

Junior ignites Rimrock boys

Gary Jones has been around the game of basketball long enough to know when he has a good (and rare) thing.

Jones is in his 25th season as the Rimrock High School boys basketball coach, but he knows he's witnessing something special in the early goings of this season with junior Logan Thomas.

"He played varsity basketball as a freshman," Jones said. "There haven't been many players at Rimrock to do that. I can certainly count them on one hand."

But as the Raiders have moved out to a 3-1 start to their season, including a pair of victories last week, the 6-foot-2 guard has shown why he belongs in such elite company.

Thomas is averaging 26 points and 11.8 rebounds per game. He also is averaging nearly 5 steals a game.

"He has a great savvy for the game and comes from a basketball-oriented family," Jones said.

Homedale hits its stride

Krzesnik powers up his game in victory

Krzesnik sparks offense during three-game winning streak full of thrills and plenty of scoring

For the sake of psychological longevity, coaches don't usually like to see their players in too many pressure situations.

But first-year Homedale High School boys basketball coach Kenny Thomas had a few things going for him while he watches his charges forge a winning streak last week:

First, he's young. His heart can take the strain that comes from several single-digit victories in a row.

Second, like carbon being squeezed into a gleaming gem, the pressure-cooker the Trojans went through last week may have created a club fans can behold with pride.

"They're starting to play the style I wanted them to," Thomas said of his Trojans.

After beginning the season 0-3, Homedale found the key to victory late in its 64-62 non-conference win on the road Dec. 5 against 2A Cole Valley Christian.

And, not coincidentally, the winning began when point guard Trevor Krzesnik started buying into Thomas' way of thinking.

"Trevor is going to the basket, and when he does that, it makes the whole team better," Thomas said. "He gets (Andrew Bingham) involved, and when he's involved (opponents) have to respect him and his size."

David Liddell

"And that leaves the lane open for Austin (Emry), David (Liddell) and Mat (Hansen)."

Krzesnik had seven assists and led five Trojans in double-figure scoring against Cole Valley Christian with 17 points. Liddell, Cory Uria and Bingham scored 11 points each, and Emry added 10.

Krzesnik was 4-for-4 from the free-throw line against the Chargers in a harbinger of his performance in Thursday's 62-53 victory against host Nampa Christian, in which he was 5-for-6 in the final 52 seconds of the contest. He also dished a season-high 11 assists in the game.

Liddell, who put tremendous pressure on Nampa Christian at both ends of the floor Thursday, sees the team's three-game winning streak through the week as evidence that the players are coming together.

"It's hard because some of us have been playing together since seven grade, and others have just come into the mix in the last

Marsing boys power past Grizzlies behind Salvas-McClellin tandem

First-year Marsing High School boys basketball coach Jake Walgamott saw quite a bit from his club in a Dec. 4 victory over host Greenleaf Friends Academy.

He said the Huskies had too many turnovers in their 53-49 non-conference win over the Grizzlies, but the method Marsing used to pull out the victory had to make the coach smile.

The Huskies' senior front-court duo of Shea McClellin and Aaron Salvas teamed up for 27 points and 28 rebounds as Marsing remained unbeaten after the second week of the season.

"I think that is how they are going to compliment each other, and I hope that can hold true for the season," Walgamott said. "Shea struggled, and Aaron stepped up. That is the key."

McClellin's "struggles" includes 12 defensive rebounds. He grabbed 17 boards altogether, but was held to 11 points on 3-for-12 shooting.

Meanwhile, Salvas hit 60 percent of his shots for 16 points, and he grabbed 11 rebounds.

The Huskies, who played host

Aaron Salvas

to Nyssa, Ore., in a non-conference game Monday (results weren't available at press time), pulled away from Greenleaf briefly in the second quarter with a 16-7 run.

But Greenleaf kept the game close with defense, forcing 23 turnovers.

"We turned the ball over way too much," Walgamott said. "I attribute that to Greenleaf being willing to put pressure on us. They played great defense and put hands up on every shot."

The Grizzlies, who play in the 1A Western Idaho Conference, were led by 16 points from Matthew Choate.

Homedale resident Brandt Graber scored seven points and hit one of his team's two 3-point goals.

The Huskies' Nic Marman, a transfer from Notus, came off the bench for eight points. He hit all but one of his five foul shots.

Rimrock girls extend streak with two routs

The girls basketball team from Rimrock High School devastated winless Notus on Thursday in a 1A Western Idaho Conference game behind 24 points from Shelby Chandler.

Ellie Cantrell added 14 points, and Kaile Murray chipped in 11 in a 61-17 rout of the host Pirates (0-9 overall, 0-3 1A WIC at week's end).

Chandler fired in four 3-point goals, while freshman Jackie Thurman dominated on the glass with 16 rebounds.

The Raiders (8-0, 3-0) finished off the Pirates with a 20-2 sprint through the fourth quarter.

Rimrock 55, Gem State 27

Ellie Cantrell nearly single-handedly outscored the Jaguars from Caldwell as the Raiders collected a 1A WIC victory in Bruneau.

Cantrell canned five 3-point goals en route to 21 points as Rimrock outscored Gem State 38-17 over the final three quarters, including a 22-5 run through the third period.

Freshman Jackie Thurman continued the torrid start to her high school career with 15 points and 11 rebounds for the Raiders.

Shelby Chandler chipped in four points and dished a team-high eight assists.

Gem State, which suited only eight players, received the bulk of its scoring from Sofia Mellish, who had eight of her 13 points during the Jaguars' 10-point fourth quarter.

Mellish hit both her 3-pointers in the final eight minutes.

2006-07 WRESTLING PREVIEWS

The tale of two teams

Homedale tackles another season with optimism

Put yourself in Toby Johnson's shoes for a moment.

You enter your 10th season as Homedale High School wrestling coach with a stable that is light two 2006 state champions but kicks with the enthusiasm of no less than 22 freshmen and sophomores.

What's a guy to do? "It could easily end up being a building year, but I don't want to limit anybody," Johnson said.

Trevor Meligan and Danny Zenor are two of those sophomores Johnson doesn't want to put the reins to. Meligan was 4-2 during Friday's Boise Valley Duals, and Zenor went 3-3.

"We were, by far, the smallest school in the building that day," Johnson said of the tournament held at Capital High School in Boise. "In most of our matches, we had just three juniors on the lineup and the rest were sophs and freshmen."

The influx of talent from Homedale Middle School may not — pound-for-pound — make up for the loss of the likes of Tyler Christoffersen and Jeremy Ensley, who between them won six state championships while Trojans. But Johnson isn't the type of man to let a little thing like history in the rear-view mirror stand in the way of progress.

Heavyweight starts season with win
Junior wrestler Amador Cortinas got his season off to a ideal start Thursday night as the Homedale High School heavyweight pinned his Bishop Kelly opponent on the Trojans' home mat.

"A lot of people are thinking, 'Oh I don't know. They lost two state champions,'" Johnson said. "But the potential is still there. Our seniors can place at State. Our juniors can place at State."

"Now if we can get a couple sophomores to place at State, we'll be in good shape."

The optimism may not be all that misplaced, folks. The Trojans beat Bishop Kelly last week behind a bunch of pins from underclassmen like Eddie Garcia, Meligan (in 45 seconds in Ensley's old slot at 119 pounds), Rye Hyer and Rowdy Lair.

Just for good measure, senior Bryan Martinat also picked up a pin in the 152-pound match.

Balanced scoring pushes Trojans' JV to a unbeaten start

Grant Sweet scored 19 points Saturday as the Homedale High School boys basketball junior varsity team continued a perfect start to its season with a narrow non-conference victory.

Rodrigo Villarreal pulled down 11 rebounds in the Trojans' 61-59 victory over host Melba.

The win pushed coach Dave Thompson's team to 6-0.

Sweet has been the Trojans' leading scorer in half of their games. He poured in 18 in Nampa on Thursday Homedale trounced Nampa Christian 58-36. Villarreal solidified his role as a leading rebounder for the club with 15 boards.

Villarreal also led the team in scoring for two straight games, notching 16 points in a Dec. 2 68-49 win over New Plymouth and adding 14 in a Dec. 5 43-30 triumph over Cole Valley Christian.

Tyler Gibson led the Trojans with 16 points in their 64-44 home win over Marsing in their Nov. 30 season opener. Sweet scored 16 in a 50-41 home victory against Parma on Dec. 1.

Marsing heading in right direction

If participation is any type of barometer, the Marsing High School wrestling team may be close to turning the corner.

Rick Folwell begins his fifth season as the Huskies' coach with another small team — Marsing won't threaten in duals, most likely. But it's the fight and the youth in the group that he does have that should have fans anxious.

"It has been a long time since we have had this many freshmen come out for the team," Folwell said.

Four ninth-graders — John

Heidt at 189 pounds, Brandon Walgamott (145) and 119-pounders Jerry Wright and Joey Burril join sophomore 215-pounder Logan Glenn as newcomers to a program that has four wrestlers returning from trips to the state tournament.

"We are doing more to publicize wrestling in our community to try to increase interest in the sport," Folwell.

That popularity could be close at hand with the likes of senior Michael Tuckness (30-9, fifth at State), leading a young club.

Three wrestlers — juniors Kris Young (140) and Chaz Covey (135) and sophomore Mike Moore (145) have moved up in weight after reaching the state meet last season.

Moore was 19-9 in 2005-06 and won the District III championship at 140 pounds.

Antelopes basketball teams winless at Cove

Junior post Paige Branstiter averaged 15.6 points and 14 rebounds during the weekend's Cove Tournament, but the Adrian High School girls basketball team couldn't follow her lead.

The Antelopes were besieged by fouls and the inability to convert their opponents' infractions in losing games Friday and Saturday in Cove to fall to a 2-3 on the season.

"Paige Branstiter had a great tournament," Adrian coach Gene Mills said. "There were too many fouls and missed free throws."

Branstiter was the only player on the floor Saturday to score in double figures, pouring in 14 points. But the Antelopes fell 37-33 to Imbler.

The Panthers received seven points apiece from Kira Poe and Sarah Bowers.

Terra Rust also scored nine points for Adrian.

But the Antelopes went 6-for-15 from the free-throw line, while giving Imbler 29 cracks from the foul line. The Panthers converted 15 of those, including going 8-for-14 in the final eight minutes to seal the victory.

Three Antelopes scored in double figures Friday as Ryann Bowns and Sarah McPeak added 10 points each to Branstiter's 17. But Cove prevailed 60-49 after racing out to a 20-point halftime lead.

Adrian boys

The Antelopes were competitive in the Cove Tournament, but couldn't overcome a sluggish second quarter in a 54-49 loss to Cove on Friday and had no answer for Dufur's inside game in a 54-49 defeat Saturday.

First-year coach Brent Ishida summed up the loss to Dufur quite succinctly.

"We shot 38 percent, and they shot 87 percent for the game," Ishida said. "That's pretty tough to compete against."

George Ellsworth led the Antelopes with 10 points against Dufur.

Kade Thomas scored 14 points in the loss to Cove.

Huskies JV girls basketball post win in conference opener

Marsing’s junior varsity girls basketball team opened its 2A Western Idaho Conference season with a win over Parma on Thursday.

“The team came out playing awesome defense for most of the first half,” coach Bryan Marquard said. “In fact, we held Parma scoreless for the first 12 minutes of the game.”

The Huskies (3-5 overall, 1-0 2A WIC at week’s end) opened with a 47-42 loss to Homedale.

Kaitie Kent scored 12 points for Marsing, and teammate Liz Mandujano added 10 points.

“We had a rough start to the game and ended up being down by a lot of points at halftime,” Marquard said.

“We came out and changed our defense and played a good second half of basketball.”

Rachelle Christoffersen led the Trojans with 13 points, while teammate Kelsey Martinat chipped in eight points.

The Huskies closed out the week with a non-conference loss to a bigger Payette squad.

“We played really hard, but their size and speed were just too much to handle,” Marquard said. “We played a good first half of basketball, and we were down by 13 points.”

with an overpowering double-double in Friday’s 59-42 non-conference victory over Camas County in Fairfield.

He drained four of his first seven shots and five of his last six to finish with 20 points. Nine of his 12 rebounds came on the Camas County end of the floor, and he also dished seven of his team’s nine assists.

Riley Timmons, a 5-11 senior center, scored six points in the first quarter as Rimrock put Camas County in a 15-4 hole.

Timmons also was a monster on the defensive glass, snagging six of his seven rebounds there. He finished with 12 points.

“Riley is probably as physical a player as I’ve ever coached,” Jones said. “He’s just 5-11, but he plays like he’s 6-4.

“He’s a tremendous, physical, athletic player that does a great job of rebounding and taking charges.”

Timmons didn’t take a charge against Camas County, but he had four in his team’s first three games. Jones says Timmons holds the school record with 21 charges taken in one season.

“It’s great to have a physical player that works that hard, is not afraid to dive on the floor and get some skid marks and get after the loose ball, box-out and rebound.

“To contribute that way is contagious to the team.”

The Raiders are 3-1 heading into tonight’s non-conference game at home against Owyhee, Nev. Tonight’s contest will mark the second game against the Braves in the past eight days.

Thomas hit five of six free throws and scored a season-high 28 points in the Raiders’ 57-49 victory over Owyhee on Dec. 5 in Nevada. He also corralled another dozen rebounds.

Chris Hipwell chimed in with 10 points for Rimrock in a game that Jones said tested the Raiders’ discipline.

“We played a group from the (Duck Valley) Reservation, similar to Lapwai and Sho-Ban that really get up and down the floor well,” Jones said.

The Braves’ propensity for swarming any rebounder with five players and forcing a club to beat their press often takes an opponent out of its game plan, Jones said.

“It’s hard to get out of that up-tempo game because they press you with so much swarming pressure up front that once you break that pressure, you’re going to be in an advantage situation,” the coach said.

The situation seemed to play into Thomas’ hands in the second half. After being held to just to field goals in the first half, the junior turned it on after halftime with 22 points.

Owyhee County product Daxton Jim converted his last five shots to score 11 points for Owyhee. Other Idaho players on the Owyhee squad included K.C. Catches (nine points) and Seven Jim (two points).

Tyree Lee hit five 3-point goals to lead the Braves with 15 points, while Cody Nez added 12.

Rimrock committed 16 turnovers, but Jones saw even that number as a small victory against the intense Braves.

“Trying to play that style of ball when you see it so infrequently in our league, I thought our kids did a good job of adapting to what was given and attacking was given to us,” Jones said.

Homedale girls use defense to win pair

Cold-shooting Huskies rebound to beat Payette

Homedale High School’s girls basketball team racked up a couple wins last week with a fairly simple formula:

Frustrate the other team with a stifling defense.

The Trojans began the week by frustrating more than the opposing players with a 54-44 non-conference win over Marsing.

The Huskies turned the ball over 29 times in the game and managed just 10 points in the first 16 minutes.

“In the first half, we were working hard and putting a lot of pressure on the ball,” second-year Homedale coach Mike Greeley said. “I saw that that was the avenue to take, so we kept pressure on the ball-handler.”

It was helpful that senior Jordan Warwick was able to cut through the Huskies’ defense for 14 points. Warwick nailed a pair of 3-point goals in the first quarter then capped her performance by going a perfect 6-for-6 from the foul line in the second half.

“She got cold in the second half, but still had a heck of a game,” Greeley said. “Jordan could be a real dominant force.”

Warwick scored just six points Saturday as Homedale cranked up the defense in a 47-25 victory over Cole Valley Christian.

Marsing girls

When Taryn Chenoweth broke through with seven of her 11 points during Marsing’s fourth-quarter comeback from a 17-point deficit against Homedale, it proved to be a rare sight for the Huskies, who have struggled putting the ball in the basket.

Coach Don Heller’s squad shot just 23 percent from the floor (11-for-48) in losing a tight 2A Western Idaho Conference opener Thursday, 46-36, to Parma.

“The girls played probably their best game of the year,” Heller said. “I thought they played excellent defense.”

The Huskies were within four points, 40-36, with 1 minute, 7 seconds left.

Wittney Beckstead scored 15 points and Elisa Moreno added 13 for Marsing.

On Saturday, Beckstead was back with 13 points and Moreno dropped in 10 as the Huskies held on to beat Payette 35-30 in a non-conference game.

Heller credited the defense in preserving the win as the offense remained cold, shooting just 18-for-46 (39.1 percent).

✓ Homedale

couple years,” Liddell said.

“But we can definitely feel that we’re one team.”

Zach Tolmie added more evidence to that argument with a pair of key 3-point goals to help discourage Nampa Christian.

“Zach Tolmie stepped up and hit two big 3-pointers,” Thomas said. “He had one in each half. He’s playing well.”

Tolmie also came up with a 3-pointer in Saturday’s 65-59 victory over Melba. His trey was one of five for the Trojans, two nights after Homedale fired in seven rainbows against Nampa Christian.

Krzesnik had two treys as part of his 16 points against Melba, and Liddell had two 3-pointers on the way to 10 points.

But Bingham outshone them all. Playing against Melba’s Doug Beus, Bingham scored 17 points and grabbed five offensive rebounds.

“Bingham played a really good game,” Thomas said.

Beus tried his best to dominate, scoring a game-high 21 points. The junior hit two of his team’s four 3-pointers as the Mustangs charged back in the final eight minutes.

“We had a 14-point lead in the fourth and kind of started to let it slip away,” Thomas said. “They hit some circus 3-pointers and banked a couple 3s in.

“That got the kids down a little bit, but we got the stop when we needed.”

Friends, neighbors help Rose build barn

John Rose of Homedale isn’t sure he believes pessimists who say people today are too self-centered to lend their fellow man a hand. And Rose has an experience on which to base his feelings.

The story began in mid-November when John’s father, Robert (Marion) Rose began the construction of a lambing shed. John and Robert operated a sheep ranch where they cared for about 1,400 ewes.

In the summer, the Roses kept their sheep in the Owyhee highlands around Jordan Valley, Ore. In the fall, they brought the stock down from the mountains to the ranch southwest of Homedale.

This fall Robert decided to build a second lambing shed at the home ranch. They 32x128-foot shed was to provide shelter for about 100 ewes and their newborn lambs.

Since the lambing season starts near the beginning of the new year, when the weather is normally at its worst, it is important that the lambs and their mothers have a warm place to gain strength in the first few hours after the birth.

The work on the new lambing shed was about one-third completed when tragedy struck the Rose family.

On the morning of Nov. 29, Robert Rose, 59, and his wife, Ida, 61, were found dead in their home after a coal furnace apparently malfunctioned, asphyxiating them.

John Rose found himself in the position of having to handle the personal affairs of his parents, while at the same time trying to finish the lambing shed. No matter how he figured it, he found he could not do both.

John discussed the problem of the unfinished lambing shed with his brother-in-law, Wayne Johnson, also of Homedale. Johnson thought the matter over and came up with an idea. He called other area farmers and explained Rose’s situation.

“It wasn’t hard to get the ball rolling,” Johnson explained. “I just called a few people and word got around.”

The word did get around. Sunday morning about 30 men from the Homedale area showed up at the Rose ranch with hammers and saws in hand. The volunteers were accompanied by their wives, who brought a potluck lunch.

The volunteers set to work. By Sunday night the main work on the lambing shed was nearly completed.

“This is the sort of thing people used to do 40 years ago,” Rose said. “I never realized we had so many good friends. Everyone out here is working like they are making a $100 an hour.”

Ambulance crew holds practices

Classes for continual education followed the regular meeting of the Homedale Ambulance crew at the Ambulance hall on Nov. 2. Practical practice of patient assessment, hare traction splinting, and a refresher practice of use of the extrication equipment carried aboard the ambulance was part of the lesson session.

On November 15 approximately 100 Air National Guardsmen were taught CPR at the Homedale armory.

Following the regular meeting on November 16 members practiced CPR on “Resusci Anne” manikin.

Joe Masar, Dorothy Knight, Richard Bake and Blanche Johnson of the Homedale crew attended ”Telelecture” at Kaley Center, Caldwell, for medical personnel on Saturday, Nov. 21. The classes were on pediatric trauma, extrication, spinal injuries and rescue procedures. Idaho is one of the first states to institute “Telelecture” classes.

Equipment purchased from the Homedale Ambulance Memorial Fund recently is a pediatric blood pressure cuff and pocket face mask, used for ventilating a patient during CPR procedure.

The Homedale Ambulance made ten runs during the month of November.

Russ Immisch elected new president of Homedale Chamber of Commerce

The regular dinner meeting of the chamber of commerce was held at the El Gavilian Tuesday evening to elect officers for the coming year.

Roy Mertin, Paul Zatica, Robert Dunn and Norman Tolmie were elected as directors for two-year terms. They will serve along with carry-over directors Frank Matteson, Howard Bergeson, Russell Immisch, Dr. William Reimer and Verdis Wilson.

The directors held a reorganization meeting following the regular meeting and elected Mr. Immisch as president and Verdis Wilson vice president.

Discussion was held on the annual Christmas party and visit of Santa Claus on Saturday afternoon, December 22. The chamber of commerce and local merchants will sponsor Santa’s visit, and there will be sacks of candy for all children present.

Chamber of commerce president Frank Matteson and the newly elected president Russ Immisch are in charge of the event. Members of the BPW club will sack the candy.

Trojans squeeze out 48-46 victory over Huntington

Homedale will travel to Fruitland Friday evening, December 14, to meet the Grizzlies in the first game of the class B SRV conference season.

In a win against Huntington, the Trojans did it the hard way by coming from behind in the final quarter of the game.

Homedale built up a 12-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the visitors fought back in the second period and tied the count at 23-23 at halftime. The Locomotives moved ahead in the third quarter and led 35-31.

Vic Landa became the star of the game as he sank three quick baskets with only minutes left, and Aaron Bright made two free throws to push Homedale into a 45-44 lead. Bright clinched it with a long shot with only seconds left in the game.

Landa and Cox of Huntington each scored 19 points to share scoring honors.

In the first game of the evening, the Homedale JVs scored a 32 to 15 victory over Meridian Frosh while in the second game Marsing beat the Huntington JVs 52-31.

Many problems occupy school board’s attention.

Accounts totaling $4,731.41 from the general fund and $3,084.70 from the bond building fund were paid at the regular meeting of the Homedale school board Monday night.

Present were chairman Allen George, Orville Soper, Orville Vance, Albert Eidemiller and Ronald Robinson.

Architect Andrew J. Bowles presented his certification that the new Lincoln school is now substantially complete according to the contract with the Wright Brothers construction company.

The clerk was directed to give notice of completion as required by law to suppliers of labor and materials. A warrant was authorized to be drawn for $9,611.00 to the Wright Brothers as payment in full for construction of the Lincoln school building when proof of payment of all taxes and licenses is furnished.

Allen Gowey, state representative of Owyhee County, presented the state budget on school districts to the board and explained a few of the types of taxes that are collected for school districts. The board discussed with him the additional revenues needed by the school district and also ways and means of settling up new types of taxes or increase on the old tax structures.

The board rejected an offer by the Central Cove community club to sell some tables and benches to the school district for $100. The school is using the tables at present.

The November financial reports were presented to the board by Clerk O.D. Douglas showing disbursements of $13,207.75 and receipts of $7,289.52 for the general fund.

BY ORDER OF Major General Halleck, Assistant Adjutant General Robert N. Scott has issued General Orders. NO. 29, in substance as follows: 1st. By the authority of General Grant, and on the application of Major-General Steele, the Head Quarters of the Department of the Columbia are hereby transferred from Fort Vancouver, W. T., to Portland, Oregon. 2d. The Head Quarters of the 8th U. S. Cavalry are hereby established at Benicia Barracks, California Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Edwin V. Sumner, Captain, 1st U. S. Cavalry, is assigned to the temporary command of the 8th U. S. Cavalry, until the arrival of a field officer of that regiment. All regimental returns and reports will be rendered accordingly.

FT. CROOK, in Northern California, was named after our new District Commander, we believe, and personal acquaintances of Gen’l Crook inform us that he is a splendid Indian exterminator, and that if he will only do half as well as a General as he did as a Lieutenant, the Lo family may expect much trouble. He can’t fail to be an improvement on his predecessor; however, we shall await performance. We have it from Gen’l Halleck’s own lips that he’s bound to use every possible exertion, with the men at his disposal, to quiet the Indians in Nevada, Idaho and Oregon and protect the lines of travel leading to and from these sections of country. The above order does much to confirm his statement.

MONEY ORDER OFFICE. Postmaster Clemmens informs us that the Ruby Office has been designated as Money Order Office; that he sent forward his bonds about the first of November; and that he expects the necessary books, blanks &c., in the early part of January ensuing. This will be very convenient and safe for parties desirous of sending money in small sums to any part of the United States. Thirty dollars is the largest mount for which any one order will be drawn.

WEATHER stormy with snow in the early part of the week; Thursday and Friday clear, warm, inviting sleighing and coasting, which is affording the boys much fun.

Cud behavior

The lecture on animal behavior at the North Carolina veterinary meeting was well attended. Dr. Tom and I were standing in the hallway when he told me he witnessed one of the most astonishing spectacles he had ever seen. By chance he had witnessed a young Holstein calf regurgitate her first cud! The calf had been intently watching her next stall neighbor when the cud rose involuntarily without warning and popped into her mouth.

According to Tom, the calf’s eyes suddenly widened, then they crossed as she tried to look down at her mouth. She explored the fibrous object with her tongue, shoving it back and forth like someone trying to dislodge taffy from their molars. It took several moments before tentative chewing began.

I’ve been around cows hands-on since I started milking the family cow every afternoon after school in the fourth grade. Not only have I never seen the cud initiation happen, I’ve never given it any thought!

How many other phenomenon have I never noticed or contemplated that occurred right before my eyes? Like the first time you really understood what the auctioneer was saying, or your Spanish-speaking farm hand, or the outdoor speaker box at Arby’s.

I was raised in a family of all boys and was naive about girls growing up. I remember being startled when I heard Linda Faye belch! It was a seminal moment in our relationship!

Vet school was an eye-opener for me, discovering how things worked. Why horses couldn’t vomit, that a cow can hold up to 400 pounds in her rumen, that pigs were in the top 10 of intelligence and how chickens do it!

I wonder about others who get glimpses of their aptitude for the first time. Like a budding lawyer getting a tingle the first time he hears an ambulance go by. Or a would-be teacher smelling chalk. A fledgling bull rider realizing it was a good way to attract girls, or the embryonic horse whisperer envisioning the name of his training method and clinic trademark before he even could saddle a horse, i.e., The Compassionate Find-The-Filly-Inside-You Clinic, Video and Gift Shop.com.

Or the life-changing epiphany I had as a young veterinary student the first time I donned a plastic sleeve, slipped it inside a cow’s colon and discovered a whole new world. I know, not as dramatic as the Hubble Telescope or finding out you can hang a spoon off your nose. But it was this equivalent of discovering I was master of my own cud, so to speak.

And to this day I remain where destiny led me. Here, where I belong, behind the cow.

Listen to experts — even on TV

Our bathroom remodel, which began in March, is in the home stretch — kinda, sorta.

Our old bathroom had a combination bathtub/shower. I lobbied for separate shower and tub in the new one. I also had some specific ideas about the shower. I didn’t want tile because tile has lots of seams filled with grout. If the seams aren’t maintained properly, water can get behind the tile and cause all sorts of problems. I decided the best thing would be to get a shower “surround” — where the walls are three large waterproof panels. The only place where sealant is needed is along the panel edges. The panels also looked like they would be a lot easier to install than individual ceramic tile, albeit more expensive. It always has puzzled me why those guys on the Home Improvement Channel put up all those little tiles when other options were available.

When the plumber unpacked the shower surround kit, he mumbled something under his breath and said he would rather not have anything to do with installing it. So, it was up to us. We couldn’t find the instructions, but it seemed simple enough. Put lots of adhesive on the backs of the panels and stick ’em to the walls. Not exactly rocket science.

Aided by a son-in-law, we used a calking gun to spread several tubes of adhesive on the shower panel backs, put them in place and braced them overnight with boards so they would get good contact with the walls. Twenty-four hours later, I removed the bracing. Everything looked great — for about 10 minutes. Then the panel edges started lifting away from the wall and one side of the largest panel popped loose.

It was about this time that I found the installation instructions, buried in the bottom of a box. When we applied the glue, we smeared it all over the panel backs. The instructions said the adhesive needed to be applied at specified points, in big globs.

Because the panels were already partially stuck to the walls, it was too late to go back and put the adhesive in the proper places. So, we got more glue, pumped it behind the edges that were lifting and put the braces back in place. I left the bracing in place 72 hours instead of 24, just to make sure the adhesive had cured.

Three days later, I removed the bracing and held my breath. The panels seemed to be firmly attached to the wall. I went to the kitchen, got a cup of coffee and told my Partner in Life that the shower was looking good. Then I walked back to the bathroom to admire my work. The large panel had popped loose again. I spontaneously shouted several naughty words, including a couple I had forgotten I ever knew.

We added more glue. Several days passed. Same results.

Since the main problem seemed to be the large panel, we decided to see if we could remove it and start over. It came off the wall surprisingly easy. It required several hours to scrape off the old glue that had stuck to the panel but not to the wall.

The panels are made of what appears to be a nearly unbreakable fiberglass-type material. Since the first panel came loose with no problem, we decided we might as well pull off the other two panels and make sure everything was installed properly. We had one panel almost loose when it cracked. I yelled more naughty words.

The shower walls now are covered with ceramic tile. If you know anyone who can use two large, white, fairly-expensive fiberglass shower panels, give me a call. I’m going to pay closer attention to the Home Improvement Channel in the future. There obviously is a reason why they do things a certain way.

Holiday season illuminates need to help

by Sen. Mike Crapo

“Maybe Christmas,” he thought, “doesn’t come from a store. Maybe Christmas...perhaps...means a little bit more!”

— The Grinch

You may have heard about the Boise woman who recently gained national attention for her organization, Chefs to the Rescue, that distributes food to the hungry in the Treasure Valley. Formerly homeless and a mother of five, Sue Cobley took a difficult personal situation and turned it into a blessing for others in the same plight.

Hunger in Idaho is not confined to larger communities: the seasonal soup kitchen in Salmon, the Challah Community Kitchen, serves an average of 50 meals every Saturday. Salmon resident Deborah Unruh felt called to meet a challenge facing many individuals and families in this and other small towns with natural resource-based economies — seasonal employment makes for lean winter months.

Service comes in a different flavor for Coeur d’Alene residents Ron and Marian Catlin, who volunteer as “Goodwill Ambassadors” for the Coeur d’Alene Police Department. They visit businesses, fostering positive relations between owners and patrons and the police department.

All these Idahoans reach out their hands and hearts in service. They are not alone — Idaho communities boast countless stories of service — people helping the homeless, the abused, children, the disadvantaged, the indigent, the elderly and the community as a whole.

And lest we forget those whose service includes dodging enemy fire instead of holiday shoppers and oppressive desert heat instead of a warm fire on a chilly evening, our soldiers, sailors, Marines and airmen elevate service to a life-threatening level. For these brave men and women, our peaceful, snowy 2006 Christmas season will be a gritty world of determination, bravery, fatigue and, at times, fear and pain. Our law enforcement officers and firefighters also risk their lives every day in our communities, serving often times in as much danger as our military overseas.

It doesn’t take a full bank account, multiple community connections or even large blocks of free time to make a difference. In fact, many people who extend themselves do so on limited budgets of time and money. It’s remarkably easy to reach out to others this holiday season. From spending a few hours at your local soup kitchen, food bank or shelter to organizing a community drive to help people in need, opportunities for service abound. Just before Thanksgiving, students and teachers at Hawthorne Middle School in Pocatello, and Weiser School District employees both gathered items to

Accuracy In Media

Another reporter owns up to media’s liberal leanings

by Roger Aronoff

Some smart liberals in the media are figuring out that it’s no longer tenable to deny they are biased. That claim flies like a lead balloon. So they’re admitting it up front, in the hope that conservatives might start coming back to some of the old media and preventing a further decline in their listening or viewing audiences. Such an admission was recently made by Mark Halperin of ABC News.

Some history is in order. Surveys demonstrating a liberal or pro-Democratic Party bias by the national press corps go back 40 years. One of the most interesting, a 1996 survey from the Freedom Forum, showed that 89 percent of the reporters in Washington said they had voted for Bill Clinton in 1992, while only 7 percent said they voted for George Bush.

Some say that journalists are trained to keep their bias out of their stories, but that assumes they practice objective news reporting. In fact, reporters have been taught interpretive reporting for decades. That opens the door to bias influencing not only the selection of news items but how the news is presented. And since most of those entering the journalism field are liberals, that creates a liberal bias.

Some of the best evidence of bias comes from some of those reporters and editors who openly acknowledge it, sometimes when they are caught off-guard, other times when they know full well that they are breaking ranks, and telling us things that their brethren wish they hadn’t said.

We have documented many of those instances:

- When ABC News White House correspondent Terry Moran told radio talk-show host Hugh Hewitt that there is “a deep anti-military bias in the media.” Added Moran, “One that begins from the premise that the military must be lying, and that American projection of power around the world must be wrong. I think that that is a hangover from Vietnam, and I think it’s very dangerous;”
- When Newsweek’s Evan Thomas said that media bias was worth 5 to 15 percentage points, meaning anywhere between 5 and 20 million votes for the Kerry-Edwards ticket in the 2004 election; and
- Bernard Goldberg’s book “Bias,” exposing the liberal environment at CBS and other networks, and the importance of holding the “correct” worldview.

- Daniel Okrent, the former Public Editor of the New York Times, wrote a column asking, “Is The New York Times a Liberal Newspaper.” Regarding social issues, he wrote, “If you think The Times plays it down the middle on any of them, you’ve been reading the paper with your eyes closed.” As for its editorial page, Okrent wrote that is “so thoroughly saturated in liberal theology that when it occasionally strays from that point of view the shocked yelps from the left overwhelm even the ceaseless rumble of disapproval from the right.”
- Thomas Edsall, former top political reporter for the Washington Post, told Hugh Hewitt that Democrats outnumber Republicans in the press corps by a factor of 15 or 25 to 1.

Mark Halperin, ABC News political director and blogger of The Note on the ABC Web site, now gets added to this list.

In a piece before the Nov. 7 elections, he wrote about the (liberal) Old Media in a piece called “Six Days of November Surprises,” describing what to expect in terms of coverage. One was a flowing profile of “Speaker-Inevitable Nancy Pelosi,” which took place on 60 Minutes.

As if to rub it in, Halperin went on “The O’Reilly Factor” on the Fox News Channel, with Bill O’Reilly. He said, “We’ve got a chance in these last two weeks to prove to conservatives that we understand their grievances, we’re going to try to do better, but these organizations [the Washington Post, New York Times, CBS, ABC, etc.] still have incredible sway and these conservatives are certain that we’re going to be out to get them. We’ve got to fix that.”

O’Reilly said, “So you’re admitting you tilt left?” Halperin, who with the Washington Post’s John Harris has written a book called The Way to Win in 2008, told O’Reilly that “over the years there are a lot of examples: what CBS News did in the 2004 election with the president’s National Guard record. Lots of examples. If I were conservative, I understand why I would feel suspicious that I was not going to get a fair break at the end of an election. We’ve got to make sure we do better so conservatives don’t have to be concerned about that. It’s not fair.”

O’Reilly asked, “So you’re the fairness police now at ABC?”

“No, we should be impartial,” Halperin said. “We should use this last two weeks as an opportunity to help rebuild our reputation with half the country, so conservatives can be confident.”

He added that “There are no strategy calls. We’re not on the phone with Howard Dean and George Soros getting our marching orders. But the mindset at ABC ... is just too focused on being more favorable to Nancy Pelosi, say, than Newt Gingrich, being more down on the Republicans’ chances than perhaps is warranted. Singling out, you’re seeing here a 60 Minutes piece about Nancy Pelosi. I don’t remember Newt Gingrich getting a piece that favorable in 1994.”

Finishing up on the topic, Halperin said, “I think everybody in the Old Media better be watching pieces like that, reading profiles of Nancy Pelosi and saying, ‘Are we being fair to everybody involved in the American political process?’ Even if you don’t believe the argument that we make in The Way to Win, there are some examples over the years that are pretty significant of showing why conservatives are aggrieved. Even if you’re a liberal and don’t believe that, believe that half the country feels that way. And it’s an economic model. If you want to thrive like Fox News Channel, you want to have a future, you better make sure conservatives find your product appealing. If you’re going to do the right thing, you’ve got to do it.”

Halperin may be trying to appear fair and impartial in order to sell his book to conservatives. But there is no reason to doubt his characterization of the press corps. It comports with the evidence and the facts.

Thanks, Mr. Halperin, for confirming what we already know. If your admissions are not just motivated by a desire to sell a book, you can demonstrate your sincerity by eliminating the liberal bias where you work on a daily basis. You have a lot of work to do. Don’t let us down.

send to troops in Iraq — something that other schools and communities in Idaho have also done over the past three years. Toys for Tots and The Salvation Army bell ringers are familiar holiday sights; helping them is very simple.

Service can even take the form of recycling and donating used clothing, computers, furniture and appliances. Goodwill, The Salvation Army and other national and local organizations always need donations of quality items families no longer use.

You can also support our troops this holiday season. In November 2004, the Department of Defense launched “America Supports You,” designed to recognize and facilitate citizen support for our service members and their families. Local, state and national groups register to be listed at the “America Supports You” Web site: www.americasupportsyoudo.com. Military members deployed in Iraq and Afghanistan have access to the Internet as their mission allows, so take a few minutes and send a note to them at the “Thank the Troops” section of the Web site. Such messages can lift spirits and give encouragement; it only takes a moment.

Whether you are in uniform or not, make this season a season of service.

You stand to gain as much or more than those you will be helping.

— Mike Crapo is a Republican U.S. senator from Idaho.

ATTENTION: RESIDENTS OF GRAND VIEW IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER:

Effective January 1, 2006 the US Environmental Protection Agency reduced the drinking water standard for Arsenic from 50 parts per billion (ppb) to 10 ppb. The two Well’s supplying water to the City of Grand View and/or Grand View Water & Sewer Association, Inc. was tested on November 1, 2006 and has an Arsenic concentration of 16 ppb, which exceeds the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) set forth by the EPA of 10 ppb. This is considered a violation of the federal drinking water standard. Although this is not an emergency, you have a right to know what is happening, what you should do and what your water company is doing to correct this situation. The City of Grand View and/or Grand View Water & Sewer Association, Inc. is required to provide quarterly public notice of this excess EPA standard Arsenic level. Until such time as Idaho Department of Environmental Quality (IDEQ) notifies the City that this notice

NOTICE OF A FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received applications for financial assistance from the City of Homedale. The proposed project consists of both Sewer and Water system improvements.

Sewer system improvements are anticipated to include the installations of a new lift station located west of the Snake River Bridge, installation of collection lines to serve existing residents and new customers in the eastern portion of town, including along the Highway 95 bypass, and if funds are available the upgrade of several existing sewer collection lines located throughout the community.

Water system improvements are anticipated to include the drilling of a new well, construction if necessary of water treatment facilities, and distribution improvements.

As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utilities Service has assessed the potential environmental effects of the proposed project and has determined that the proposal will not have a significant effect on the human environment and for which an Environmental Impact Statement will not be prepared.

Copies of the Environmental Assessment are available for review at USDA, Rural Development, 2208 East Chicago, Suite C, Caldwell, ID 83605. For further information contact David Flesher, Community Programs Specialist at (208) 459-0761, Ext. 116.

is no longer required you will continue to receive this notice quarterly.

What happened? Arsenic is a natural deposit occurring element thought to enter the water source from contact with natural rock formations.

What health effects? Arsenic can cause adverse health effects, including cardiovascular disease, diabetes mellitus, skin changes, nervous system damage, and various forms of cancer.

What is being done? The City of Grand View and/or Grand View Water and Sewer Association, Inc. is taking action with City and/or W/S Engineering Firm – Holladay Engineering Co. with an engineering study to create a plan for removing the arsenic from the City Well’s in the form of a possible Arsenic Removal Plant.

A draft of this engineering study will be presented to the City Council on December 13, 2006 with the meeting starting at 7:00 pm at 425 Boise Ave. Grand View, Idaho. Planning Grants have been applied for and two accepted.

What should I do? It will be each citizen’s choice to use alternative drinking water (e.g., bottled) or drink City of Grand View water. However, if you have specific health concerns, consult your Doctor.

For more information, please contact Grand View City Hall - Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday from 8:00am to 5:00pm, lunch 12:30 to 1:30 – Closed all major holidays or call (208) 834-2700 or you may contact Tiffany Floyd or Steve Staufer at the Boise DEQ office 373-0550.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly. The City of Grand View has notified owners of properties to supply copies to their residence. (For example, people in apartments, manufactured home parks, businesses and schools) You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.

Notice of Realty Action; Non-Competitive Sale of Public Land, Idaho

AGENCY: Bureau of Land Management, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of Realty Action.

SUMMARY: A 20.69 acre parcel of public land in Owyhee County, Idaho is being considered for direct (non-competitive) sale to Robert G. Bonnell, Allen H. Bonnell, and A. Lorraine Bjork under the provisions of the Federal Land Policy Management Act of 1976, at no less than the appraised fair market value.

DATES: Comments must be received by January 2, 2007.

ADDRESSES: Address all comments concerning this notice to Kelley Moore, BLM, Owyhee Field Office, 20 1st Avenue West, Marsing, Idaho 83639.

F O R F U R T H E R INFORMATION CONTACT: Kelley Moore, Realty Specialist, at the above address or phone (208) 896-5917.

S U P P L E M E N T A R Y INFORMATION: The following described public land in Owyhee County, Idaho, has been examined and found suitable for sale utilizing direct sale procedures under the authority of Section 203 and Section 209 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976, (90 Stat. 2750, 43 U.S.C. 1713 and 1719): Boise Meridian, Idaho T. 6 S., R. 4 W., sec. 11, lot 7. The area described contains 20.69 acres in Owyhee County.

The 1999 BLM Owyhee Resource Management Plan identified this parcel of public land as suitable for disposal. On November 15, 2006, the above described land will be segregated from appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining laws, except the sale provisions of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA). The segregative effect will terminate upon issuance of a patent, publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of a termination of the segregation, or August 13, 2007, whichever comes first.

The public land will not be offered for sale until January 16, 2007, at the appraised fair market value of $5,175.00. A copy of the approved appraisal is located at the above address. The patent, if issued, will be subject to the following terms, conditions and reservations: 1) a reservation to the United States for ditches and canals; 2) a right-of-way for continued public access; and 3) a Memorandum of Agreement between BLM, the sale proponents, and the Idaho State Historic Preservation Office.

This land is being offered by direct sale to Robert G. Bonnell, Allen H. Bonnell, and A. Lorraine Bjork, pursuant to 43 CFR 2711.3-3 to resolve inadvertent unauthorized occupancy of the public lands. The buildings that occupy the public lands have been in existence since the mid 1800's and were purchased by the Bonnell family at a sheriff's auction in 1929. It has been determined they are eligible for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places. The historic value of the buildings could potentially be lost if they were removed from their current location, as removal would in effect destroy them and their value as a part of several historic mining eras.

In the event of a sale, the unreserved mineral interests will be conveyed simultaneously with the sale of the land. These unreserved mineral interests have been determined to have no known mineral value pursuant to 43 CFR 2720.2 (a). Acceptance of the sale offer will constitute an application for conveyance of those unreserved mineral interests. The purchaser will be required to pay a $50.00 non-refundable filing fee for conveyance of the available mineral interests. The purchaser will have 30 days from the date of receiving the sale offer to accept the offer and to submit a deposit of 20 percent of the purchase price and the $50.00 filing fee for conveyance of mineral interests. The purchaser must remit the remainder of the purchase price within 180 days from the date the sale offer is received. Payments must be by certified check, postal money order, bank draft or cashiers check payable to the U.S. Department of the Interior – BLM. Failure to meet conditions established for this sale will void the sale and any monies received will be forfeit.

Public Comments
For a period until January 2, 2007, interested parties and the general public may submit written comments to the BLM Owyhee Field Office at the address above. Comments, including names and street addresses of respondents, will be available for public review at the BLM Owyhee Field Office during regular business hours, except holidays. Individual respondents may request confidentiality. If you wish to have your name or address withheld from public disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comments. Any determination by the BLM to release or withhold the names and/or addresses of those who comment will be made on a case-by-case basis. Such requests will be honored to the extent allowed by law. The BLM will make available for public review, in their entirety, all comments submitted by businesses or organizations, including comments by individuals in their capacity as an official or representative of a business or organization.

Any adverse comments will be reviewed by the BLM Idaho State Director, who may sustain, vacate, or modify this realty action and issue a final determination. In the absence of any objections, this realty action will become the final determination of the Department of the Interior.
