or father will tell their child about how the Kuna PTA got the chair for their great grandfather.

Some people live in a disposable world. I don't.

H2A reform will benefit consumers, producers and workers

By John Thompson,
Director of Information

Legislation aimed at reforming the agricultural guest worker program (H2A) is a needed step in the right direction for consumers, agriculture interests and the workers themselves.

Sponsored by Idaho Senator Larry Craig, Senator Ted Kennedy, and others, the Agricultural Job, Opportunity, Benefits Security Act of 2003 (AgJOBS) provides a two-step reform that shores up the H2A legal guest worker program. First, it provides stability for experienced migrant workers by allowing them to stay in the U.S. legally while they earn adjustment to legal status. And in the long-term, the legislation overhauls and streamlines the cumbersome regulations in H2A.

Over half of the 1.6 million agriculture workers in the U.S. are currently here illegally according to the Department of Labor. Some private estimates run to 85 percent or higher. The fact that so many farmworkers and food processing plant employees are illegal is a dirty little secret no one in agriculture likes to talk much about. It's neither right nor fair that while Idaho and many other farm state economies depend on these workers, they must hide, falsify documents and lie in order to live here. Workers who come to the U.S. looking for opportunities that aren't available in Mexico and other countries deserve the chance to earn citizenship, as long as they are willing to abide by the law.

Producers get peace of mind in knowing that the INS isn't going to show up and haul off their crew on any given day. Lost days brought on by INS raids can cost farms, packing sheds and processing plants thousands of dollars. Those losses can cause a ripple effect in local economies that can be difficult to recover from. The costs associated with rounding up illegal workers and deporting them is also a drain of tax dollars that could be better used elsewhere.

For consumers this legislation helps insure a steady supply of fruit, vegetables, grains, meat and dairy products. Most Americans can't remember a time when food was hard to come by and we don't associate a safe, affordable, abundant food supply with our national security. But the fact of the matter is that without that ready supply of healthy food produced by American farmers and ranchers we wouldn't be able to enjoy this level of independence and economic freedom. When you stop to consider that Americans spend an average of 10.9 percent of annual income on food (the lowest in the world) compared to 48 percent in India, it's not difficult to see a connection between domestic agriculture and self-sufficiency.

An affordable, healthy food supply allows Americans to live a better lifestyle than many other people around the world. This legislation is a common sense tool that will help maintain that lifestyle.

Guffey hearing slated

Boise. Two information meetings to review the progress of environmental studies of the proposed Swan Falls-Guffey Project and hear public comments about the hydroelectric development will be held at Murphy and Nampa early next month.

John Everingham, EDAW project manager, said the meetings are intended to give the public an opportunity to comment on the project in oral and written statements.

Patrons nix consolidation question

Homedale. Discussions between the trustees of the Marsing and Homedale School District on the possible consolidation of the two districts, came to a halt Monday after the ballots were counted in a public opinion poll.

The poll, which was conducted thought the two community newspapers, showed a total of 122 school district patrons favored further consolidation discussions, while 256 opposed the idea.

Patrons had been asked to reply to the question: “Do you favor the Homedale and Marsing School Districts exploring the possibility of consolidation, for the purpose of better serving the students of both districts?”

Although the overall totals showed that patrons opposed such a move, when the ballots were broken down by district, the proposition was favored by residents of the Marsing district and vetoed in Homedale.

At Marsing, the final total showed 106 people favoring further consolidation talks, while 99 opposed the issue.

In Homedale, it wasn’t even close. One hundred fifty seven patrons opposed the proposal with a total of 16 favored it.

Council oks well option

Homedale. Members of the Homedale City Council Tuesday night approved exercising an option on a city well site. The action was taken at a special meeting of the Council.

The well site adjoins old U.S. 95, on the east side of the Snake River.

Trojan volleyball team wins

Homedale. September 20 was the second game for the Jr. High Trojanette volleyball team. The Homedale 8th graders clobbered the Rimrock Raiders 15-5, 15-4. Lisa Larrocea led the Trojans with 9 points and Melissa Hughey helped the cause with eight points.

The 7th graders also won their game but in three matches. The Raiders won the first game 15-10, but the Trojans came back to win the next two games 15-6, 15-11. Ruth Ann Lowder led the 7th graders with 14 points and Kristen Waite contributed 10 points to the win.

The 8th graders are now 2-0 on the season and the 7th graders are 1-1

Senior dedicate center

Homedale. Open House for the addition to the Owyhee County Senior Citizens building was held last Saturday, Sept. 23. There were speeches, entertainment and refreshments.

George Murray, Mayor of Homedale opened the proceedings by cutting the ribbon on the addition. Mr. Murray spoke of past events and of the people who were first to approach him about available city lots for the building. They were Rhonda McWaters, Esther Keister, and Neil Walker, Irene Fry, Nora Zickrick, Iola Potter, Ross Lane, Myrtle Watson, Pete Thomasino, Claris Lamb, Bernard Anderson, Dorothy and Hazel Aldrich. The date was March 5, 1973.

Bonded indebtedness issue turned down by 39-30 vote

By a vote of 39 to 30, electors in the Central Cove district turned down the proposal to assume their proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness of the Homedale school district. The election was held in the Central Cove community last Friday.

The Cove was recently reorganized with the Homedale district to form a new Class A district here. Under the reorganization election, the new district would assume the assets and liabilities of the combined districts. A flaw in reorganization law made it illegal for voters not owning real property to assume a debt. Such was a decision handed down by an Idaho court recently. The election Friday was held in an effort to counteract the court decision.

School board members have not met to discuss the results of the bond election to determine what action should be taken next. It is apparently certain that Central Cove students will continue to attend school in Homedale for the remainder of this school year at least.

Homedale romps over Middleton

The Homedale Trojans handed the Vikings of Middleton a 15-6 loss Friday afternoon in the SRV conference football game.

Homedale scored first in the opening minutes of the game after recovering a Middleton fumble on the Viking 45 yard line. The Trojans took four plays to punch the TD across with Lee Townsend going the final 10 yards to score.

Middleton came back the second quarter and scored on a pass from Ostrum to†Cronk, good for 30 yards and a touchdown. The same quarter, the hard-charging Homedale line tackled a Middleton back in the end zone for a safety and two points. Later in the second stanza Fred Dempshar intercepted a Viking pass and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown. Leon Moss converted the extra point with a quarterback sneak.

The Trojans looked much improved on their blocking and defensive work and are preparing for the Melba game to be played at Homedale this Friday, October 2.

WE DIRECT ATTENTION today to the advertisement of the Owyhee Road and Bridge Co. They now have their road completed in good shape from here to Camp McDermitt. The distance, as measured is 87 miles, with excellent water and grass all the way. There is a first rate gravelly ford at the crossing of the Owyhee and before high water in the spring a substantial bridge will be built. No toll is charged.

ESCAPED. John McMorrow, who was in jail for shooting McCormack escaped one night last week. He managed to break or twist off the head of a bolt holding an iron bar, with which the jail door was secured. He then used the bar in prying open the door. Sheriff Springer has been on the search for the culprit, who as yet has not been heard of.

STILL THEY COME. Happening in at W. F. and Co’s office on Tuesday last, we noticed a brick worth a little over $22,000. It was taken from the Ida Elmore mine, and has since been sent to San Francisco by Thos. Cole, Jr. Quite a monetary transaction for a small mining town.

NOW IS THE TIME to agitate the question of a change of name as suggested by our correspondent. If this opportunity be allowed to pass without effecting a change our citizens will be subjected to a further inconvenience of two years. Every week brings to light additional reasons why a new name should be substituted. It frequently happens that letters of importance, intended for this place, go to Silver City, Nevada, often causing a serious loss of time and money. We would prefer plain “Owyhee,” without the “City” appendage. As there is some contention in regard to names between the people of Oro and Owyhee in Flint, we hope they will look with favor upon the suggestion of our correspondent and drop both, substituting “Lenton” or some other appropriate name for the great city that will soon be built there.

SCHOOLS. The School Marshal has just made his report, from which we find that there are 101 children in this district between the ages of 5 and 21. These children should all be going to school; in fact, it is almost criminal on the part of the people any longer to neglect the necessary arrangements for the establishment of a good school. The fact is the capacity of the school house or jail, one or the other, have to be increased very soon, for it is impossible for that number of the American youth to be idle. In this connection, we may add that the School Trustees have about made arrangements for the erection of a house, and if they can get sufficient assistance they will build a comfortable and substantial structure and one that will be an ornament to the place. About $1,500 currency have been subscribed for this purpose and the amounts not already paid will probably be called for within the next week or two. If that amount could be doubled it would be sufficient for the present purpose. They will either commence the building immediately or refund the money already collected.

STRUCK IT RICH. Last Wednesday, Messrs. Peck and Porter struck it rich in their mine, the Second South Extension of the Oro Fino. One hundred feet from the surface and twenty-five feet north of the main shaft a two-foot vein of exceedingly rich gold and silver bearing quartz was found. The ore resembles that of the Golden Chariot and Ida Elmore in character and richness. This will not be wondered at when it is known to be nearly on the same range with those mines. Some large pieces which we examined were completely covered over and diffused throughout with gold. P and P have certainly got a good thing.

NOTICE OF CONSIDERATION OF INCREASE IN SOLID WASTE USER FEES AND RECONSIDERATION OF ORDINANCE 03-04

On Tuesday, October 14, 2003, at 10:00 am, in the Magistrate

Courtroom in the County Courthouse in Murphy, the Board of Owyhee County Commissioners will consider increasing the solid waste user fees from the current $20 fee which was set in 1987 to an amount of at least $40 in order to decrease the impact on property taxes of operations costs for the solid waste disposal system.

This proposed increase is deemed necessary by the increasing costs for operating the system. Since 1987, the increasing costs have been met mainly by property tax revenues. While that main reliance on the property tax will still exist, the increase will distribute more of the cost to the users.

The Board previously enacted Ordinance 03-04 which established this increase pursuant to Idaho Code, 31-4404, but did not subject the increase to a public meeting pursuant to Idaho Code, 67-1311A. The use increase established by 03-04 will be repealed at the Board’s October 6, 2003 meeting, and the increase will be reconsidered after public input to be given on Tuesday, October 14, 2003.
