Old pals fool Mother Nature; Trojans keep jug

A football fan doesn't have to be a Nobel Prize-winning physicist to understand that where there's wind, there's no passing game.

But Homedale High School quarterback Trevor Krzesnik — though a fine scholar-athlete — is no physicist, judging from his performance Friday night against Parma.

Krzesnik defied a cold, windy night on the road to fire three touchdown passes as Homedale beat the Panthers 31-18 in the Milk Jug game.

The Trojans won their fourth consecutive game to start the season, and head up U.S. Highway 95 again Friday night to open the 3A Snake River Valley conference season against Payette (1-2 overall). Kickoff is 7 p.m.

"Payette is a team we cannot overlook," Homedale coach Thomas Thomas said after beating Parma (0-3) for the fifth consecutive time. "Right now they're in the down-and-outs. ... And they're going to be fighting with us because they have hopes to make the playoffs since it's expanded."

Three teams from the SRV will qualify for the state playoffs this season.

Krzesnik's TD passes Friday went to three different receivers, but it was his private little pass-and-catch party with junior Zach Tolmie that helped preserve a pair of scoring drives in second half.

"We started connecting at the end," Tolmie said. "We got (the connection with Krzesnik) to work two years ago when we were receiver and quarterback on the junior varsity, and it's starting to connect again."

Tolmie caught three balls for 55 yards. All three of his receptions could be classified as clutch, huge or any other Marv Albert-esque cliché you want to spew forth.

And the first two pulled the Raiders volleyball roars out of gates

Rimrock High School's young volleyball team is off to a fast start in the 1A Western Idaho Conference season.

Coach Lonni Smith's Raiders have won three of their first four league matches with freshman Jackie Thurman and junior Ellie Cantrell leading the way.

Cantrell served an astounding eight aces on Sept. 12 as the Raiders (3-1 overall, 3-1 1A WIC) rode a dominating second game to a 26-24, 25-4, 25-15 victory over Nampa's Liberty Charter.

Paige Branstiter racked up 33 kills Saturday to help Adrian High School win the Pine Eagle Invitational volleyball championship in Halfway, Ore.

Sarah McPeak recorded nine kills and an ace, and setter Ryann Bowns piled up 15 assists Saturday afternoon as the Antelopes rebounded from a first-game loss to beat Tri-Valley 22-25, 25-11, 15-12 in the tournament championship match.

"The girls did a great job of working hard right to the finish after a long day's play, and I'm happy to see them come out as tournament champs," Adrian coach Aimee Goss said.

Grounded Pilots hand Huskies non-league loss

McClellin grabs another 200-yard rushing game in losing effort

In the days before the forward pass, football coaches had a basic, “three yards and a cloud of dust” philosophy. Friday night — with more than a little help from chilly 40 mph winds — Marsing and Glenns Ferry high schools turned back the clock.

The two teams piled up more than 600 yards rushing — and only the Huskies logged yardage through the air (43 yards).

When the dust had settled, literally, the Pilots were standing tall with a 36-20 non-conference victory.

“The final score does not show what kind of games our kids played,” Marsing coach Don Heller said.

Kalob Meyers scored on a 35-yard run on the Huskies’ first drive of the second half to pull Marsing (1-2 overall) to within eight points, 22-14. Two other possessions were stalled by penalties.

Another miscue by the Huskies set the table for the Pilots with six minutes remaining in the game.

“We have 4th-and-15 from our 35, and we have miscommunication on a punt, and they stop us,” Heller said. “(The Pilots) have the momentum and score twice in 2½ minutes.”

C o d y Darrington scored his s e c o n d touchdown of the game on a 23-yard run with 3 minutes, 23 seconds left, and Jesus Rodriguez rumbled 49 yards for another TD with 1:41 remaining.

Marsing drove 70 yards on its final possession of the game and scored when senior quarterback Miguel Quebrado hit Aaron Salvas for a 7-yard touchdown with six seconds remaining.

Quebrado completed 5 of 13 passes, but he had one throw picked off in the end zone. The second-year starter garnered 43 yards passing, including 40 on four tosses to Salvas.

Glenns Ferry was strictly a ground force, getting 90 yards and two TDs from Darrington, 127 yards and a 54-yard score from Jim Schrader and 105 yards and a score from Chase Bitterman.

But none of the Pilots’ runners could match the punishment doled out by Marsing senior Shea McClellin.

The fullback topped 200 yards for the second game in a row, rolling up 218 yards on just 26 carries. McClellin scored on a 2-yard dive to cap Marsing’s 60-yard march after Glenns Ferry fumbled the ball away on the second play of the game.

Ethan Sauer also had a high per-carry average, rolling up 81 yards on nine totes as Marsing gained 309 yards on 46 attempts.

The Huskies open the 2A Western Idaho Conference season at home Friday with a 7 p.m. Homecoming kickoff against league newcomer Cole Valley Christian from Boise.

Cole Valley enters the game with an 0-3 mark, having lost 42-30 last week to former eight-man nemesis Notus.

This is the first season the Chargers are playing 11-man football.

Antelopes

The victory was especially sweet for the Antelopes (7-1 overall) because Tri-Valley had handed them a 25-17 loss in the morning pool play.

Branstiter rolled up 17 kills during pool play as Adrian bounced back with victories over Powder Valley (25-20) and Union (25-9). McPeak had five kills and Bowns dished 14 assists.

Adrian qualified for the six-team single-elimination bracket and began its march to the championship with a 25-13, 25-17 victory over Prairie City. Amanda Simpson fired five aces.

“Amanda really served well in the game, and Prairie had a hard time controlling it,” Goss said.

Bowns had eight assists and four digs, and Kassi Daugherty added four assists in a tight 25-23, 25-18 semifinal win over Cove, the only team that had beaten the Antelopes heading into the weekend.

“It was great to come back and get this win after losing to them a week ago,” Goss said. “They are a strong team and very competitive.”

“I was especially happy with the contributions from our middle, Jayna Witty (five kills, one block). She really stepped it up today, and especially in this match.”

Penalties torpedo Mustangs' shot at win

Burnt River scores late to spoil Jordan Valley's High Desert opener

by Alek Quintero, JVHS
Burnt River High School scored the game's final two touchdowns Friday for a 36-30 come-from-behind victory over host Jordan Valley in the High Desert League opener for both.

The Mustangs (0-1 overall, 0-1 HDL) were slapped with 120 yards in penalties and had two touchdowns nullified by infractions.

The Bulls pulled the game out with two touchdowns in the final quarter, including quarterback Clayton Kezerle's 4-yard run with 1 minute, 17 seconds left to erased the Mustangs' 30-28 lead.

Jordan Valley built a 12-0 lead in the first half.

In the first quarter, Mustangs quarterback Tim Eiguren fired a 27-yard touchdown pass to freshman Dusty Easterday. Zac Fillmore helped preserve the early lead by recovering a fumble with Burnt River's offense on the move.

In the second quarter, Alek Quintero ignited his 324-yard rushing performance with a 49-yard scamper to pay dirt. Quintero also had an interception, but Jordan Valley lost possession with a fumble.

Burnt River got on the scoreboard before halftime when Kezerle hooked up with Titus Wilson on a 57-yard scoring play. Wilson racked up 227 yards total offense, snagging four passes for 91 yards and rushing 18 times for 136 yards.

Quintero kept the Mustangs out front with a 3-yard TD run in the third quarter.

He gave Jordan Valley a 24-14 lead with a 49-yard run later in the third.

The last of the sophomore's four touchdowns gave the Mustangs a 30-22 lead in the fourth quarter.

The Mustangs clash with unbeaten Prairie City (2-0 overall, 1-0 HDL) at 3 p.m. Friday on Jordan Valley's home field.

Snyder's 199 yards can't help Rimrock

Undermanned Rimrock High School couldn't climb out of a deep first-quarter hole Friday in a 58-20 non-conference loss to Garden Valley in eight-man football in Bruneau.

Senior TJ Snyder rushed for 199 yards and scored all three touchdowns for the Raiders (1-3), who jump back into the 1A, Div. I league season on the road against Idaho City this week.

Snyder scored on a 5-yard run in the first quarter, but the Raiders failed to convert and trailed the Wolverines 8-6.

Then the floodgates opened, and Garden Valley went on a scoring spree.

The Wolverines notched five consecutive touchdowns in a variety of ways to take control.

Sophomore JC Tucker roared 65 yards for the first score, and Dan Grimm scored the second of his four touchdowns on a 60-yard run later in the opening quarter.

Tucker and Grimm each threw touchdown passes in the second quarter, with the pair hooking up on Grimm's 10-yard TD reception.

Snyder finished Rimrock's scoring with a 55-yard jaunt in the fourth quarter before Garden Valley capped the game on a 60-yard scoring strike from Tucker to Dustin Moore.

Alyssa Van Curen's 14 assists and three blocks from Katie Valerio paced Notus.

Winning the battle

Homedale High School girls soccer player Hannah Johnson takes control of the ball during last week's 4-1 loss to Payette at Sundance Park. Johnson assisted as Kendall Rupp scored the Trojans' only goal of the game.

Trojans sophs unable to jinx Pirates in loss

Kendall Rupp hooked with fellow sophomore Hannah Johnson to score the game's first goal on Aug. 12, but Payette roared back to claim a 4-1 victory in a 3A Snake River Valley conference victory at Sundance Park.

Rupp broke into the penalty area and scored about 10 minutes before halftime.

But the other Hannah, Payette's Hannah Peterson, came through for her coach to tie the game with about 5 minutes to go.

While playing midfield earlier in the half, Peterson had been haranguing her coach to move her to the forward position.

"If I put you up front, will you score?" her coach asked.

She obliged by adding another goal in the second half.

Teammate Katie Franklin put the Pirates ahead 2-1 minutes after Peterson's first goal. Franklin bent a sharp-angled volley high over the outstretched arms of Homedale goalie Sierra Aberasturi and into the heart of the Trojans' goal for the go-ahead score.

A sophomore, Aberasturi faced 12 shots on goal.

Payette's unanswered string of four goals also included a second-half score from Hilary Byers.

The Trojans played another conference game Thursday on the road against McCall-Donnelly, but the results weren't reported to The Owyhee Avalanche.

Homedale 3, Orofino 1

Johnson scored twice, and senior Amy Alvarez added another goal on Sept. 9 as Homedale beat the visiting Maniacs on Sept. 9 at Sundance Park.

Aberasturi notched six saves.

Fruitland 5, Homedale 4

The Grizzlies scored the tiebreaking goal in the second half at Sundance Park on Sept. 7.

Johnson and Rupp scored two goals each in the first 45 minutes of the 3A SRV game as the Trojans played Fruitland to a 4-4 stalemate.

JV volleyball defeats youthful Burnt River

Coach Jacque Naegle had the opportunity to build some experience for her younger players Friday in Jordan Valley High School's 25-10, 25-15, 25-11 High Desert League volleyball victory over Burnt River.

"Burnt River is a pretty young team, and I can't say that we played our best," Naegle said. "We did let down and did not really execute our game plan."

Bailey Kershner had 15 assists, and Breann Hipwell added 14 in the victory. Michelle Elsner racked up nine kills, while Angela Larsen and Kelsey Prescott contributed seven kills each.

"I did have the opportunity to sub in some of our younger players and give them some game time, and that is always a great thing to be able to do," Naegle said.

"The girls passed really well and had some great kills."

Elsner, Larsen and Kershner served 10 points apiece.

✓ Trojans

Trojans' proverbial bacon out of the fire on a night whipped by a stiff wind that would have extinguished any flame.

Tolmie's first catch came on a 3rd-and-11 play with the Trojans seemingly stalled three snaps into a short-field possession after Parma punter Mark Finley fumbled a fourth-down exchange from center and was dropped for an 11-yard loss at his own 28-yard line.

Tolmie streaked across the middle and made a sliding grab of a low laser from Krzesnik at the Panthers' 5. Two plays later, Mike Wilhelm barreled in from four yards out for his second touchdown of the night and a 24-6 Homedale lead.

The 5-foot-8, 150-pounder Tolmie's second big grab came on Homedale's first possession of the fourth quarter. It was 3rd-and-10 from the Payette 30 after Krzesnik had followed up a 20-yard strike to Grant Sweet with two straight incompletions.

Never fear, Tolmie is near. The junior slanted into the vacuum that was the middle of the Panthers' secondary and hauled in a 21-yard pass to give the Trojans' a goal-to-go situation on the Parma 9.

But he wasn't done. The drive stalled again with an incomplete pass and then a fumbled snap (one of two on the night).

Third down and long again? No sweat. Tolmie ran a post corner route into the end zone, and Krzesnik zipped a 10-yard scoring pass for Homedale's final touchdown.

"We knew our passing game could be there," first-year receivers coach Jason George said. "We have to run the ball. Obviously we have to be balanced. Tonight, we just had to lean on (the passing game) a little more."

For added emphasis, Tolmie sacked Parma quarterback Rance Portenier on a 3rd-and-long play to kill a Panthers' drive immediately before the Trojans' last TD.

Krzesnik's arm was critical to the Trojans' attempt to remain unbeaten Friday. Homedale's running game gained just 80 yards on 44 plays after being rendered ineffective on the second play of the second quarter when junior offensive guard Jaime Uriarte was hobbled by a right knee injury.

"He's been kind of bulletproof, and he's never complained about injury at all," Thomas said of Uriarte. "I thought we ran well in the first half, but then we lost Jaime, and it takes away my options I have with trapping and pulling and doing counters because he's our trap guy. He's the guy we go to."

Thomas also admitted he may have underestimated the quickness of the Parma defense.

But Krzesnik and his receiv-

Jaime Uriarte

ing corps answered the call. The senior quarterback threw for 107 yards and scoring strikes to Matt Hansen in the first quarter (28 yards), Wilhelm in the second quarter (7 yards) and Tolmie in the fourth.

"I haven't called on Zach much this year — or any receiver — and those kids want to get some action, too," Thomas said. "And I think they stepped up for it."

The defense stepped up, too, holding Parma to 124 total yards — all through the air when the Panthers had the wind at their backs. Parma couldn't gain a measly three feet in 31 rushing attempts, and senior wideout Cody Gentry accounted for all but eight of his team's total yards on five catches.

Meanwhile, Mark Vance, held to a season-low 11 yards on 10 rushes, cranked it up on defense from his safety position and twice picked off passes from Parma's Portenier.

But Thomas didn't have much time to reflect on his team's performance, which included four turnovers and 10 penalties for 67 yards.

He had Payette on his mind.

"(The Pirates) know they have to beat us, and it's the same for us because we have to beat them. So I think it will be an emotional game, but I expect us to physically take over," the coach said.

"Still, I would like to see us clean up a couple positions we're struggling with before we play Weiser, because that's the big one."

Nerves undermine Homedale boys

Considering the amount of exertion in a given match, nervous energy usually is a good thing in soccer.

But Homedale High School’s boys squad were unable to convert those jitters into a victory Thursday in a key 3A Snake River Valley conference game against McCall-Donnelly.

The Vandals broke through with a couple of late first-half goals to wrest control and cruise to a 5-1 victory at Sundance Park.

“We knew this was going to be our toughest game of the season, not only because we were playing a team that so far we haven’t been able to beat, but also because we were playing at home and nobody likes to lose in front of the home crowd,” Homedale coach David Correa said.

“Unfortunately, we weren’t able to transfer our anxiety into positive energy, and it showed on the field.”

McCall, the 2005 3A state runner-up and 2004 state champ, finally broke the monotony of a game played in the midfield when Ben Greenland scored the game’s first goal late in the first half. A few minutes later, Chase Milliman gave the Vandals the only other goal they would need when he beat Trojans goalie Ulysses Vargas on a penalty kick.

Vargas notched 10 saves, but Homedale (3-3 overall, 2-2 3A SRV at week’s end) gave up three more scores in the second half.

Senior Andres Vasquez broke through for the Trojans’ only goal in the second half.

“For the second half, we tried to gain control of the ball by passing more along the ground,” Correa said. “However, inaccuracies in our passing created more opportunities for (McCall).”

The Trojans wore new uniforms for the game against McCall. Correa said each player paid for the new jerseys after the seniors decided they wanted a keepsake representing their status as original members of the program.

But Correa sees a different reward possibly coming down the line.

“This loss has taught us a lot,” he said. “I feel that next time we face this team, the story will be different.”

Homedale 5, Payette 1

The upperclassmen ruled on the road against the Pirates as Guillermo Machuca and Cory Uria scored two goals apiece on Sept. 12

“It was a great victory,” Correa said. “Psychologically, it meant a lot to the team since Payette has long been one of the strongest contenders in our conference and at the state level.”

The Pirates won back-to-back 3A state crowns in 2001-02.

Machuca didn’t leave his comfort zone in scoring the Trojans’ two first-half goals by crossing the ball from outside the penalty box and over the goalie’s head from the same spot on the field each time.

Nestor Machuca beat the Payette goalkeeper one-on-one for Homedale’s third goal, while Uria teamed up with Vasquez twice to close out the scoring.

“The boys did a great job,” Correa said. “They never stopped thinking and running. The team played in synch.”

Trojans smother Middleton Vikings 51-0 Saturday

Halfback Vic Landa scored 32 points as the Homedale Trojans outclassed the Middleton Vikings 52-0 in a Snake River Valley Class B football opener for both teams at Middleton Saturday afternoon.

Landa scored five touchdowns and made two conversions. Quarterback Junior Uranga scored twice and his passing accounted for a lot more Homedale yardage.

Fullback Chuck Dunn scored the other Homedale touchdown.

Middleton had its only touchdown called back for an offside penalty. Russell Ward ran 78 yards for the score in the second quarter only to have it nullified.

The Trojans put the game on ice in the first quarter with three touchdowns and scored in each of the other periods.

4-H teams to go to Portland

The Homedale Livestock judging team, consisting of Larry and Dale Smith and Bob Wason, and the Sew ‘n Sew 4-H club judging team, consisting of Shirley Walker, Wanda Friel and Rosemary Jesenko, will attend the Pacific International Livestock show at Portland during the latter part of October, which will be held at Camp Plummer.

A candy sale at the grade school last week added $8 toward their fund to pay the expenses of the trip. This will be added to the $10 that the county agent, Ralph Samson, contributed.

All the local 4-H clubs are helping with the cooked food and apron sale Saturday at the Two Boys Store, in order to add more to the fund so that these two teams may represent Owyhee County at Portland.

State, county officers join in raid on gambling game

Herbert Daniels, a partner in Scotty’s Sport Shop, and Archie Byington, an employee, were arrested Tuesday night in a raid by state, county and city officers, and charged with gambling.

State liquor law enforcement investigator Rex Nelson of Meridian, and Sheriff Jim Tucker, joined in the raid at 8 p.m. and took possession of $112.40 in money, including a $10 check at the table.

Daniels and Byington were taken before Justice of the Peace Scott L. Smith and charged with gambling, an indictable misdemeanor. Daniels’ bond was set at $500 and Byington’s at $250, which they furnished. Preliminary hearing will be held later.

Wednesday, the gambling charge against Daniels was dropped and a charge of allowing gambling on the premises was filed against him and Virgil Tucker, another partner in Scotty’s Sport Shop.

The officers who raided the establishment said complaints had been made that gambling was being carried on. Mr. Nelson said all Homedale taverns had been notified a short time ago following the complaint that no gambling would be tolerated.

Kiwanis Kids’ Day set for Saturday

Plans for the annual Kids’ Day program and pancake feed are being completed for this Saturday, September 22, according to Dr. George Wolff, chairman of the program, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

A pancake breakfast beginning at 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. will be enjoyed by the kids and their families. Dr. Wolff says they will be served all they want with coffee or beverage for 50 cents, and urges all families to participate in the event.

The kids’ parade will begin at 11 a.m. at the old armory building and parade downtown to the park where they will be judged and given treats.

All children 12 years old and under are urged to participate in the parade that will consist of three divisions: costume, pets and vehicles (bicycles, wagons, etc.)

MINER’S CANDLESTICK. We yesterday saw a Washoe invention of the shape of a miner’s candlestick, such as are used throughout all our mines — these candlesticks being merely small rods of iron or steel, some six or eight inches in length, pointed at one end to stick into timbers, clay or crevices of rock and at the other a socket for holding the candle. The candlestick of which we speak was invented and made by L. Wells, blacksmith, on South C Street, who has take measures to secure a patent on it. The improvement on which he claims patent consists in that this has a joint or hinge about the middle of it, which allows of the sharp point of it being doubled over in such a manner as to be within a bow which shields and covers it in such a manner that it can be safely carried in one pocket. The socket of the candle, too, is within the bow, which is shaped like that of a patent cork-screw. It is a very ingenious arrangement that will be appreciated by our underground miners. We like to record anything in the shape of improvement or convenience in mining. Territorial Enterprises.

EXPLANATORY. The proceedings of a called and adjourned meeting of citizens appear in this issue. We publish them in accordance with the request, but earnestly desire that neither our citizens nor officials at Washington be deceived in the premises. So far as the memorial goes, it is self-condemning. It is on Indian and military affairs, and addressed to the President — thus ignoring every correct and possible avenue to attain the desired objects. Its prolixity and indefiniteness, to say nothing of its insulting tenor, would be an effectual bar to its being read by the president or permitted to be read in his hearing. We had hoped that its own rottenness would have insured its quiet decease and burial at home, but now that we find the contrary, it becomes our duty to have it go out understood. The meeting on Saturday evening was in manner and form as published, but both chairman and secretary, as well as others present, were sent for after the hour named for opening. They have each personally stated to us that they never read the memorial; knew little of the objects of the meeting and cared less, but attended by request; that they became fully persuaded that the whole thing was the creature of one man who wished an endorsement at Washington, for selfish purposes, and funds to defray his expenses; that although their names appear as officer at the adjourned meeting, neither acted, and the secretary was not present; that it was the silliest possible methods of trying to gain the ostensible objects sought. The first resolution says:

That we, the citizens of Owyhee, endorse the statements, sentiments and requests, &x. the first motion after the resolutions says, Thomas B. Lewis, Esq., was unanimously chose, &c. Outsiders could but understand this choice and endorsement to be by at least a reasonably well attended meeting, while, in fact, there were only seven or eight persons present, and the citizens of Owyhee, as a community, has no more interest or voice in these unanimous proceedings than those of the Sandwich Islands. We request the Statesman to either omit the publication (if not already done) of these proceedings or accompany them with our remarks. We do not want to have our citizens both misrepresented and wheedled out of $1,500 to pay for having us exhibited in the false light of boobies at the Capitol of the Nation.

We have a column of details on this subject which we hope not to be provoked to publish; but to see a matter in which every true citizen of Owyhee is vitally interested made a burlesque and disreputable farce is more than we’ll suffer knowingly. We yield to none in our earnest desire to promote in every fair way the common welfare of Owyhee and her citizens.

ANOTHER INDIAN OUTRAGE. Mr. Wm. J. Hill, of the Owyhee Ferry, on the fifth, lost a horse, which he supposed had been taken by some travelers, on their way to Virginia City, Nevada or California. He took a horse the next day and followed and overtook them at Summit Spring, 45 miles from the ferry, and not finding his horse, returned. After leaving Dry Creek, about twenty miles from the ferry, his horse nearly gave out, so that he was compelled to ride very slow. When within three miles of the ferry, or home, and near the river, a number of Indians rose from behind a bank from among the tall rye grass and willows and fired upon him, wounding him through the right shoulder. The ball passed entirely through. He sprang from his horse and raised his Henry’s rifle, when a cloud of arrows were fired at him, one wounding him in the left shoulder. He then kept his horse between himself and the Indians and returned their shots. He is confident that he killed the Indian who hit him with the ball, as he jumped partially up the bank and fell back. The horse was wounded with arrows many times. Mr. Hill pulled one out of him and thinks that if he had not been so completely worn out he might have got away with him; but after firing several shots, and knowing he was badly wounded, he ran bout a mile and a half, leaving his horse, saddle trapping &c., to the enemy.

The ball passed through the right shoulder below the joint, ranging a little back and must have passed near the bone. It is a very painful wound, but at present does not assume a very dangerous appearance.

The boldness of these murdering red thieves is becoming intolerable. The theft of stock is so common these days that but little attention is paid to it, or only a few instances are noted in the newspapers. How long are the people of Idaho to endure such outrages? Their boldness increases on each successful raid and unless some decisive measures are taken soon to subdue or totally annihilate the red devils we had better give up the field to Mr. Lo! And retire to the white settlements. H. W. H.

P.S. — We have since learned that Mr. Hill killed two Indians, as the bodies have been found. Hill deserves great credit for his successful victory in this instance, and we hope he may live to kill a thousand and enjoy the fruits of his labors in pursuing his labor unmolested.

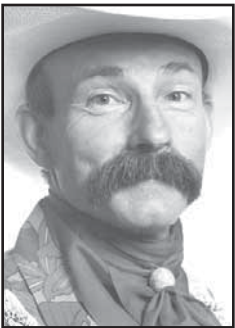

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. These officers’ proceedings on Monday last will be found in this paper. They have made an order on streets, etc. That all cross streets heretofore decanted public shall extend one thousand feet east and west from Jordan Street. This was made in view of the recent difficulty regarding the claiming of a portion of Second Street for building purposes. At the April session of the Commissioners, the Road Supervisor of this district was ordered to remove all obstructions in the public highway in his district. The April and September orders are intended to keep open all public thoroughfares, but will not have the effect of opening the street in controversy, unless the Supervisor acts upon his belief that the street is a public one, and opens it in accordance with its belief and the orders of the Commissioners. So far as we can get the public expression, it is all one way, and that said ground is a street, and as such should be opened. This is our opinion.

HON. E. J. WORLEY, a member of the Idaho Assembly last Winter, from Owyhee, departed this rocky region this week for his old home in Asheville, Buncombe County, N.C. He was free to say that he’d never go off to legislate again, and hoped we’d do or say nothing by which his friends in the States would ascertain his last winter’s occupation. We don’t see why they should think the less of him on this account, as he owns up and promises, whether he gets forgiveness or not, that he will hereafter conduct himself in such a manner as to convince his friends that he’s truly sorry for that episode in his life. We can fully vouch for his correct deportment and respectable occupation since that time. Forty days legislating in Idaho would disgust any honest man — as, instance of friend Worley.

On the edge of common sense

The wild Australian bullock

“I’ve finally caught the wild bullock,” Marian told Dave over the phone. “Bring a big gun!” she said.

It was a bright summer morning when Dave pulled into Marian’s stock farm in the northern part of New South Wales bush country.

“He’s real nervous,” she explained. “He’s with the bull. Ya need the big gun cause ya won’t get a second shot. The bull will be maddened by the smell of blood and will charge ya!”

She hid Ken and Doug behind the woodshed. Dave sat in the left-hand passenger side of the quarter-ton ute. Marian drove into the small pasture and eased to within 20 meters of the suspicious pair of bovine.

The bull was large, but the 6-year-old Shorthorn bullock was XXL! At least 1,000 kg!

“Now,” instructed Marian, “I can’t bear to watch so as soon as you shoot, shout, ‘Got ’im!’ Or ... Drive like ’ell!”

Dave leveled his .270 out the window of the ute and felled the beast with one shot! Ken rushed out with his knife to cut the dead bullock’s throat. Doug accompanied him, waving a garden hoe at the blood-maddened bull, which was now pawing and bellowing at the crazed party of graziers who were descending onto the carcass like it was a fumbled punt!

The bull managed to sling a little snot up Dave’s back and find Marian’s “fight or flight zone,” but their sheer Lilliputian numbers, which included the dog, finally drove the bull away. Using an axe, a crosscut saw (the chainsaw wouldn’t start) and a skinning knife, they were able to reduce the carcass into eight 200-pound pieces, a mountain of offal and a head the size of a cast-iron kitchen stove. It was a beefy horn of plenty. According to Dave, it fed half the district for a year, although he admitted it took a bit of chewing.

Marian’s most unsettling memory was the vision of a trailer bed of offal being driven off, the head of the giant beast staring at her eye level over the tailgate. That, and the cloud of blowflies that followed the disappearing truck across the paddock and over the horizon.

But Yallaroi school children today still talk about the ghastly scene they saw from the school bus that morning ... a dragon of a beast that lay slain under a tree and the gallant knight chasing a second one along the fence line brandishing a garden hoe.

Such is the stuff of which legends are made!

Cell phone revulsion

I like to believe I’m a very technically astute person. I was working with personal computers back when 95 percent of people had spring-powered watches. I was exploring the Internet before computers had windows or mice, and you had to type in cryptic commands on a keyboard to surf the Web. Even today, when computers at the office have problems, I’m the guy co-workers call.

But despite my high-tech knowledge and experience, I still don’t understand cell phones.

I might be on my way home after work or running an errand. The traffic light at the intersection turns green. The pickup truck ahead of me doesn’t move. The guy driving is too involved in a phone conversation to realize it is time to go. I look in my rear-view mirror. The woman in the car behind me also is on the phone, as is the lady in the car in the oncoming lane.

The whole world seems to be on the phone, all the time.

It’s not like my mate and I have ignored the cell phone revolution. For about five years we had two phones — primarily so we could keep in touch when we were shopping. Our phone plan gave us 300 minutes a month. We seldom used more than 30 minutes. Recently, we dumped the two-phone plan and got one of those “Pay-as-you-go” phones. We seldom use it.

I know people who have 1,000-minutes-a-month cell phone plans — that’s almost one full day each month on the phone. They still exceed their limit. And these aren’t people who are using their phones for business. They talk while driving their cars. They talk while eating in restaurants. They talk while they are shopping and in store checkout lines. Some talk when watching a movie at a theater. They talk until they get on board airline flights and start talking again as soon as they get off.

I’ve overheard a lot of these conversations. It’s not like I’m trying to eavesdrop. I don’t have a choice. Everyone seems to be talking on their cell phones all the time. But I have concluded from listening to this chatter that most cell phone users AREN’T SAYING ANYTHING. They are just talking. Seldom are the topics of conversation critical to their well-being. It’s an obsessive compulsion. “I have a cell phone that works everywhere, therefore I must talk.” People claim they don’t have enough time for a normal home life because of our fast-paced society. They would have time if they would GET OFF THE PHONE.

And the obsession to be constantly “connected” is getting worse.

It’s hard to go anywhere now without running into someone wearing one of those new ear phones — a device about the size of a man’s thumb that hangs over one of the user’s ears from the time they get up in the morning until they get home at night. At least I assume they remove the ear phones at night. Maybe they don’t.

It appears to me that ear phones are sort of a status symbol. The user is saying, “Look at me, everybody. I am totally connected.”

There may, however, be a way to treat some folks suffering from cell phone obsession.

Recently, I encountered someone I know who was sporting a new full-time ear phone. As we approached each other I had the sense that he was hoping I would comment on his new equipment. So I did.

“Hey, what’s that thing sticking out of you ear?” I asked.

“That my new phone,” he said, appearing to be a little irritated by the phrasing of my question.

“Do you realize how silly you look with that thing sticking out of your ear?” I said, pressing the issue.

When I saw him a couple of days later his ear ornament had disappeared.

A little tough love might be the answer to cell phone obsession.

Constitution: Going strong after 219 years

by Sen. Mike Crapo

September 17th probably wasn’t considered a day to celebrate by most. But last Sunday marked the anniversary of a special day in the history of our country. It was the 219th birthday of the Constitution of the United States of America.

It is interesting, considering the centrality of the Constitution to our nation’s heritage and future, that its birthday isn’t celebrated nearly as expansively as other national holidays. Heralding our country’s independence is worth every last firecracker shot off on the Fourth of July, but independence is meaningless without the rule of law in place to maintain it.

This past year, we’ve heard much about the “constitutionality” of programs or actions taken by the Bush administration or Congress. Just in the past six months, people have put the constitutionality question to a number of legislative actions, executive orders and administrative rules.

These national conversations eventually return to one standard: our Constitution. To be sure, interpretation of our governing document varies, hence the lively debate in issues from states’ rights and interstate commerce to civil liberties and freedom of speech. Still, all hearken back to the standards, structure and instructions found in these Articles of Governance.

One entire branch of our government is devoted to interpreting the Constitution, making decisions about whether our laws — instruments of stability, safety and order — are allowed by our government’s founding document. And, perhaps most remarkably, the Constitution has withstood the test of time and massive change in our society and way of life. In 217 years, we have transformed from a predominately agrarian, isolated economy and society, through the industrial revolution to a world of computers and the phenomenon of high-speed, instantaneous, worldwide communication, accessible to most anyone in the developed and developing world.

The tenacity of the Constitution highlights the fact that the notion of liberty, equality and freedom — the very yearning of people to be free from oppression — upon which the structure of the Constitution rests, transcends time and human condition. To be sure, when you read about the Supreme Court hearing arguments about interstate transportation, notions of liberty and equality don’t necessarily come immediately to mind. Yet, it wasn’t too long ago that the

Reader's viewpoint

Owyhee Initiative misconceptions must be clarified

by Russ Turner

Several articles have appeared in the daily press discussing the Owyhee Initiative Agreement, often focusing on certain aspects of the Agreement which may have given readers an inaccurate impression of what the Initiative is about. The Owyhee Cattlemen's Association Board of Directors believes that clarification of the goals and intent of the Initiative is in order to help the public have an accurate understanding of the document.

The Initiative was conceived as a positive, proactive effort in an attempt to break out of the negative rut the various sportsmen, environmental and livestock groups found themselves operating in while trying to come to consensus in regards to various natural resource issues. The stated Initiative goal reflects that positive, proactive thought: "To develop and implement a landscape-scale program in Owyhee County that preserves the natural processes that create and maintain a functioning, un-fragmented landscape supporting and sustaining a flourishing community of human, plant, and animal life, that provides for economic stability by preserving livestock grazing as an economically viable use, and that provides for protection of cultural resources."

The Initiative is a multifaceted agreement which is a true grassroots effort. While it was developed under the auspices of the Owyhee County Commissioners — they provided the platform, which allowed individuals representing private groups to meet to develop the agreement — landowners, ranchers, environmental organizations, county government, recreation interests are all represented in the Owyhee Initiative Work Group. The Shoshone-Paiute Tribe is involved through a government-to-government relationship with Owyhee County.

and coordinate landscape conservation and research projects along with funding for the projects.

4) Travel and Recreation plans by the BLM which will include a multiple-use trail system that will provide a wide range of recreational opportunities for all users.

5) Cultural Resources important to people and their ancestors must be protected against abuse and desecration whether intentional or not. Measures to accomplish this will include language for implementation of the Shoshone-Paiute Tribal Cultural Resource Protection Plan.

6) Wilderness & Wild and Scenic Rivers: Initiative will resolve status of Wilderness Study Areas by designating some areas as wilderness and releasing others to multiple use management. The legislation has designated stretches of several streams as Wild & Scenic to further the overall goals of the Initiative.

This is a brief overview of the Initiative Agreement. The legislation introduced into the Senate by U.S. Sen. Mike Crapo (R-Idaho) closely follows the agreement language. It is clear that the Initiative has six elements,

Six main elements are contained in the Initiative Agreement:

1) Owyhee Initiative Board of Directors who will oversee and monitor the administration and implementation of the Initiative. Its makeup mirrors the working group membership.

2) Science review by independent third scientists of specified actions by the BLM

3) Conservation and Research Center to review, recommend which are equally important. Hopefully it will be apparent to the reader why any description of the Initiative as a "Wilderness Bill" is inaccurate and misleading.

The wilderness section (item No. 6) seems to be causing the most discussion in the press and, therefore, some clarifying comments appear to be appropriate.

The environmental community, through the working group representatives, identified certain areas that they wanted to see designated as "wilderness." These identified areas comprise parts of the fifteen ranches listed in the "Land Exchanges & Acquisitions" section of the Initiative. It needs to be emphasized that none of these fifteen ranches initiated the process for land sale/trades. Instead, they were approached by the working group because they had property identified by the environmental representatives as priority wilderness areas. The land exchange/acquisition program is not envisioned as a buy-out, but rather as a way to keep these ranches whole and able to continue in the ranching business. This is faithful to the Initiative goal in two respects: 1) "preserves the natural processes that create and maintain a functioning un-fragmented landscape" and 2) "provides for economic stability by preserving livestock grazing as an economically viable use."

The Owyhee Cattlemen's Association strongly believes that the Initiative is worthy of support by all Idaho citizens. We urge readers to study the Initiative Agreement and associated legislation to make a decision based on facts. The Agreement plus Senate Bill 3794 can be viewed at www.owyheeininitiative.org. The names and contacting information of the Work Group Committee are also at the site to facilitate individual questions.

√ Crapo

High Court's eminent domain decision in Kelo v. The City of New London made state and national news because of its clear implications of what constitutes so-called "public use," and what rights we have with regard to our private property. And our nation is grappling today with the outcome of another Supreme Court decision, Hamdan v. Rumsfeld. What would those 55 men over that long, hot Philadelphia summer have said about the right of Osama bin Laden's driver to be tried in a court of law and granted the same rights and privileges as an American citizen standing trial? In these kinds of cases, debate about how the Constitution upholds freedom and liberty is more readily apparent.

Our Constitution gives us tools to apply the tenets of a free society to daily governance, and orchestrates the administration of the rule of law. Our freedoms are guaranteed precisely because we adhere to this rule of law, and that's why our Constitution remains entirely relevant today.

I can think of no more compelling reason to celebrate our Constitution.

— Mike Crapo is a Republican U.S. senator from Idaho.

Road district needs to examine Juniper Mountain road signage

The letter-writer sent this letter and several photos to Owyhee County Commissioner Chris Salove. A copy of the letter and photos also were sent to The Owyhee Avalanche.

— Ed.

Driving the Juniper Mountain road is a hideous excuse for a paved road, let alone the signage has left a lot to be desired.

After researching the proper way for any signage on county roads, it is very obvious that Owyhee County Road District No. 1, whether it be the Road Commissioner or the District Manager, needs to be reminded of proper detail.

The correct height for a sign needs to be at least 1 foot higher than the roadway, or a 350 crash-tested stand. Assuming the bucket was there with something in it to secure it, the sign is not legal. As you can clearly see this does not meet any standards.

I drove this road on Sunday, Aug. 13, and then again on Sunday, Aug. 20. This sign had still not been fixed after one full week. Who knows how long it has been like this? If someone was in an accident and it was due to improper signage, how big of a lawsuit would that be for Owyhee County? Is it worth it? No one should get hurt to get proper signage let alone a better paved road. Speaking of which, why was that road paved with 1 or 2 inches, at the most, of pavement, and not properly built up and then paved the correct way? Is this what the taxpayer dollars are paid for?

These are my concerns for the Juniper Mountain Road, for the everyday users, the recreational travelers, for the safety and concern of anyone who has to travel this road at any time of the year.
