Homedale gets into Homecoming fanfare

Defenders outscore Payette to claim SRV opener on Homecoming

Adjustments were expected when the defensive mind behind two consecutive Oregon football state championships at Nyssa, Ore., showed up in Homedale.

But when Homedale High School switched its defensive look upon coach Rob Kassebaum's arrival, there was no resistance from players or coaches

"The team defense concept keeps everybody on the same page," defensive coordinator David Hart said. "That's the key."

The concept was on full display during Friday night's 30-0 3A Snake River Valley conference-opening victory over visiting Payette.

After switching their look on the defensive line, the Trojans (2-3 overall, 1-0 3A SRV) posted two defensive scores in the second half earlier in the day.

"We put it all in perspective and thanked the Lord that everybody would be going home," Kassebaum said of the team's pregame discussion of the mishap.

"We talked about our responsibility being to provide a good game and take care of business."

Against Payette (2-2, 0-1), the responsibility seemed to begin and end with a defensive unit that has been asked to return to a more traditional look after two years of a 5-3 front from Hart.

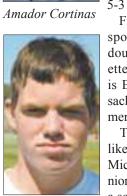

Friday, the squad responded with tremendous pressure on Payette quarterback Travis Blackwell, who was sacked and flushed numerous times.

The pressure from the likes of defensive ends Micheal Wilhelm, a senior, and Alex Mereness, a sophomore, as well as senior defensive tackles Amador Cortinas and Jaime Uriarte, seemingly wore down the psyche of the Pirates senior.

The Trojans' defense scored twice, and senior Daniel Valadez scored on a couple runs as Homedale sent a packed Homecoming game house away happy in the 3A Snake River Valley conference opener for both teams.

Araujo rips Ramblers for 383 yards, 5 TDs | Huskies

Ricardo Araujo rushed for 383 yards and five touchdowns Friday night to propel Rimrock High School to victory in its Homecoming football game.

Araujo averaged 11.6 yards per carry as the Raiders trounced Cascade, 50-19, in a 1A, Div. I conference game played in Bruneau.

"The team played very well, and the O-line played exceptional," Rimrock coach Jim Clark said. "It was a very exciting game with some big hits and a lot of yards gained."

lose grip on victory

Coach Don Heller summed up the reasons for Marsing's 19-14 2A Western Idaho Conferenceopening loss to Melba on Friday night as follows:

"Turnovers. Turnovers. Turnovers."

It is a familiar refrain. The Huskies (2-2 overall, 0-1 in 2A WIC) have turned the ball over 11 times this season. In their two losses, the Huskies have fumbled the ball 10 times. Five of those

Lair gets acrobatic in draw

Freshman drills penalty kick for Homedale boys

The Homedale High School boys soccer team has begun Fruitland," Correa said. "We had moving forward without a leading offensive threat.

The Trojans (1-1-6 overall, 1-1-3 conference) scored just once in two games last week, the first full week of action Homedale has undertaken since top scorer Nestor Machuca left the team.

The only goal scored by Homedale last week Tanner Lair was on a penalty kick from freshman Tanner Lair in a 1-1 3A Snake River Valley conference stalemate at Sundance Park against Fruitland on Sept. 18.

Lair scored in the

"We had a close game against our chances, but unfortunately > we couldn't finish them. Overall, the team seemed more put together."

Correa said the Trojans held on to the ball for the majority of the game against the Grizzlies.

Fruitland's first-half score came on a penalty kick.

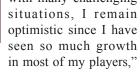

The Trojans' knack for controlling the ball in the midfield continued in Thursday's 3-0 setback against Weiser

Mustangs remain perfect in High Desert volleyball

Jordan Valley splits against GFA, Wilder

The Jordan Valley High School volleyball team went on tour Friday and Saturday, traveling to Unity, Ore., and Wilder.

The Mustangs began the busy two-day stretch with a 25-9, 26-28, 25-12, 25-12 High Desert League victory over Burnt River in Unity.

"We didn't play too bad, but we seemed to be moving a lot slower than we should have been," Jordan Valley coach Jacque Naegle said.

"The girls could have played with a little more intensity, but they did a good job and we came away with our third win in league."

Jordan Valley (5-2 overall, 3-0 HDL through Sunday) played its junior varsity team during the second game.

Kayla Cuvelier carded 10 kills, and Nickie Naegle came away with 12 assists and 10 service points.

Jessie White also served for 17 points, while Athena Beckwith had six kills. White and Cuvelier added a couple of blocks apiece.

Junior varsity player Ashley Hebison had while Nickie Naegle had 19. three assists and three digs.

GFA defeats IV

On Saturday, the Mustangs were in Wilder for a non-league tri-meet against the host Wildcats and Greenleaf Friends Academy, both of which compete in the 1A Western Idaho Conference.

"Greenleaf is a great team with a couple of pretty strong hitters," Naegle said. "They also dig up a lot of hits, and they are very scrappy.'

The Grizzlies rallied in the latter games of a two-hour match to prevail 22-25, 25-22, 21-25, 25-17, 15-9 against a Mustangs squad that was dealing with missing personnel. The game was punctuated by long rallies and hard-earned points, Naegle said.

"The varsity plays with a libero in back for one rotation, but it definitely pushed the endurance for the girls," Naegle said. "I was very proud of them, and this kind of game gives them more confidence on what they are able to do."

Cuvelier paced the Mustangs with 11 kills, and Beckwith added eight. Catie JV defeats GFA Kershner set up the offense with 21 assists, Jordan Valley's defense rose to the occasion against Greenleaf, too. Cuvelier had seven blocks, and White, Kershner and Naegle chipped in with four digs apiece.

JV defeats Wilder

The Mustangs had something left in the tank for the host Wildcats.

White had eight kills and two blocks, and Beckwith added six kills in a 25-16, 25-18, 25-22 victory.

"We had gotten home a little late the night before and then had a very tough match against Greenleaf earlier in the day, so by the time we played Wilder, we were definitely ready to call it a day," Jacque Naegle said.

"I was proud of how the girls handled themselves and pushed to finish the day on a positive note."

Kershner had 15 assists and served for 13 points, while Nickie Naegle had 13 assists and three digs. Elisa Eiguren and Cuvelier recorded five kills each.

Junior varsity

The Mustangs (4-1 overall) avenged their only loss of the season in the opening match of a non-league tri-meet in Wilder on Saturday.

Ashley Hebison had two kills and six assists, and Ann Marie Eiguren added five assists in a 21-25, 25-19, 15-13 win over Greenleaf Friends Academy.

"The girls did a great job of playing together and staying aggressive through the match," coach Jacque Naegle said.

Shelly Payne served for nine points, and teammate Michelle Telleria had four digs and five points.

JV defeats Wilder

Payne served for 12 points, and Hebison paced the offense with four kills and four assists against the host Wildcats.

Naegle said the weekend showed the versatility and depth of her team.

"We were missing some players this weekend, and we had players, who usually play back row, up front working on the net, and they did a great job of covering those areas and helping out on the offense," she said

Eiguren had five assists, while Tessa Matteri and Mattie Wroten had two kills each. Telleria chipped in four digs.

Talent-laden Firman prepares Trojans for SRV meet

HMS runs at Firman Homedale Middle School's Antonia Banda works toward the finish line Saturday.

On the biggest possible stage against some of the nation's best programs, the Homedale High School boys cross country team rose to the occasion at Eagle Island State Park.

All seven runners clocked personal-best times for the season during Saturday's Bob Firman Invitational, including junior Tyler Gibson completing the 5-kilometer event in 19 minutes, 42 seconds.

"Our goal this week was to have our first five guys under 24 minutes," Trojans coach Nick Schamber said. "We met and exceeded our goal.

"Teamwise we beat a couple of teams which we haven't been able to do this year."

Ninth-grader Jacob Compton shaved nearly two minutes off his time to run a 20:48. Guiseppe Larsen ran a 22:06, 1 second better than teammate Kenny Cockrum. Nate Perry finished in 22:51, with Drew Farwell at 23:33 and Jarrod Armenta at 25:10.

Senior Belen Vega, the lone girl on the Trojans squad, ran her second 22-minute race of the season.

"We took a big step today, but we have some bigger steps to go," Schamber said.

Homedale plays host to the Snake River Valley conference meet Thursday at River Bend Golf Course in Wilder. The girls race begins at 4 p.m., followed by the boys race at 4:30 p.m.

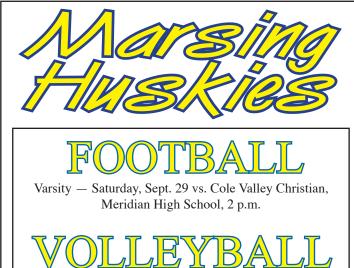

Payette, Weiser and McCall-Donnelly will compete.

'This will give us a pretty good idea where we stand in terms of getting to State," Schamber said. "We would like to encourage everyone to come out and cheer us on."

The Trojans' contingent wasn't the only group of runners with Homedale ties at the Firman on Saturday.

Greenleaf Friends Academy freshman Kendra Graber finished 14th in the Varsity II girls race. Graber's mother Sonja is a former Grizzlies cross country coach, and her brother has played as cooperative athlete with the Homedale baseball program.

qualifier slated

The final opportunity to qualify for the NFL Pepsi Punt, Pass and Kick sectional competition comes Saturday in Wilder. The sectional will be held in Marsing next month.

The youth football skills competition will be held at 10 a.m. at the football fields near Wilder High School. For more information, call Larry Puckett at 880-1736.

The winners of the local competition qualify for the Marsing Lions Optimist Footballsponsored sectional, which will begin at 2 p.m. Oct. 20 at the Marsing High School football field.

Injuries can't slow Antelopes

Key injuries couldn't keep Adrian High School's volleyball team from its appointed rounds Friday on the road.

McKenzie Purnell carded four kills and a block and dished three assists as the Antelopes remained unbeaten in the High Desert League with a 25-10, 25-13, 25-22 decision over Monument-Dayville.

"Dayville-Monument served well and kept us on our toes," Adrian coach Aimee Goss said. "I was happy with the kids that came up to fill the positions left by our injuries at libero and one of my outside hitters.

"Hopefully, we can get those athletes back healthy, but in the meantime it is great to see the kids step it up."

Senior Paige Branstiter rocketed three aces to go with six kills and four digs for Adrian (9-1 overall, 3-0 HDL).

Kassi Daugherty chimed in with four assists, two kills, an ace and a block.

Adrian faces Huntington and Harper in a league tri-meet

Friday before entering the Tri-Valley Tournament in Midvale on Saturday. The Antelopes will play in Pool 2 of the round robin portion of the tournament, taking on host Tri-Valley at 9 a.m. and Wilder at 11:30 a.m.

Tri-Valley co-coach Shelly Craig reports that Adrian could send a second team to create an eight-team tournament.

The Antelopes' lone loss this season came during the Cole Valley Christian Tournament on Sept. 15.

Rogers edges closer to 1,000 yards in Adrian win

Adrian High School's two Kyles crushed Monument-Dayville during Friday night's High Desert League football matchup.

Playing on the road in Dayville didn't faze Kyle Rogers or Kyle Osborn as the Antelopes cruised to a 76-36 victory.

Osborn's defensive heroics set up Rogers' offensive dominance, and for good measure Osborn caught an 18-yard scoring pass from Blake Ishida and scored the Antelopes' first TD of the game.

Rogers averaged 29.1 yards per carry, rumbling to 233 yards and four touchdowns on eight carries.

After just three games in the 2007 season, the senior is knocking on the 1,000-yard threshold. Averaging more than 13 yards a carry, Rogers has collected 912 yards this year.

With Rogers averaging more than 300 yards a game this year, chances are good the senior will eclipse the 1,000-yard mark Friday night at Ward Field when Harper (1-2, 1-1) visits for an HDL game. Harper lost 30-18 to Prairie City last week.

If the Adrian offensive line performs as it did against Monument-Dayville, Rogers could cross the coveted 1,000yard barrier in the first half against Harper.

The Antelopes (1-2 overall, 1-1 HDL) racked up a seasonhigh 509 rushing yards on 32 attempts against the Tigers (0-2, 0-2). Brandon Meyer collected 113 yards on just five totes. More than half of his yards came on a 73-yard run in the fourth quarter. Osborn had 95 yards and a score on six carries.

Osborn keyed the opportunistic Antelopes with a 30-yard fumble return in the second quarter that set up Rogers' first TD of the night — a 23-yard run.

Osborn was at it again to start the second half when he fell on the ball after a Monument-Dayville player coughed it up while returning the kickoff that opened the third quarter. Rogers cashed in with a 36-yard run.

Ishida then victimized his opposite number, picking off Tigers quarterback Cody Gibson to set up his TD pass to Osborn.

Rogers then raced 55 yards for another score to push Adrian to 60 points for the night.

Ishida scored two rushing touchdowns in the first quarter.

Daniel Lode got in on the act with a 30-yard run in the fourth period and carded 44 yards on two carries.

Junior Kyle Hand, who scored on two 15-yard runs and also galloped in from 16 yards, provided the bulk of Monument-Dayville's scoring. He also caught an 18-yard TD pass from Gibson in the second quarter as the Tigers struggled to keep up with Adrian.

$\sqrt{\text{Huskies:}}$ Fumbled snap short-circuits another Marsing comeback

"I told the team we can't win with turnovers," Heller said. "We made a great defensive stand, and turned around and fumbled the snap on second down. We were ahead 14-13, and they went down and scored. Just senseless."

In another recurring theme this season, the Huskies had recovered from a sluggish start. Marsing's offense was unable to generate a drive in the first half.

"At the start of the game, we didn't have any emotion," Heller said. "We were lucky to be down 7.0 (at halfing)."

JV game cancelled

The junior varsity football game between Marsing High School and Cole Valley Christian has been cancelled.

The game was scheduled to be played at 7 p.m. Thursday in Marsing, but the Chargers have disbanded their JV team because of a lack of players.

The Marsing-Cole Valley

7-0 (at halftime)."

Marsing finally came to life after the break, and dominated the line of scrimmage in the second half. Nine of Marsing's 14 first downs came after halftime. With 9 minutes to go in the game, the Huskies had come back from deficits of 7-0 and 13-7 to take a 14-13 lead.

After taking over from Melba on downs midway through the final quarter, the Huskies had the score, the ball, the clock, and the game's momentum all on their side. Ethan Sauer had rambled for 76 yards in his past five carries. The Mustangs' raucous Homecoming crowd was quiet. A couple of first downs could have iced the game for the Huskies.

Instead, Marsing's third varsity game, a 2A Western Idaho Conference contest, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Meridian High School.

Because of a lack of players, the Chargers also cancelled their varsity nonconference game against Buhl, which was scheduled for Sept. 14.

mishandled snap of the game gave the ball back to Melba, and the Mustangs cashed in on the opportunity. Bryce Crossley capped a 17-carry, 137-yard rushing performance with a 3yard touchdown run to put Melba up to stay, 19-14, with 2:42 remaining.

Finley makes return from neck injury

Marsing High School running back Sean Finley, left, prepares to take a handoff from quarterback Tyson Heller during Friday's game in Melba. Finley was playing in his first game since returning from a neck injury suffered in a car accident.

After the Huskies got the ball back, Tyson Heller hooked up with Kalob Myers for a 19yard completion, but the senior receiver was stripped of the ball while fighting for extra yardage. Melba recovered the fumble and milked the clock, using all but the final 10 seconds.

The Huskies attempted a pair of desperation passes, both of which fell incomplete, to close out the game.

The loss cast a pall on the happy occasion of Sean Finley's return from a neck injury. The junior running back was injured before the season in a car accident.

According to Don Heller, Finley was cleared to play two weeks ago. Finley is slowly being re-integrated into the Huskies' lineup. This week, Finley was used on offense only, and picked up 20 yards on seven carries in limited action.

Sauer, who had been averaging over 170 yards per game, was held to 92 yards on 11 carries. The senior scored a touchdown, as did tight end Taylor Nielsen.

Martin Galvez took over kicking duties from Marcus Miller, hitting both of Marsing's extra-point tries.

The Huskies continue the 2A WIC season Saturday in Meridian against Cole Valley Christian. Kickoff is 2 p.m. The winless Chargers, who have low numbers and had to cancel a game earlier this season against Buhl because of injuries, are coming off a 20-17 home loss to New Plymouth Trojans' state playoffs fate.

With apologies to the venerable fashion critic by the same name, Blackwell looked disheveled on several occasions.

His numbers weren't anything to bring to the runway, either. Plagued by poor aim and receivers incapable of catching the ball, Blackwell completed just seven of 33 passes and was picked off by Rodrigo Villarreal twice.

Half of his 112 yards passing came on consecutive pass plays on Payette's final possession of the second quarter. Zach Tolmie prevented both plays from going all the way, and Blackwell's next throw deep down the middle was tipped by a Homedale defender and picked off inside the Trojans' 5-yard line by Villarreal, who has four interceptions in the past three games.

"The secondary did a great job of stepping up," Kassebaum.

Villarreal didn't limit his heroics to the defense. He kept Payette pinned by averaging nearly 40 yards on each of his three punts and he rolled up 116 yards and a short touchdown on 18 rushes.

Both Kassebaum and Hart said the entire defense has answered the call this season. The mostly

Trojans pass rush punishes Payette QB

Unleashed from his new defensive end position, Homedale High School senior Micheal Wilhelm harasses Payette quarterback Travis Blackwell early in Friday's game.

Wilhelm, who had been playing on the interior, was moved to the outside — giving him even more freedom to penetrate the offensive backfield.

Uriarte, who was crowned Homecoming king before the game, traded places with Wilhelm and formed an impregnable interior with the massive Cortinas. The Pirates gained just 13 yards on 20 rushing attempts.

They have a good work ethic."

Hart said the adjustments made Friday night played a large role in creating what Kassebaum called a big advantage in the trenches for the Trojans.

"We adjusted Jaime inside more. He's 250 pounds, and he just takes up space," Hart said. "We put Mike on the outside behave to pay attention to the outside now.'

The lack of a double team may have helped Cortinas emerge Friday, too. After battling conditioning problems earlier in the season, the 5-foot-8, 301-pound defensive tackle moved like a cat in the third quarter to sack Blackwell for a safety 4 minutes, 23 seconds into the third quarter.

The defensive stand capped by Cortinas began at the Payette 3 after Damian Reynolds picked off Homedale quarterback Eric Engum's shot at the end zone.

After the defense threw fullback Jon Baird for a 2-yard loss on first down, Cortinas nearly caught Baird in the end zone for a safety one play before he all but chased Blackwell out of the back of the end zone.

Two possessions later, Payette found itself in the shadow of its own goalposts when a Homedale drive stalled inside the 5.

No worries. Blackwell threw an incompletion under immense pressure and then another push by the Homedale defensive line caused a fumble that junior Joey Cline fell on for a touchdown.

Although the defensive awakening was triggered by changes made by the coaches. Kassebaum deflected credit for the impressive showing back on to his players. "I think we're pretty thoroughly prepared, but in reality the kids are making the plays," he said. — JPB

Further cementing the play of the offensive linemen in the Raiders' eight-man football victory, 5-foot-8, 140-pound freshman running back Francisco Garcia rolled up 103 yards on 10 attempts. He also scored a touchdown.

T.J. Snyder rushed for 51 yards and a TD on seven carries.

Senior quarterback Nate Hofer had one of his more efficient days, completing three of his five passes for 43 yards.

The wealth was spread throughout the Raiders' defense. Hofer and Ethan Standlee both had interceptions, while Hofer, Sam Richardson and Carlos Salinas registered nine tackles apiece.

Snyder led the crew with 10 solo tackles, while Richardson had a sack and Araujo recovered a fumble.

Rimrock has a bye this week, but returns to action Oct. 5 with a home game against conference opponent Horseshoe Bend.

The Raiders are tied for third in the conference and trail unbeaten Council by two games in the win column.

On the edge of common sense

Garlic mania

As we pulled off of California Highway 101 into Gilroy, I was assailed by the pungent odor of garlic. When I rolled down the window, my eyes began to water and my nose tingled. A blind man driving down the road wouldn't need a sign to tell him he had arrived at the annual Garlic Festival!

If there were any secular or religious worshippers of garlic, Gilroy would serve as their Mecca. Yet it is not alone in its olfactory appeal. I flew into Wenatchee, Wash., one summer. As we deboarded the airplane, the pleasant aroma of the apple orchards filled the air. I began to salivate. Another time, I saw a bumper sticker on a fertilizer salesman's truck in the agriculturally rich San Joaquin Valley near Bakersfield. It read, "I ♥ Ammonia." To each his own.

Certain smells can bring back vivid memories. I spent a lot of my working life in the feedlots. When I drive through towns like Hereford, Texas, or Dodge City, Kan., my mind fills with nostril images of frontend loaders cleaning pens, moldy hay, fermenting grain, Terramycin on my fingers, rumen contents and feedyard dust. An olfactory bouquet that still gives me a warm feeling. On the other hand, when I smell new mown hay or a farmer out cutting his 5-acre lawn, I roll up the window and grab my allergy pills!

We spent a day at the garlic festival and ate or tasted a panoply of "garlic" concoctions: sausage, chicken, bread, pork, prawns, artichokes, rattlesnake, ice cream, squid, potatoes, corn on the cob, candy, oysters, honey, caulking, house paint, deodorant, fly spray, time-release suppositories and mouthwash.

It has qualities that are touted, particularly as being

Wayne Cornell Not important ... but possibly of interest A Saturday in Seattle

I was dreading the 20-mile drive from Auburn to Husky Stadium. The map indicated we would have to go through the middle of Seattle — then figure out the best place to turn off the freeway, then find a parking place. We got lucky. In the motel office on Saturday morning, I ran into some other Boise State football fans. They had local relatives who were going to lead them to a place to catch a shuttle bus to the game. We followed them.

Because of the congested traffic, it took the shuttle nearly 2 hours to get to the stadium. But the ride was enjoyable. Most of the Husky fans on the bus were veterans. I chatted with a man about my age and his son. They said they had a lot of respect for the Broncos — unless, of course, they were playing the Huskies. They talked about the good times back when Washington was a Pac-10 powerhouse and their optimism that the Huskies were again on the rise.

At the stadium, 70,000 Washington and Boise State fans were trying to get to their seats and every person seemed to be going a different direction. Periodically, we encountered some slightly intoxicated U-DUB student who would get very close to your ear, then bark loudly. But generally the Washington fans were polite to those of us dressed in orange and blue.

Our seats were on the goal line at the southeast end of the stadium. There were a number of Bronco fans in the area, but the vast majority was at the west end of the stadium - in the horseshoe. We were surrounded by purple-clad Husky fans. The pregame conversations were cordial, the first question generally asked by Washington backers being "Were you at the Fiesta Bowl?" I admitted we had not gone to the game but pointed out that 10 years from now there will probably be 250,000 people claiming they were in the stands at the Jan. 1, 2007 classic.

The game began. The 10,000 Bronco fans generated considerable noise when Washington had the ball. But not as much as 60,000 Husky fans when BSU's offense was on the field. From the beginning it was obvious our team had its work cut out for it. But even when the half ended with the home team leading 24-10 we had hopes our team would come back.

As the end of halftime approached, Buster Bronco, the BSU mascot — a person dressed in a horse suit - wandered down in front of the area where we were sitting. At the same time, the Washington team ran back on the field led by a real canine Husky - a very well-fed Husky — who slowed to a walk, panting after only running a few yards. A guy from Washington, with whom I had been bantering, made some uncomplimentary remark about Buster's appearance.

"Well," I shot back. "Your mascot is fat!" He admitted I had him on that one.

Washington continued to lead with Boise State threatening but never closing the gap. However, it wasn't until there were less than 3 minutes in the game and the Huskies intercepted a pass that the Purple people around us gave a collective sigh of relief.

We said goodbye to our friendly enemies and fought our way through the crowds outside the stadium looking for the right shuttle. On the trip back to Federal Way, no one gave us a bad time. Several folks wished our team well for the remainder of the season. I said we would feel a lot better if Washington beat Ohio State the following weekend. Unfortunately, their team did not respond to mv request.

It was a long and tiring day. The next morning, I discovered I had left my voice in Husky Stadium.

It was our first trip ever to a football game in a major stadium. Although our team lost, it was a worthwhile experience. We met a lot of really nice people.

But the Washington mascot really is fat.

States Air Force. This independence was necessary then, and remains so now in order that, in the recent words of Maj. Gen. Charles J. Dunlap, Jr., the United States has "one service that focuses on maximizing options for decisionmakers by optimizing airpower." One hundred years ago in 1907, the U.S. Army Signal Corps established an aeronautical division to oversee "military ballooning, air machines and all kindred subjects." Forty years later, the United States Air Force was designated as a separate branch of the U.S. military. Created by Congress to "be organized, trained, and equipped primarily for prompt and sustained offensive and defensive air operations," the Air Force was to be "responsible for the preparation of the air forces necessary for the effective prosecution of war except as otherwise assigned and, in accordance with integrated joint mobilization plans, for the expansion of the peacetime components of the Air Force to meet the needs of war." Today's Air Force consists of close to 700,000 active duty, civilian, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve personnel. It plays an essential role in the ongoing fight against terrorism and other emerging threats on multiple Sept. 18 marked 60 years of an independent United fronts, from flying combat missions and conducting manned and unmanned surveillance to logistical ground support. Daily, dozens of close air support missions - troop support, infrastructure protection, reconstruction activities and operations to deter and disrupt terrorist activities - are conducted by the Air Force in Iraq and Afghanistan. Whether monitoring satellites or the Space Shuttle, delivering precision-guided munitions to air and ground targets or patrolling the far reaches of cyberspace, the USAF maintains strategic and operational dominance in theatre and around the globe. Fighters, bombers, missiles and unmanned aircraft are the tools of today's airmen, tools they use with unmatched skill and lethal precision in defense of freedom. Sixty years of Air Force excellence has been possible only because of those who have voluntarily dedicated their lives to the success of U.S. air power. Air Force men and women and their families serve our nation with distinction. integrity and patriotism.

'good for the heart," and although that is disputed, it is certainly a good excuse should the "patient" be shunned by friends and family for having halitosis strong enough to drive a hyena off a bucket of baboon livers.

"Whoops, sorry darlin'. I chew this clove of garlic to prevent artistic fibrillation. I think your bangs will grow back!"

Next morning as we were leaving Gilroy, we remarked that we could no longer smell that deep, penetrating garlic odor. Then an oncoming vehicle swerved wildly, and I saw the driver grabbing at his nose!

Maybe, we observed, we had become used to it. Moral: One man's hog farm is another man's garlic shampoo.

Senate embarrassments emanate from both sides of aisle

by Cliff Kincaid

Senate Republicans have suffered a lot of embarrassment over the antics of Idaho Sen. Larry Craig, a profamily politician who played footsy with another man in a bathroom. But the Democrats have their own embarrassments, and one of them is presidential candidate Sen. Joseph Biden from Delaware, their leading foreign policy "expert." His logic was on display on Sunday's Meet the Press, where the long-time Delaware Senator, who now chairs the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was asked by host Tim Russert about changing his position on setting a deadline for pulling U.S. troops out of Iraq. Two years ago he said that setting a deadline for withdrawal would "encourage our enemies to wait us out." Now he says the war must "end now." Biden replied, "Well, I have changed my mind, but I haven't changed my mind in any fundamental way."

Over a year ago this double-talker put his name on a plan by Leslie Gelb of the Council on Foreign Relations to get U.S. troops out of Iraq. Biden calls the plan, which is only three pages long, the "Biden-Gelb plan." Biden has a habit of claiming credit for other peoples' ideas. In this case, however, the main idea isn't worth much. It is to turn Iraq over to the United Nations and the "international community" and divide the country up.

Biden's knee-jerk response in support of the U.N. playing a larger role in world affairs is also reflected in his decision to push for Senate ratification of the U.N. Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS). He has reportedly scheduled a stacked hearing on September 27 to push the pact through. A full Senate vote could follow quickly thereafter. This treaty would turn over management of the oceans to the world body. It could jeopardize American access to oil, gas and precious minerals, and put the legality of U.S. Navy maneuvers on the high seas before foreign judges running U.N. tribunals and panels.

One has to have sympathy for Biden, who has suffered through some terrible adversities, including the death of his first wife and a daughter, and a brain aneurysm. But sympathy should not translate into excusing or rationalizing his public record and utterances. To cite the most recent example, Biden has just released a book acknowledging that he wasn't the sole author of the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). This bill was Biden's signature legislation. It resulted in tons of favorable publicity for him. But the book, Promises to Keep, reveals on page 240 that a female staffer was actually involved in drafting the legislation.

"The staffer, Victoria Nourse, and I wrote" the legislation, says Biden. However, his presidential website gives Biden sole credit for the legislation. It quotes Biden as saying that "What I'm most proud of in my entire career was writing the Violence Against Women Act because it is evidence we can change people's lives, but the change is always one person at a time." The term "writing," as commonly understood, means that he wrote it. His office sent out a release calling the senator the "author" of the legislation. But "author," like the term "writer," has a definite meaning.

Some politicians take credit for the work that their staffers do. But when the politician is someone like Biden, who appears on Sunday talk shows as a foreign policy expert and runs the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, the matter takes on more importance and urgency.

It's true that Biden "introduced" VAWA. It is also accurate to say that he sponsored it. But to have paraded around the country for many years claiming to be the "author" or "writer" of the bill diminished the work of the female staffer who had been doing the bulk of the work behind the scenes. Later in the book, Biden refers to Nourse as his "lead staffer" on the bill, but that description, too, diminishes her work in this area.

In my search for occasions in which Biden gave credit to Nourse for her role in the legislation, I found a 1993 Senate document in which the senator acknowledged, "For the past three years, Victoria Nourse has served as my chief advisor on this issue, among others. She has played a critical role in the development and drafting of the Violence Against Women Act and has worked tirelessly to promote its passage." This document was posted on an obscure University of Maryland women's studies Web site.

So why would Biden admit the truth in the book? It was obviously because he didn't want another controversy to haunt him as he campaigned for the presidency again. What's more, Victoria Nourse, who is now a Professor of Law at the University of Wisconsin, says on her Web site that she "assisted" in drafting VAWA. So this had become an open secret. Clearly, she was far more than a mere "staffer." She had the expertise on this issue that Biden so clearly lacked.

This controversy is relevant because Biden tries in the book to come to grips with the plagiarism that has dogged him throughout his career. For example, he says that he "botched" a paper in law school and that "one of my classmates accused me of lifting passages from a Fordham Law Review article..." Biden says that he had "cited the article, but not properly" and was told that he would have to "retake the course next year." In other words, he flunked. This incident has been written up extensively and the facts are well-known. Biden had cited the article but had quoted from it extensively, making it seem as though the words from the article were his own. That's not sloppy work. It's plagiarism.

Biden also deals with the case that figured prominently in his withdrawal from the 1988 presidential race, in which he plagiarized a speech by a British politician, Neil Kinnock. Biden used Kinnock's words to describe his own background and upbringing. Biden insists that he didn't credit Kinnock on only one occasion, and this was the incident that the media jumped on. But why was he quoting from a biographical speech by Kinnock in the first place? Didn't Biden have his own story to tell? In another case, a reporter asked about Biden using a Bobby Kennedy quote without attribution. Biden blames this on "one of my speechwriters" who "had inserted an RFK line" into the speech "without telling me."

This is the closest Biden comes to admitting he doesn't write his own material, and that he repeats what others put in front of him.

Another odd thing about the book, as noted by Christi Parsons of the Chicago Tribune, is that the senator offers only one acknowledgment at the end of the book. Biden says that a writer and documentary filmmaker named Mark Zwonitzer "helped to refine and arrange the stories I wanted to tell into an overall narrative." Zwonitzer is credited with having "transcribed" and "polished" Biden's stories in the book. Biden also calls him a fact-checker. It sounds like Zwonitzer was denied due credit as a co-author. Of course, it wouldn't be the first time Biden took credit for the work of others.

That is why it is amazing that the Bush administration is using a flawed vessel like Biden in an effort to pass the Law of the Sea treaty and give the U.N. control over the oceans. Conservatives will remember that it was Biden who helped lead the effort to sabotage President Bush's nomination of John Bolton as U.S. Ambassador to the U.N.

One hopes that somebody in the media will ask Biden and other senators whether they have read the 202-page treaty document and know who actually wrote it. This treaty, negotiated under the auspices of the United Nations, was written by advocates of world government.

Dallas trial continues in Caldwell

The case against Claude Lafayette Dallas began Monday in 3rd District Court, Caldwell.

Dallas is charged with two counts of first-degree murder for the alleged killings of two Fish and Game officers, William Pogue and Conley Elms, in January of 1981 The jury selection was completed last Friday, and the case began Monday.

Dallas' attorney, Mike Donnelly, opened the case contending the jury will be unable to convict Dallas for first degree murder. "There is justification for an individual's actions - in this case justifiable homicide," Donnelly stated.

Idaho Deputy Attorney General Mike Kennedy discounted self defense, saying that Elms was shot in the back

The trial is expected to last up to three weeks.

Trojans clobber Nyssa 27-2; face Melba Friday

The Homedale Trojan now stand 2-1 in season play, following a lopsided win Friday night over the Nyssa Bulldogs.

The Trojans walloped the Bulldogs 27-2 on the Nyssa field.

The only points the Nyssa gridiron team made was when they tackled Mike Matteson in the end zone in the third quarter.

Bill Maxwell, Trojan fullback, gained a total of 148 yards on 26 carries, to head the game. Maxwell made two of the touchdowns for his efforts. David Kubosumi also scored two touchdowns for the Trojans.

This Friday night Homedale meets the Melba Mustangs at the Trojan Stadium.

Benefit raises money for band

Four to five hundred people from Bruneau, Grand View, Oreana, and Mountain Home attended the Western Musical Extravaganza and barbeque.

The melodrama was written, produced, and directed by Tally Davis. The main characters in the production were: Jim Rice as Manly Heroic, the sheriff; George Thomas, the part of the villain, Roderic Rottentothedcore, Cheri Gilbert, Sarah Sortasoyled; Joyce Taylor, Manly Heroic's little sister, Little Nell Do-well Heroic.

Card Carrier was Debie Mathews; piano player was Carol Merrick. Other characters were played by Mr. Hatch and Mr. Walls, Chris Morrison and Barbra Devers, Lynda Harris, Kelly Curry, and Shawn Meyers. The prologue was given by Jodie Jacobsen.

The Beef Bar-B-Que was a success also, thanks to the many people involved in serving, cooking, and entertaining.

The entertainment was to raise money for the Rimrock High School band's trip to California in the spring. The profits were approximately $1,000.

Homedale sneaks by Marsing 9-6 in tight game

The Homedale Trojans trailed Marsing here for three quarters Friday afternoon only to score nine points in the final frame for a squeaky 9-6 victory.

Marsing found two particular weaknesses in the Homedale defense, one over the defensive right guard and the other around the Trojans defensive left end. The Huskies interference was massed to provide plenty of protection for their ball packers on these plays.

Marsing took the opening kickoff and the Huskies first play was a pass intercepted by Homedale. The Trojans reciprocated by permitting Marsing to intercept a pass. Marsing then traveled from their own 41 to the Trojans 30 and gave up the ball after 8 plays.

Homedale lost the ball on the 30 to the Huskies.

Marsing reeled off gains of 16, 11, 2 and 1 yards for a TD.

The second quarter was entirely Marsing's. Of the 26 plays, Marsing ran 21 of them. One excellent defensive Homedale play and three Huskies penalties kept Marsing from scoring.

The third quarter was evenly played, but the Homedale machinery was greatly improved. Runs of 15, 13, 5, 5, and 9 yards sparked Homedale's offense but the Trojans couldn't find pay dirt.

The fourth guarter opened with Homedale continuing a drive which opened on their 13 and finally was climaxed with a touchdown. The Trojans converted to take a 7-6 lead. Marsing tried desperately to crack Homedale's defense but the Huskies were pushed back until Jay Jackson tackled their ball carrier in the end zone for two more points, making the final score 9-6.

Sen. Frank Church, Rep. Pfost speak at Kiwanis

Senator Frank Church and Congresswoman Gracie Pfost made short talks at the Homedale Kiwanis club's regular Wednesday noon meeting at El Gavilan when they were guests of the club along with a group of men who toured Owyhee and Canyon county soil conservation districts that day.

Senator Church said he was stationed in China during World War II and saw there the results of continuous farming without proper conservation of the soil. He urged that we make the best use of our soil and water resources.

He said he will always work for soil conservation and for continued reclamation development to meet the demand for additional farmlands as suburban development and road building take present agricultural lands out of production.

Mrs. Pfost mentioned the growing demand for water and need for conservation and development of our water resources. She cited figures estimating our needs for sweet water as our population continued to grow.

"This great demand for water for all purposes domestic yes, irrigation, waterpower, etc. - concerns Senator Church and myself greatly," Mrs. Pfost said, "and you can depend on us working to the best of our ability to see that our water is developed and conserved for the greatest good of all the people of Idaho."

MENDACIOUS. A communication which purports to have been written in this place, August 30th, and which appeared in the San Francisco Examiner of the 11th inst., and relating to the mails on the Railroad Stage Line, comes under this head. It positively asserts that the mail is not carried regularly and much of it not at all, and that when it does come it is in a damaged condition - all of which is untrue in every particular. The appearance of the letter here created quite a feeling of indignation, and immediately a letter of denial and truthful vindication, to the Examiner, was prepared and generally signed by our business men and county officials. If the scoundrel who wrote the letter first referred to is discovered as he certainly will be – it may cause him some "un-pleasantries."

The Railroad Stage Line has been in operation over a year, and the "certainty, celerity and security" with which the mails are carried over it at all seasons has been a subject of general surprise and commendation. Since August 1st, the mails have been carried each way over the route seven times per week, while the contract obligates the contractors for only six times. The mails from Hunter's to Boise City are, nine trips in ten, fully one day ahead of schedule time. There is not a single cause for just complaint against the contractors.

RECAPTURED. The character, confined in the Owyhee jail, charged with stealing horses, and of whom we made mention last week as escaping, was recaptured at or near Rattlesnake Station, on the Humboldt Road, about 80 miles distant from this place. Sheriff Springer brought him back on Tuesday evening last. He is again lodged in jail and heavily ironed. Ed. Cage and Stonewall Jackson captured the bird on the road between the Owyhee Ferry and Rattlesnake and took from him a five-shooter with which he was armed. Cage then went ahead and left Stonewall with a double-barreled shot gun and the five-shooter to march the prisoner into Rattlesnake. After Cage got out of sight the captive came near capturing Stonewall. The latter was walking along a few feet behind the former, who pretended to stumble, recovered himself and turned on Stonewall with the stock, retaining the barrels himself, at the same time making a significant shelalah-like flourish with his portion of the gun, said to his captor, "Now you go about your business and leave me alone or I will mash the devil out of you." Stonewall not fancying that mode of casting our devils, drew his five-shooter and fired three shots, one of which passed through the sleeve and grazing the arm of the prisoner, who immediately took to his heels and Stonewall after him. The race continued for a considerable distance, the prisoner outrun his pursuer, and would probably have escaped, but he dashed into a soldier's camp by the roadside and attempted to mount one of their horses and make off. The "boys in blue" not liking such a proceeding, fired several shots at the runaway, doing him no injury, but having the effect of bringing him to a stand. He was secured once more and brought back on the Census, budget are council topics

Wilder City Council heard reports on the recent census and acted on other matters at its monthly meeting, September 14, in the city hall.

Minutes of budget hearing on August 24 showed that no protests were heard and the 1982-83 budget of $171,058 was approved and the mil levy set.

The Council renewed its agreement with the Wilder School District for closure of the street at the elementary school each afternoon for bus loading zone on school days.

October 10 was set as the tentative date on which irrigation water will be shut off.

Building permits were issued to Doris Peden for a new roof on her residence; Viola Carver to build a storage shed on her lot in Mitchell addition; Simplot Soilbuilders for a roof on a warehouse.

The meeting was recessed until its regular session on Tuesday, Oct. 12.

School enrollment increases by 21

Enrollment in Homedale schools has increased by 21 students since the first day of school, bringing the total to 751 students, according to Richard Frazier, superintendent.

There are 170 students in the high school; 130 in grades four to six; and 245 in the first three grades, Mr. Frazier said.

stage to the Sheep Ranch, where the Sheriff met the party and escorted the desperado back to Silver City.

THE WEATHER has managed to be a fine item this week. Rain began to fall on the night of the 13th and continued with little intermission up to Saturday night, when snow appeared and kept up its appearance quite vigorously until Monday evening. The snow was about three inches deep on the roofs and board coverings at one time, and five inches on War Eagle. It commenced clearing up on Tuesday and at this writing - Friday - the sun is shining clearly and kindly. The snow has all vanished away, except in shaded places on the mountain sides, and the weather moderated down so that the stoves so suddenly put up are not much needed. The storm has given the air a more salubrious temper, and disposed of a superfluous quantity of dust. Walking, riding, teaming and traveling have been made much more comfortable, and the storm did no injury.

BEFORE THE OWYHEE COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

On October 22^{nd} , 2007 beginning at 10:00 AM the Owyhee County Commissioners will hear testimony in courtroom #2, Owyhee County Courthouse in Murphy, Idaho on the following mater at the time listed below:

10:00 AM - Idaho Power has filed an appeal to some of the conditions placed on their conditional use permit which was approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission on August 8th, 2007. The original application for conditional use permit was requesting to relocate their wildlife management area headquarters building to a new location and expand its current facility. The proposed expansion would include an office, a field house, RV dump station, shop/ work area, a visitor area to include a picnic area and information kiosk, and associated parking. The subject parcel is 2.78 acres in an Agricultural zone located near Jack's Creek off Highway 78 in Section 17, Township 6 South, Range 5 East, Boise Meridian, Owyhee County, Idaho.

Agency reduced the drinking water standard for arsenic from 50 parts per billion (ppb) to 10 ppb. One well supplying water to the City of Marsing, Well #3, has an arsenic concentration of 11 ppb, which exceeds the Maximum Contaminant Level set forth by the EPA. The City of Marsing is required to provide quarterly public notice of this exceedence. You will continue to receive this notice every quarter until such time as the City is notified by IDEQ the notice is no longer required. Arsenic is a naturally occurring

the US Environmental Protection

Arsenic is a naturally occurring element thought to enter the water source from contact with natural rock formations. Arsenic can cause adverse health effects, including cardiovascular disease, diabetes mellitus, skin changes, nervous system damage, and various forms of cancer.

The City of Marsing is taking action to remove the well as a source of water for the water system. As you may be aware, the City is in the process of upgrading the municipal water system, and a new well to serve the system, and replace Well #3, will be first item completed for water system upgrade project. 9/26/07 that a public hearing will be held before the Planning and Zoning Commission of the City of Homedale on the 15th day of October, 2007, at 7:00 p.m. at Homedale City Hall, 31 West Wyoming, Homedale, Idaho. The subject matter of the public hearing is the proposed amendments to the Homedale City Zoning Ordinance as follows:

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING PLEASE BE ADVISED

- Sign Ordinance: The Ordinance as it reads right now only allows one sign on a building. Should we allow for two signs of a building, especially a building on a corner lot?
- 2. Should the City of Homedale's Ordinance "Article XII Provisions of Manufactured Homes, Section A Manufactured Home" regarding Class C Mobile Homes be amended as follows:

"C. Class C: Mobile Homes constructed prior to 1976 which are found upon inspection by the State and deemed 'rehabilitated' under Title 44 and to be in good condition and are suitable for residential occupancy. Class 'C' Mobile Homes are allowed only in mobile home parks at the discretion of the mobile home owner and may be allowed as single family home if meeting and siting standards designated above in Section (a) for manufactured homes. However, the Building Inspector will determine if such Class C mobile homes are in such a condition as may be brought into the city limits of Homedale. If the Building Inspector determines that the Class C mobile home is suitable to be brought into the city limits, than a building permit must be applied for and granted before the Class C mobile home is brought into the city. If the Building Inspector determines that the Class C mobile home is not suitable to be brought into the city limits, then such mobile home cannot be placed in a mobile park in the city limits of Homedale.

be operated only between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m.; which consist of a cart, trailer, mobile home or other structure, and to be operated for a period of three months or less within one calendar year.

Should the City of Homedale enact an ordinance providing that there only be one use per property i.e., if the property is zoned Commercial, only one commercial use on that property; if the property is residential, the property may only be used as residential. This amendment would not apply to those uses granted by variance or special use permit.

5. Should the City of Homedale enact an ordinance providing that there by stricter ordinances as relates to the airport property, i.e., especially with regard to items left laying around outside hangars that can be blown out onto the runway and with regard to the maintenance, upkeep and appearance of the airport and airport hangars.
