

Thatcher wins district with late burst

When opportunity knocked, Scott Thatcher ran through the door last week to win the 3A District III cross country championship.

The Homedale High School senior battled Weiser's Hank Garrison down the stretch Thursday at McCain Middle School in Payette. When Garrison began to fade, Thatcher bolted forward and claimed the title with about 10 meters left in the 5-kilometer race.

"Both Garrison and Thatcher were neck-and-neck the entire race. I don't think there was more than 5 meters between them the entire time," second-year Homedale coach Nick Schamber said.

"In the final stretch, Garrison had the lead, but with about 20 meters left, Garrison began to run out of gas. Scott spotted that and capitalized on the opportunity."

Thatcher ran a person-record of 17 minutes, 46 seconds to earn a trip to the 3A state championship meet Saturday at Hell's Gate State Park in Lewiston. Garrison finished in 17:47. Homedale's Tyler Gibson finished fifth and will join Thatcher at the state meet.

"I am really proud of Scott," Schamber said. "He worked hard all season. He is a motivated and dedicated runner."

"He has been an inspirational

Jordan Valley unable to stop Adrian

Adrian High School senior Stephenie Hutchings (12) had this kill attempt blocked by Jordan Valley's Michelle Elsner, but the Antelopes were able to survive a five-game match to win the High Desert League championship Friday night in Adrian.

Adrian outlasts JV for HDL crown

Both teams still qualify for Saturday's district tournament in John Day, Ore.

The tiny Adrian High School gymnasium was transformed into Cameron Indoor Stadium on Friday when Jordan Valley came calling for a crucial volleyball matchup.

The Antelopes and Mustangs were playing for High Desert League championship, so an intensity to rival any Duke-North Carolina basketball game was to be expected. The decibel level, however, perhaps was a bit unnerving.

Adrian fought through the noise and the humidity to notch a 25-21, 16-25, 25-18, 22-25, 15-5 victory to secure the league's top seed into Saturday's District 6 tournament in John Day, Ore. As of press time, no bracket was available for the tournament.

"This was a very tough match against a very strong team," Adrian coach Aimee Goss said.

Adrian ran the table in the HDL with a 10-0 mark and takes a 12-1 overall record into the district tournament. Jordan Valley (12-1, 8-1), the runner-up in the 1A Oregon state tournament last season, completes its regular season on the road Thursday against Crane.

"We need to finish strong against Crane, who you never under-estimate, and get ready for Saturday," Jordan Valley coach Jacques Naegle said.

Late fumble ends Trojans' bid for State

All year long, defense was crucial in the Homedale High School football team's success.

The story was no different Friday, but it was the McCall-Donnelly defense that got the last licks in and ended the Trojans' dreams of reaching the state playoffs.

The Vandals forced a fumble on the Trojans' final drive, sealing an 18-16 3A Snake River Valley conference victory in McCall.

"This is my most painful experience as a football coach. I am sorry to the seniors, underclassmen, the parents and the community of Homedale," Trojans coach Thomas Thomas wrote in an e-mail to The Owyhee Avalanche. "We were the better team."

Homedale ended the season 5-3 overall and finished fourth in the SRV at 1-3.

McCall (3-5, 2-2) earned the conference's third and final berth into the 3A state playoffs and will travel to meet Gooding in the first round this week.

"We missed out on our goal of going to the playoffs," Thomas said. "We would have matched up well against Gooding."

"This is a bitter pill to swallow, especially since expectations were so high."

Senior fullback drags Marsing to key victory

When the going got tough Friday for the Marsing High School football team, the Huskies turned to their top athlete to pull them into the state playoffs.

Senior fullback Shea McClellin scored on two short runs in the fourth quarter and then ran in both PATs as Marsing posted a 36-32 come-from-behind victory over Melba.

The 2A Western Idaho Conference victory at home secured a trip to the 2A state playoffs for Marsing.

The Huskies (5-3 overall, 4-1 2A WIC) begin the road at home Friday with a play-in game against Nampa Christian. Kickoff in Marsing is scheduled for 7 p.m.

McClellin, who rushed for 241 yards against the Mustangs (2-6, 2-3), scored the game's last three touchdowns to pull the Huskies out of a 32-14 hole.

Visiting Melba rolled out to a 20-0 lead behind two short TD runs by Sam Stapleton and Will Bangerter's 11-yard touchdown pass to Mark Pyburn.

McClellin scored his first touchdown of the game on a 14-yard run in the second quarter, and Don Galligan pulled the Mustangs within a touchdown, 20-14, by hauling a Mustangs fumble 23 yards for a score.

Mustangs began the second half like they had started the game, with T.J. Cleburne snagging a 15-yard pass from Bangerter and Tim Wood rumbling 38 yards for lineup against the Vandals. He completed only five of 18 attempts and was intercepted twice. One of the interceptions was returned 35 yards in the second quarter for McCall's first touchdown.

The Trojans gained just 130 yards total offense against the Vandals, but Thomas said the game was a defensive struggle from the start.

The only offensive TD came when Mike Wilhelm scored from a yard out to give the Trojans at 16-6 lead near the end of the third quarter.

Brandian Sitko scored Homedale's first touchdown by returning a McCall fumble 32 yards in the first quarter. The Trojans' defense also picked up a safety in the second quarter.

Sitko led the Trojans' running game with 38 yards on 13 carries. Wilhelm finished seven yards on three totes.

Bryan Martinat returned to the lineup, too, with 15 yards on one reception.

"Life sometimes goes different than you have planned," Thomas said. "I will evaluate the reasons this happened and what I could have done to prevent it.

"I am blaming no one but myself. I am the head of this program, and the buck stops with me."

Undermanned Raiders miss shot at beating Tri-Valley

With four players held out of the first quarter for disciplinary reasons, the Rimrock High School football team started Friday night in a hole.

The Raiders couldn't dig out and dropped a 32-24 1A, Division I decision to Tri-Valley on Senior Night in Bruneau.

Second-year Rimrock coach

Jim Clark said the disciplinary action (the four players skipped practice) and pulling an oh-fer in extra-point attempts were keys to the Raiders' narrow loss.

The Raiders (1-8 overall, 0-5 1A, Div. I) trailed 20-6 after the first 12 minutes. Freshman running back Ricardo Araujo scored Rimrock's first touchdown.

After the first quarter, the Raiders' defense tightened on Tri-Valley (2-5, 2-3), allowing TDs in the third and fourth quarters.

Araujo and sophomore TJ Snyder scored touchdowns in the third quarter for Rimrock.

Nate Hofer added the Raiders' final touchdown in the fourth frame.

Mustangs JV players handle Adrian

The Jordan Valley High School developmental volleyball teams were able to bring some wins home Friday from Adrian.

With Elisa Eiguren racking up 14 service points, the Mustangs' junior varsity captured a 25-12, 25-7 High Desert League victory.

"The girls practiced very hard this week on communication and moving to position on the floor, and I really think that it showed in how well they played," Jordan Valley coach Jacque Naegle said.

"They used the ball well and went for the most aggressive play that they could make and did a great job."

Kayla Cuvelier chipped in three kills, while Catie Kershner had four assists and Nickie Naegle added three.

Jordan Valley's C team captured a 25-16 decision over Adrian.

"The girls played very well together, moving to the ball setting it up and getting the point," Naegle said. "I feel that they have really improved their basic skills and are looking to step up their play."

Ann Marie Eiguren led the way with 10 service points, while Luisa Lowry, Sequoi Trautman and Annie Mackenzie carded one kill apiece.

McClellin, who broke the 1,500-yard rushing mark for the season during the game, kicked off the Huskies' comeback with a 44-yard TD run in the third quarter.

Adrian defense secures emotional win over JV

From the reaction of defensive coordinator Quinten Shenk, one could have culled the impression that the Adrian High School football team had just won a national championship.

In reality, the delirious celebration witnessed on Ward Field on Friday was touched off by the Antelopes' emotional 22-16 High Desert League victory over rival Jordan Valley.

"He had (the defense) fired up," Adrian head coach Paul Shenk said of his son, Quinten.

"Our defense has been carrying us a lot lately. And they've spent a lot of time on the field. Quinten did a very good job of setting up the defense this week."

Adrian's (3-4, 3-3) victory over the visiting Mustangs (2-3, 2-3) was made all the more profound for the Antelopes by the return of senior defensive end Jake Chisham, who had been out of action with a neck injury.

"Coming back all through practice, I've been a little edgy to hit," Chisham said. "I didn't want to hurt myself. But tonight, I just couldn't hold back, and gave it everything I had."

Chisham racked up 11 tackles and 2½ sacks as the Adrian defense stifled the young Mustangs and opened the door for a comeback.

Sophomore J.J. Stephens led the Antelopes' defenders with an eye-popping 17 tackles, and three other players (Joseph Witty, Kyle Dondero and David Meyers) collected eight stops each.

"This is my second year here," Chisham said. "But ever since I've been here, it's Jordan Valley this, Jordan Valley that."

"Jordan Valley, we've got to beat them. It's our rivalry, and they want to beat us as bad as we want to beat them."

Jordan Valley built a 16-6 lead in the first half as Tim Eiguren rolled in from three yards out then fired a 4-yard scoring strike to sophomore Alek Quintero.

Quintero's touchdown was set up when the Mustangs blocked an Adrian punt deep in Antelopes territory.

But Adrian's defense signaled its arrival and began to turn the game around after a botched snap on a punt attempt during Adrian's ensuing possession.

The Mustangs had the first of two touchdowns nullified by penalty when a illegal man downfield call wiped out Quintero's 12-yard TD pass to Zac Filmore. Then the Adrian defense racked up two consecutive sacks (Derick Rios and Chisham) before Dondero, a sophomore, got a hand on Jerry Wroten's punt.

"We've got a good group, all sophomores, pretty much playing out there every night," Quinten Shenk said. "It's going to be great next two years."

After a fumble ended Adrian's next possession, the defense went to work again as Meyers nearly picked off a Quintero pass.

Quintero was stopped a yard short of the first down on a 4th-and-5 play, and Adrian's offense finally paid back the defense.

Sophomore quarterback Blake Ishida and Witty hooked up for a 54-yard run-and-catch when Quintero gambled for the interception and lost.

Two plays later, Rios bulled in from 1-yard out and added the two-point PAT to put Adrian up for good, 16-14.

Rios scored Adrian's first touchdown with an 80-yard kickoff return immediately after the Mustangs' first score.

The senior came back with a 76-yard sprint in the third quarter for some insurance. He finished with 129 yards on 11 carries.

Quintero was a workhorse for Jordan Valley. He rolled up 138 yards on 37 rushes, but was limited to 41 yards on 17 attempts in the second half.

Paul Shenk said the game was a watershed for the Antelopes because of the rash of injuries Adrian has had this season.

"It's coming on the heels of some tough games," the first-year coach said. "We had the same problem this game, they came out flat and the kids came back."

Valley nor Adrian could get a firm grip on the match in the first three games.

The Antelopes outscored Jordan Valley 7-2 down the stretch to win Game 1, but the Mustangs rolled out to an 8-2 lead with a 6-0 run before holding on for the victory in Game 2.

During the second game, the Jordan Valley side of the gymnasium was boisterous as the fans roared approval with each point earned by the Mustangs. The noise level was deafening at times.

"I have a lot of respect for Jordan Valley, and both teams really battled it out," Goss said. "The fact that it went five games is an indicator of how evenly matched these two teams are with each other."

Senior Amanda Simpson served one of her seven aces in the match to spark Adrian's 6-1 opening to the third game. The Antelopes took Game 3 with an overpowering service game.

Junior Paige Branstiter used a ferocious jump serve to pound four aces in the match, and Kirsten Phillips' two aces also helped keep Jordan Valley off-balance.

"We had some very strong serving from Paige, Kirsten and Amanda, and the rest were very consistent, and that was key," Goss said.

Angela Larsen had eight kills for Jordan Valley, and teammate Kelsey Prescott added seven, but Adrian answered with its own strong offense with double-digit kills from Branstiter (16), Sarah McPeak (11) and Stephenie Hutchings (10).

"We did not play as well as we have been," Naegle said. "We had a lot of unforced errors in our serving and seemed to be getting a lot of net calls."

"Adrian came out strong and was ready to play and did a great job."

Ryann Bowns, another senior playing her last home game for Adrian, racked up 17 assists, and fellow setter Kat Sillonis chipped in nine assists.

Meanwhile, Bailey Kershner sparked the Jordan Valley offense with 12 assists, while Breann Hipwell added eight.

leader for the team all season.” Gibson ran a personal-best time, too. He was clocked at 18:39, shaving 20 seconds off his time from the West Park Open in Nampa a week earlier.

“Tyler is a very talented runner,” Schamber said. “I have been much happier with his attitude and work ethic this season compared to last season. I think he has a shot at next year’s title.”

Scott Thatcher

Schamber wasn’t sure what to expect at the state meet because he hadn’t seen any other district championship results except for District IV. “Our times seem to be competitive,” the coach said. “Last year, both boys finished in the middle of the pack. This year, their goal is to finish in the top 20.”

Belen Vega qualified to return to girls state championship race after grabbing third in the district meet with a time of 21:59. But Schamber said she’s making family the priority, passing up a chance at another top-20 state finish to attend a wedding Saturday.

“Belen is a remarkable girl,” Schamber said. “She is very soft-spoken, but it doesn’t take long to know where her priorities are: God, family, school, cross country. “Knowing that she wasn’t going to State and running as hard as she did in districts shows how much character the young lady has. It truly is a privilege to be her coach.”

Another Homedale athlete, Elisabeth Falnes, grabbed 17th at the girls district meet with a time of 25:30. Trojans teammates Lauren Amend (28:43) and Kayla Bertagnoli (29:35) were 24th and 25th, respectively.

On the boys side, four other Homedale runners competed and finished in a pack between 22nd and 25th.

John Howes led the group at 22:53, followed by Trevor Meligan (23:10), Matt Borschowa (23:31) and Drew Farwell (23:34).

Although Homedale fielded a complete boys team, the Trojans’ dream of reaching the state meet as a unit was stymied — in part — by a controversial move by host Payette.

According to Schamber, the Pirates recruited a few soccer players to fill out their roster and finished second to grab the district’s No. 2 berth to state. Weiser won the championship, and Homedale finished fourth behind McCall-Donnelly.

The Trojans were just seven points out of second place.

“That was a subject of discussion between the (Snake River Valley conference) coaches after the meet,” Schamber said of Payette’s roster moves.

“There is nothing in the rules that states you can’t put runners from other sports on your team, but it seems a bit unfair.

“We had been beating Payette all season, and then they happen to get three good runners from the soccer team that propel them to State. I’m sure this will be a subject of discussion at the next (athletic directors) meeting.”

Even with the sour ending, Schamber fixed his gaze on next year, when the Trojans will lose the bulk of their roster.

“Team-wise, we had a great season,” he said. “I hope we can continue to improve next year.

“We will have seven of 11 runners leaving, so needless to say, I am going to start to recruit now.”

A look at Owyhee County athletes competing beyond high school

Homedale High School graduate Michael Eby thwarted a drive with an interception during the first half of the Eastern Oregon University football team’s 34-0 loss to top-ranked Carroll College on Oct. 14 in LaGrande, Ore.

It was his third pick of the season.

A junior linebacker, Eby was the Mountaineers’ second-leading tackler against the unbeaten, four-time defending NAIA national champion Fighting Saints. Eby logged eight tackles to go with his interception during EOU’s Frontier Conference home game.

Eastern Oregon held the powerful Carroll team in check, trailing 10-0 at halftime. Carroll had beaten EOU 49-0 in the teams’ first 2006 meeting in September.

“Everyone’s disappointed,” Eby told the La Grande (Ore.) Observer after the Oct. 14 game. “On the positive side, Carroll is the best team in the country and we played right with them in the first half. If we can play with the No. 1 team, we can play with anyone in our league.”

After getting nine tackles in Saturday’s 15-12 Homecoming loss to 18th-ranked Montana Tech, Eby is second on the Mountaineers’ squad with 51 tackles. He has made 26 solo stops and 2 tackles for loss. He has one sack for a loss of seven yards.

The Carroll rematch marked the second consecutive game in which Eby had snatched an interception. He picked off a pass during the Mountaineers’ narrow 28-21 victory over Montana-Western in Dillon, Mont., on Oct. 7.

The Mountaineers (3-5 overall, 2-5 in the Frontier) visit Rocky Mountain College for a 1 p.m. kickoff Saturday.

Former Homedale soccer player Antonio Bautista has scored two goals in 11 appearances for Albertson College, which entered last weekend atop the Cascade Conference standings.

Bautista, who has started one game this season, scored his second goal of the season Oct. 14 in a 3-1 victory on the road against The Evergreen State College. Mitch White assisted the goal.

Bautista and the Coyotes, who are top-ranked in the NAIA Region I, beat Corban College (4-1) and Warner Pacific (1-0) to clinch a playoff sport. Bautista took three shots on goal during the weekend games in Caldwell.

Albertson is 10-5-1 overall and 8-2-0 in the Cascade Conference heading into the final weekend of the regular season. The Coyotes hold a one-game lead for the conference championship and play Friday (vs. Cascade) and Saturday (vs. second-place Concordia) in Portland.

The Region I tournament will be held either in Salt Lake City or Burnaby, British Columbia, on Nov. 3-4.

Slow Roasted Pork Shoulder With Dried Strawberry Chipotle Chutney

Prep time: Approximately 10 minutes
Cook time: 2 1/2 hours
Makes: 12 servings

4 to 6 pounds pork shoulder or Boston butt roast
Salt
Seasoned pepper blend

Dried Strawberry Chipotle Chutney
1/2 yellow onion, small diced
1/2 cup port wine
1 cup water
1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar
1 chipotle pepper, chopped fine
1 6-ounce bag dried strawberries

Heavily season roast with salt and pepper blend, rubbing the seasoning into meat. Place in baking pan, put into preheated 350°F oven 2 1/2 hours or until roast reaches an internal temperature of 150°F. Remove from oven and allow to rest about 15 minutes before carving.

For chutney, combine yellow onion and port in sauté pan, reduce wine until almost dry over medium heat. Add remaining ingredients and cook over medium low heat 20 minutes.

Top warm pork roast slices with chutney and serve.

Tip: Chutney can also be served over turkey.

Souffle Omelet With Balsamic Strawberries

Prep time: 10 minutes Cook time: 5 minutes
Makes: 2 servings

1 1/2 cups (about 8 ounces) fresh California strawberries, stemmed and quartered
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint, optional
1 tablespoon aged balsamic vinegar
2 teaspoons granulated sugar, divided
2 large eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons butter
Confectioners' sugar, as needed

In bowl, combine strawberries, mint, vinegar and 1 1/2 teaspoons of granulated sugar; set aside. In small bowl, whisk egg yolks with vanilla and remaining granulated sugar 1 minute or until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites with electric mixer in separate bowl until they form soft peaks. With rubber spatula, fold yolks into whites until no streaks remain.

Melt butter in 10-inch nonstick skillet over medium heat. (To make 2 individual omelets, use 6-inch nonstick skillet.) When butter sizzles, add egg mixture, spreading it into an even layer with spatula. Cover pan; reduce heat to low. Cook omelet 3 to 4 minutes or until golden brown on bottom and barely set on top. Spoon strawberries down center of omelet; fold omelet in half over filling with spatula.

Slide omelet onto plate; dust with confectioners' sugar.

Grilled Strawberries With Black Pepper Ice Cream

Prep time: 45 minutes Cook time: 35 minutes
Makes: 6 servings

Black Pepper Ice Cream
1 1/2 pints premium vanilla ice cream
1 1/2 tablespoons medium ground black pepper

Port Syrup
1/2 cup ruby port
1/4 cup sugar

Cocoa Wafers
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons cocoa
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
Pinch salt
1/3 cup all-purpose flour

Grilled Strawberries
12 fresh rosemary skewers
24 fresh California strawberries, stemmed and quartered lengthwise

For Black Pepper Ice Cream, place ice cream in refrigerator about 30 minutes or until slightly softened. Gently stir in pepper. Place in freezer until firm.

For Port Syrup, simmer port and sugar in saucepan until reduced to 1/3 cup. Chill.

For Cocoa Wafers, cream sugar and butter. Mix in cocoa, vanilla and salt; when smooth, mix in flour just until incorporated. If needed, add up to 2 teaspoons of water to make firm but pliable dough. Form into a flat disc between 2 pieces of plastic wrap; chill. Roll between 2 pieces plastic wrap to 1/4-inch thickness. With sharp knife or cookie cutter, cut into leaf shapes about 3 inches long. Place on parchment-lined sheet pan. Bake in 325°F oven 8 to 10 minutes or just until set; wafers will firm as they cool.

Strip leaves from rosemary skewers, leaving 2 to 3 inches of leaves at the top. Thread 4 strawberries halves onto each skewer. Grill skewers, cut sides down, about 4 minutes or until grill marks form.

For each serving, place 1/2-cup scoop Black Pepper Ice Cream in chilled glass; spear 2 skewers into ice cream. Spoon 1 tablespoon Port Syrup onto ice cream. Garnish with 2 Cocoa Wafers.

A full-page background image showing a sunset over a calm body of water. The sun is a bright, glowing orb in the upper center, casting a long, shimmering reflection down the water. Two silhouetted figures are sitting in a small boat in the lower third of the frame, fishing with rods. The sky is filled with soft, orange and yellow clouds. The overall mood is peaceful and serene.

City ordinance creates P&Z Commission

An ordinance creating the Homedale City Planning and Zoning Commission was passed as an emergency last Wednesday night, during the regular meeting of the Homedale City Council.

A meeting of the P&Z Commission will be held next Tuesday, October 27, 7:30 p.m., at the City Hall, according to Marie Badiola, city clerk. Badiola said the special meeting is for organizational purposes.

The ordinance, number 224, sets forth the purpose as to comply with the Local Planning Act of 1975.

The commission is to consist of seven voting members, whose terms are to be for not more than three years, but then the members may be considered for reappointment, the ordinance says.

Qualifications for membership include being residents of Owyhee County for five years, and remain a resident while serving on the commission.

The commission is required to adopt organization papers or bylaws. Records of “meetings, hearings, resolutions, studies, findings, permits, and actions shall be maintained,” the ordinance states.

The ordinance repeats the Local Planning Act in requiring that all meetings and records shall be open to the public, and that at least one regular meeting shall be held each month for not less than nine months per year.

Post office adds more boxes

New boxes have been added to the Homedale Post Office making them now available for those who have been waiting. Joyce Turner, Post Master, said that “approximately thirty to forty people have been on a waiting list as long as eighteen months.” There are now one hundred new small boxes and four drawers which were completed last Wednesday. All are key boxes.

According to Turner, new Postal rates will go into effect as of Nov. 1 at 12 o’clock midnight. First Class mail will go to 20¢ for the first ounce and remain at 17¢ for each additional ounce. Post cards will be going to 13¢ but there will be no change in the parcel post rates. Third Class rates will be making a slight increase with no change in the international postage rates. Non-profit organization postage also remains the same. Books and library rates will rise with books going to 69¢ per pound.

Tennis court project bids solicited

Bids have been called for by the Homedale City Council for the construction of tennis courts according to a Public Notice in this issue.

Copies of the contract documents may be obtained at the Homedale City Hall or from JUB Engineers in Nampa.

Opening of the bids will be at a special meeting at noon, Wednesday, November 4, the notice states.

Valley happenings

Lucy Stutheit, Homedale, accompanied Mark and Babe McGuire, Renton, Wash., in their motor home to Bend, Ore., to visit her daughter, Alma Benoit, where she stayed three weeks while recuperating from a severe fall at her home a few weeks ago. She and the Benoits went to Portland to visit her sister and husband, Eva and Walter Stutheit, after which they Benoits returned her to her home in Homedale.

Last Wednesday a busload of seniors from Homedale and Marsing went to the Bruneau area. They toured the Indian Bath Tubs, Sand Dunes Museum, the old railroad bridge, had lunch at Melba, and went to the Indian Rocks.

Ethel Woodburn, Homedale, has returned after a three-week visit in Polo., Ill., with her brother, Harvey and Lois Craig and other relatives. She reports that she attended a Senior Citizen dinner twice; it was held in the basement of the Methodist Church.

Lois Hall and Nona Hale, Caldwell, were last Thursday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Myrtle Spellman, Fargo. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pamperien, Caldwell, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Spellman.

Trojans cop 4th conference win by downing Fruitland

The Homedale Trojans powered their way to their fourth conference win in the SRV “B” league Friday night by downing the Fruitland Grizzlies 13 to 6.

Homedale started off strong by scoring two quick touchdowns in the first half. Chuck Dunn made the first in the initial quarter on the line buck. Bill Carson repeated in the second quarter and Dunn converted.

In the third quarter both teams played heads up defensive ball and neither team was able to score. The Grizzlies’ Alan Main punched over from the two-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Kiwanis hears talk by Father George Brennan

Father George Brennan of the St. Hubert’s Catholic church was guest speaker at the regular Wednesday noon meeting of the Homedale Kiwanis club.

He told Kiwanis members of his schooling in county Kilkenny, Ireland, where he was born, and at the Gregorian university in Rome, Italy.

Father Brennan was in Rome when Italy declared war in 1940, and told of his difficulties in making his way to Paris, France, on to London, England, and home. He then came to Idaho, crossing the ocean on an empty oil tanker to Halifax, Nova Scotia.

He came to Homedale from Shoshone where he was pastor of St. Peter’s church for seven years. His Irish wit and ability to tell stores was enjoyed by Kiwanis members.

At an election of offices, William Gouldman was elected new president; Dr. George Wolff, vice president; Sam Buck, treasurer, and Howard Bergeson, Ed Manning, Norman Tolmie, Emirl Wolt, Rev. Willard Kennon, Lloyd Vietmeier, and Paul Zatica directors.

EDS. AVALANCHE: The men who are employed by Eastern companies to manage their affairs here as well as men who are on the ground and own the property, enter into agreements with laboring men to pay them so much per day or month. The dollar recognized here is gold value. The companies books are so kept. The books show $100 paid to A, and the managers have this returned to the companies as that much gold coin expended for labor, when in truth there was not the value of $85. The laboring man who receives now or has at any previous time $75 per month, could but realize $64 in coin and next to impossible to get that. Instance: The mill companies either procure dust at from $10 to $14.50 per ounce or draw orders on merchants who pay them in dust worth no more, and in either case the laborer is paid this same stuff at $12 and $16 per ounce; or it may be he is paid in legal tender notes at 88 cts. At the bank or 85 cts. at the mill counters. Now every man knows that theses notes are worth only 71 and 72 cents, and that in fact instead of paying the full amount due a man, they pay from 12 to 18 cents less on each dollar. Suppose these agents each pay out $10,000 per month, (which some have done) a clear profit of $1,500 is made in the transaction. Again these men were provided with good money, and realize 5 to 10 per cent profit for leaving it in Portland and San Francisco, by drawing drafts – saying nothing of saving the expense of transportation here. When I receive nominally $100 for labor from a mill company, I must give the agent a receipt for $100 which he enters on the company’s books as $100 in coin.

It would be some satisfaction to know that the New York officers were advised of the profits realized in these operation here, and an account rendered. The word of an agent that he did so would in no measure prove anything – nothing short of a certificate from the Trustees would satisfy me that this dishonorable style of payment benefited the company. It is no excuse to say that the dust was just as bad when they came here and they pass it at current rates. They were provided with good money and as honorable men should have paid it out as furnished them, and without speculation on the muscle of their less fortunate fellowman. They cannot excuse themselves by pleading the risk and danger of bringing the companies money here, for the same risk attends the importation of nearly all the dust in use. It is well know that not one-twentieth of the dust in circulation is the product of Owyhee mines – hence the balance is imported and manufactured. Right in the face of these facts, a cry is raised by these same darling New York boys, that wages must be reduced, and no intimation that they intend paying lawful and good United States currency at its real gold value. Taking lessons of others who have, as they should have, failed through a system of dishonesty, they see or think they see an opportunity to perpetrate some genteel swine – no, I’ll not say swindling for their gentility and position repels the idea of their clearly swindling – but as I cannot call to mind the exact term, I’ll let the reader supply the omission. To argue that the dust is current at the stores only amounts to this: the store-keepers take it for the reason that they have an arrangement with the mill men to get bullion and drafts instead, and know that more orders will enable them to pay the stuff right out again. Goods are sold at rates high enough to cover contingencies anyhow. In order that another phase of the matter may be more fully understood, I’ll suppose a case which may not be all supposition. Superintendent A sells bullion for green backs; gets a premium for the bullion and the greenbacks at less than current rates; sells the greenbacks at 90 cents and gets dust in return at the usual rates and forces miners to take it (or take nothing) at $12 and $16 per ounce. Now if Superintendents make nothing in the operation, why not pay the laborers drafts, coin, bullion or greenbacks at their true coin value? Their accounts would doubtless show just the same figures they now do. The haughty gentlemen, the honorable gentlemen, retort on us and say, if you don’t like the pay, quit. I know of many good miners who have quit and left the Territory not to return, because they can find no place outside but they can get just as many good, legal dollars per day as the companies agree to pay them.

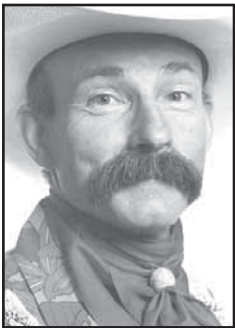

Very respectfully &c., Day Laborer.

On the edge of common sense

Research scientists

There are people who are ennobled by their service to mankind. We think of soldiers, nurses, teachers or ministers whose contributions are recognized daily. Others are national leaders, inventors, Olympic athletes or philanthropists. Their achievements attract laudatory headlines and press.

But there are many who toil beneath the radar, who persevere and over a lifetime of service produce profound long-lasting benefits to the world. One example is research scientists. I think of research scientists as the really smart people in my Physiological Chemistry classes who now work in bat caves chasing cures for the physical maladies of mankind.

I have a friend who is over 80 years old and has developed Parkinson’s disease. Before he got his Schedule D prescription drug plan he was paying $800 a month for pills. Sometimes the high price of his medicine drove him to complain. Then he reminded himself what his life would be like without those pills. It is unthinkable. His ability to walk around and have a fairly normal life exists because of the work of thousands of research scientists who toil like miners in lab coats in pursuit of the causes of body malfunctions.

They use whatever tools are necessary and ethical in their quest. Issues like use of stem cells, cloning and laboratory animals keep popping up in the news. That is because these subjects stimulate a public reaction. In reality, they are but a small rainsquall on the surface of an ocean of scientific endeavor. But most reporters and readers have neither the knowledge nor the interest to dig deeper.

Much of our knowledge about the human body has come from studying animals. From Sir Alexander Fleming’s mouse to Dr. DeBakey’s heart transplant calf, from NASA’s monkey to Dolly the cloned sheep, animals have been used to discover and unlock the secrets of disease and initiate their cures. Is it worth it? Ask my friend with Parkinson’s. Ask his family.

Sir Fleming discovered Penicillin in 1929. The average lifespan of a 29-year-old person that year in the U.S. was 49 years. In 2006, the average lifespan of a 29-year-old person is now 72.

If you want to thank somebody for this gift of life you personally have received, seek them out in a bat cave at some university or pharmaceutical company or research hospital. You’ll find them in the basement hard at work on something that might add 10 years to the life of your grandchild. Oh, and don’t forget to thank the mice for their sacrifice.

Defying the balance of nature

When we moved into our present home 15 years ago, the main bathroom needed work. Tiles were coming loose in the shower and there were spots inside the vanity and in the floor next to the tub that had rotted due to water damage. I patched things up to get by. But after all the girls left home, we didn’t use that bathroom much. About once every two years we would discuss remodeling the bathroom but somehow we never got around to it.

In March, we decided to force ourselves to do something about the bathroom. We ripped out everything down to the bare walls and floor.

The scariest thing about remodeling a bathroom is the cost. If one believes the TV home improvement shows, the bill can easily be as much as we paid for our third house in 1975. But I believe bathrooms are a lot like weddings. TV experts claim a basic wedding costs as much as four years at Harvard. Our daughters’ weddings came in considerably below those estimates, and I am pretty sure a bathroom is the same sort of deal.

March turned into April, then May and June and July. Somehow we just never got going on the bathroom project. You need a plan. You have to select fixtures, find a plumber, someone to “rough in” the areas where the fixtures will go. Then there’s wiring and sheetrocking and taping and texturing and painting and tiling and ... Which comes first? Who will do the various steps? August came and went.

It was early September when we decided the only way to get the bathroom project off the ground was just do it. We went to a plumbing supply house and selected fixtures. My mate found a plumber (the supply house wouldn’t sell directly to us). We found a vanity on sale at a discount warehouse. I hauled it home in my pickup. It would still be in the truck if three younger, stronger neighbors hadn’t helped unload it. The plumber was supposed to order the other fixtures and start work in a couple of weeks. A couple of weeks came and went; he hadn’t even ordered the stuff. We got a different plumber. Although it took him a week longer than projected, he finally showed up and in a day had the basic pipes and drains done.

On a Sunday, our son-in-law Scott, who works in construction, came over and roughed in the tub frame. Through his connections, he found an electrician who showed up a couple of days later to do the wiring. This weekend, Scott will be back to sheetrock. Then my friend Allen’s son-in-law will do the taping and texturing. Then, we’ll do the painting and install the tile floor. Then we can bring in the new vanity that has been taking up room in the garage. Then the plumber will come back and connect up the sinks and install the new commode.

So, if everyone’s schedules work out, by Thanksgiving we should have a state-of-the-art bathroom with separate tub and shower, modern lighting and a ceramic tile floor. I only have a vague idea of what the project is going to cost. It should be way less than our 1975 house, but more than we paid for our first house in 1967.

But I already can see what’s gonna happen. When our new bathroom is finished, our other one and one-half bathrooms will look really bad in comparison, as will our 1970s-circa bedrooms, living room, family room, dining room and kitchen. And by the time we get all those rooms up to modern standards, the house will be too big for us and we’ll need to move into something smaller.

I think it would have been smarter to keep the old bathroom and not upset the balance of nature.

From Washington Vote and let your voice be heard

by Sen. Mike Crapo

’Tis the season: billboards, yard signs, political ads on radio, television and the Internet all signal the political wrangling that accompanies mid-term elections.

Admittedly, political ads can become tiresome or frustrating depending on the campaign, but given the alternative — no right to choose our leaders — I can live with the sometimes outrageous debates that characterize our elections. The tone and substance of these messages also serve as a reminder that voters should be discerning and educate themselves about issues and candidates.

In 2004, 64 percent of eligible U.S. voters turned out in the general election. This means that a little over one-third of potential voters abdicated one of the most precious (and unappreciated) rights we hold in this nation. Idaho’s voter turnout was the same as the national turnout; over one-third of those eligible did not vote. Although voting rates have increased overall, it’s disturbing that 35 percent of our nation’s citizens aged 18 and older chose not to have a voice at the polls.

It’s even more mystifying when you consider that Iraqis, by the millions, braved the threat of suicide bombers to stand in line to vote in January. This trend is mirrored elsewhere in young democracies where previously disenfranchised people now have the right to vote. They understand the oppression that results when the governed are voiceless.

Sen. Mike Crapo

Some are frustrated with the blatant partisanship that grips our nation today and refuse to vote. I, too, am frustrated with the lack of comity in national politics. Still, I cannot surrender my right to vote; indeed, it makes me all the more anxious to cast my ballot.

Voting is both the right and solemn responsibility of members of a free and democratic society. If we are going to criticize our leaders, then we must not fail to cast a vote to make a change. If we support our leaders, then we must not fail to cast a vote to keep the country progressing in ways we support.

Not only should American citizens exercise their right to vote, they should do so with knowledge and awareness of issues and the candidates.

Take some time to look beyond political ads splashed across the television and played on the radio. Be a discerning consumer of the media, bearing in mind that bias always exists. One of the best places to find out where a candidate stands on issues is to check their Web site, write or call the campaign. Take the opportunity to meet the individual in person. This November, Idaho’s ballot will feature a number of propositions. A great way to get general information about these initiatives is to read the 2006 Voters’ Pamphlet that was mailed to every household in Idaho in early October from the Idaho Secretary of State’s office. It is also available online.

Letters to the editor

Helen Chenoweth-Hage was a lady in everything she did

We lost a true friend and patriot with the passing of Helen Chenoweth-Hage.

To Helen, it was all black and white with no shades of gray when defending private property rights. Both Helen and her husband, Wayne Hage, served to remind us that, in the Bill of Rights, we were and are endowed by the creator with certain inalienable rights, which include life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Next to family and country, what makes us happiest is the right to own and hold property.

Tim Lowry, Jerry Hoagland and I were present when returns came in on Helen’s first election night. I was standing beside an older lady, commenting on how much I liked Helen. She smiled and said, “I think a lot of her, too. I’m her mother.”

When Helen kept her promised term limit, I told her, “I thought it was a good idea, but in your case, no.”

She replied: “Some can stay, it’s their choice, but I have other things to do with my life and I don’t want to be compromised, which is always a possibility if you stay too long.”

What could I say?

Helen didn’t rely on political correctness, diversity and affirmative action to succeed.

She did it the old-fashioned way, with intelligence, commitment and grace.

When she went to Congress, she chose to be addressed as Congressman and through it all was a lady... always a lady.

Candidate talk turnout pleases event organizer participation

The Marsing Neighborhood and Senior Activity Center hosted a chicken barbecue fund-raiser and a candidate speak-out Saturday night. We had to plan the event when our candidates’ election commitments are high, knowing that it may be difficult for them to fit us into their schedules.

Election letters to the editor guidelines

The deadline to submit letters to the editor regarding the Nov. 7 general election is 5 p.m., Friday.

There are several ways to submit a letter to the editor for publication in the Avalanche:

- Drop-off — The Avalanche office address is 19 W. Idaho Ave., Homedale.
- Mail — Send letters to the editor to P.O. Box 97, Homedale, ID 83628.
- E-mail — Letters to the editor can be e-mailed to jbrowneditor@cableone.net.
- Fax — The Avalanche fax number is (208) 337-4867.

For more information about submitting letters to the editor, call (208) 337-4681.

We optimistically invited them all.

Their response overwhelmed us. Seniors have many aging-related issues and are more inclined to appreciate representatives that recognize, understand and find solutions for these issues. We are not willing to be overlooked.

The candidates’ attendance was inspiring and motivates us to participate in the political process of our great country. The inspiration doesn’t just come from the variety of campaign promises.

It is the fact that they really care about the issues and are anxious to present their views to the voters in this manner. Regardless of political affiliation, they accepted our invitation and shared themselves and their intentions with us on the evening of Oct. 14.

We thank these dedicated people for demonstrating their commitment to the process we enjoy in our communities, our state and our country.

Many expressed concern that we are living in dangerous times, with complicated issues. It’s time we all become familiar with these issues, and decide what we think needs to be done about them, and by whom. It’s time to drag out our soapboxes and challenge our candidates to represent us accordingly.

We all have our opinions and ideas, but unless we take the opportunity to express them, the process could decay and be replaced with one a lot less liberal. We want to express our appreciation to those who keep this process alive.

It also takes a tremendous amount of time and energy to host an event like this, and our volunteers deserve most of the credit for its success.

Patrick is the right man to represent county in Legislature

It is very easy to encourage you to support a man as competent as Jim Patrick to represent you as your next District 23-A legislator, Twin Falls and Owyhee counties.

He will enter office prepared in many different areas. Not only is he a very good farmer, having successfully grown most of the crops raised in Idaho, but he is knowledgeable in the field of business as well.

Feeling a need for a financial institution where decisions could be made locally, Jim and some friends started a bank, which they ran successfully for seven years, at which time they joined another Idaho bank.

He was again chosen to continue serving on the new bank board.

Jim Patrick will not only be a good listener and leader, but an excellent worker as well, remembering always that he represents you.

Please join me in voting for Jim Patrick on Nov. 7.

√ Washington

Casting votes in Idaho has become very easy. You can vote in person on Election Day. You can vote in person before Election Day at an absentee polling station, or you can vote absentee by mail. In compliance with the Help America Vote Act, ballot-marking devices have been purchased for every polling station in the state. These machines assist elderly, vision-impaired and disabled voters.

Our Founding Fathers followed by countless veterans of yesterday and today, sacrificed much to ensure our freedoms, one of which is the freedom to choose those who lead our communities, state and nation.

Please don’t be too busy, too discouraged, too frustrated or, at the worst, too apathetic to vote this November. Our future — your future — depends on it.

— Mike Crapo is a Republican U.S. senator from Idaho. For more information on voting in Idaho, visit his Web site at <http://crapo.senate.gov>.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PLEASE BE ADVISED that a public hearing will be held before the Planning and Zoning Commission of the City of Homedale on the 6th day of November, 2006, at 7:00 p.m. at Homedale City Hall, 31 West Wyoming, Homedale, Idaho. The subject matter of the public hearing is the proposed amendments to the Homedale City Zoning Ordinance as follows:

1. Sign Ordinance: The Ordinance as it reads right now only allows one sign on a building. Should we allow for two signs on a building, especially a building on a corner lot?
2. Should we require attached single-car garage as opposed to single-car carport for all new construction?

3. The City of Homedale currently requires curbs, gutters and sidewalks on all new construction, including concrete driveways to the street. Presently, the Municipal Code requires that notice be given to the property owner of this requirement by personal service or certified mail and that such notice set forth the “reason for the necessity of the construction of the sidewalk.” Should we amend this ordinance to require that curbs, gutters and sidewalks be required on all new construction, including concrete driveways to the street, without the requirement of written notice?
4. Should we put a limit on the size of accessory buildings?
5. Should we require the following language on all plats?

NOTE:
ALL PROPERTIES SHOWN ON THIS PLAT ARE IN AGRICULTURAL ZONE. THIS IS AN AREA IN WHICH AGRICULTURAL OPERATIONS ARE ONGOING AND MAY INCLUDE, BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO, AERIAL SPRAYING, THE PRODUCTION OF CROPS, RAISING HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP OR OTHER LIVESTOCK, THE OPERATION OF FEED LOTS, HOG FARMS, DAIRIES AND/OR GRAVEL PITS. ALL OF THESE ACTIVITIES MAY RESULT IN THE PRODUCTION OF NOISE AND OTHER INCONVENIENCES. THEY MAY INVOLVE LIGHTS OR THE USE OF MACHINERY IN THE NIGHTTIME HOURS OR OTHER INCONVENIENCES. ALL OWNERS OR SUBSEQUENT OWNERS OF PROPERTY IDENTIFIED ON THIS PLAT ARE PROHIBITED FROM CHALLENGING THE AFOREMENTIONED OPERATIONS IF THEY ARE LAWFULLY CONDUCTED.

6. We presently require all new homes, both site-built and manufactured, to have a minimum of 1,000 square feet. What about a two-story home?
7. Should we allow homes to be built on lots that are part of the “old plat” of Homedale as long as the owner owns two of these lots, totaling 50’x125’, which is less than the 7,000 square foot lot requirement.
8. Should we add “airport hangar” to the list of allowed uses in a commercial and/or industrial zone?

The public is invited to attend and offer input.
