Homedale 4x100 record falls

Coach sees own record broken
at Moke Strong in Caldwell

It was only a matter of time. With a self-proclaimed "ornery" coach cracking the whip, the Homedale High School 4x100-meter relay team shattered the school record Friday in winning the event at the Moke Strong Canyon County Classic in Caldwell.

"Really, really, really?" senior David Liddell reportedly exclaimed after he was informed of the historic performance.

Liddell took a fluid handoff from fellow senior Mark Vance and sprinted away from a Nampa athlete to secure the victory in 43.99 seconds at Caldwell High School.

Liddell, Vance, senior Matt Holloway and freshman Trent Acree teamed up to break a record that had stood since 2002, when their event coach — Tyson Stimmel — helped another Trojans quartet run a 44.1-second 4x100.

Stimmel and fellow seniors Kellen Morris and Derek Vance teamed with sophomore Clay Haylett to set the mark five years ago.

"Kellen and Clay couldn't believe I let that happen," Stimmel said of coaching the current Trojans to the record performance.

Stimmel saw the day coming for the past two seasons, though.

"For the last two years, especially with me as their coach and one of the guys on the record, they've been telling me they were coming after me," Stimmel said.

With speed to burn, Liddell, Vance, Holloway and Acree caught their coach Friday.

But it takes more than just fast sprinters to shatter a record, even if Liddell missed tying the school's 100 meters mark by three-tenths of a second earlier in the day.

"All four of them are really fast guys," Stimmel said. "With the 4x1, you can't have any mistakes at all. You just have to have clean handoffs."

The handoff from Vance to anchor man Liddell was so smooth Friday, that you'd be hard-pressed to pinpoint where the third leg ended and Liddell's flash to the finish began.

"When David got the baton, I knew that we had won it," Stimmel said. "Mark, with as fast as he is, handing off to David; they work on that handoff so much."

The beauty of the Moke Strong meet is that the best 5A and 4A teams in the area go head-to-head with the best of the rest.

Homedale established itself as a top 4x100 relay squad in the state — regardless of classification.

"We were in against some good 4A and 5A schools," Stimmel said. "I never thought (a win) was a

Trojans win first SRV golf title

Homedale, Pegram close week by winning 18-hole Garden Valley meet

Thursday was a nasty day to play golf at a mountain resort. Fortunately, the warm glow of history helped keep Homedale High School's athletes warm.

Three days before the Garden Valley Invitational, the Trojans had grabbed a share of the 3A Snake River Valley conference championship for the first time in school history.

Homedale and Fruitland split the title after both scored 42 points during the tournament season. The Grizzlies forced the deadlock by winning the final tournament of the season April 30 at Scotch Pines Golf Course in Payette. The tournament was a home meet for Fruitland.

Homedale settled for a runner-up position, finishing two strokes behind the Grizzlies, who shot a 160.

Junior Jordan Pegram, senior Trevor Krzesnik and freshman

Reece Landa led the Trojans with 40s. Ryan Garrett carded a 42.

Josh Foss and Peter Foss, who each carded 37s, paced Fruitland. The Payette duo of Nick Morrison and Collin Hershey split medalist honors as the Pirates finished third.

The Trojans collected two conference victories this season. Homedale and Fruitland led the field into Monday's 3A District III Tournament back at Scotch Pines. Results weren't available at press time.

Raiders ride to No. 1 seed

Rimrock softball gets first-round bye in Friday's action in Fruitland

Shelby Chandler's one-hitter Thursday helped Rimrock High School solidify the top seed in the 1A District III Softball Tournament.

Chandler didn't give up a hit until one out in the fourth inning as the Raiders walloped Wilder 11-1 in a five-inning 1A Western Idaho Conference game played in Bruneau.

Chandler finished with six strikeouts and allowed just one base on balls.

The Raiders (9-2 overall, 8-0 1A WIC) have a first-round bye when the district tournament begins Friday in Fruitland.

At 5:30 p.m. Friday, Rimrock will play the winner of the Notus-Wilder opening-round game, which is scheduled to start two hours earlier.

The district tournament concludes Saturday afternoon with a championship game. Rimrock must win only twice to qualify for the 1A state tournament.

✓ Raiders: Big fourth inning carries team past Wilder in conference matchup at home

With Chandler in the pitching circle, winning hasn't been a problem for the Raiders this season.

But she struggled with her control early Thursday.

Chandler walked the first two batters she faced as the Wildcats forged a 1-0 lead without the benefit of a hit.

Rimrock tied the game, 1-1, in the bottom of the second inning. Lenzi Murray drew a one-out walk and scored on Sadie Timmons' two-out base hit.

The Raiders blew the game open by batting around in the fourth inning and scoring nine runs.

Left fielder Brittany Boman led off the inning with a double — one of only two hits in the inning for the Raiders — and she scored on a bases-loaded walk to Lois Fisher.

Wilder's pitcher walked seven and hit two batters to fuel the uprising. Fisher had a two-out RBI single.

Late-season varsity addition Janice Ontiveros pinch-hit for Boman in the fifth inning and drove home BreAnne Merrick with a single to force the 10-run rule. Merrick doubled earlier in the inning.

in a 1A WIC game played in Bru-neau.

The Mustangs touched Chandler for four runs in the top of the third to tie the game 5-5, but Rimrock rallied for a run in the bottom of the inning to inch ahead again. Laura Zaragoza led off the inning with a double and scored on Jackie Thurman's groundout to second base.

Sadie Timmons drilled an RBI triple to highlight Rimrock's pivotal four-run fifth inning. Brittany Boman also laced a run-scoring single as the Raiders widened a 6-5 lead.

The runs were crucial because Chandler gave up a pair of runs in the top of the seventh before getting a strikeout to end the game with a runner on third base.

Chandler helped herself at the plate, going 2-for-3 and scoring two runs.

SRV JV meet

Homedale captured its first SRV title last week, and the Trojans tackle the district tournament today at Rolling Hills Golf Course in Weiser.

The Trojans, who scored 36 points during the season, picked up only four points April 30 with a fourth-place showing. But Homedale benefited when McCall-Donnelly came out of nowhere to win the final tournament of the year and thwart Payette's bid to overtake Homedale in the standings.

The Trojans entered the tournament with 32 points, while Payette had 24 and an outside chance of grabbing the title if Homedale fell flat.

Jonathan Verwer carded a 45 to lead the Trojans. Dustin Regis and Zach Tolmie each had 50s, and Dylan Kushlan registered a 51. Homedale stumbled to a 196, finishing 13 shots behind McCall-Donnelly, which put all four of its qualifying golfers in the clubhouse at under 50.

Garden Valley Invitational
Pegram dodged chilly

temperatures, hail and a rain-snow mix Thursday to win medalist honors at the 18-hole Garden Valley Invitational at Terrace Lakes Golf Resort.

Pegram's 85 helped the Trojans win the team title with a 347. Nampa Christian was second, 12 strokes back.

"I was extremely proud of the team's results, considering this was their first round on the course and the weather conditions," Trojans coach Dave Thompson said.

There were only six rounds in the 80s in the entire tournament, and all four of the Trojans' qualifying golfers pulled off the feat (Pegram; Grant Sweet, 86; Reece Landa, 87; Trevor Krzesnik, 89).

Pegram edged red-hot Nampa Christian golfer Mike Slegers by one stroke.

On the junior varsity side, Ryan Ryska collected another medalist title as Homedale finished second.

Ryska carded a 98. Other scorers for the Homedale JV included: Jonathan Verwer (103), Dustin Regis (107) and Dylan Kushlan (110).

Freshman holds his own in discus

Marsing High School's Tyson Heller fires a preliminary throw during the discus competition Friday at the Moke Strong Canyon County Classic at Caldwell High School. Heller finished sixth.

Homedale boys win Strong

Marsing frosh finishes strong in throws

Sophomore Austin Emry won another high jump title Friday to help Homedale High School capture the small schools boys championship at the Moke Strong Canyon County Classic.

Emry accounted for one of his team's three event golds as the Trojans racked up 91 points.

Coach Thomas Thomas' squad was fourth in the overall standings, which was split along 5A/4A and 3A/2A/1A lines. Meet host Caldwell won the big schools championship with 128.5 points, a half-point better than intricity rival Vallivue.

Emry followed up his high jump victory with a second-place showing behind teammate David Liddell in the long jump.

Liddell soared 12 feet, 1½ inches to beat Emry by five inches. Emry cleared third-place James Woodworth of Middleton by another two inches.

Liddell finished second in the 100 meters, running a season-best 10.9 seconds, and he was third in the 200 at 22.23.

Liddell served on the Trojans' record-breaking — and victorious — 4x100 relay team with freshman Trent Acree and seniors Mark Vance and Matt Holloway.

Acree and Vance also were members of the 4x200 team that finished third in that relay. Emry and senior Chris Anders rounded out the quartet.

Anders was second in the 300 intermediate hurdles, posting a time of 41.64. He crossed the line fifth in the 110 high hurdles (17.22).

Meanwhile, Holloway was third in the high jump at 6-2. Junior Austin Ferguson also cleared 6 feet in the event.

On the girls side, the young Trojans finished 10th with 16 points.

Freshman Nickole D'Alessio uncorked a personal-best 33-2¼ in the shot put finals, but she was still more than 8 feet shorter than event champion Nikkie Rudder of Skyview. She went 93-7 in the discus.

Another ninth-grader, Kindra Galloway, ran a 13.5 in the 100 and a 28.05 in the 200.

Katie Holloway, a freshman, ran 18.22 in the 100 hurdles and 56.32 in the 300 hurdles.

Senior Jordan Warwick finished outside the top 10 in the long jump with a 14-2, and Galloway was close behind at 14-½.

Sophomore Annamaria Salas carded a 30-3 effort in the triple jump.

Marsing

Freshman Tyson Heller picked up a pair of top-six showings in the throws.

His effort of 44-9 was good enough for fourth place in the shot put, four inches behind former Homedale thrower Terence Thomas, who now competes for Caldwell.

Heller was sixth in the discus with a throw of 124-11. He bettered a preliminary throw by about eight feet.

Marcus Miller cleared 9 feet in the pole vault, and freshman Sammy Olvera went 17-5 in the long jump.

Junior Holly Heller threw the shot 28-11, and registered a toss of 92-3 in the girls discus.

Junior Amanda Staudenmier turned in an effort of 29-2 in the triple jump.

The 4x200 relay team of Elisa Moreno, CC Zanardi, Jessica Freeman and Staudenmier finished out of the top seven with a time of 1:58.8. The same four athletes ran a 2:06.2 in the sprint medley.

The Huskies are back in action Friday and Saturday at the 2A District III Championship meet in Parma.

lock."

But with all four athletes rolling up their "best splits, by far" of the season, according to Stimmel, and Liddell leaving his Nampa counterpart in his wake, the Trojans left no doubt.

Nampa's second-place squad was timed at 44.39, nearly a half-second behind Homedale.

"We're pretty confident that if anyone's close to David at the beginning of the leg, he'll get away from them," Stimmel said.

With the 3A District III championship meet this week in Fruitland and the state meet May 17-19 in Boise, the coach thinks the team could better its own record by the end of the year. That may be a requirement to catch state leader Shelley.

"Absolutely," Stimmel said. "I really can't see their handoffs getting a lot better (but) I still think they can run a lot faster."

"There's always room to improve, and we'll keep working at it for the next couple weeks and keep working hard for State."

Coach Thomas Thomas said Monday that even with the record performance, Homedale lost its position as the fastest 3A 4x100 team in the state. Shelley has run a 43.89 this season.

"We can be state champs in that race if we hit our handoffs," Thomas said.

The 3A state meet record, according to the Idaho High School Activities Association Web site, is a 43.4. Jerome set the mark in 1996.

Marsing enters district on 4-game softball slide

Huskies take on No. 5 seed NC in Thursday's opener in Nampa

Miranda Clausen singled Thursday for the Marsing High School softball team's only hit in a doubleheader sweep at the hands of host Parma.

The sweep capped a week in which the Huskies saw their losing streak stretch to four games.

"Last week was a long week with a lot of games," first-year Marsing coach Bryan Marquardt said.

"We didn't play very well. We had a lot of errors that hurt us in each game."

Thursday's 2A Western Idaho Conference regular season-ending twin bill solidified Parma as the No. 2 seed in the district tournament behind powerhouse Melba. Marsing is seeded fourth and will start the tournament at 1 p.m. Thursday against Nampa Christian.

The district tournament is being played Thursday through Saturday at West Park in Nampa.

An opening-round victory puts the Huskies into the second round against top-seeded Melba at 6 p.m. Thursday. A loss means Marsing will play a losers bracket game at 1 p.m. Friday at West Park.

Parma rode a 12-run third inning to a 13-0 five-inning victory in Game 1 against the Huskies last week.

In the second game, the Panthers' pounded 21 hits and took advantage of 11 errors from the Huskies to post an 18-0 triumph. Alissa Bowman threw a no-hitter and struck out 10 to get the victory for Parma.

Earlier in the week, Marsing lost to Vale, Ore., 17-5 in a non-conference game. Cera Jackson went 3-for-3, knocked in three runs and scored once. Jessica Elsberry and Breanna Cobiskey each counted doubles among their two hits against the Vikings on April 30.

Visiting New Plymouth knocked off Marsing 14-4 in a 2A WIC game played May 1. Cat Rost doubled and scored a run while collecting an RBI.

Teammates Amy Beagley, Cobiskey and Kelly Brewer also drove in runs.

Huskies lose to New Plymouth

Rangel rallies Homedale JVs with bat and arm

Jason Rangel had a week to remember, pitching strong in both Homedale High School junior varsity baseball wins.

Rangel crushed a bases-clearing double in the second inning Thursday to push Homedale to a 5-1 non-conference win over Nampa Christian in a game played in Canyon County.

Rangel also pitched a complete game with six strikeouts and just three walks to get the victory. He padded his offensive stats with a single.

He was helped out by his defense against Nampa Christian.

The 2A Western Idaho Conference squad scored its only run with one out in the bottom of the first inning. But center fielder Rodrigo Villarreal triggered a double play by making a terrific shoestring catch,

"The double play got the momentum on Homedale's side for the remainder of the game," Homedale JV assistant coach Mark Thatcher said.

Villarreal and Tyler Gibson also had hits.

Homedale (9-7) opened the 3A Snake River Valley conference opened the conference tournament at home Monday against No. 2 seed Payette. Results weren't available at press time.

Homedale was 2-4 during the conference season, finishing third.

The Homedale-Payette winner will take on the winner of Monday's game between top-seeded Fruitland and No. 4 Weiser at 5 p.m. today in Homedale.

Homedale 13, Parma 7

The Trojans lowered the boom on Parma during a non-conference game on the road April 30.

Homedale pounded 13 hits in a shellacking of the host Panthers from the 2A WIC.

Gibson and Villarreal collected three hits apiece for the Trojan.

Gibson pitched five innings in relief of starter Jason Rangel to pick up the win.

Errors, injury leash Huskies in final WIC games

With leading hitter sidelined by broken hand, Marsing loses four Defense has not been the Marsing High School baseball team’s ally this season.

Not only did the Huskies average 5½ errors per contest during its 20-game regular season, but it was a defensive play that ended senior center fielder Shea McClellin’s season April 28 in a non-conference game against Payette.

McClellin was the Huskies’ leading hitter when he broke bones in his hand while diving for a ball at Harmon Killebrew Field. The Boise State-bound senior was hitting .455 with 20 RBIs, three triples and seven doubles when he got hurt.

And the Huskies missed an opportunity to gain better position in this week’s 2A District III Tournament when they committed 14 errors in a wild 17-12 2A Western Idaho Conference loss at home to New Plymouth on May 1.

The Pilgrims, who committed six miscues of their own, scored five runs in the sixth inning to surge ahead. New Plymouth built a six-run second inning around six errors, too.

The loss to New Plymouth meant Marsing (5-15 overall, 0-8 2A WIC) had no chance to improve its lot in the district tournament no matter how the Huskies fared against Parma in a conference season-ending doubleheader Thursday.

The Panthers dodged four of its own errors and scored a run in the bottom of the eighth inning to post a 6-5 win in the first game.

Marsing was charged with four errors and limited to four hits in a 14-6 loss in the nightcap.

The week began with a 15-3 loss to Vale, Ore., in a non-conference game played April 30 in Marsing.

Marsing and New Plymouth squared off Monday in the first round of the district tournament. The second round of the tournament was played Tuesday in Melba. Results from the first two days weren’t available at press time. The tournament resumes at 2 p.m. Thursday in Melba.

Parma sweeps Marsing

In a doubleheader forced by a rainout earlier in the year, the Panthers took advantage of an unexpected home-field advantage to lock down the district tournament No. 3 seed.

In the first game, Marsing scored three runs in the top of the seventh inning to grab a 5-4 lead only to see Parma rally to tie the game in the bottom of the seventh against left-hander Nic Marmon.

Taylor Nielsen was 3-for-4 with a double and two RBIs to lead the Huskies’ offense.

In Game 2, Marsing never got untracked despite a five-run uprising in the third inning.

By the time the Huskies had broken through for five runs, Parma had built a 6-0 lead against Nielsen.

The Huskies were limited to four hits and fanned eight times.

Marmon was 2-for-3, while Nielsen and Mike Moore both went 1-for-4. Nielsen doubled, and he and Marmon both logged RBIs.

New Plymouth 17
Marsing 12

Moore tripled and scored on Nielsen’s base hit as Marsing enjoyed a 2-0 lead after one inning.

But the Pilgrims batted around in the second inning against Marmon to assume a 6-2 advantage. Although Marmon would be touched up for 15 runs, only one of those tallies was earned because of a bevy of Huskies errors.

Trailing 9-3 in the bottom of the third, Marsing clawed its way to four runs as New Plymouth committed three errors. The Huskies didn’t get a hit during the rally, but Moore and Marmon scored after drawing walks, and Nielsen got on base after being hit by a pitch. Troy Dines also reached on an error and later scored.

Marsing crept even closer in the next inning, scoring twice to get within a run, 10-9. Sean Finley led of the inning with a double and scored the first of hits three runs. Dines walked and scored a run on another New Plymouth error.

Marmon was unable to hold New Plymouth in check in the top of the fifth. The Pilgrims batted around and scored five runs with two outs to widen its lead to 14-9.

Vale, Ore., 15, Marsing 3

The Vikings staked their starting pitcher to a 6-0 lead in the second inning and rolled to a non-conference win.

The Huskies didn’t get on the board until Moore scored an unearned run in the third inning. He reached on an error, swiped his seventh stolen base of the season then scored on a pair of passed balls.

Marsing was limited to four hits by three Vale pitchers. Marmon singled and scored on a two-out bases-loaded walk to Kris Young in the fourth inning. Matt Hill walked and scored on a passed ball in the sixth inning.

Junior varsity call-up Nick Birmingham singled in the sixth inning for Marsing’s other hit, but he was stranded at third.

Trojans baseball cools off during district opener

The Homedale High School baseball team couldn’t repeat magic from earlier in the week and lost to McCall-Donnelly in the first round of the 3A District III tournament Saturday in Payette.

Less than a week after coming from behind to beat the Vandals, 13-9, in McCall in the regular-season finale, the Trojans fell into a 9-1 hole against McCall-Donnelly in an opening district game at Harmon Killebrew Field.

But, unlike the May 1 victory on the road, Homedale couldn’t mount a comeback Saturday and fell 13-10.

The Trojans committed four errors, and Homedale pitchers walked seven batters.

Joey Cline drove in three runs as Homedale scored nine runs in three consecutive at-bats over the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Jason Rangel also knocked in a pair of runs. Cline and Rangel played the bulk of their regular season with the Trojans’ junior varsity team.

Darren Burdine was 2-for-3 to lead Homedale’s hitting.

The Trojans fell into the losers bracket and will meet the loser of Tuesday’s game between Weiser and Payette at 3 p.m. Thursday in Payette. Tuesday’s results weren’t available at press time.

Homedale 13, McCall-Donnelly 9

In the two teams’ first meeting of the week, Homedale shook off a long bus ride and pieced together a nine-run sixth inning then held on for a high-scoring win May 1 in McCall. It was the 3A Snake River Valley conference season finale for both teams.

Burdine ripped a two-run single, and sophomore Ryan Davis cleared the bases with a triple as the Trojans erased McCall’s 5-3 lead.

Eric Wilbur, a classmate of Burdine at Notus, also had an RBI triple in the sixth inning to highlight his 3-for-4 afternoon.

Homedale scored all its runs in the pivotal sixth inning with one out.

“It took us five innings to wake up,” Homedale coach Tim Fulwood said, adding that it was nice to finally see his team come up with clutch hits in key situations.

Cline had a two-run single in the fourth inning May 1.

Homedale 14, Parma 4

Four players collected two hits apiece April 30 as the Trojans collected a non-conference victory in their final home game of the season.

“We got a win on Senior Night against Parma,” Fulwood said. “It was nice to get a home victory.”

But in a harbinger of what was to come 24 hours later, Homedale was forced to come from behind against the Panthers from the 2A Western Idaho Conference.

Another big sixth sparked the Trojans.

Jared Brockett, who has struggled at the plate this season, ripped a two-out, two-run single during Homedale’s 10-run sixth inning. Brandt Graber also laced a two-run single with two outs.

Six different Trojans knocked in two runs each, including Josh Jolley, who notched two RBIs with a double in the sixth inning. Davis smacked a two-out single that brought in two runs in the third inning as Homedale ate into Parma’s 4-1 lead.

Burdine had two RBIs in the sixth inning, driving in a run each in his two at-bats. Guillermo Machuca pounded a two-run double in the fifth inning.

Trojans tennis falters in SRV

Senior No. 1 singles player poised for run at district this week

Joshua Myers and the Homedale High School tennis team ran into a finely tuned machine ready for the championship season last week.

Bryant Timmons, with Myers one of the best No. 1 boys singles players in the 3A Snake River Valley conference, throttled the Trojans' senior 6-1, 6-2 to trigger Parma's 12-0 conference win over Homedale on May 1.

Myers most likely will get his chance for a rematch deep in the 3A District III Tournament, which begins Thursday in three different locations — Parma, Fruitland and Payette.

The Trojans failed to pick up a set in a dozen matches against Parma last week. The Panthers also crushed Payette 12-0 to wrap up the conference's regular-season championship.

Homedale's top girls singles player, Shanae Galloway, fell to Kali Roche, 6-1, 6-1.

Second-seeded girls singles player, Emily Verwer, won four games in the second set of her match against Alli Nielsen, but Nielsen was well ahead in a contest she would win 6-0, 6-4.

Homedale's top boys double squad of Caleb Johnson and Andrew Bingham won four games against Parma's Hal Nielsen and Clinton Jacks but lost 6-1. 6-3.

The only other Homedale entry to win more than two games in any set was the second-seeded girls doubles team of Blanca Uriarte and Tori Reed. They spotted Parma's Erin Nielsen and Kaitlin Nielsen six games before trying to come back in the second set of a 6-0, 6-3 defeat.

Fruitland 8, Homedale 4

Seniors Bingham and Johnson rebounded Thursday at home against the Grizzlies, but the Trojans dropped their second straight conference dual.

After getting shut out in the first set, Homedale's No. 1 boys doubles team rallied for an 0-6, 6-4, 7-5 victory.

Myers got back on track with a 6-2, 6-1 victory. He was the only Homedale singles player to register a victory.

The Trojans' other wins came from the No. 2 doubles team of Gage Egurrola and Shravan Sriganesh and the top mixed doubles squad of Levi Jones and Emily Verwer.

Thatcher thunders service

Scott Thatcher, a member of Homedale High School's No. 1 boys doubles team, fires a serve during Thursday's dual meet against visiting Fruitland. Thatcher and Caleb Johnson won their match, but the Trojans lost the meet.

C.J. Strike fishing report

What's biting on what

by Idaho Fish and Game

Fishing is finally starting to heat up. The surface temperature at CJ Strike is about 61 degrees, and the fish are responding well.

Trout are being caught around the reservoir at a rate not seen all winter. In the reservoir, anglers are using worms and marshmallows to catch rainbows. If they can keep the yellow perch (up to 13 inches) off their hook, they should catch some nice trout. Anglers are using small lures to catch nice trout below the dam.

Fishermen who want to catch a mess of nice yellow perch are using a small piece of cut bait (about the size of a pea) and are fishing on the bottom in about 15 feet of water. The perch are beginning to move in shallow to spawn and can be found in large groups.

Sturgeon fishing has been really good between about 10 a.m. and dark. The toughest thing about sturgeon fishing below the dam right now is finding a place to park. Between the dam and the first bridge looks like the Little Salmon River during the peak of salmon season.

Some really good fishing can be found below the bridge, but few folks are venturing down there.

Smallmouth bass are beginning to cruise the shallows above and below the dam. Use crankbaits or the usual plastics (dark-colored grubs or tube jigs) around rock. Remember, the minimum length for keeper bass is 12 inches.

Black crappie are being caught in the Narrows around flooded trees. Use red and white jigs. The fish are running small (7-9 inches), but an occasional 11- inch is caught.

This month's tournaments

by Idaho Fish and Game

May offers three fishing tournaments at C.J. Strike Reservoir, including one that features the prevalent perch species, according to the Idaho Fish and Game Department's Web site.

Bass tournaments take to the water first. On May 19, American Bass sponsors a tournament that runs from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. The tourney is open to 60 people and 30 boats.

The month's second bass-only tournament will end in the twilight on May 23. The Midnight Bassmasters sponsor an afternoon and early-evening tournament from 4 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The event is limited to 16 people in eight boats.

Both the May 19 and May 23 tournaments will launch from the Blacksands boat ramp.

The other tournament on the lake will launch from the Air Force boat ramp on May 24. The tournament, which is open for bass and perch, will run from noon to 6 p.m. and is open to 50 people in 25 boats. The Maintenance Operations Squadron Association sponsors the event.

All three tournaments in May at C.J. are catch-and-release events.

Antelopes softball limps to finish line

Injuries pile up during final week of the season

by Kat Sillonis, AHS

Injury woes continued to plague the Adrian High School softball team during the last week of its season, causing the team to play several games short of players.

The Antelopes dropped all five of their games during the week.

The team was down to nine players coming into the week, so Oralia Dominguez stepped up and joined the team for its Tuesday and Friday games.

In Tuesday's 15-8 non-league loss to Nyssa, outfielder Camilla Rampinelli injured her shoulder, joining Kat Sillonis, Paige Branstiter and Amanda Simpson on the injured list.

Friday, the team again played with nine, but utility player Ranea Orosco chose to compete in a track meet Saturday instead of joining the softball team, leaving them with eight players.

Adrian lost a league doubleheader to Elgin/Imbler on Friday, 13-0, 21-0. On Saturday, the Antelopes wrapped the season, losing both ends of a doubleheader to Union/Cove, 14-3, 11-1.

Sillonis, who had knee surgery in January and wasn't expected to play any sport until July, stepped up and played first base for the doubleheader against Union/Cove on Saturday. Because Sillonis was ordered by her doctor not to bat, she was put into the ninth spot in the lineup, and each time it was her turn to bat, the team took an out.

In the fifth inning of the first game Saturday, Rampinelli was injured again. She continued to play outfield, but was unable to bat, leaving the Antelopes with only seven batters, and taking outs in the eighth and ninth spots in the lineup.

Nyssa 15, Adrian 8

With the game tied 3-3 in the second inning, the Bulldogs broke out their bats and scored seven runs.

Three Adrian players had multiple hits. Jinell VanCorbach, Jessica Orosco, and Ryann Bowns all had two singles in the game, while Orosco also had an RBI.

Bowns and VanCorbach combined to walk 11 Bulldogs and strike out one.

Elgin/Imbler sweeps Adrian

In Game 1 on Friday, the Antelopes only mustered two hits in the game, while Elgin/Imbler pounded 13 hits. Elgin pitcher

Tara Ludwig struck out eight and walked none, while Adrian pitchers VanCorbach and Orosco combined for one strikeout and 11 walks.

Bowns and Rust each had a hit in the loss.

In the second game, Elgin/Imbler heated up after a quick first inning by pounding out two double-digit scoring in the second inning. The game was called after three innings because of the 15-run mercy rule.

Katie Griffin struck out six and walked two for Elgin/Imbler, while Sveta Price got the only hit for the Antelopes.

Union/Cove sweeps Adrian

The Lady Cats opened the doubleheader with an eight-run first inning, which was all they'd need to bring home the win.

Price and Jessica Orosco each went 2-for-3 to lead the Antelopes. Both had hits in the Antelopes' third inning, when Orosco drove Price home on a long single to right-center field, and Terra Rust followed with a single to center to score Ryann Bowns and Orosco. But the three-run rally ended when the vacant No. 9 spot in the batting order forced Adrian to take a third out. It was the only offense Adrian could mount on the game.

Arima files for board post; zone boundaries changed

Tom Arima is the only candidate for Homedale school board trustee for Zone Two, clerk Jim Duncan said Monday. Arima, who is presently serving on the board, filed his nominating petition last week. Deadline for filing was Friday.

A change in zone boundaries was made recently when the city council annexed two subdivisions, Duncan said. The legal description of the school zone boundaries follows the city limit borders. The change in the city limits also made the change in the zone perimeters, Duncan said.

Trustee election in Tuesday, May 18. Only residents of Zone Two are eligible to vote.

Cookbook to be introduced Thursday

Lucille Bredy's "Pantry Capers" cookbook will be introduced to the public at an autograph party tomorrow, May 6, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Mayflower Furniture Conference Room, Homedale. The book contains nearly 200 recipes, helpful hints, bits of prose and art work. It has been her "Dream of a Lifetime" to publish her favorite recipes collected over the years, some being in her family for over a century, some from relatives and friends, and those developed for numerous recipe contests.

Included among the recipes is one especially developed by the North Dakota 75th Jubilee (1889-1964). As Mrs. Bredy's father, who was born in 1889, had been a wheat farmer in the community for over 50 years, was chose to be Grand Marshal of the community parade, "Dakota Rolls."

Mrs. Bredy developed her interest in cooking in the farm kitchen from her mother.

Tennis playoff, pie auction slated for June 19

Homedale Kiwanis Club has scheduled Homedale's first ever tennis playoffs and pie action for Saturday, June 19, tentatively, at the new tennis courts.

Sign up will begin today and continue until Saturday, May 22, at Homedale Hardware, Owyhee Auto Supply, and Idaho First National Bank. Matches will be set up in several brackets according to age, sex and experience.

Age brackets will be 14-17 years and 17-over, both male and female. Experience will be duffer for inexperienced players and hot shot for those who have played in school or taken lessons.

Depending on number of entrants pre-finals play will be held on June 5 or 12. Matches will be for single play only and will be limited to one-half hour because of court space.

To be eligible for the contest the player must either live or work within the boundaries of the Homedale School District. Signup cost is $1.50 per person. Each player must furnish his own racket. Balls will be furnished by the Kiwanis Club.

Pie auction will be held following tennis playoffs.

Davis opposes county zoning

Commissioner Don Davis who is seeking re-election to the post from District 3, said Monday the "people (of Owyhee County) are not ready" for zoning, adding that zoning is not badly needed within the county.

Davis, chairman of the commission, initiated the abolishment of the Owyhee County Planning and Zoning Commission, following the 1980 advisory ballot.

A rancher from Bruneau, Davis has filed on the Democratic ticket. He has served as a commissioner for nearly 20 years.

Jordan Valley places first, Marsing second in tourney

Jordan Valley hosted an invitational "fun" volleyball tournament on March 28 for teams from Denio, Nev.; Arock, Rockville and Jordan Valley, Ore., and Marsing, Idaho. Arock and Jordan Valley furnished the refreshments for the all-day event.

Team placings were Jordan Valley, first; Marsing second; Rockville, third; Denio, fourth; and Arock, last.

Joe Eiguren sworn in as new mayor of Homedale

Joe Eiguren, newly elected mayor, was sworn into office at the regular city council meeting Monday evening along with Councilman Delbert Greene, who was re-elected at the city election April 23. Elmer Frank, newly elected councilman was not present and will be sworn in at the next regular meeting.

The former council and Mayor Les Carter paid bills amounting to $6,281.85 out of the general fund, $394.60 out of the fire fund, and $995.25 from the recreational fund.

The new mayor appointed commissioners George Bullock for the street and alley department; Delbert Greene, water, domestic, and irrigation; Elmer Frank, sewer and sanitation; and Orville Soper, park and recreation. A president of the council will be elected at the next meeting, June 3.

Bids being asked are for a new police car and for a two-year audit. Both bids must be in by June 3.

Those planning to attend the 10th annual convention of the Idaho Municipal league at McCall, June 13, 14 and 15, are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stimmel, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock.

Homedale Trojans lose to Marsing in SRV playoff

The Homedale Trojans lost a playoff game to the Marsing Huskies 4-2 Monday afternoon for second place in the SRV B standings. The game was played at Adrian.

The victory gave Marsing a berth in the tournament which began Tuesday at Notus with Notus playing Cambridge and Marsing playing Melba.

Marsing lead from the start by jumping to a 2-0 first inning lead. Dudley Mausling, Marsing, hit a homer in the first and collected a double and single, driving in three of Marsing's four runs.

Richard Frazier hired by school board as new supt.

Richard Frazier of Clarks Fork was named superintendent of Homedale schools Saturday evening at a special meeting of the school board.

The board interviewed four applicants before choosing Mr. Frazier. The new superintendent has been unit superintendent at Clarks Fork for four years. He and his wife and three sons will move to Homedale in late June and he will assume his duties July 1.

Don Taylor of Parma was named high school principal at a special school board meeting Monday evening. He was chosen by the new superintendent, Mr. Frazier, and approved by the board.

The board also offered contracts to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Fugate, former teachers here who have been teaching at Huston this year. The balance of the teaching staff will be hired by Mr. Zollinger, present superintendent, with the approval of the board.

Present policies and working program will remain in force, the board decided.

Several church leaders were invited by the school board chairman to be present when applicants for the superintendent's job were interviewed. Selection of Mr. Frazier was virtually unanimous among board members and those attending, Board Chairman Allen George revealed.

Homedale locals

Mrs. Lena Stutheit and son Elmer, Mrs. Hattie Pierce and son MM/1c Elvin E. Benjamin and his daughter Marcella and Susy Eismann were dinner guests at the John McGuire home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kiester and Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Metzger visited with Burt St. Clair at the St. Lukes hospital in Boise Sunday.

Jim Holbrook was home over the weekend at the A. J. Radcliffe home. Jim, a student at the Northwest Christian church Sunday to fulfill part of student requirements of the college.

CASTLE CREEK, APRIL 22d, 1867.

EDS. AVALANCHE: This Valley is geographically located twenty miles east of Silver and about sixty south-southwest of Boise City, and has no greater altitude than the hotter places; consequently is some warmer. The main Creek and its tributaries flow through arable land, having an average width of eighty rods for fourteen miles. The spring freshets take place in February and March and subside before plating time. The quality of soil is such as to satisfy all who have tested its productiveness. Tregaskis & Jennings last year cultivated about twenty acres, and this year will cultivate one hundred and fifty acres. Several other farmers are doing to the extent of their resources. The persons now having ranches on the Creek are Pickett, McCandless, Tolidy, Tregaskis & Jennings, Baker, Kirkpatrick, Hopper and Hunter & Co. There are yet large quantities of unclaimed land equally as good for agricultural purposes as any occupied. The locality presents great advantages for stock raising; the foothills affording an abundant supply of excellent bunch-grass, and the vast plains of white sage furnishing an inexhaustible supply of winter forage, equal to hay. A very large percentage of the stock of Owyhee County has been wintered hereabouts. Like Silver, we have our croakers; and who are constantly informing us what we might do but for the crickets. This is not participated in by any that have an interest at stake, nor by any that were here last summer. That an extensive and opulent community will rapidly rise up here is as certain as the continuous prosperity of Owyhee County.

MR. ROBERT TRIMBLE has placed upon our table several very fine specimens of silver ore from a vein discovered by himself and partners about one mile and a half north of the famous vein in Owyhee County, Idaho Territory. The characteristics of this vein are so similar to that of the Poorman, and its position so directly in range, that there is the strongest presumption for the belief that it is an extension of that vein.

142—Is a very rich specimen of black sulphuret, and would probably assay near or quite sixty per cent of silver.

143—Is chiefly red oxide of iron, carrying free gold and yielding a good percentage of silver.

144—Contains about fifty per cent of silica with gold and silver, oxide of iron and covered with green carbonate of copper.

145—Similar to the above, with less silica and no copper.

146—Silica, evidently changed by heat, said to be a fair sample of the chief part of the quartz composing the mass of the vein. It is interspersed with sulphurets, carrying probably both gold and silver.

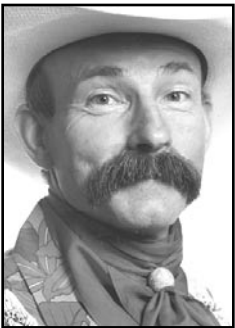

Attention was first led to the search of this vein by finding specimens of black sulphuret of silver, as was the case with the Comstock vein; although in that case the significance was not understood. The prospectors followed up their indications a considerable distance before they finally came upon the lode itself, on the 7th of September, 1865. Soon after they commenced work upon the vein proper their operations were interfered with by a contesting party, and the development thereof has hitherto met with the usual delays encountered by nearly all promising discoveries in the neighborhood of lazy prospectors and needy lawyers. Mr. Trimble and partners were winners in the suit which commenced; but as an appeal was taken there is still a prospect for more lawyers' fees ahead. It is the intention, however, of the present party to commence the active development of the mine early the ensuing spring. M & S Press.

FRED DOLBERG & CO. have established for the season in the cellar room under Creed & Co's store, Silver. Have a fine billiard-table, shooting-gallery, and saloon in excellent running order, and solicit a share of the patronage. They have a nice place, and persons in quest of recreation in their line, had better "try 'em on."

On the edge of common sense

Boomer and Bernie

There’s been a gradual change in the way we cowboys do things. It’s come over a period of years and coincides with anti-smoking regulations, a healthier diet, mandatory seat belts, bull riders wearing helmets, gentle horse training, improved cattle handling techniques, and not allowing our dogs free run of the pickup bed when we go to town.

It was a long time before I conceded that chaining my dog in the back was the right thing to do. It was about the time I quit speeding, chewing Copenhagen and started taking an aspirin a day. As the loss of my individual freedoms began piling up, I felt less need to let my dog enjoy one of his favorite things; riding unfettered in the back of the pickup.

Bernie, too, had faced the same decisions to do what is begrudgingly safer, but usually not as much fun. In his case, he lets his good cowdog Boomer ride in the front of the cab with him. Boomer liked it as long as he could have his window down far enough to hang out his head. One fine New Mexico morning they were driving down the Dexter highway, Bernie on the cell phone and Boomer taking in the scenery. Traffic was busy, and Bernie was smack dab in the middle of a verbal therapy session with his banker. Suddenly the cab filled with a blizzard of old receipts, magazine scraps, ear tags, Maalox pills and a roll of survey tape!

His first thought was that Boomer had hit the electric window all the way open at 45 mph! But no, Boomer’s hindquarters from the neck down was a furious flailing of limbs scattering everything on the seat and dashboard into the air! He realized immediately that Boomer had stepped on the electric window button, but he had closed it on his neck! Bernie fought for control of the vehicle, the cell phone and the mad dog amidst the hurricane of trash that filled the air! Then, Boomer lost control of his bowels. Digested dog chow, in several stages of viscosity, joined the airborne contents in the dog blender.

Swerving onto the shoulder, Bernie jumped out, raced around and jerked open the door! Boomer was still attached and smacked him on the face! As Boomer dangled momentarily, a passing motorist screamed “Dog abuser!” and made an obscene gesture.

Well, Boomer got saved, and Bernie now chains him in the back. He bought a gross of air fresheners to hang on the rearview mirror that smell like cooking broccoli, and he is a changed man. Kinder and gentler, but more practical. Yet, the profound question that lingers in his mind every time he climbs into the pickup is, ‘Why didn’t I lower the window from the driver’s side?’ Maybe it was some deep man-animal bonding conflict, or perhaps simply his vision was blurred.

Not important ... but possibly of interest Of German history, hygiene

We’re out of bed at 5:30 Sunday morning to dress, pack and eat. During the night, Germany has switched to Summer Time, which means we have lost an additional hour of sleep.

At 8 a.m. our Mercedes bus rolls out of Frankfurt, eastbound. As we travel, I size up our tour group composed of 46 people, plus Michael, the tour guide, and Raymond, our Lithuanian driver.

About two-thirds of the group is American — six Idahoans, a number of folks from Northern and Southern California and a few from Georgia, Florida and Texas. There also is an older man and woman, originally from Russia, who apparently managed to get to the U.S. before the end of the Cold War and have homes in Minnesota and Florida. They don’t share much about themselves, which makes me imagine they might be KGB defectors. There is a Canadian couple and a large contingent of South Africans. Most of them are about our age. All the South Africans speak English, but when excited they switch to Afrikan which seems to be a mixture of Dutch, German and who knows what else.

The youngest people on the tour are a couple from California (originally from India) who are about 30. The senior member is a 90-year-old Japanese-American woman traveling with two of her granddaughters.

As we roll across the German countryside, Michael talks about the history of the region. He’s been a guide for about 20 years and knows his stuff. We pass small villages — clusters of red-roofed houses, nearly always surrounding an old, very imposing stone church. Michael says you can tell the age of the churches by the spires. The ones with pointed spires are older than the ones with rounded tops, and both kinds have been here longer than there has been a United States of America.

At mid-morning, we turn off the Autobahn for a side trip to Rothenburg ob der Tauber (on the Tauber River). The town is one of the few still surrounded by a wall. Many buildings inside the old part of the city date to the 1200s. Some of the homes have been owned by the same families for centuries.

Our first order of business is to find rest rooms — a never-ending struggle. After wandering through the narrow streets for about an hour in small groups we all return to the City Hall on the edge of the town square to watch the clock strike the hour, celebrating the “meistertrunk.”

It seems that back in 1631 Rothenburg was besieged by a Count named Tilly and his army. Things looked pretty dark for the locals until the Count decided to play what he thought would be a funny joke. He told the Rothenburghers that if anyone could drink a tankard containing six pints of wine in one draught, he would spare the city. The Mayor, a guy named Nusch, took the Count up on his offer and sucked down the wine in one breath. The Count and his boys marched away empty handed (a promise was a promise in those days), and every day when the town clock strikes eleven, animated figures of the Mayor and the Count pop out of windows in the town hall clocktower and reenact the event.

There doesn’t seem to be any data on how long it took Mayor Nusch to sober up after his sacrifice.

With this significant piece of German history under our belts, we pile back on the bus. Later, we stop at a roadside restaurant where you have to pay to use the bathrooms. It is worth the price of admission. When you flush the toilet, the seat raises up and rotates while it is automatically sprayed with disinfectant. It impresses one woman in our group so much she runs out of the restroom and yells to her husband, “Hey, honey! Give me the camera! I gotta get a picture of this!” Unfortunately, it is the only time on the trip we see this type of hygiene in public restrooms.

In mid-afternoon, we arrive at our second overnight stop — Munich.

From Washington Amnesty for illegals isn’t the answer

When I travel Idaho’s First Congressional District, one comment I always hear is, “Bill, stand firm in your position on immigration. Do not accept amnesty as a solution to the immigration problem.”

I have heard the message of my constituents, and I wholeheartedly agree. Amnesty is the wrong solution. Amnesty is no solution.

Representing Idahoans in Washington, D.C., has strengthened my resolve. Plainly our immigration problems represent another failing of our federal government, which has not done enough to protect our borders. That is precisely the kind of government failure that I came to fight in Washington.

Illegal immigration is just that, illegal — the people who come here illegally are breaking our laws. And we will not continue to be a sovereign, well-ordered society without requiring respect for the rule of law. The law must be respected and obeyed by everyone.

A number of federal agencies are charged with enforcing our immigration, workplace and visa laws. But far too frequently, our federal government has been consistent only in its unwillingness to perform that basic and essential function.

As a result, agriculture and our service industries have become dependent on a workforce largely comprised of illegal workers. From that dependence, they urge Congress to act cautiously in reforming our immigration laws. Clearly caution is due to avoid unnecessarily putting the U.S. economy into a tailspin.

Rep. Bill Sali

But that caution cannot mean amnesty, and it cannot result in continued violation of the spirit or letter of U.S. law.

I’m sure most illegal immigrants merely want to earn a living and provide for their families. But I worry about the portion who run drugs and even engage in human trafficking (a polite term for slave-labor). And others claim to just want work, but are in reality terrorists, “sleepers” who lay low with plans to strike at an opportune moment. No one knows who or where they are because our immigration and security systems are like Swiss cheese, full of gaping holes.

Illegal immigration is a daily threat to your children and mine. American jobs are lost and potentially American lives also will be lost because our borders are porous and our enforcement is so haphazard.

Will our borders miraculously be secured by granting amnesty to the millions of people who willfully disregarded the laws of our nation? Will we be safer? Of course not.

Amnesty is brutally unfair to the many millions who

From Washington

War funding delay increases our troops’ peril

by Sen. Mike Crapo

Perhaps the most important responsibility of the federal government under our Constitution is national defense. When that responsibility requires that we commit troops to war, we are obligated to provide them the means to accomplish the mission as determined by military leaders in the field. That support includes providing physical resources — equipment and training — and we stand behind the military’s determination of effective rules of engagement. Our military deserves nothing less. When military’s ability to accomplish its mission is hamstrung, wars drag out and more people die.

Congress passed a war funding bill that President Bush has rightly vetoed. It’s foolhardy to announce troop movement and management decisions. It’s even more improper for Congress to micromanage war operations: Imagine what many in Congress would say if General Petraeus decided to run war operations out of an office on Capitol Hill rather than where battles are occurring. Congress has an oversight role, but that doesn’t include making battlefield decisions.

Politicizing troop funding by tying it to the debate over the war in Iraq is recklessly dangerous for our troops in the field. It’s interrupting essential supply operations and training as well as lowering morale. Every day Congress delays, our servicemen and women are at greater risk.

Delaying troop funding means that:

- Ongoing training of Iraqi security forces, essential to their ability to take the lead role in security operations, is disrupted;
- Purchases and deliveries of Mine Resistant Ambush Protected vehicles (MRAP) are on hold. MRAPs were fully and unanimously funded by the Senate Appropriations Committee earlier this year, and are predicted to reduce Improvised Explosive Device casualties in vehicles by 80 percent.
- Regular and necessary repair and maintenance of equipment will be disrupted.
- Training of guard and reserve units in the U.S. will be curtailed, adversely affecting troop readiness.
- Most distressingly, the Department of Defense has alerted Congress that if funding is not approved by mid-May, troop rotations will be affected, and extensions of tours of duty in Iraq are likely because of the reduction in training capability stateside.

Many in Congress assert that there is plenty of time to get funding to our troops. This is simply not true. The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary of Defense have testified that funding delays will detrimentally affect troop readiness and our military families.

Americans are divided about how the war should be managed, and we want our military home safely and as quickly as possible. This is an important debate and, as a democratic society, one that must continue. But a troop funding bill is the wrong legislative arena in which to hold this debate.

A wise Idahoan — a mother of five boys, one currently serving in the Marine Corps — wrote to me and reminded me of the words of Winston Churchill: “If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed; if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a small chance of survival. There may even be a worse case: you may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than to live as slaves.”

We aren’t America if we allow ourselves to be brought to our knees by those who hate freedom. American troops brought to their knees because of inadequate training or equipment is a chilling condemnation of Congress’ failure in its Constitutional duty.

— Mike Crapo is a Republican U.S. senator from Idaho.

Gun rights

Va. Tech tragedy shouldn’t affect law-abiding citizens

by Richard Stallings

It has been a month since the tragic shootings at the Virginia Tech campus. On behalf of the thousands of men and women in the Idaho Democratic Party, I want to express our most sincere and heartfelt condolences to the victims and their families. As a college professor myself, I can only imagine the terror that was felt on the Virginia campus; and the deep sorrow that has now cast itself upon the college community.

As the national media follows this unfortunate story, there is increasing speculation about gun control laws; and how this issue will play out politically in the coming months. Some are asking whether it will become a core question in the presidential debates.

Clearly this was a terrible tragedy on an international scale; but the question now about whether to increase gun control laws is a non-starter. If anything is to be gained from this event, Congress and state legislatures should take this opportunity to find better ways to identify, restrain and help other people who, like Seung-Hui Cho, are ticking time bombs in their communities.

I want to be clear on this point: Idaho Democrats stand strongly behind our heritage of independence, and that includes our right to keep and bear arms, as guaranteed by the 2nd Amendment to the United States Constitution. Reacting to this tragedy with a slew of anti-gun rights legislation would be as wrong as the rush to take away our rights with the so-called USA Patriot Act, which Congress passed immediately after the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks.

On the Virginia Tech campus, the problem wasn’t that Cho had a gun. It happened because Cho was out of his mind in a murderous rage; Second, our system of tracking suspected psychopaths and preventing them from purchasing firearms clearly is not strong enough. The Virginia Tech shooting gives us tragic evidence of what can happen when even one disturbed person “slips through the cracks.” This is where we should put our focus.

Virginia Democratic Gov. Timothy M. Kaine has already started. He recently said he may be able to tighten reporting requirements for the mentally ill by executive order. Such a rule would forbid sales of guns to people who have been ordered into outpatient psychiatric care by a judge. Currently, there is no system in place for this type of situation.

But simply clamping down on law-abiding citizen’s rights is the wrong approach, both for the Democratic Party or for America. Let’s take aim at the real problem — the fact that deadly weapons are readily available to deeply troubled souls.

This is a tough call, because the issue is fraught with the grief and emotion of this recent tragedy. But we must continue to hold our constitutional freedoms with clear minds; and we must not give up our rights because of this tragedy, as terrible as it was for the victims and their loved ones.

— Richard Stallings is the chairman of the Idaho Democratic Party.

✓ Amnesty: Approved border fence necessary

have entered the United States legally. A naturalization ceremony is the official ceremony where the people who have taken the legal path to citizenship become Americans, with the same rights, responsibilities and opportunities as the rest of us. They feel welcomed — and they should.

How can we possibly justify trivializing the legal path to citizenship by telling lawbreakers that their efforts are on par with those who stood in line and entered the United States with permission? What message does that send to people who navigate the difficult process for immigration and naturalization, and now are ready to take an oath of citizenship? Most troubling, what message does it send to the thousands of brave Americans who fought and died to make being a citizen of the U.S. truly meaningful?

We need to secure our borders. We need to fund and build the fence that the Congress approved last year. We need to insist that government agencies enforce our laws. And those agencies must provide a workable process for every employer to ensure their workers are legal with sanctions for those who knowingly employ illegals anyway.

The ultimate question is this: If we allow anyone to violate U.S. law to enter our country, how can we demand that they — or anyone else — obey all of our other laws once they are here?

Unless we stop illegal immigration, we will travel that road to general disregard for all law; a road upon which freedom becomes merely license and then anarchy. That’s unacceptable for Idaho and for America.

— Republican Bill Sali represents Idaho’s First Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives.

NOTICE OF SCHOOL
TRUSTEE ELECTION
MARSING JOINT SCHOOL
DISTRICT NO. 363
OWYHEE AND CANYON
COUNTIES, IDAHO

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: according to the law and the requisite action of the Board of Trustees of Marsing Joint School District No. 363, Owyhee and Canyon Counties, that the annual school trustee election will be held on May 15, 2007, and the polls at said election will be open between the hours of 12:00 noon and 8:00 p.m. on said day. Only those qualified voters residing in Trustee Zone No. Two (2) may vote for a Zone No. Two (2) candidate. The purpose of said election shall be to elect one trustee to serve for a period of three (3) years from the date of election who resides within Trustee Zone No. Two (2). Trustee Zone No. 2 is more specifically described in the legal descriptions available at the Marsing Joint. School District Office located at 209 8th Avenue West, Marsing, ID. Declaration of candidacy must have been filed with the Clerk of the Board of Trustees not later than 5:00 p.m. on the fifth Friday prior to the day of election. Each declaration of candidacy must bear the name of the candidate, state the term for which declaration of candidacy is made, and bear the signature of not less than five (5) school district electors resident of the trustee zone of which the candidate is resident. As provided by Idaho Code, Section 33-502A no write-in vote shall be counted unless a declaration of intent has been filed with the District Clerk indicating that the person desires the office and is legally qualified to assume the duties of school trustee if elected. The declaration of intent shall be filed not later than 5:00 p.m. fourteen (14) days prior to the day of election May 15, 2007. The Polls will be open from 12:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. at the following location: Marsing High School Library for Trustee Zone Two (2). An elector must be a registered voter who has resided in this state and in this school district at least thirty (30) days preceding the election. That said election shall be by secret and separate ballot. Absentee voting shall be permitted as provided by Idaho Code Section 33-406, as amended. Any qualified trustee zone elector who expects to be absent from the District on the day of the election or who will be unable, because of physical disability or blindness, to go to the polling place may make written application to the Clerk of the District for a ballot of the kind to be voted on at election, which application shall contain the name of the elector and the elector's present address. As provided by Idaho Code, Section 33-406, as amended, application for an absentee elector's ballot shall be filed with the Clerk not later than 5:00 p.m. one day prior to the opening of the polls. The absentee ballot must be received by the Clerk, no later than 5:00 p.m. the day before the election, before such ballot may be counted.
