Homedale has tough draw in Kimberly

Trojans roll through week with three victories, including vs. Weiser

Homedale High School's softball team will get a fantastic gauge of where it stands this season when it travels to the Magic Valley to play in the two-day Kimberly Tournament.

The tournament, which takes place Friday and Saturday, features some of the state's best 3A teams, including four squads that played in last year's state tournament in Coeur d'Alene.

In fact, the Trojans' four-games-in-two-days schedule pits them against the other three teams state qualifiers from a year ago. Most of the field has seen state tournament action dating back to 2006.

Homedale opens the tournament against host Kimberly at 3 p.m. Friday. Kimberly and Homedale hooked up twice during the 2006 state tournament in Coeur d'Alene. Homedale won the opening-round game, 4-2, but lost an elimination game to Kimberly, 11-0, later in the tournament. Kimberly came back to win the 2007 state title and was runner-up to Buhl last year.

Bear Lake, which won the 2006 state crown, is Homedale's opening-game opponent at 1 p.m. Friday. The Trojans beat Bear Lake in the opening round of the 2008 state tournament, 2-1. Homedale wound up finishing third in the tournament after losing to eventual champion Buhl in the semifinals and Kimberly in the final elimination game.

Homedale takes on 2008 state qualifier Teton at noon Saturday and closes the 2009 Kimberly tourney with a 2 p.m. game against Shelley.

Friday: Homedale 10, Weiser 5 — After spotting the host Wolverines a 1-0 lead, the Trojans parlayed 10 Weiser errors into a

Raiders softball walks by Notus

Rimrock High School's softball team played a patient game Thursday to beat Notus in a 1A Western Idaho Conference road game.

The Raiders waited out 18 walks to post a 15-9 victory behind a complete-game pitching performance by Jackie Thurman.

Thurman struck out seven and avoided 10 walks of her own, while leading the way from the plate with a 3-for-3 performance.

The Raiders never trailed, scoring four times in their first at-bat and adding three runs each in the second and third innings.

Lee Gray doubled, and Randie Denton, Jordan Boman and Janice Ontiveros also had singles for Rimrock.

The Raiders opened the season March 31 against Greenleaf Friends Academy in Bruneau, but no results from that game were provided.

Eby snags another INT for Billings

After three games, it has become rather obvious that the Billings Outlaws have a defense with which to be reckoned. And, yes, Homedale High School graduate Michael Eby continues to pull his weight.

Playing in front of 3,309 home fans, Eby had an 18-yard return on his third interception of the season as the Outlaws beat the Omaha Beef, 52-40.

The rookie free safety had four tackles to go with his pick, which was set up by pressure on the Omaha quarterback from defensive lineman Mike Bazemore. The Outlaws were unable to capitalize on Eby's play, however, as Carlos Ojeda missed a 42-yard field goal attempt.

A former Eastern Oregon University linebacker, Eby has 15 tackles, three interceptions, two pass break-ups and 52 return yards in three professional games.

Billings (3-0) entertains the Fairbanks Grizzlies (2-0) at 6 p.m. MDT on Saturday. Live stats are streamed at www.billingsoutlaws.com.

HHS athletes excel in Nyssa

Top-five finishes in eight events pushed Homedale High School to a sixth-place finish in the Don Walker Invitational in Nyssa, Ore., on Friday.

Junior Trent Acree won the triple jump at 42 feet, 3½ inches, while Owyhee County resident James Nederend was second for meet champion Nampa Christian.

Acree also was runner-up in the 100 (11.95 seconds) and the 200 (23.85).

Teammate Jake Tolmie, also a junior, was third in the 400 in 56.75 and fifth in the 800 (2 minutes, 19.03 seconds).

Homedale senior Austin Emry began his high jump season with a second-place height of 6-2, well off the marks he used to win the past two 3A state titles. Nederend was third at 6-0.

Junior Aaron Proferes finished fourth in the 110 hurdles, just in front of freshman teammate Bodie Hyer. The pair also performed in the 300, with Hyer pulling down a sixth-place time of 49.22, and Proferes finished ninth in 53.82.

Sophomore Emilio Cuellar teamed freshman Danny Magdaleño, Casey Christoffersen and Emry to finished fifth in the 4x100 relay (48.16), while Homedale was sixth in the 4x400 with the talent of Seth Bayes, Acree, Tolmie and Cuellar turning in a 3:58.

Homedale's girls' team was fifth at Nyssa with seven top-five finishes, including junior Vanessa Sanchez grabbing fifth place in the shot put (28-1½) and the discus (81-2).

The top finish for any of the Trojans' girls was junior Kindra Galloway in the 200 (28.99) and senior Angelica Garibay in the 800 (2:55.28), both of whom finished fourth in their respective races.

Freshman Kaitlin Garcia was fifth in the 100 hurdles (19.71) and 300 hurdles (56.1).

Annamaria Salas, a senior, was fourth in the triple jump at 31-0, and also finished eighth in the 400. Another senior, Rachelle Christoffersen, was sixth in the triple jump and 10th in the 100.

Adrian, JV compete

Adrian's girls' track team was represented well during the Don Walker Invitational, with a pair of third-place finishes for the Bowns sisters — juniors Katie and Sammy.

Katie finished third in the triple jump at 31-7, and fourth in the long jump at 14-2½. Sammy was third in the 1,500 (5:54) and eighth in the 800 at 3:01.54.

Sophomore Madison Shira cleared hurdles at a clip of 56.33 to finish sixth at the 300 meters distance.

Ranae Orosco was fourth in the 100 hurdles at 18.44.

Tyler Elsner was the only Jordan Valley boys' athlete to score points, grabbing eighth place in the 1,500 meters at 5:08.68.

Katrina Moran was fourth in the high jump for the Mustangs, clearing 4-8.

Errors erase Trojans' quick start vs. Weiser

Homedale beats Parma with pitching, hitting

A fast start Friday couldn't secure a 3A Snake River Valley conference baseball victory for Homedale High School.

Mitch Quintana's two-run triple fueled a three-run third inning and a six-run Trojans lead, but host Weiser wiped out the deficit in one rally and went on to post an 11-8 win.

Weiser wrested final control with a four-run fifth, ripping two doubles and taking advantage of two errors. Homedale was charged with eight errors during the game.

The Wolverines tied the game, 6-6, with a six-spot in the bottom of the fourth against reliever Jose Gonzalez. The Trojans committed half of their errors in the inning, which was highlighted by a two-run single by catcher Javier Lopez.

Homedale (3-9 overall, 1-1 3A SRV) grabbed a 7-6 lead in the top of the fifth when Philip Moulton knocked in Quintana with a single. Quintana scored three times Friday, and he and Moulton drove in two runs apiece.

March 31: Homedale 7, Parma 2 — Freshman Zac Lowder fired a two-hitter, struck out six and walked only one in the Trojans' non-conference victory over the visiting Panthers. Ninth-grader Trey Corta was 3-for-4 with a two-run single with two outs in the sixth inning. Catcher Jonny Stacey delivered a two-out, two-run single in the fifth inning.

March 30: Vale, Ore., 2, Homedale 0 — Quintana's second-inning single was the only hit the Trojans managed in a pitchers' duel loss to the host Vikings. Gonzalez pitched five innings, scattering four hits and striking out eight for Homedale.

No. 1 seed Tanner Lair leads boys' sweep, but Trojans fall

Despite cold, gusty winds, a young Homedale High School team put forward a good performance March 31, but lost its conference tennis match 7-5 against visiting Payette.

Top seed Tanner Lair retired Marc Soelberg 6-3, 6-3 in boys' singles for Homedale; teammate Jordan Meligan topped Payette's Devin Jordan 6-2, 6-2.

Neil Doyle completed a sweep of the boys' singles ladder by dominating Payette's Noah Gross, 6-1, 6-0.

Homedale also swept the boys' doubles matches, with David Clampit and Dominic Christiansen getting by Anthony Edmondson and Matt Youngberg, 6-2, 6-4, in the No. 1 position. Rowdy Lair and Kurtis Dycus received a forfeit at No. 2

The Pirates rallied for the win by sweeping the rest of the matches, but Homedale's Kirsi Thatcher at No. 3 girls' singles stretched Kara Windsor to three sets in a 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 loss. The No. 1 Trojans girls' double squad of Lizette Padilla and Blanca Uriarte also battled hard in a 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 defeat at the hands of Payette's Barbra Castro Leal and Terra Knighten.

Coach Mark Weekes' Homedale squad is in the middle of a tough four-match stretch this week. Having already played Nyssa, Ore., and Parma on Monday and Tuesday, the Trojans close out the week with a conference dual meet Thursday against Weiser and a non-conference date with Emmett on Friday.

"We'll change some things up in the non-conference games (Nyssa and Emmett)," Weekes said. "It's a chance to look at kids in different positions."

Top-seeded Homedale High School boys' tennis player Tanner Lair returns a shot in a conference battle against Payette. Lair won his match, but the Trojans dropped the final decision.

Melba cruises past Huskies

Feast or famine for softball squad

Limited to five hits, Marsing High School's baseball team dropped a 2A Western Idaho Conference decision to host Melba on March 31.

The Mustangs scored five runs in the first three innings, including a three-run rally in the bottom of the first against Huskies starter Ethan Salove to post a 7-3 win.

Marsing broke through in the sixth with one run, and added two more runs in the seventh.

Salove and Martin Galvez both went 2-for-3, while Mike Moore had Marsing's other hit.

Melba was led by Jay Bangerter, who laced three triples, and Will Kennedy's four RBI.

The Huskies were scheduled to play Nampa Christian on Friday. No statistics from that game were provided by deadline.

Softball

Friday: Nampa Christian 22, Marsing 12 (6) — Alma Marcial was perfect in four at-bats and Miranda Clausen, Mari Villa and Cat Rost ripped three hits each, but the Huskies couldn't find a winning formula against the Trojans at home in 2A WIC action.

Kinney and Rost both homered, and Marcial had a triple during her 4-for-4 day.

Nampa Christian was paced by a home run and five RBI from Jordan Liljegren.

March 31: Melba 16, Marsing 0 (5) — Two Mustangs pitchers teamed to no-hit the Huskies in a conference game in Melba.

Owyhee County resident Kayla Aman notched one of Melba's 11 hits.

March 30: Marsing 21, Glenss Ferry 4 (4) — The winless Pilots fell to visiting Marsing in a matchup that showcased strong Husky hitting. Peyton Kinney led the side, going 3-for-3 with two RBIs and a double.

New Plymouth Invitational Marsing freshman wins girls' hurdles

Homedale resident second in 1,600 for GFA

Freshman Shannon Malmberg brought home the only championship for the Marsing High School track and field team Thursday during a cold and windy night at the New Plymouth Invitational.

She won the 100-meter hurdles in 17.74 seconds, shaving nearly a half-second off her personal record. She also was 11th in the 100 sprint (13.91) and finished in a four-way tie for eighth in the high jump (4 feet, 4 inches). Sophomore Analee Ponce was tied for 10th in the 100 hurdles (19.58).

Other top-10 finishes for the Huskies were turned in by freshman Roza Heidt, who was sixth in the triple jump at 28-6 and seventh in the long jump at 13-8½, and junior Kim Garza, who finished tied for seventh in the shot put after a heave of 27-0.

Greenleaf Friends Academy sophomore Kendra Graber, a Homedale-area resident, was runner-up in the 1,600 in 6 minutes, 3.6 seconds. Meanwhile, Marsing distance standout Natalie Evans received a no-time in the 800, 1,600 and 3,200, according to Athletic.net. First-year Huskies coach said Evans suffered a non-sports injury to her foot when her horse stepped on her and that she is resting the foot.

She did compete in the 4x100 relay with Malmberg, Ponce and Garza, running to an eighth-place finish in 59.4 seconds.

On the boys' side Marsing sophomore Joel Moreno finished fifth in the 400 (55.65) and was sixth in the 100 at 11.95.

He also served on the Huskies' fifth-place 4x100 relay squad, which was clocked at 48.13. Jose Paramo, Nathan Danner and James Able also ran.

Junior hurdler Brandon Walgamott finished tied for seventh in the 110 with a time of 19.21. Senior Mitch Green was tied for the 10th (19.66), and he was 10th in the 300 hurdles at 48.48.

Green scored points by sharing a piece of seventh place in the high jump at 5-4.

Junior Ty Shippy had the 11th-best throw in the shot put at 39-0.

GET YOUR grill ON

FAMILY FEATURES

Chef Tim Love, the nation’s foremost authority on urban western cooking, has gained a reputation as a “Master of Meats” and a grilling guru. “When I want to create something out of the ordinary or prepare a simple meal for my family,” he says, “I choose American lamb on the grill. With its sweet and rich flavor, it provides versatility and an unsurpassed taste that makes any recipe special.”

Grilling is an ideal low-fat cooking method for lean meats such as lamb. It’s rich in protein, iron, B vitamins and zinc, and on average has less than 175 calories per three-ounce portion.

Fire up the grill with these recipes from Chef Love. From chops to burgers to kabobs, any cut of American lamb is the secret weapon for great grilling!

For more grilling recipes and information about American lamb, visit americanlamb.com.

American Lamb Grilling Guide

- Marinate leg, chops or kabobs covered, in refrigerator from 2 to 24 hours.
- Grill lamb about 4 inches above medium coals; turn occasionally.
- How long should you grill lamb?

Butterflied Leg (4 to 7 pounds)	40 to 50 minutes
Loin Chops (1 inch thick)	9 to 10 minutes
Cubes for Kabobs (1-inch pieces)	7 to 12 minutes
Lamb Patties (1/2 inch thick)	5 to 12 minutes
- As a general rule, it’s best to keep the grill lid off for cuts that cook quickly, such as chops, so you can monitor doneness. For thicker cuts such as leg, cover the grill when the meat is not directly over the coals.
- Allow lamb to rest before serving so juices can settle — 5 minutes for chops; 10 to 15 minutes for larger, thicker cuts. As lamb rests, internal temperatures rise 5° to 10°F.
- Serve chops and kabobs at an internal temperature of 145°F (medium rare) and burgers at 160°F (medium). For most accurate results, use a thermometer to check temperature.

Brighten up the barbeque with the magic of marinades

Simple marinades add flavor and tenderize meats. Let lamb marinate for at least 2 hours or overnight in a plastic food storage bag. Grill over medium heat until desired doneness.

Mint Raspberry
Combine 1/3 cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons raspberry vinegar, 1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint and 1 garlic clove, minced.

Yost to step down as trustee after 14 years

Two Homedale School District board members have announced their plans for the May 15 board elections. Chuck Yost, who has served 14 years as a Board member from Zone 3, announced that he will not run for reelection. Kurt Weimer, Zone 4 Board Member, said that he will run again.

In a written statement to the Chronicle, Yost stated “I feel that I have served long enough, and I know there are many qualified people in my district who can do a good job.” He also said that someone with children in school would make a better board member.

The Board members are elected to three year terms. Anyone wishing to run must present a nominating petition containing the signatures of at least five eligible voters to the Clerk of the School Board, James Duncan.

Zone 3 is the area of the district that lies in Canyon County. Zone 4 encompasses the area in Homedale that lies south of the Center line of Montana Avenue. The positions are unpaid.

Cleanup week theme chosen

Homedale’ city-wide clean-up drive is less than three weeks away and already the committee has been receiving commitments from volunteers. Three community service projects that were listed in the local papers last week have already been fulfilled.

Fred Aspiazu started the ball rolling by cleaning the fenced area in front of Amalgamated Sugar land. Randy and Mike Hill raked and burned the weeds at the old library site and also mowed the grass. The two brothers also weeded around the railroad ties and cleaned the area where the ‘Welcome to Homedale’ sign is.

Three Brownie troops have volunteered to take on the City Park project and plan to have approximately 25 Brownie Scouts clean the park at 10am this Saturday. Also Marsha Salisbury and her family have volunteered to be responsible to clean the new City Library grounds.

A slogan for clean-up was selected by the committee. The winning entry:

“Clean up Homedale. Do your Duty, Make Homedale — A City of Beauty.”

The slogan was submitted by the 5th grade students in Room 5-A with Hilda Kjonaas as the teacher. The class will receive a $10 cash prize.

Arson suspected in theatre building fire

The newly renovated Mini Mall in Marsing was gutted by an early morning fire Monday. Formerly the old Owyhee Theater, it had been converted into a business complex housing Rhema Real Estate, the Owyhee County Civil Defense office, Merv’s Appliance and a flower shop was under construction and scheduled to open soon.

Marsing Fire Chief Joe Van Wassenhove said that the department was called out at 4:30am Monday and upon arriving found the building engulfed in smoke, “but no flames were visible,” he said.

According to Van Wassenhove, two false ceilings in the building hampered the firemen from an early access to the source and by the time they were able to break through, the fire had spread throughout.

Van Wassenhove said the fire was extinguished by 8am but the building was destroyed.

Firemen managed to salvage some of the office furniture, file cabinets and loose articles which were carried across the street to safety in the Idaho First National Bank parking lot.

Sen. Arlie Parkins tells Kiwanians of legislation

State Senator Arlie Parkins, Marsing, spoke on accomplishments of the recent session of the Idaho legislature at the regular Wednesday noon meeting of the Homedale Kiwanis club at El Gavilan.

Rep. Alvin Benson, Wilson community, was also present.

Senator Parkins said that contrary to some press reports the 35th session accomplished many things and was a good legislature. He mentioned school problems which were met, youth legislation, highway district legislation, redistricting county commissioner districts, etc.

The problems with school districts, with which Senator Parkins is especially concerned was discussed at length. Senator Parkins said eventually the state may be asked to take over 100 per cent of the minimum education program.

As it now stands, Homedale has $3,379 valuation behind each school child; Wilder has $2,895; while Opaline has $172,571. However, Homedale receives 61 percent of hardship money available in the county. Marsing gets 31 percent.

No petitions filed yet for mayor or council

With less than 20 days remaining until the city election of April 28, there have been no petitions filed either for the office of mayor or city councilman, City Clerk Kenneth Downing reports.

Petitions must be filed by April 20 for the office of mayor and three council vacancies to get names on the ballot.

It is understood the present city officials discussed the election briefly at the council meeting Monday night and two councilmen, Orville Soper and Frank Matteson tentatively agreed to run.

Mayor Joe Eiguren has expressed his reluctance to run for re-election, and Councilman Clyde Newman has refused to run because of the press of business it is understood.

Elmer Frank is the only holdover officer, with half of a four-year term as councilman still in effect.

City council has long session

The city council held its regular meeting Monday, April 6.

The business of claims and city police will be approved at a meeting Saturday, April 11 because of a press of business which held the council until nearly 3am.

The council adopted tentative rules and regulations for the airport, which Chet Moulton, state director of aeronautics, presented. Several members of the Flying club also attended.

Trojans dump Middleton 8-5

The Homedale Trojans jumped to an early lead Tuesday at Middleton as they dumped the Vikings 8-5 in an SRV-B league contest, the first conference game for both teams.

Homedale held an 8-3 lead going into the last inning when the Vikings staged a late rally which scored two runs. A triple by Russ Ward accounted for the two Middleton runs.

Firemen answer 2 more calls

Two fires over the weekend kept the volunteer fire department on its toes.

Saturday evening the department rushed to the James Kubosumi farm northwest of Homedale where an estimated eight ton hay stack had ignited. The fire was put out before too much damage was done. Mr. Kubosumi lost about a ton of hay, according to Bruce Smith, rural fire chief.

Bright and early at 1:30am Monday morning the department was called to the J.W. Johnstone home south of Homedale when the high winds had roused a day old fire and started blowing sparks into nearby buildings. The department stopped the sparks before anything was ignited.

INDISPENSABLE FOOD. This community could not possibly survive long if by some unforeseen circumstance they are deprived of “Go’s” and “J.W’s” communications. It would be a terrible calamity if that “Philadelphia better” should fail to appear — the people would have a meritorious cause of action against the clerk of the weather in the event snow blockades delay it. However, we are happy to announce that there are three or four others from the same author on hand, which will tend to allay the anxiety of the public for a time.

TEMPLAR BALL. The ball given under the auspices of the Order of Good Templars, at Theater hall on Wednesday night, was a very pleasant affair. It was well attended and the managers were attentive and polite, which added much to the pleasures of the occasion.

RAILROADS. The Central Pacific has reached its six hundredth mile from Sacramento, which does not leave a gap of much length between the two terminuses. Passenger trains are now running over the Union Pacific regularly from Omaha to Ogden, near Salt Lake City. Through tickets passage in first-class cars it is thought will not cost over $100 from New York to Sacramento.

IDA ELLMORE. This mill started up on Thursday. The proprietors, Messrs. John M. Wilson & Co., have incurred a large expense inputting both the mill and mine in the best possible running order, and now that they have got fairly under way again, Owyhee can safely count on a marked increase in her bullion shipments.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. Mr. Clark, Forman of the Rising Star Mine, Flint District, met with a serious accident on Monday morning, while employed in the mine. The wound was inflicted with an adze, which he was using. The large area above the heel was severed, which will necessarily cripple him for life. Dr. Connolly was sent for to dress the wound, and reports the patient getting along as well as can be expected.

NEW DISCOVERY REPORTED. A rich gold discovery is reported to have been made recently on Green River, about 300 miles below the point where the Union Pacific Railroad crosses that stream. The report goes, that the remains of men and horses are to be seen in the locality of the discovery, which gives rise to the opinion that the mines were discovered at a previous period, the discoverers having perished, and that the remains referred to are those of the party.

HOW IS IT? Some have it, that Grant, with much self-possession and in a calm, collected and dignified manner, read his own inaugural address, and was frequently applauded during its delivery while others assert that Warwick, the California elocutionist, delivered it in his best style. We don’t care a darn which did it, but would like to know for the fun of the thing.

On the edge of common sense

If the world was up to me

I was at coffee shop communion with a couple of Nebraska wise men. After we had outlined, opined and refined solutions for the deficit, global warming, the ethanol fizzle and the movement to hold the next winter Olympics in Ogallala, we became introspective.

“If it had been up to you, Jay, where would the world be today?”

“Well”, he said, “If I’d been there at the beginning we’d never have discovered electricity, alimony or the four-door sedan.” Jay is a horseman. His interest, expertise and education has made him the man to turn to regarding the health, breeding and training of the magnificent equine. He would never have taken the time to worry about hydraulic dams, transformers, alternating current or sonograms. But he would have allowed civilization to harness the horse as a beast of burden. He would have been quite influential until they invented the steam engine.

“What about you, Bob?” I asked.

“I farm and I’m a pretty good welder,” he said. “A good start,” I thought. For his skills, he would have needed fire, metallurgy and the art of complaining. But, by his own admission he probably would not have thought of the Museum of Fine Art, creating the corn maze or Carhenge. Yet he would have discovered things like grain: enough for his family and his neighbors, fire: to keep his cave warm, and a live version of a round-the-campfire right-wing talk show!

When my turn came, I realized if the world had been populated with people who had my natural limitations, we would never have put a man on the moon, discovered the ballpoint pen or eaten Italian food. We’d have no wheel, no fluorescent lighting or cell phone. We’d never have discovered Greenland or Antarctica, Cream of Wheat, margarine or deficit spending.

I’d like to think I might have thought up palpating cows. I’ve always had a curiosity of how the body works. I remember the first time I ran my arm up the back of a cow and discovered a whole new world! I guess I could have invented veterinary medicine, although I might have been sidetracked by my insistence on curing critters with chants, cures and cowboy poetry!

So, in the end we concluded that we were glad that Thomas Edison, Bill Goodyear, Snoop Dogg, John Browning and Raquel Welch came along or the world today would be a less civilized place. I mean, can you imagine living without porch lights, split rim tires, droopy pants, the 30.30 or grape juice?

Sheriff’s silence

Community. Cooperation. Communication. That was the three-word platform upon which Daryl Crandall built his successful campaign in the Owyhee County Sheriff’s election last year.

Considering the difficulty this newspaper has encountered trying to track down even the most basic details on sheriff’s office calls, perhaps Crandall would have been better suited to run for County Dentist.

Getting information out of his Murphy office has been like pulling teeth for beat reporter Michael Lane.

With the hail of public records requests seeking the simplest pieces of information, the information-gathering process can’t be a picnic for Prosecuting Attorney Douglas Emery, either. Each time the Avalanche requests information from the sheriff’s office, Emery gets a crisp copy.

The sheriff’s office also has referred our requests to Emery. Even on the sparsely detailed and sporadically on-time dispatch logs, there have been handwritten notations to consult the prosecutor for information on search warrants and other calls, such as the large narcotics call somewhere in the county that brought out a dozen sheriff’s office and posse members as well as “Goose”, who apparently is a sheriff’s office canine deputy. (The sheriff’s office has a dog. Who knew?)

Emery has enough on his plate patching up four years of neglect by his predecessor to also have to spend time putting out fires for the sheriff’s office.

Emery is prosecuting attorney for Owyhee County, not public information officer for the Owyhee County Sheriff’s Office.

The role of PIO falls to the man who vowed community, cooperation and communication: Daryl Crandall.

Perhaps he has followed through on the community angle of his campaign, creating a substation in Marsing that is supposed to be staffed with TRIAD volunteers to assist folks who come in off the street. Maybe his geo-policing idea eventually will evolve into another plank of the community structure, although if radio traffic from early last week is any indication it seems that Homedale Police Chief Jeff Eidemiller did more for the sheriff’s office in defusing a domestic violence situation than its own deputies. It appeared from Deputy Kenny Hoagland’s transmissions that he was trapped in his vehicle by angry dogs in the front yard of the trailer house inside of which a pregnant woman and her two children were barricaded while the domestic battery allegedly was in progress.

Eidemiller wound up apprehending the suspect and transferred him to Hoagland at the ION Truck Stop.

I haven’t seen much in the way of community. And cooperation and communication is sorely lacking from where I sit. Reporter Lane indicates that e-mails to Crandall seeking comment on cases are rarely returned. Chief Deputy Bill Detweiler has been available only recently for the occasional comment, but not every case that deserves coverage gets details.

Press releases are issued only when it seems to suit the sheriff — and rarely at that.

A one-car rollover on U.S. Highway 95 that injured three people was reported to The Idaho Statesman via a sheriff’s office press release. The Avalanche had to call to request the release and even then received something that lacked substance — no names of victims, no details on citations — even though the cause of the crash was listed as inattentive driving, which is a punishable infraction.

The press release did mention that new saturation patrols

Training needs proper incentive

Asher, the canine member of our family, is about a year old now. He appears to be a cross between a black Lab and some other breed that has herding instincts. He is very good at digging holes. When he isn’t digging holes, he carefully monitors the activities of Ivy the Cat.

We have tried to profit from lessons learned with previous family pooches. Asher is never given food from the table (well, almost never). Until, recently about the only “treat” he got was an occasional almond, which he always takes very carefully from my hand. It’s a refreshing change from the late Annie the Beagle. If someone tried to hand feed Annie a treat, she went after it with so much enthusiasm that the feeder usually did a quick finger count afterward to make sure a digit wasn’t missing.

Recently, I decided it was time to try to teach Asher some of the basic tricks. I planned to start with the ever-popular “shake” since it seems to be one of the easiest for any dog to learn.

Armed with a handful of almonds, I called Asher over so we could work on the trick. Just getting him to respond required considerable work, because he was so totally focused on the cat that he couldn’t hear my calls. Finally he ran over and looked up at me. I held up one finger — the command for him to sit (the only trick he already knew). He sat.

“Asher,” I said. “Shake.”

I held out my right hand. Asher looked at my outstretched hand and then up at me as it to ask, “What am I supposed to do with THAT?”

I reached down, grabbed Asher’s paw and shook it. “GOOD BOY!” I said, and held out an almond. He took it politely out of my hand.

“OK,” I thought to myself. “Now he should have the idea. Shake hands, and you get a treat.”

I held out my hand again and said, “Shake, Asher.” The dog just sat there looking at me.

I took Asher’s paw and shook it again and said “GOOD BOY!” Then I gave him another almond.

I tried a third time. I said, “shake” and picked up Asher’s paw. He toppled over, landed on his back and looked at me as if to say, “rub my stomach.”

Sara walked by. “How’s the training going?” she asked.

“I think our new dog is about as smart as a box of rocks,” I said. “He can’t shake. ANY dog should be able to shake.”

Over the next several days I tried several times to get Asher to shake. He enjoyed the almonds, but didn’t seem to be able to associate the treats with doing a trick. I gave up.

A few days later our daughter Melanie came for a visit. She brought along a package of liver-flavored doggy treats. She took one out and held it under Asher’s nose. He seemed interested. She said “shake,” and shook his paw, then gave him a liver treat. He ate it with what seemed to be a great deal of relish.

Check out potential landlords to gauge foreclosure risk

Dear Dave,

We're going to be renting a house while we save up to build our dream home. How can we make sure the house is safe from foreclosure?

— Andy

Dear Andy,

A smart owner of rental property asks questions and does some research to find out if you're what he wants as a tenant. You can do the same thing! Ask up front about the situation and about their financial stability. Let them know you'd like some assurance for you and your family that they're not a foreclosure risk.

You also want to be sure your lease allows you to stay in the house if there's a foreclosure. Check with a lawyer to see if this will help in your state.

If the house is worth lots of money, or it's already paid for, chances are you'll be fine. If he's unwilling to talk about this, or he tells you he got into real estate after seeing how profitable it could be during a late-night infomercial, you'll probably be a foreclosure victim!

— Dave

Dear Dave,

We've been following your plan, and it's been a real blessing to us. Last week, my mother-in-law told my husband that they haven't paid their property taxes yet — $3,000 was due in January. I love my in-laws, but they're big spenders. They've got plenty of money and love to take lots of trips. We make good money, too, and could help them out, but we're afraid this may be just the tip of the iceberg. What's your advice on handling this?

— Kelly

Dear Kelly,

This is a really touchy situation. First of all, you shouldn't do anything. Your husband needs to handle this, because he's their son. Even if you make kind, polite suggestions, they'll assume you're the one withholding from them. You don't want to be labeled as the evil daughter-in-law!

I understand your position and agree that you don't want to enable their bad habits. Giving a drunk a drink is never a good idea. But this is family we're talking about. You should try to find a way to help them if you can. If that help includes money, make certain you know exactly where it goes. When you give someone $3,000 (the amount needed for the taxes) you earn the right to have a say in what's happening.

Maybe your husband could go have coffee with them and just talk about things. He could explain how you guys are getting out of debt, and living on a budget to get control of your money. He could tell them how it's been a fabulous thing for your marriage and your finances, and that he'd love to show them how you're doing it.

I've got a feeling that mom and dad didn't raise their son to have dessert first and then eat his vegetables, but that's exactly what they are doing. They need to pay their property taxes before they go running off on a bunch of fancy trips. From what you said, they've got the money to take care of what needs to be done and have some fun, but if they don't correct their course, they're liable to have their financial dignity stripped from them.

As long as your husband explains things gently, lays out the boundaries in a loving and diplomatic way, yet remains firmly determined not to make things worse by enabling them, I think everything will be all right.

✓ Training: Liver key to teaching family dog new tricks, apparently

A few days later, I called Asher over. I had his undivided attention as I took a liver treat out of the bag. I let him have a whiff, then said "shake" and picked up his paw. Then I gave him the treat. I took out another treat and said "shake, Asher." He looked at the treat in my hand and raised his paw.

The following morning, I got up and let Asher out for a few minutes. When he came back inside, he ran around in front of me, sat down, looked up and held out his paw.

Now my problem is making Asher understand that he only gets liver treats when I ask him to shake — not when he asks me to shake.

Asher's intelligence seems to be directly related to his incentive.

on the road were aimed to bring speeds down, which could prevent such accidents.

That's nice. But where was the pre-emptive press release announcing that the sheriff's office would beef up patrols on the road to let folks know that the new administration cares about safety? That would have been the "community" thing to do. Springing patrols on motorists gives the impression of a speed trap, not an outreach to improve road safety.

Arrested subjects have been identified sporadically on dispatch logs. And even when they are identified, it could be weeks before any information on the arrest is released. A recent article on domestic battery suspect Michael King was cobbled together only after a less-than-lucid press release and phone call a week after the incident.

More suspect names are being scrawled on dispatch reports these days, but the details are still paltry. Nothing like past logs, which gave copious details and answered many questions before they could be asked, thus cutting down on the time that sheriff's personnel would have to spend with a reporter on follow-up.

And those details were on time. At some point, the news stops being news and turns into a memory that must be rekindled.

Crandall's lack of communication extends beyond his dealings with the Avalanche, which reached out to the sheriff through an e-mail seeking to establish coverage protocol during the first week of his administration. That specific e-mail still hasn't been answered.

The sheriff rarely has details of day-to-day activities for his weekly Board of County Commissioners reports. At one March meeting, he simply said, "We had a busy weekend", without elaborating.

Perhaps the commissioners are supposed to pry the information out of Crandall? Good luck. We've tried.

Rumblings throughout the county courthouse leave one to believe that Crandall doesn't communicate much with anyone in Murphy.

This is puzzling coming from a man who has been the top law officer in a handful of jurisdictions. As chief of police in the town of Banks, Ore., and as a man who testified before the Oregon Legislature, one would think that talking to the county newspaper would be a breeze for Crandall.

Why wouldn't the new sheriff, a man on the job only a few months, not want to get information out about what changes he has made and the work his deputies have done?

Is there a fear of failure? Is Crandall's philosophy, "What the public doesn't know won't hurt me"?

More questions than answers arise when a newly elected official hides from the official news source of the county he serves. If transparency is lacking, the office's conduct is more susceptible to the ravages of rumors and assumptions.

Sheriff Crandall, do your constituents a favor. Bring down the wall and let us know what's going on.

Until you do, we can only guess at what your true motives were for running for office in the first place.

Said dog kennel shall be kept, at all times, in a clean and sanitary condition and the dogs shall be reasonably restrained from annoying the neighborhood or the general public by loud, frequent or habitual barking, yelping or howling.

NOTICE

Because a new disinfectant is going to be used, some people – kidney dialysis patients and fish owners – will have to take special care.

Your water will be different beginning as early as May 18, 2009. The City of Marsing has nearly completed a new pump station and water treatment facility for the City's public drinking water system. Before water is delivered to you, a disinfectant – chlorine – is added. But starting May 18, the City will use a combination of chlorine and a small amount of ammonia that is present in the groundwater source to disinfect the potable water supply. When chlorine and ammonia are combined, chloramines are formed.

Chloramines are used by many public water systems for potable water disinfection. In cities that are using chloramines, the taste of tap water has generally improved.

Kidney dialysis patients, however, must take special steps to remove chloramines from water fed into their dialysis machines – doctors and technicians have more information on this.

Fish owners and breeders must also take care. Steps must be taken to remove chloramines and free ammonia from aquarium and fish pond water because the compounds can persist in water for several weeks and are toxic to fish, whereas chlorine disappears over a period of hours. Pet supply dealers have information and the necessary products.

Federal rules and natural water chemistry of the groundwater source are prompting the change in disinfectants. Some water naturally contains organic material. By itself, that is harmless. But the material combines with chlorine, forming disinfection byproducts in drinking water that are regulated by the Environmental Protection Agency. Using chloramines will significantly reduce the amount of disinfection byproducts in your potable water.

Dialysis patients should seek more information from their doctors. For more information about treatment of aquarium and fish pond water, contact your local pet store.

For a brochure on chloramines and their effect on dialysis machines and fish, contact the City of Marsing.

✓ CV Invite: Rimrock coaches pleased by team’s sunny-day performance

Garza sparked a strong showing in the shot put with a second-place throw of 25-10¾. Teammates Andrea Rodriguez (24-8) and Mayra Rodriguez (24-2) were third and fourth, respectively.

Kaci Hull was third in the triple jump with an effort of 27-7¼, and Roza Heidt finished fourth (27-0).

Freeman also turned in a fourth-place distance of 13-6¾ in the long jump.

On the boys’ side, Joel Moreno played a part in both of the Huskies’ event wins.

He flashed to a 56.40 winning time in the 400 and ran the third leg in a 4x100-winning effort. James Able, Sammy Olvera and Jose Paramo rounded out the relay team that was clocked at 47.62.

Moreno also was runner-up in the 100 meters at 11.52.

The Huskies also posted a slew of bronze medals: Agustin Paramo in the 400 (58.09), Ruben Rodriguez in the 800 (2:24.84), Brandon Walgamott in the 110 hurdles (18.72), Paramo in the long jump (17-9) and Mitch Green in the triple jump (36-11).

Walgamott also was fourth in the 300 hurdles (49.18) and the triple jump (35-11), while Olvera soared 16-8 for fifth in the long jump.

A picture-perfect weather day Saturday in Horseshoe Bend had Raiders coach Kermit Tate smiling and looking to next month’s 1A District III championship meet.

“Our people did well, the weather was perfect and all in all it was a great Saturday,” Tate said. “Coach (Vanni) Tilzey and I were very pleased with the team’s level of effort. We should be in good shape for the first part of May.”

The district meet will be held May 7 and May 9 back at Horseshoe Bend High School.

Freshman Clay Cantrell won the high jump at a height of 5 feet, 6 inches, and junior teammate Dary Langfitt was second at 5-4. Cantrell also crossed the line seventh in the 400 at 1:01.43.

Junior Brian Simper also scored points with runner-up showings in the 1,600 meters (5:37.11) and the 3,200 (11:02.02). Senior Andy Bol was fifth in the 1,600 (5:50.38) and seventh in the 800 (2:31.18).

Senior Antonio Ayala was a third-place finisher in the 200 in 24.93.

Tate said Rimrock’s 4x100 relay team of Langfitt, Ryan Nelson, Zach Walter and Chris Wisbey met some misfortune during its race.

“The men’s 4x100 relay would have finished in the points, but they were (disqualified) for passing the baton early,” Tate said. “This is what happens where they only see an exchange zone at an actual meet, but now they know what they did and they should come back strong.”

On the girls’ side, sophomore Katie Johnson scored in three events. She was second in the 400 at 1:07.31 — .23 ahead of junior teammate Anna Cantrell who finished third — and Johnson also grabbed third place in the 200 (30.15) and the 800 (2:50.21).

Rimrock turned in a strong performance in the girls’ 200 with freshman Sydnee James (30.86) finishing sixth and Cantrell (31.31) grabbing seventh.

Sophomore Jesse Cavanaugh brought in team points with her eighth-place showing in the 400 (1:18.56).

Trojans JV softball whips Wolverines

Megan Quintana and Raven Kelly collected two hits each Friday as the Homedale High School junior varsity softball team crushed Weiser at Sundance Park.

The Trojans prevailed 16-1 in a 3A Snake River Valley conference game halted after five innings because of the 10-run mercy rule.

Carmen Zatica and Laurien Mavey split the pitching chores for coach Shelley Shenk’s squad.

3A Snake River Valley conference victory.

Jessica Eubanks struck out seven in a complete-game effort. Weiser’s Angie Edwards struck out eight and walked only one, but the errors clouded an otherwise stellar performance. Only three of Homedale’s 10 runs were earned.

Homedale took control with a five-run third inning and added four runs in the top of the sixth inning.

Weiser out-hit Homedale, 6-5. Hannah Johnsona and Erik Shanley ripped doubles for the Trojans, while Shanley led the hit parade with a pair of safeties.

March 31: Homedale 9, Parma 0 — Hannah Johnson’s monster game pushed the Trojans to an easy non-conference victory at home and their second victory in as many days.

The senior was 3-for-4 with three RBI as the Trojans smacked 13 hits.

“It was a big team effort,” Trojans coach Larry Corta said. “Everyone was hitting the ball well.”

Tabitha Hammet got the start in the pitching circle. Jessica Eubanks closed the game with four strikeouts over the final three innings.

Aubrey McCutchen knocked in a pair of runs, and she, Erika Shanley and Kortney Stansell collected two hits apiece.

March 30: Homedale 8, Vale, Ore., 4 — McCutchen and Stansell rapped two hits each as the Trojans traveled across the border for a non-conference victory.

McCutchen doubled twice and Stansell knocked in a run and tripled.
