County lawmen offer tips for a safe Halloween

Little goblins and ghouls will be hitting the street this weekend for Halloween, and law enforcement officials want trick-or-treaters, parents and people passing through to be careful.

With Halloween falling on a Sunday, many trick-or-treaters might be roaming the streets on Saturday night to fill their plastic pumpkins and pillowcases with treats. Acting Police Chief Sgt. Mike McFetridge said that officers would be out both nights watching for trick-or-treaters in efforts to keep children safe.

“We really aren't sure what day kids will be out. But, everyone needs to be cautious around town on both nights,” McFetridge said.

“Drivers need to be extra careful the entire weekend. The kids will be out on Friday afternoon around town for ‘Safe-N-Sane’. We will be out monitoring traffic and making sure everything goes smooth.”

The City of Homedale along with the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the “Safe-N-Sane” trick-or-treating that will take place on Friday. The event will run from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. or until businesses run out of candy.

The event is open to children ages 12 and younger. A costume contest for the trick-or-treaters is being held at Homedale City Hall. One boy and one girl will be chosen for the costume contest

✓ Halloween: Parents should work to keep children safe whichever night they go out and their photos will be posted at City Hall and published in The Owyhee Avalanche.

Those participating in the “Safe-N-Sane” event are urged to park on side streets around Homedale to eliminate congestion and pedestrian danger.

Owyhee County Sheriff’s Office Deputy Jeff Wasson said the City of Marsing is recommending parents and children trick-or-treat on Sunday. He said that people need to be “extra cautious” on both nights around Marsing.

“People need to be aware that kids will be out and they need to use caution,” Wasson said. “The city planned for kids to be out on Sunday, but there will be kids out on Saturday.”

Parents need to monitor their children and make sure they stay in “well-lit” areas of town and check their kids’ candy when they bring it home, city and county law enforcement said. They suggested that parents send their children with a flashlight or glow-sticks.

“If their costume is dark, parents should pick up a reflective vest or reflective tape to put on the children,” McFetridge said. “Parents should really make sure their children are attended. Kids younger than 14 should really be with a group or with their parents.”

Along with the advice offered for parents, law enforcement said children need to take extra precaution when going to homes.

“Only go to homes that have lights on. Never go into the home of someone that you don’t know,” McFetridge said. “Don’t go out alone. Always use the sidewalks around town when available. Make sure you let your parents check your candy before eating any.”

Both Wasson and McFetridge said children should tell their parents “where they are going and whom they will be with”. There should also be a time that they will return home. They urged children and parents to watch for cars and make sure they use crosswalks and be aware of their surroundings.

Wasson said that parents should always check the candy and if there are questionable items to “just throw it away”. He said that if there is anything that is suspicious or questionable, they are encouraged to call, Owyhee County dispatch at (208) 495-1154.

“If there is anything suspicious going on, don’t hesitate to call the police. If it is an emergency, make sure to call 911,” McFetridge said. “If there is anything weird, please make sure to call.”

For the most current list of participating businesses visit The Owyhee Avalanche Web site, www.owyheeavalanche.com, or call Homedale City Hall at (208) 337-4641.

Marsing FFA team places fourth

Students from Marsing High School traveled to the FFA National Convention in Indianapolis and came home with fourth place in competition with entries from 32 states.

The marketing team made up of sophomores Cody Rhodes, Lacey Usabel and 2010 MHS graduate Tyler Blackstock took fourth place this past week. The team placed behind teams from California, Texas and Kentucky to bring home the plaque and a $250 scholarship for each member to the school of their choice.

“They made the final four. It is kind of like the NCAA championships; your goal is to make it to the final four,” Marsing FFA advisor Mike Martin said. “Our students got up there on stage and made a great presentation.”

Martin said the competition for the marketing group was pretty tough. He said at the state there is no marketing competition, and the students were able to go in there and really “take it on”.

“I think the school from California had to beat 45 other chapters to get to nationals. The team from Texas had 60-70 teams,”

Martin said. “We kind of went in there cold, this is only the second time we have competed in this. Our students did the best and went toe-to-toe with the best in the country.”

With 7,588 FFA chapters competing at nationals, Martin was extremely pleased with how Marsing did. He said at first the students were “a little disappointed” they hadn’t won first place but were excited to have placed.

“I think when it dawned on them, they realized it was still really good,” Martin said. “It was neat being there. The room they presented in was called the Finals Hall, it had enough chairs that everyone in Marsing would have had a seat with room left over for a dance floor.”

The Agriculture Communications team of seniors Michael Butler, Taylor Sauer and Andi Merritt and juniors Mackay Hall and Chelsea Thomure placed 13th out of 32 chapters at the nationals.

“Overall, our students did very well,” Martin said. “We got a lot of recognition and a big plaque that will hang in the FFA building forever.”

Martin said senior Kyla Loucks’s performances went very well. Loucks performed at Lucas Oil Stadium where the Indianapolis Colts play. He said she also performed during the career show at the convention.

“It was hard to get a chance to go and watch her sing because of the other teams competing,” Martin said. “When she sang at the career show, she had FFA kids swing dancing. She sang a total of four times during nationals.”

The teams from Marsing helped make up the record-setting attendance at the 83rd FFA National Convention. According to a press release from National FFA Organization, the event saw a total of 54,942 members, advisors, sponsors and guests.

Murphy wind turbines get OK

Developers estimate $9M to be added to county tax base over 20 years

The Murphy area seems to be attracting alternative energy interests these days. The Owyhee County Planning and Zoning Commission gave final approval to a $120 million wind farm project last week. On Wednesday, the P&Z will hear a conditional use permit application on a 40-megawatt solar panel array proposed for a 1,200-acre site less than a half-mile east of the county seat. The public hearing begins at 10 a.m. inside the Owyhee County Courthouse Annex, 17069 Basey St., in Murphy. If approved the $3 million project by Interconnect Solar Development LLC and Murphy Solar Development LLC would consist of two 250-acre fields of solar arrays generating 20 megawatts each. It would also be the second solar farm approved by the P&Z since 2009. Grand View Solar PV One has received the go-ahead to build solar panels on 180 acres owned by JR Simplot Co., near Grand View. In June, the company signed a 20-year deal to supply energy for Idaho Power. The 20-megawatt field of solar panels is expected to be online by next year. In approving American Wind Group's permit for a $120 million project of three wind turbine groupings on 4,000 acres of private property outside Murphy, the Owyhee P&Z commissioners have required developers to secure a purchase agreement with Idaho Power to sell energy developed by the potentially 60-megawatt complex.

American Wind Group's Brian D. Jackson said the firm currently is negotiating a power sales agreement with Idaho Power with an eye toward having a contract signed by the end of this year. Jackson said his company would like to begin construction of the wind farms and research and education center next year, if possible, but no later than 2012. He pointed out that the Murphy Flat Wind Farm actually will be comprised of three separate groupings of turbines generating as much as 20 megawatts each. The site, located on private property bordered by Murphy Flat Road, Doughty Road and Tyson Road, is about 4½ miles outside of Murphy on agricultural ground.

According to the group's CUP application, the 4,000-acre site involves nine families and 24 parcels. Landowners will be compensated with a percentage of the project's gross revenue. The application estimates that the county could see a tax base increase of $300,000 per year to start and as much as $500,000 annually after 20 years, or about $9 million in tax revenue over the first 20 years of operation. Even before any of the alternative energy projects go online, Owyhee County will see a 33.5 percent boost in its operating property tax base between fiscal year 2010 and fiscal year 2011, according to the Idaho State Tax Commission. According to the STC Web site, utilities in Owyhee County — including Idaho Power, Intermountain Gas Co., and telecommunications companies — were assessed at more than $82.5 million for FY 2011, an increase of nearly $21 million over the previous year. Idaho Power's operating property tax increased nearly 63 percent to just less $42 million, and PacifiCorp's value rose nearly 44 percent to $6.5 million.

✓ Playoffs: Huskies hit road for Buhl and Kamiah; Trojans face Fruitland

Both of the Huskies' fall sports teams — football and volleyball — will take part in their respective 2A state tournaments this weekend.

The Trojans' football team travels to Fruitland to face the No. 1 3A team in the state for the second time in as many games.

Marsing's volleyball team, coached by Loma Bittick in her ninth year, will make a historic trip to Buhl High School beginning Friday.

The Huskies are making their first appearance in the state tournament after knocking off Kamiah in Grangeville on Saturday.

Marsing opens against top-seeded West Side at 1 p.m. Friday in Buhl.

The Huskies' football squad, led by first-year coach Jaime Wood, hits the road for a 3 p.m. MDT kickoff Saturday against Kamiah in the round of 16 for the 2A state playoffs.

This is Marsing's first trip to the football playoffs since a 49-14 road loss to Orofino in the 2006 postseason.

Boise State junior defensive lineman Shea McClellin, who tossed the coin at Senior Night on Friday in Marsing, was a senior on that 2006 Huskies squad.

Homedale and Fruitland are familiar foes in pivotal games both on the football field and the basketball court. This time, the faceoff comes in the opening round of the 3A state playoffs. It's the Trojans' first appearance under coach Matt Holtry and the program's first trip to the postseason since 2008.

Kickoff is 7 p.m.

Homedale, ranked fourth in the 3A state media poll, held the Grizzlies to their lowest point total of the season in a 24-14 3A Snake River Valley conference loss at Deward Bell Stadium on Oct. 15.

Holtry missed the Trojans' last game because of an emergency appendectomy. He will be on the sidelines for Friday's rematch.

✓ Tuesday: Brackett, Patrick run unopposed in District 23

pitting Hyer, Aberasturi and Mercado against one another for a four-year term in office, is the only contested county race on the ballot Tuesday.

Grand View farmer Joe Merrick is running unopposed for the District 3 commissioner seat — and a two-year term — after defeating incumbent Dick Freund of Murphy in the Republican primary in May.

Charlotte Sherburn (clerk), Brenda Richards (treasurer), Brett Endicott (assessor) and Harvey Grimme (coroner) will begin new four-year terms in January in their respective offices after winning the Republican nominations in May. No Democrats have filed to run for those offices in the general election.

Aberasturi beat Hyer in the GOP primary, but the incumbent — who also served on the BOCC 20 years ago — launched a write-in campaign after, he said, several supporters asked him to rejoin the race.

Owyhee County voters also have the opportunity to choose between Republican incumbent Stephen Hartgen of Twin Falls and Democratic challenger Bill Chisholm of Buhl in the race for the District 23, Seat B position in the Idaho House of Representatives. The office carries a two-year term.

Where to vote Tuesday

- Precinct 1: North Homedale — Homedale Senior Center, 224 W. Idaho Ave.
- Precinct 2: South Homedale — City Hall, 31 W. Wyoming Ave.
- Precinct 3: North Marsing — Phipps-Watson Marsing American Legion Community Center, 126 W. 2nd St. N.
- Precinct 4: South Marsing — University of Idaho Owyhee County Extension Office, 238 8th Ave. W.
- Precinct 6: Wilson — Murphy-Reynolds-Wilson Fire Station, 10427 Johnston Lane
- Precinct 7: Murphy — Owyhee County Courthouse, 20381 State Hwy 78
- Precinct 8: Oreana — Community Hall, 18092 Oreana Loop Road
- Precinct 9: Grand View — Eastern Owyhee Library, 520 Boise Ave.
- Precinct 10: Bruneau — American Legion Hall, 32536 Belle Ave.

Absentee ballots are to be turned in at the county courthouse in Murphy.

Riddle (Precinct 11), Three Creek (Precinct 12) and Pleasant Valley (Precinct 5) are mail-in precincts. The County Clerk must receive ballots from those locations by 8 p.m. Tuesday.

State Sen. Bert Brackett (R-Rogerson) and District 23A Rep. Jim Patrick (R-Filer) both are unopposed in their bids for new terms.

State constitutional offices on the ballot include:

- A four-way race for governor between Republican incumbent C.L. "Butch" Otter facing Democrat Keith Allred, Libertarian Ted Dunlap and independents Jana Kemp and Pro-Life (formerly known as Marvin Richardson)
- A three-way election for lieutenant governor featuring Republican incumbent Brad Little, Democrat Eldon Wallace and Paul Venable from the Constitution Party
- Republican incumbent Ben

Ysursa facing Democrat Mack Sermon for secretary of state

- Republican incumbent Donna Jones seeking re-election for state controller against Bruce Robinett, a Democrat
- Republicans Ron Crane (state treasurer) and former Owyhee County Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence Wasden (state attorney general) running unopposed to retain their respective positions
- Incumbent Tom Luna, a Republican, facing Democrat Stan Olson in the race for state superintendent of public instruction

Federal offices round up the ballot:

- Republican incumbent Mike Crapo seeking re-election for the U.S. Senate against Democrat Tom Sullivan and Constitution Party nominee Randy Lynn Bergquist
- Democrat Walt Minnick seeking another two years as the First District Congressional representative against Republican Raul Labrador, Libertarian Mike Washburn and independent Dave Olson.

Bet You Didn’t Know Pa. town’s streetlights are a sweet sight

The streetlights in Hershey, Pa., are designed to look like Hershey kisses.

The only known free-roaming panthers left in the United States are found in what state? If you said Florida ... you’d be correct.

Hernando de Soto of Spain was the first European to see the Mississippi River. ... Did it in the year 1541 ... died in 1542 ...

That first Thanksgiving in 1621 ... how long did it last? Three days ... they had dancing and lots of athletic events ... Plus some mead and beer ...

Just how many Ringling Brothers were there anyway? Seven ... headed by John ... the others helped out with the circus in one way or another.

People magazine came out on March 4, 1974. ... Who was on the first cover? Mia Farrow ... You knew that? Good for you.

You’ve been asking yourself. ... “What’s the longest street in the United States?”, haven’t you? Well, it’s Figueroa Street in Los Angeles ... runs for about 30 miles or so. ... Now you know. ...

HMS students take up several causes this week

Homedale Middle School students have launched a “Coins for Cancer” drive this week in recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Throughout the week, students will participate in a class competition in which they bring coins for cancer. All their spare change will be donated to the St. Luke’s pediatric oncology unit in Boise.

Students are wearing pink today at the school to support cancer awareness.

To donate to the Coins for Cancer cause, contact HMS counselor Amy Winters at 337-5780 or awinters@homedaleschools.org.

In addition to their efforts against cancer, the students have shown support for Red Ribbon

Week.

On Monday, the students strived to “black out” alcohol abuse by wearing all black to school.

On Tuesday, they wore all red to “stop” drug abuse.

Thursday, students will wear costumes to support a fun yet safe Halloween.

Feds decide to extend Jarbidge RMP comment period

Public has until Jan. 31 to weigh in on plan

It's not exactly what Owyhee County officials were looking for, but the public comment period has been extended for Bureau of Land Management planning documents for the Jarbidge Field Office resource area.

The comment period on the Jarbidge Draft Resource Management Plan (RMP) and Draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will close on Jan. 31.

Comments originally were to be taken until Dec. 2, 90 days after the release of the document. With Idaho BLM State Director Steve Ellis's announcement last week, the comment period will be extended 60 days.

"It's not exactly what we asked for. We asked for 90 days," Board of County Commissioners chair Jerry Hoagland said, referring to the county's letter to the BLM.

"The reason we asked for that was the size of the document (about 2,000 pages)."

According to BLM press release, the Jarbidge RMP will provide management direction for the 1.4 million acres of public land in southwestern Idaho and northern Nevada. The six alternatives in the Draft offer a range of approaches to achieve and maintain desired resource conditions in the area over the next 15 to 20 years; it also examines issues like recreation, energy development, livestock grazing and vegetation.

Hoagland said the county wanted the 90 days to comment to give range expert Chad Gibson and county Natural Resources Committee director Jim Desmond time to analyze the EIS and its possible impact on the ranching industry.

Once Gibson and Desmond complete a list of concerns, the BLM has agreed to hire experts to review the RMP for consistency with the county's land use plan, as is required by the Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA), which also mandates government-to-government coordination between the county and federal agencies.

"If we go through at first and identify those areas that need to be looked at by those experts, that will save a lot of time and money on that review," Hoagland said.

The public comment period will be extended for all interested parties, not just the county. Hoagland said that will give ranchers in the 71 Livestock Association as well as other multiple-use groups, such as ATV recreationists time to comment.

"We appreciate the importance of this document to the public, particularly the people of Idaho and Nevada, and we want to ensure appropriate time for public review and comment," Ellis said.

"This 60-day extension will enable our neighbors and the public to better inform our analysis and resultant decision."

Hoagland said Jarbidge Field Office manager Rick Vander Voet has assured the commissioners that the county will be able to provide comments even beyond the new Jan. 31 deadline.

Fifth-grader's poster reaches state finals

A Marsing Elementary School fifth-grader has reached the state finals in a poster contest aimed at promoting conservation.

Brenda Zarapio's poster on the theme "Conservation Habits = Healthy Habitats" finished second at the Oct. 12 Division III fall meeting of the Idaho Association of Soil Conservation Districts, which was held in Weiser. Her poster went up against 19 other entries.

Zarapio qualified for the division contest after her entry was selected as the best among 64 posters in the Owyhee Conservation District competition.

By finishing in the top three in the Division III contest, Zarapio is now in the running for the state award. The state winner also has his or her poster entered in the National Association of Conservation Districts contest.

State judging takes place during the IASCD conference Nov. 17-20 in Burley.

The top three OCD finishers hailed from Marsing Elementary. Fifth-grader Ana Alvarez was second, and fourth-grader Megan Cooper finished third.

Each year, the OCD sends contest entries to fourth- through sixth-graders in Homedale, Marsing and Jordan Valley.

Idaho Common Sense for the Common Good

"My father, a Depression Era, conservative Republican businessman didn't like too much government or wasting money and by example showed me that meant not wasting resources. My mother, a school teacher, didn't like to see talent wasted and admonished me daily to expand my horizons. They both believed in giving back to the community, voted the person not the party. Those values are the foundation of my politics. I have built on that foundation with a wealth of knowledge and experience garnered in my study, work and activism. This is what I bring to the table."

Republican

Why are you running for office?

Aberasturi: I am running to bring an open, honest and respectful form of government back to the people of Owyhee County. I have been attending the County Commission meetings for about a year, as well other meetings around the county, and I believe that I have ideas and input that will help move Owyhee County forward during this critical time in our economy.

Hyer: After the primary, I was in the hospital recovering from my near fatal horse accident and I was prepared to accept the results of the close primary race which occurred while I was in the hospital. But numerous Owyhee County residents came to me and asked me to run a write-in campaign. They felt that I am a stronger advocate for Owyhee County on critical current issues. They also believe that my knowledge makes me a better choice. After consideration, I decided that my concern for the future of our county gave me no choice but to run.

What are the positive aspects of the county?

Hyer: As an Owyhee County native, I believe this is the best place to live and raise a family. People here still know their neighbors and wave at each other. Our county workers are a hard-working group of people who are set on the betterment of the county.

I love the lifestyle of small towns and rural communities.

Aberasturi: The people of Owyhee County, first and foremost. They are hard-working people that don't want excuses for a job not getting done. Their values, ideals and work ethic are what make them great. Our potential for tourism and recreational uses is incredible, as our county is so diverse in its geographical makeup.

What would you improve about the county, and how would you accomplish that?

Aberasturi: I would like to see the people of the county be heard, be listened to. Their concerns have not always been addressed and their questions have not been answered. To improve this, I believe that there should be more open forums and input from the citizens. When a difficult decision is made, I believe that the response to the people should be an explanation as to why the decision was made. They may not agree, but they will know why something was done a specific way. The communication between the citizens and the county government is critical. I would also focus on working to improve the business climate in Owyhee County to help our local business grow, as well look at other avenues to bring in additional business and industry.

Hyer: I would like the entire county government to work as a team. This can be accomplished through open and frequent communication between all county departments. I would like to see an improved relationship with all city councils. Again this can be facilitated with good communication and by listening to their needs. I believe that we can arrive at win-win decisions for all. All issues should be judged on their individual merits and not just special-interest agendas.

What are the most crucial issues facing the county, and how would you address them?

Hyer: The two major power lines (Boardman-to-Hemingway and Gateway West) that are scheduled to be routed through Owyhee County are a critical issue because they were originally planned through private property. We have been very successful as commissioners in getting the route changed from private to public ground for the Boardman-to-Hemingway project. The Gateway West project is in a critical stage and needs the experience and continuity of board members such as myself to protect the private property rights of the Bruneau-Grand View-Murphy residents.

The Jarbidge Resource Management

Plan and Environmental Impact Statement and the just-released West Owyhee Travel Management Plan are plans which are being developed by the Bureau of Land Management and will affect grazing, recreation and other uses of Owyhee County public land. I believe that without a strong, experienced voice on the county commission we will lose many of our rights to our public lands. As a current commissioner, I have gained the respect and forged a working relationship that maintains Owyhee County as an equal to the federal government. It is imperative that this balance be maintained to protect our lifestyle and the rights of Owyhee County citizens.

Aberasturi: The most crucial issues currently facing Owyhee County are the limited revenues due to the decrease in tax revenue. As the U.S. Government takes more land and AUMs (Animal Units Monthly) from ranchers, our tax base is continually decreasing. To increase our tax base, we must work to bring in additional revenue by increasing our business and industrial base, whether they are agriculturally based or not. While agriculture and government are the county's largest employers, we need to explore our options with energy resources, being focused on green energy options (hydro, geo-thermal, solar, wind, bio-mass).

Board of County Commissioners meeting attendance

Aberasturi: Says he has attended 45 or so meetings in past year and 55 or so during his time in the county.

Hyer: In the last two years, I have only missed a couple meetings, due to medical reasons. During my recent injury I handled county business by phone while in the hospital, and teleconferenced into meetings while recuperating at home. I was back in Murphy for meetings just one month after my extended hospital stay, against doctor's advice. I feel that I have proven my dedication to Owyhee County and its citizens.

With the economic downturn, what challenges does the county face, how will you tackle them?

Hyer: We have faced the economic downturn by setting a 2011 budget which meets all necessary county needs without adding an undue tax burden to our citizens. We have done this by holding all departments accountable for every penny of the taxpayer's money they spend. We appreciate the cooperation of the county departments that partnered with us in this effort.

Aberasturi: Funding for the county is, of course, going to be the most critical. With the current economy and our citizens in the midst of this downturn, it is difficult to go to them to increase taxes to cover expenses. Our citizens are tightening their own household budgets to get through this, and I would expect that at the county level, we would be doing the same. Again, by working to increase our business/industrial tax base (which in turn creates jobs) and by pursuing energy resources, we can reduce the tax burden on our citizens.

What ideas do you have to compensate for dwindling revenue streams from the state?

Aberasturi: Creating a positive, cooperative environment for business to come to Owyhee County will bring jobs and revenue to the county. This does not necessarily mean tax breaks for business, light or heavy industry. It does mean reaching out to the businesses and working cooperatively with them to find workable solutions for their needs.

Energy resources (wind, geothermal, hydro, solar) should be developed in our county.

I have met with several entities that are interested in looking at Owyhee County to explore these energy options. Owyhee County is very attractive to these types of industries, and we need to work to pursue them.

Working in cooperation with Idaho tourism industries can allow us to bring additional monies into our communities through tourism revenues. We have incredible assets, whether it be the Snake River, CJ Strike, the Owyhee Front, Owyhee River, Bruneau River and Sand Dune recreational areas, local restaurants, shops and parks. It is important to work together with other Idaho entities to promote Owyhee County.

Hyer: Again it is to manage each dollar spent; I believe that if you watch your pennies, the dollars take care of themselves. I am a fiscal conservative who takes a hard look at each and every dollar spent.

After four years, Marsing student’s goal planted in cement

Senior at MHS places “M” above football field entrance

With nearly two yards of concrete and a few hundred pounds of steel, a four-year dream was firmly grounded at Marsing High School’s football field on Thursday, just in time for senior night.

As Oscar Ceballos, a 5-foot 11-inch, 210-pound senior prepared for his final game at Huskies Field on Friday night against New Plymouth, he completed a four-year journey off and on the field. The senior dreamed of a “block M” being placed above the entryway of the stadium since his freshman year.

“I decided to do this because it would boost up the spirit around the school. I thought it would be good for the community,” Ceballos said. “This has been something I have been thinking about since I started school here after a game in Meridian.”

When Ceballos was a freshman, he traveled with the junior varsity team to Meridian for a game and saw they had a “huge M” above the entrance to the field. He said this is what really motivated him to want to construct the “Marsing M”.

“I really wanted one of those here at the school,” Ceballos said. “Up until this year I really didn’t think I was going to be able to get it done. I worked hard on this all summer with help from others. For the past couple of months it has been hard to work on it with football going, so it has taken up my spare time.”

Ceballos said it took him about four months to put everything together from the nearly $1,500 it took to build the M and the material needed. He said it would be really hard to name everyone who helped out in getting this project done.

When it finally came time to raise the steel structure, Chris Salove with Marsing Hardware and Pump brought in their crane truck to set the M. Salove has been onboard with the project from the day Ceballos came door.

“Any kid that has the ambition to do something like this, I am all for it,” Salove said. “This is a totally unselfish project. He is doing this to benefit the school and other kids down the road. I know him well enough to know that he would follow through.”

With nearly four hours spent rigging and standing the nearly 20-foot tall steel structure, Salove said that this would be something that lasts in the community for a long time. He said the project is a neat way to get more pride instilled in the youth of Marsing.

“Like most projects in Marsing, this is a typical community project. It would be hard to start naming people and not leave someone out,” Salove said. “Kids need pride in what they are doing. Anything that reminds them of where they are, and every time they walk on the field it will remind them of their pride and the community they live in.”

Ceballos said his favorite part of the project was painting the “blue and athletic gold” M that everyone who comes to games will walk through. He said he hopes that this will be the entrance that all football players in the future will pass through as they compete in Marsing.

“I really hope that this thing lasts,” Ceballos said. “We want to have a sense of spirit and stay proud of everyone here.”

Huskies football coach Jaime Wood, a graduate of Marsing High School, said this is the goal everyone is working toward around the school and in the community. He said that their goal of “Building a Legacy” is something Oscar Ceballos takes one last look at his project before it is hoisted in the air by Marsing Hardware and Pump.

JOE

OWYHEE COUNTY
COMMISSIONER DISTRICT 3

834-2641...A Leader Who Listens

I WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE NOVEMBER 2

Paid for by Joe Merrick for Commissioner-Mary Lootens, Treasurer

Election 2010

Owyhee County Commissioner, District 2

What are your stances on the following issues?

Growth

Hyer — At this time we are not experiencing heavy growth, but growth must be managed through proper planning.

Aberasturi — We need to encourage growth, residentially, agriculturally, industrially throughout our County. We will achieve this by promoting the positive attributes of our County.

County road maintenance

Aberasturi — Our roads have been deteriorating over the years, and it seems that we have not had the funds to address this issue. It cannot continue to be put on the back burner, but long-term planning should be in place to begin to address sections as we are financially able.

Hyer — Each district is managed by a supervisor who reports to the commissioners. I was instrumental in the hiring of a new quality supervisor to join our strong existing team. This team, as the past team did, is doing a great job to maintain our county roads with the resources available.

The Owyhee Initiative and implementation

Hyer — It is vital that Owyhee County maintain a strong voice to enforce the agreements made in this Initiative. Our Owyhee Initiative Board is made up of a very strong, diverse team which works hand-in-hand with our commissioners to enforce these agreements. Again, my experience and knowledge of this issue makes me the right choice for your vote because it is the county that has the power and responsibility to negotiate with the federal government. Due to restricted space and the complications of this issue, I will not go into further detail but I would be glad to answer questions one on one.

Aberasturi — The Initiative is a good thing for the people of Owyhee County. Without it, the federal government was going to designate parts of Owyhee County as a monument, which would have left everyone on the outside. With the Initiative, we are able to retain that public access, with those affected gaining some compensation. This is very important for money coming in to our county by way of recreational activities, as well as important for us to be able to access the areas we treasure. I commend those who spent their time and effort getting this Initiative accomplished. While this Initiative has not yet been funded by the federal government, I will work to make sure that the federal senators and representative continue to push to have this fully funded.

County budget

Aberasturi — In running a business that had its own ups and downs in a very difficult economy, we focused on cutting expenses and overhead, reducing hours when necessary. We must also work to bring in new businesses and promote growth in the county to increase our tax base. Things like small industrial opportunities would be important in creating employment opportunities inside the county. Tourism revenue needs to be pursued as well. We have some beautiful things to offer in our county.

Hyer — Again, all departments need to make sure that all expenses are absolutely necessary to the county. We need to take a hard look at where we can cut costs but still maintain efficiency. I know how hard we each work for every dollar earned, and I do not want to put an increased burden on our citizens during these tough economic times.

Law enforcement

Hyer — I have fulfilled my promise to law enforcement. Prior to the primary election, I stated that we appreciated deputies’ long hours to protect and serve and their sacrifice of wages to meet the 2010 budget. I also stated that as soon as feasible this would be the first issue I would address. In the 2011 budget, deputies were restored to their former hours and given a 1 percent increase along with all other county employees. (No increase had been given in the prior two budgets). When it boils down to it, accountability and management are the critical issues in law enforcement. We owe this to our citizens and we ask this of every county department, including ourselves.

The commissioners, with the 911 advisory group, have obtained a grant to install a new updated 911 system. This will be a great asset to us and facilitate the protection of our citizens. This took many hours of volunteer labor, and I appreciate the hard work of the 911 advisory group.

Aberasturi — Law enforcement is the primary role of the government, protection of the people. While trimming the county budget as necessary, we must make sure that the law enforcement services are not jeopardized. We must create better communication between the commissioner board and the sheriff’s department. We must remain sufficiently staffed to protect and serve the people of Owyhee County. It is also my expectation that the sheriff’s office is fiscally conservative during this crunch time.

Are there any other specific issues the commissioners need to address?

Aberasturi — I have had numerous citizens of the county raise concerns about Planning and Zoning. I believe that from the perspective of the people, this is something that needs to be addressed. We need to work to change these negatives to positives. By listening to the concerns of the people, we may find that we need to make changes to the existing plan.

Hyer — It is critical that we retain the strength and knowledge to maintain our government-to-government relationships. After nearly two years, the Obama administration is filling Idaho federal positions with appointees that are not in sync with Idaho values. It takes a strong commissioner to keep the federal government out of our lives, and I believe I am that person.

How do you think the county government has been run, and what changes need to be made?

Hyer — I believe we have done a great job in hard economic times. We have made important strides in protecting our citizens’ values and rights. As a commissioner I have been willing to stand up and fight against big government and infringement on our rights. Not everyone will agree with every decision made, but I want you to know that I have researched every issue, listened to my constituents and made the decision that I felt were in the best interests of all citizens of Owyhee County.

Aberasturi — Overall, I would rate it a fair. Most of the complaints that I am hearing around the county is that the people’s concerns are not being heard. We need to make sure the Board of Commissioners is listening. We may not always be able to implement the changes of specific individuals, but we must make explanation as to why something is the way it is. The closed-door conversations and private meetings do not promote an atmosphere of trust. I believe that currently, the most frustrating thing for our citizens is the lack of communication that is coming from all their county representatives.

What direction does the county need to go, and how will you get it there?

Aberasturi — As a county, we need to move to a more open format. The county government needs to remember that they are in place to serve the people of the county. Cheerful, quality customer service is critical in any business, just as it should be in the running of our local government. The citizens of Owyhee County need to feel that their opinions matter, that their voices are heard and that their county government represents them. We need to pursue the additional revenues streams through new and expanded businesses, industry, energy sources and tourism. Working together, we can move the county in positive directions, with a united front, where we can focus our combined efforts to strengthen Owyhee County.

Hyer — We need to continue to make decisions to protect the best interests of our citizens, whether it is in managing the budget or fighting big government. We will get there by staying the course and continuing to communicate effectively.

Candidates’ final comments

Aberasturi — In each area of the county, there are different concerns. In our larger communities, people are concerned about growth, jobs, planning and zoning. In the outlying areas, the concerns may be more about land rights, big government involvement, development of our tourism and waterway resources or law enforcement issues.

There seems to be a big disconnect between city and county governments. Many of the issues affecting the people of the county, if handled with the cities and the county working together, will offer better resolutions to the issues we all face. By putting our egos aside, and putting our ideas together, we can move our county, cities and communities forward during this difficult economic time. We must keep our doors and minds open to work together to address the issues that affect us all.

During my campaign, I have had the opportunity to travel from one end of our incredible county to the other. I have had the chance to meet with many of the citizens. I have had many call me with questions and concerns and have thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to meet so many great people.

If there are some that I have not had to opportunity to meet or speak with, and you have some questions for me, please call or e-mail. I would enjoy hearing from you.

Thank you.

Hyer — In the last election, people voted for change just for change, and look at where we are today. We have inexperienced, unqualified politicians in all areas of our government. These politicians have not brought about effective change. Let’s not throw out the knowledge and experience needed to protect our county and its values just for the sake of change. I ask you to write in George Hyer for District 2 Commissioner.

I appreciate all the citizen of Owyhee County and want to continue to serve you.

Illegal immigration — How the state should respond to the problem and what can be done?

Chisholm: Much of southern Idaho and particularly District 23 is an agricultural area that relies on immigrant farm workers. Idaho needs to press the federal government to come up with a viable method so that those workers can enter the country legally. Perhaps Idaho should look at a registration methodology that would give undocumented some vehicle of temporary protection. That might force the feds to act.

Hartgen: We are likely to see a proposal this winter to consider an “Arizona”-like bill to restrict illegal immigration into Idaho. This may be in a more limited form than Arizona’s. It may include provisions for deportation of illegals caught in criminal activity, and restrictions on use of our public services by illegal aliens. I believe we should deal strongly with illegals who break our criminal laws and use limited public resources. We also need a workable guest worker program in agriculture that allows farmers and ranchers to employ the workers they need to keep our agricultural economy going. The e-verify program proposed by the federal government does not work well in practice and needs to be modified. I would support a program similar to the “Bracero” program of some years ago, in which agricultural workers obtained work visas and permits but did not move onto any “path to citizenship” or amnesty. The illegal immigration issue has been forced upon us by the failure and unwillingness of the federal government to secure our borders and provide the security and safety to the states, which the Constitution requires. Idaho, and other states, are poised to follow Arizona’s lead because of this federal failure to act.

State budget — How and where to cut? Where not to cut?

Hartgen: We are likely to have an additional shortfall of something over $300 million on the 2012 budget, which begins next July 1. To have a balanced budget, we will need to find additional savings from across-the-board reductions. We may also need to look at some revenue increases. I would expect a number of ideas will be on the table, including repeal of the grocery tax credit, now at about $100 million annually, collection of Internet sales tax, and perhaps others. It is too soon to know how extensive these may be, but I would guess they will be considered. Idaho Republican legislators will take a sharp pencil to every budgeted line item. We know the value of prudent budgeting and fiscal responsibility in managing the state’s affairs.

Chisholm: Budgets are already tight, but there may be possible savings in energy, transportation costs, and other types of equipment and administration that could be utilized by more than one agency. We need to look at the prison system and the incarceration of non-violent offenders. Tax exemptions and tax collections need a look to be sure the state is collecting what it is legitimately owed. Education is already tight, but could use some revamping.

Alternative power generation projects in Owyhee and Twin Falls counties

Chisholm: I have a long history of involvement and support of energy efficiency, conservation and renewable energy, both small- and large-scale. Idaho is rich in renewable potential in wind, solar and geothermal. Small-scale, distributed renewable production on homes, businesses, farms and ranches would create not only opportunities for those owners, but create opportunities for local small businesses. I see a tax rebate as an investment in stimulating this activity. Large-scale wind has taken off, but solar lags and should be encouraged.

Hartgen: The Idaho Legislature approved (2007) a law to charge a three percent tax on gross revenue of wind (modified later to include geothermal) energy. This allows developers to avoid taxes on the “front end” of construction and thus encourages development. Twin Falls and Owyhee counties have excellent development potential, but we need good response from federal land managers to develop it on federal lands. A current sales tax exemption on materials used in alternative energy development (set to expire in 2011) should be retained. Energy development is an enormous opportunity for Idaho and we need to do what we can to encourage it. Project siting also depends on transmission capacity. We must be vigilant that proposed transmission lines are placed as far as possible on public lands, not on private ground or over irrigated farmland.

Ideas to boost the economy specifically in District 23 and in Idaho in general

Hartgen: The best thing we can do is to remove federal and state regulation on business and private entrepreneurship. Lower taxes, fiscal responsibility and limited governmental interference are key goals. I also support reducing both individual and corporate income tax rates.

We also need to reduce the burden on District 23 ranchers and farmers caused by the undue influence of environmental groups, which are constantly on the watch for opportunities to restrict ranching and beneficial land use. These groups harm our economy in District 23, which we need to promote, not hinder.

Chisholm: District 23 is a rural/ag-based district, it needs a new crop put into the mix, a crop that not only gives farmers an alternative, but one that would provide other entrepreneurial opportunities a raw material. I believe that crop is industrial hemp. It has potential in terms of both food and fiber and can be made into hundreds if not thousands of different products. (Think about baling twine: We could produce the raw material, the product and not have a landfill issue as it would be compostable.) That’s just one example.

What has the Legislature done well, and in what areas does it need to work?

Chisholm: These are incredibly challenging times. They are times that require new thinking and broadened perspectives. The Legislature has too narrow a philosophical base. It lacks the ability for good, honest discussion. At this juncture, with pressing problems and tight budgets, it needs to discipline itself, cut costs by limiting its agenda to essential business, setting budgets, creating opportunities for Idahoans, and streamlining the legal system.

Hartgen: We’ve done many things well, primarily in the area of holding down costs, examining government’s reach and providing a conservative approach to government which is the envy of many states. This election is a referendum on the “Obama and Democratic approach” to government. I believe Idahoans will take the opportunity this fall to repudiate this over-reaching role of government in our lives and will elect legislators who stand on principles of conservative, traditional values and fiscal responsibility. Looking ahead, we will continue to look for innovation in educational delivery (the Internet), hold down taxes, and encourage private enterprise.

What issues facing the Legislature will have the most impact on District 23 and why?

Hartgen: I believe I have answered this question in the answers above.

Chisholm: Legalizing hemp would have a big impact. Renewable energy is already making an impact and the support mechanisms for that would have an impact. Education issues will certainly impact the area. We should look at IDAPA Rules and Idaho Bond Bank Rules that impact small rural communities so that we come up with workable, common-sense solutions, not create problems. In Idaho water law, the public, not the politicians (special interests), should define “the public interest”. These issues are real-life issues, where the rubber meets the road; they have an impact on people’s lives.

Candidates’ final comments

Chisholm: I believe in limited but essential and efficient government, which protects the public, health, safety and welfare, protects the environment, and enhances economic opportunities for Idahoans, not selling Idaho’s people, resources and quality of life off to outside interests. If we cherish our rights, then we need to embrace our responsibilities; that is also the road to less government. It is also time to take a look at the socio-economic impacts on the prohibition of marijuana.

Hartgen: I am a conservative Republican with traditional values, who believes in fiscal responsibility, limited government and reducing government’s regulatory and tax burden. Government should serve us as citizens, not the other way around. Please look at my Web site, www.Stephenhartgen.com, to see my positions on specific other issues and statements of my philosophy.

Trojans get familiar test in 3A state football

Homedale makes first trip to Fruitland since '08

Matt Holtry's not missing this one.

The second-year Homedale High School football coach wasn't on the sidelines when his Trojans gave Fruitland its toughest test of the season.

Two weeks after Homedale's 24-14 3A Snake River Valley conference loss to the Grizzlies, though, you can bet Holtry will be in his customary position.

Homedale makes its first trip to the 3A state playoffs since 2007. The game is being called a play-in contest; if the Trojans are able to beat Fruitland for the first time since joining the 3A ranks, they'll make the quarterfinals. Kickoff on the Grizzlies' field — the first Trojans' appearance in Fruitland since 2008 — is 7 p.m. Friday.

Fruitland (8-0 overall) is the top-ranked team in the 3A statewide media poll. The Trojans (6-2) are No. 4 in the state.

It will mark the first game in Fruitland for Holtry as Trojans' coach.

"For me, I'm just happy I'm going to be able to be there for this one," he said. "I'm just excited for the opportunity."

The Oct. 16 game at Deward Bell Stadium was the first game Holtry has missed in his playing or coaching career — dating to pee-wee league.

"It was one of the hardest things I had to do in my football career both as a coach and a player," he said. "I've never had to go through that experience."

The health emergency of an appendectomy really took the decision out of his hands.

"I kind of got chocked up and got tears in my eyes sitting there on the bed knowing I wasn't going to be at the game with the kids."

Fruitland pummeled Weiser, 35-7, on Oct. 23 to gain District III's top seed in the state playoffs.

Meanwhile, the Trojans had the night off.

"It was nice," Holtry said of the extra week of preparation. "We were able to rest some kids and get some kids healthy and really just kind of go back to the basics on what techniques we want them using against both Fruitland and Weiser."

This week's practice has focused on Fruitland now that coaching staff found out which team would be the first-round opponent, Holtry said.

The coach is hopeful that the Trojans' performance two weeks ago has emboldened the athletes for their second go-around with the state's top-ranked 3A squad and made Homedale players realize — as Holtry puts it — Friday's game is just "11 kids from Idaho playing against 11 kids from Idaho."

"They need to ... realize we're a dang-good team, too, and we put our best effort out there we have a chance to win," Holtry said. "The kids realized that last game, and I think they're excited to have that opportunity again."

Huskies state tournament bound for first time with play-in win

Marsing gains seat in 2A
state volleyball

For the first time in school history, Marsing High School landed a spot in the 2A tournament for volleyball after beating Kamiah on Saturday.

Marsing made the 213-mile journey to Grangeville High School for a play-in match against the 2A Central Idaho Conference third seed. The Huskies went five rounds with the Kubs, edging them out during the fifth, 25-20, 25-27, 20-25, 25-21, 15-13.

"We are very excited. Everything was so close the whole match," Marsing coach Loma Bittick said. "They really had a desire to keep going, and it was a real battle. Kamiah is very similar to us, and they were really aggressive in attacking. We were really battling at the net."

On the night the Huskies recorded 119 attacks at the net. In their previous games they have been averaging around 80.

"That really says something about how physical it was at the net for us," Bittick said. "Every game we have played this week we have gotten better. Our motto at camp this summer was continuous improvement, and we have been really trying to keep our focus on that."

For the Huskies, Kacie Salove recorded a record-breaking 40 assists and seven aces.

"That is a record for us, as long as I have been here," Bittick said. "It takes everyone working together to get a number like that. It is awesome for Kacie, but it says more about us as a team than just that one person."

Andrea Rodriguez notched 21 kills and two blocks followed by Rebecca Cossel with 18 kills and two blocks. Josie Grim had eight blocks and two kills. Shannon

Huskies vie for position at state football tournament

The Marsing High School football cinched up a spot as the fourth seed in the 2A Western Idaho Conference with its Homecoming win over Cole Valley Christian on Oct. 8, they now prepare for first state play-in game since 2006.

The Huskies (3-5 overall, 2-3 2A WIC) prepare for their longest road trip of the season as they head to Kamiah (6-2 overall, 3-1 2A CIC) for a state play-in game against the 2A Central Idaho Conference Kubs. The Huskies will take the field on Saturday at 4 p.m. MDT at Kamiah High School, 1102 Hill St.

"Kamiah will be tough, we are going to start breaking down film right away," Wood said. "I think these guys are ready to go to the postseason. We started off at the bottom of the league this year and now we are fourth in the division, and this means a lot to the kids that are coming up through the school now."

The Kubs are coming off a 54-6 routing of non-conference Kellogg on Friday. They have outscored their opponents 250-60 this season. Their two losses came in a non-conference game against Waitsburg/Prescott (Waitsburg, WA) at the beginning of the season and a tight CIC game with Grangeville.

Their trip to Kamiah will be the first postseason appearance for the Huskies since 2006 when they lost to Orofino.

2006: Orofino 49, Marsing 14 — One week after securing a playoff spot by beating Nampa Christian 34-22 in a state play-in game, the Huskies were dispatched by the Maniacs in the first round of the 2A playoffs. Orofino's Ben Hosley gained 208 yards, single-handedly out-pacing the Huskies' running attack.

Shea McClellin, now a standout defensive end for Boise State ended his prep career with a 134-yard outing that included a 65-yard touchdown run. He also returned a kickoff 86 yards for a score

2001: Glens Ferry 55, Marsing 21 — The Huskies lost a first-round 2A state playoff game to Glens Ferry, 55-21. Cody Heller, now an assistant coach for his father, Don, with Marsing rushed for 75 yards on two carries. Korey Hall, a former standout linebacker for Boise State, rolled up 130 yards and scored four touchdowns for the Pilots.

1997: Although Marsing won the A-4 Western Idaho Conference championship, the Huskies were ineligible for the state playoffs because they were playing as an independent.

1989: Hagerman 16, Marsing 14 — After beating Raft River and Greenleaf Friends Academy to reach the A-4 state championship game, the Huskies, quarterbacked by Jaime Wood fell 16-14 to Hagerman, which won the first of two consecutive state titles.

Bill Barr was in his first year as Marsing's head coach. Earlier this season Barr faced off against Wood as coach of Nampa Christian.

It's the shoes

Kicking game gives Trojans rare edge

Special teams have helped Homedale High School build a special football season.

Placekicker Tanner Lair and punter Emilio Cuellar — both seniors — have had nary a miscue as the fourth-ranked Trojans have marched to a 6-2 record and a date in the 3A state playoffs.

Lair, who has rode size 12 neon-yellow Nike shoes to a flawless 29 point-after attempts and five field-goal attempts this year, has teamed with Cuellar to deprive opponents of favorable field position.

“I think there is some subconscious role,” the three-sport athlete said of his shoes’ impact on his kicking, “because I have yellow shoes and everyone is looking.”

The field position, in turn, has made life a little easier for the Trojans’ defense.

The kickers’ performance — bolstered by the conduct of holder Levi Elsberry and snappers Lane Matteson and Zac Lowder — has made special teams the chic assignment in Homedale.

“Field position is just huge in football, and anytime your special teams do well, you start taking pride in special teams, which is why what we truly tried to do to (is) make it one-third of the game and really make it count,” HHS second-year coach Matt Holtry said.

Under the guidance of unit coach Ken Nakis, Trojans special-teamers have realized the importance of their role. Unlike most high school programs, where the kicking game may be an after-thought, Lair and Cuellar have made it worthy of opponents’ attention.

The second-year starting kickers get the headlines because of their contributions, but everyone concerned — from the two seniors to the head coach — makes sure to point out the importance of Elsberry’s steady hand as a senior holder, the accuracy of the junior snappers and the resistance presented by the rest of the linemen.

“I trust my outside guys,” 48-minute man Cuellar said. “If they don’t hit (their man), Set up by fellow senior Levi Elsberry's sure-handed holds, Tanner Lair hasn't missed a kick this season.

Senior Emilio Cuellar's quick release has been crucial to punt coverage in 2010. I don't get the time to kick."

Cuellar, who starts at running back and linebacker, also sees time with other special team units. He's looking at walking on at Boise State next fall as a running back, but he won't scoff at a shot to punt for the Broncos.

"It's been huge for him to be a starting running back and a starting linebacker and take over the punt duties and be able to do that as effectively as he has," Holtry said.

Cuellar, who backed up punter Rodrigo Villarreal as a sophomore, has never been to a specialized training camp but has averaged 37.5 yards per punt on 17 tries this season. He booted three punts inside the 20-yard line against Weiser and Parma and also uncorked his longest punts of the season against those opponents (52 yards against Weiser, 55 against Parma).

"The way we set up our punt team, we set it up to be able to cover the field as soon as possible," Holtry said. "But in order to do that we need someone who is able to get the ball off quickly. And he does a great job of getting the ball off quickly."

Cuellar had three blocked punts in 28 attempts in 2009. None of his punts have been blocked this season, and he hasn't shanked a kick yet.

Lair has converted all 29 point-after attempts this season and also has a perfect record in five field-goal tries.

He didn't think about football until teammate Jonny Stacey's father, Steve, recruited him during the Nampa Christian game in 2009. He debuted against Vale and converted the first four PATs of his high school career.

He has hit 90.2 percent of his PATs (37-for-41) and all six of the field goals he has attempted during the past two seasons.

"Being able to go down the field and get three points and to know that we can kick off and pin a team deep with Tanner kicking off the way he does, it's a huge advantage in the whole scheme of things," Holtry said.

"That's a great feeling."

Adrian stays unbeaten in 1A HDL, owns spot in playoffs

The top two football teams in the 1A High Desert League will sit idle for a week before tackling the task of bringing home a championship.

Adrian and Crane both have byes this week after extending their respective unbeaten streaks Friday.

The Antelopes (7-1 overall, 5-0 1A HDL) ran wild against Mitchell-Spray, 34-14, to win their seventh consecutive game.

The defending league champion Mustangs (7-0, 5-0) throttled Prairie City in Crane, 66-6, for their seventh straight victory and 17th in the past 18 games dating to September 2009.

Crane and Adrian meet at Ward Field at 7 p.m. on Nov. 5 to decide the league championship and who will be the top seed in the 1A state playoffs. Both teams already have qualified for the state tournament, which begins next month. Dayville-Monument will be the No. 3 seed from the 1A HDL.

The Antelopes kept up their end of the bargain by shutting out the Loggers for the first half of the two teams' game Friday in Mitchell.

Adrian controlled the contest with its ground game, but put points on the board through the air.

the second quarter to give the Antelopes a 16-0 lead at halftime. Three of Purnell's four completions on the afternoon went for TDs.

The Antelopes rolled up all but 43 of their 489 offensive yards on the ground. Jeremy Price had 258 yards on 21 carries, but only Kurt Nielson found the end zone with a rushing attempt. He scored from 31 yards out 3½ minutes before Purnell ended the Antelopes' scoring with a 16-yard strike to Stones in the fourth quarter.

Mark Ishida returned a third-quarter kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown moments after the Loggers' Arnie Fox hooked up with Jon Davis for the first of his two touchdown passes.

Adrian emerged with the victory despite racking up 105 yards on 10 penalties. Purnell and the offense converted three out of five times on fourth down to maintain the momentum.

Defensively, the Antelopes stifled Mitchell-Spray's running game. Stones had three tackles for loss (TFL), and 2.5 of Dylan Osborn's 4.5 tackles also resulted in negative yardage for the Loggers.

Purnell led the defense with seven tackles, two assists and one TFL, while Ishida had 6.5 tackles and five assists.

Homedale's volleyball season ends

Trojans unable to close out match after pushing Pirates to brink

Payette High School dug its way out of a huge hole Wednesday to end Homedale's volleyball season.

The No. 3 seed Trojans built a 2-0 lead in a 3A District III Tournament elimination match at Fruitland High School only to see the Pirates rally for a 18-25, 22-25, 25-21, 25-22, 15-11 victory.

Caitlyn Johnson had 17 assists, 23 digs and served three aces, while Taylor Thomas (28 digs), Bryce Osborn (17 digs) and Megan Barraza (16 digs) also provided clutch defense.

Sydney Cornwall led the offense with 10 kills. Osborn added eight.

"The Lady Trojans definitely left everything on the floor (Wednesday)," first-year HHS coach Janel VanDyke said. "Every team member gave it their best. I couldn't be more pleased with them."

Homedale (5-11) entered the tournament as the No. 3 seed behind Parma and Fruitland, which wound up advancing to Wednesday's district title match. The Grizzlies prevailed.

strong service performance against Payette from Sarah Maggard. The senior outside hitter/defensive specialist served seven aces in Homedale's two district matches, including three Wednesday against the Pirates.

Thomas delivered seven kills against Payette, while Cornwall put up four blocks.

"The effort and determination they had all season was very inspiring," VanDyke said. "Of course we all wish it could have ended with a win, but it just didn't turn out that way. In my eyes they are still champions."

Oct. 19: Parma def. Homedale, 20-16, 25-23, 19-25, 25-16 — The Trojans' couldn't capitalize on the momentum of a well-played third set of an opening-round tournament match.

Osborn and Thomas had crucial kills, and the Trojans rolled off four straight points with Sarah Maggard serving in the third game.

But Parma took control of a tight fourth game, scoring 14 of the match's final 19 points to beat Homedale for the third time this season.

Osborn had six kills and Thomas added five. The pair scored 11 digs apiece. Maggard racked up four aces.

Johnson had 11 digs and nine assists.

"We had some really good moments against Parma," VanDyke said.

The Panthers, who were seeded second in the district tournament, finished the week by knocking off Payette for District III's second seed into the 3A state tournament. Fruitland beat Parma earlier for the district championship and the region's top seed to State.

Homedale, comprised of players who were unbeaten champions as sixth-graders, outscored opponents, 175-26, during the year.

Huskies stifled by New Plymouth

Marsing preps for state play-in game against Kamiah on Saturday

Marsing High School wrapped up their 2A Western Idaho Conference regular season in football with a 28-0 loss to New Plymouth on Friday night.

The Huskies (3-5 overall, 2-3 2A WIC) were held to 144 yards rushing and no passing yards from freshman quarterback Austin Williams. The Pilgrims were able to pick up 149 yards rushing with 196 yards of passing from quarterback Brady Harris.

On the opening kickoff, Jesus Lino was able to complete a return but the touchdown was nullified by a holding call. Overall, penalties hampered the Huskies, who received eight penalties for 127 lost yards.

"Really my guys played good tonight," Marsing coach Jaime Wood said. "The penalties killed us. It really cost us, I wouldn't say it cost us the game, but it hurt."

Lino picked up 70 rushing yards on 16 carries, Nathan Danner had 47 yards on seven carries. Williams made two passing attempts, one of which was intercepted during the third quarter by the Pilgrims' Tyler Filler.

"We ran that opening kickoff back and then it got called back. Those things hurt us," Wood said. "We had good rushing. We were in there for four-five-seven yards every carry. We never broke anything out, but we did well. We didn't have any passing, and that is something we will really have to work on. We have to be able to chuck it around."

The Huskies' defense held strong, picking up 43 tackles on the New Plymouth offense and tacking down Harris four times. Austin Glenn was able to break through to sack Harris twice, David Loeffler and Grayson Kendall each recorded sacks as well.

"New Plymouth is a good football team. But I'm telling everyone that the Marsing guys are a great football team. I think we earned a lot of respect from the New Plymouth coach (Porter Lacey). They waxed Nampa Christian more than they did us. They did the same thing to McCall," Wood said. "If these guys take the penalties out on the road, they will win over Kamiah. I don't know anything about psychology, but we are riding a wave. We are up and then we are down. If these guys had played like this against McCall they would have won."

New Plymouth was led by Harris, who marched into the end zone with runs of 32-yards and one yard. Harris was able to throw a 46-yard pass to Jake Hennegler and a 12-yard pass to Raymond Evans for touchdowns.

"I am proud of them. I am super proud of them. They didn't fold and they played hard," Wood said. "I wanted to give those seniors a win tonight here at Marsing. But we are in the postseason and that is what we have been shooting for."

✓ Marsing: Plays first state match against West Side on Friday afternoon

Malmberg and Kathlyn Welch each had two blocks. Candy Leon, who fields the libero slot on the team, brought in 10 digs against the Kubs.

"The girls were really ecstatic for the win," Bittick said. "One of the neatest things was we had about 20-30 parents and family members at the match. Some of the girls' brothers and sisters came over from the U of I and supported us. We have a really good group of parents here."

The Huskies prepare for top seeded West Side (13-2 overall, 6-0 2A SEI) of the 2A South East Idaho Conference on Friday afternoon at Buhl High School. The match is slated to begin at 1 p.m. The Pirates are undefeated this season in 2A SEI play.

"We haven't gotten a look at West Side yet, we are working on that," Bittick said. "We do know they are the first-place team out of their district. We will be ready for them, though."

The Pirates wrapped up their district tournament last week with a win over the Malad Dragons in the championship game of the 2A SEI. The Pirates swept Malad 25-13, 25-15, 25-17.

This year's state tournament places Marsing in the second session on Friday afternoon. With a win over West Side, they would play on Saturday at 11 a.m. against the winner in game

4 between Cole Valley Christian and Gooding.

If the Huskies were to lose to West Side, they would meet up with the team defeated in game 4 and play at 8 p.m. on Friday.

"This will be really neat for the girls," Bittick said. "They have worked really hard all season. I know they will play as hard as they can and do their best."

Commentary

Baxter Black, DVM

On the edge of common sense Giving

Last spring many criticized Florida strawberry growers for plowing under their crop when it was obvious that spending more money to pick and distribute the fruit would only add to their financial loss. They were called stingy and greedy by their detractors and told they should harvest the crop and give it to the needy. When I suggested the critics pay for the harvesting and distribution, then join with the farmers to give it to the needy, I was chastised by these do-gooders for my gullibility.

Recently I discovered a fine example of what I was hoping they might consider. A mutual effort for the betterment of our fellow man between farmers and a community in eastern Idaho. Local residents and volunteers are helping pack 300,000 food aid packets for victims of disaster and tragedy who are suffering, particularly children, from malnutrition and famine. These nine-ounce packets are protein and electrolyte-enriched dried potato flakes. The Idaho Potato Commission (farmers) put up part of the money, and the packs will be distributed by a national aid group. This sort of American generosity is typical of our country.

Every so often we hear the United Nations criticize the USA by saying we, as a percentage of Gross National Product (GNP), donate less aid than many U.N. members. That is like saying a farmer who donates 100 pounds of potatoes to the needy, donates less than a backyard gardener who donates 10 pounds. Who contributes more? I guess it depends on whether you view it from the critic's side or the side of the needy. But the 500-pound gorilla in the room that is the needy's saving grace is the generosity and private giving of the American citizen.

After the tragic Indonesian tsunami, our government initially pledged less than Germany, Australia or Japan. However, within six months, American private contributions had equaled the pledge of all three countries combined!

In times of crisis, even during our recession, American citizens dig in and donate. In Louisiana, Haiti, North Korea, Africa, all over the world, the generosity of the American people is recognized and counted on. We citizens, who work to earn all this money that the government takes from us and then spends, sit at home watching our leaders expound in numbers of millions and billions and trillions that we are spending. The amounts boggle our mind. We worry how we will ever dig ourselves out of this black hole of debt. And yet ...

I just read that our ships have arrived in flood-ravaged Pakistan with food, supplies, rescue helicopters and 1,000 Marines. We, the taxpayers, have pledged $150 million in emergency assistance.

"Only $150 million? Is that all??" And not a one of us says, "Wait a minute! We are hemorrhaging money. I'm behind on my credit card. How can we afford to do this?"

The answer is, we just do it. Because conservative or liberal, city or country, rich or poor, we know it is our responsibility.

Where does this generosity come from? In survey after survey by those who are professional fundraisers for non-political worthy causes, the single-biggest factor that determines who is the most likely to give time or money is ... they are regular churchgoers.

"Under God, indivisible, and there to lend a hand."

Not important ... but possibly of interest Road weary

We were driving somewhere. At a stoplight, I noticed the young woman in the car next to us was staring down at her lap at something she was holding. Chances were pretty good, I thought, that she was texting.

"I see where the city council in a local town passed a law against texting while driving," I said. "I think that's a good idea."

"I don't know if it's a good idea or not," responded my mate "I saw where there was a study that showed that in areas where they have laws against texting while driving, the accident rate actually went up. The report said that's because people who are texting while driving now try to hide what they are doing better and pay less attention to driving."

Sometimes Sara disagrees with me just because she believes it is her duty to be contrary. In this case, however, she seemed to be disagreeing with conviction.

"So you are saying since people might continue to break the law, there shouldn't be a law?" I asked.

"Well it doesn't make much sense to have a law that's supposed to reduce danger if it actually increases danger," she said.

"If that's the case, since people keep drinking and driving, maybe we should repeal DUI laws," I said.

"It just doesn't seem to be a good idea to pass a law that might actually create more accidents," she said.

"I wonder if those are really valid statistics," I said. "And if they are, then the penalties for texting and driving should be so tough even the morons will quit. Maybe it should be like back in junior high when teachers caught someone with a squirt gun. They just confiscated the gun, dropped it on the floor and stomped it into tiny pieces. If a police officer had the authority to just take the texting drivers's $400 iPhone or Blackberry, and stomp it into itsy bitsy pieces, word would get around, and I suspect there would be less texting and driving."

"Maybe that would help," she responded. "But it really doesn't make any difference," she said.

"Why's that?" I asked.

"Well, the texters aren't the only problems on the road," she said. "There are all those drivers who can't pat their heads and rub their stomachs at the same time who are trying to drive and talk on their cell phones."

"Don't remind me."

"And," she said. "Depending on the time of day you get out on the road in your car, a high number of the other drivers are drunk."

"That's true."

"Plus," she noted, "there are drivers stoned on meth — or maybe a combination of booze and drugs."

"I can't disagree with that."

"Plus," she said, "there's that growing group of drivers who believe their time is more valuable than the time of everyone else on the road, who speed, jump from lane-to-lane and run stop signs and red lights."

"Yep."

"And the scariest part is there are some drivers who are drunk and/or stoned, texting and/or talking on their cell phones while speeding and running red lights and/or stop signs."

"When you consider all that," she said, "It's a wonder any of us who go out on the road survive."

"You certainly brightened my day," I said.

From Washington Got a complaint? Turn it into a vote in Tuesday's election

At times, people ask, "Why vote? My one little vote does not really make a difference." The question is often raised by those frustrated with the course of our government. But, voting is central to effecting change. It is also essential to vote because each vote is meaningful. Voting is a right we cannot take for granted, and Americans continue to make sacrifices to protect our freedoms, including the right to vote. For whatever reasons a person votes in the coming elections on Tuesday, communities, states and the country need broad involvement in the upcoming elections to set the best direction for our nation.

Recent examples of close votes illustrate the importance of voting and the significance of individual votes. In 2006, legislation to authorize Congress to prohibit the desecration of the U.S. flag failed to pass the Senate by one vote. President George W. Bush ultimately won the 2000 Presidential election by one electoral vote. Last December, Senate debate on the health care law was brought to an end by one vote.

The right to vote should also not be undervalued. This year marks the 90th anniversary of women gaining suffrage in the U.S., and the 140th anniversary of the Fifteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, protecting the right to vote for all Americans. With the passage of time, it is often easy to forget that there was a time when all citizens did not have a say in determining their representation and could not cast ballots. As Americans, we also have more of a voice in determining the leadership of our nation than individuals living in some other countries. Additionally, thousands of U.S. service members are serving overseas defending our freedoms, including the right to vote, that we hold dear. American families across this nation are making daily sacrifices awaiting the safe return of their loved ones.

As Election Day nears, it is important to learn about candidates and issues and participate in the electoral process. Students often receive lessons about the importance of voting, an early lesson that many may forget later in life. However, we can serve as examples to younger generations by gathering important information and voting.

The official voting information Web site for the State of Idaho can be accessed at www.idahovotes.gov. The Web site provides election forms, voter registration information, polling place locations and other voting information. Also, it is important to remember proper identification when going to the polls. Personal identification is required to vote in Idaho. Photo identification, including an Idaho driver's license or photo identification card, a U.S. passport or federal photo identification card, a tribal photo

Credit score isn't true barometer of fiscal responsibility

Dear Dave,
How will it affect my auto insurance if I'm debt-free, and have a zero, or low, FICO score?
— Anonymous

Dear Anonymous,
There's good news and bad news. The bad news is that it will probably go up. The good news is that it won't go up nearly as much as the interest you'd have to pay to some bank to maintain your credit score!

My personal insurance is higher, because I don't have a credit score. That's because I don't borrow money anymore, and haven't borrowed for several years. But the FICO score has way too much control over our lives these days. It's just not an accurate measure of how well you handle your money. You can easily have a really high FICO score and still be losing financially.

Think about this. If I handed you a million dollars, you're FICO score wouldn't change one point. The only thing a FICO score really does is measure your interaction with debt. That's why I call it the "I love debt score." It's really a pretty bad idea for other reasons, too. It doesn't take into account the fact that you may have been smart with your money and accumulated some wealth along the way!

Letter to the editor

Daughter touched by recollection of Walt Adams

The following letter was written to The Owyhee Avalanche columnist Wayne Cornell after his Oct. 13 column "Walt Adams holds court".
— Ed.

I was surprised and delighted at seeing my dad (Walt Adams) mentioned in your commentary column. I am daughter No. 3, born in Homedale (1934) and remember the way it was growing up then.

I appreciated your article knowing how much dad enjoyed the time he spent sitting on his porch in Silver City visiting with friends and the tourists walking by who sometimes would stop and ask him a question. If he didn't know the answer, he'd come up with one that was hilarious to us.
One answer to a question asked about holes in some of the rocks about town was a "rock worm" he invented that ate through the rocks. Actually, they were holes made by miner's drills.
He and mom looked forward to the summers spent tending to their museum in the old schoolhouse. They would have their Red Scout loaded down and ready to head to the hills each Memorial Day weekend, as soon as the county road crew scraped the snow away to open the road over New York Summit.

Many memories were made those 30 years of summers and are still being made by grandkids, great-grandkids and great-great-grandkids — seven generations.
Dad was actually born in Silver City at his grandmother's home. It is one of the homes that has been restored and still stands. However, his family did reside in DeLamar.
He passed away at his Homedale residence at 94.
His family remembers him saying, "I'm glad I'm going out and not coming in."
I'm beginning to realize just what he meant.

Foreclosure moratorium would slow housing recovery

by Robert Romano

In light of a 50-state joint investigation into the alleged improper filing of foreclosure claims by financial institutions, several Capitol Hill lawmakers are now calling for a national moratorium on the entire foreclosure process. Those include embattled Reps. Alan Grayson (D-Fla.) and Gabrielle Giffords (D-Ariz.), among others, who want to shut down foreclosures for an indefinite period of time.
If Congress shuts down the foreclosure process, it also would have to shut down the foreclosure sale process, which in the second quarter accounted for over $43 billion of home sales, according to RealtyTrac. Distressed institutions attempting to dig their way out of the financial crisis would be forced to keep non-performing assets on the books every quarter while a moratorium was in place. That could total more than $150 billion annually for every year a moratorium is in place — all to allow delinquent borrowers to stay in homes they cannot afford.
While a moratorium was in effect, prospective homebuyers would also have to put their plans on hold. In short, the housing market would seize up.
Moreover, a foreclosure moratorium would create an incentive not to pay one's mortgage, plain and simple. There would be disincentives against delinquent borrowers from even doing basic home upkeep. This would further depress the quality of neighborhoods, causing prices to depreciate even more than they already have. This, in turn, would place more pressure on underwater borrowers, causing more strategic defaults.

An indefinite foreclosure moratorium would actually increase the number of overall foreclosures that ultimately occur. That's very bad policy.
While everyone would rightly be sympathetic if foreclosures were filed in error, resulting in families being thrown out of homes they were current in the payments on, that's not what appears to have happened here. "As was the case for our judicial state review, our initial assessment findings show the basis for our foreclosure decisions is accurate," Bank of America spokesman Dan Frahm said on Oct. 17. The bank is once again resubmitting foreclosure affidavits after it had temporarily suspended foreclosure operations across the country.
So, it appears properties have been legitimately foreclosed upon, but in some cases the paperwork may not have been properly processed.
Even achieving a temporary moratorium for 60 to 90 days is something lawmakers want credit for "helping" Americans to keep homes they will ultimately be thrown out of anyway. In 2009, California imposed a 90-day moratorium on foreclosures, requiring banks to modify mortgages for distressed borrowers. Unfortunately, the modifications failed, and after the moratorium expired, the march of foreclosures continued, with over 65,000 in California during the second quarter alone.

Government and other institutional efforts at forestalling foreclosures have slowed up the overall process of the housing market correcting by almost a year. Bear in mind that depending on the locality, a foreclosure can take months or more than a year to initiate. This has already had the effect of artificially increasing the supply of foreclosed properties, further depreciating prices — all contrary to the stated goals of elected officials.
In fact, the current spate of foreclosures, with more than 347,000 in September according to RealtyTrac, can in large part be owed to government continuing to stand in the way of the process moving forward. And all government wants to do is slow it down even more. "Robo signers" is just the latest excuse to do so.
Perhaps what is really needed is an indefinite moratorium on all government intervention into the housing market. Government did everything it could to blow up the housing bubble with easy money and loose lending standards, and after it popped, it has done everything to prevent the market from correcting itself. It's time for government to finally get out of the way.

✓ Vote: Elections major part of self-governance Founding Fathers sought

identification card, current student photo identification or signing a Personal Identification Affidavit are required to vote.
I share the frustration of many Americans with the partisanship leading up to the elections. However, it is comforting to know that, despite the divisiveness right now, we live in a nation where people can constructively disagree. No matter the outcome of the elections, peaceful political discourse will continue. We also cannot lose sight of the continued sacrifices to protect this cherished freedom. Every vote is important. It is essential to voice one's views through voting, as it contributes to the strength of our nation.

The Founding Fathers understood that the people's vote is the underlying constraint on government gone astray.

Self-governance helps guide the course of our nation. Our system works best when active and broad participation is matched with a transparent and productive debate. I am optimistic that understanding and collaboration will prevail, and we can work together to chart a productive course for our nation.

Owyhee towns miss heated council races

Marsing doesn’t have a race this year for its mayor and council seats. Homedale is missing a race and a candidate.

In Marsing, Gene Showalter is the lone candidate for mayor. Incumbent Harvey Grimme and newcomer Elke Agueros are running for the two available councils seats. Present Mayor Roy Herman elected not to run for the Nov. 5 election bid.

Gene Showalter served on the council for over 10 years and as mayor for one term. He farmed in the Kuna area and moved to Marsing in 1965. He is retired after serving with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Showalter said he chose to run for mayor because of the lack of interest in the races this fall. He said residents of a town should be involved in their city government and if a concerned candidate would have announced that interest, he probably would have refrained from running.

In Homedale, incumbents Herb Fritzley and Frank Haylett are running for two of the three seats available. Present councilman Tom Murray chose not to vie for his position. That slot would be available through a write-in, Murray might continue to serve in the office.

Herb Fritzley was chosen to fill a council position and served two terms after that. He is principal of the Homedale Elementary School. Fritzley said he chose to run once more because of several projects he would like to see through, including new wells for Homedale, the sewage treatment plant, and other matters. While Homedale is seeing some rough economic times, said Fritzley, the city is run well with a new seal coating project underway. The current liability insurance dilemma has made it difficult for city councils in Idaho, but people must continue to involve themselves in city government.

Haylett was born in Homedale, is married with four children. He served for nine years on the Homedale School Board and has worked for 20 years as a teacher at the Marsing Job Corps.

Homedale may go to court with IHSAA

The Homedale Trojans are scheduled to play Sugar-Salem in Middleton on Saturday in the State A-3 quarterfinals. If that game takes place there, the Homedale School District may also bring suit against the Idaho High School Activities Association.

The Homedale School Board has directed district attorney Richard Eismann to write a letter to the IHSAA, protesting what they feel is discrimination in scheduling the quarterfinal match at a different field than the host team’s,. at a trustee meeting on Oct. 14, Superintendent Deward Bell said he felt the IHSAA board established the championship pairings so that any A-3 leader in football could host an opposing team in their own stadium, unless the team was Homedale.

The cause for the possible discrimination was the fact that Homedale had won the right to host the championship games for the last 11 out of 13 years and coaches from eastern Idaho did not want to play the Trojans on a home-field advantage. Sugar-Salem is the District 6 champion.

Rimrock FFA goes national

The Rimrock FFA Chapter will receive a bronze award at the National Future Farmers Association Convention in November. The convention will be held in Kansas City, Missouri. The National Chapter Award is given to those chapters that have demonstrated leadership and cooperation among its members for the past years.

This is the first time that this chapter has received this recognition. The group will be presented a plaque at the convention, and Debbie Bennett will represent Rimrock at the ceremony.

Bennett, Carla Sellman, Dynel Wood, and Sandy Black will represent the chapter at KC. Carla will fly down several days in advance to participate in the American Royal Livestock Exposition.

Homecoming said success; Trojans win game 27-6

Homecoming for past and present students of Homedale High School was a big success with Homedale winning the football game with Adrian 27-6.

Activities for the big day started the first of the week with the freshmen acting as slaves to the upperclassmen. They were required to dress in funny clothes and do odd jobs as required by their masters, the upperclassmen.

The cheerleaders led the students through their traditional snake dance and bonfire pep rally Thursday night. The bonfire was built by the freshmen on the land across from the high school owned by the beet company and was lit by Dick Frazier, co-captain of the football team.

Parkins named member of reclamation board

The 24th annual convention of the Idaho State Reclamation Association was held Monday and Tuesday at the Owyhee Hotel, Boise, with discussions on all phases of Gem State reclamation.

Arlie Parkins, Marsing, was elected a member of the board of directors, succeeding Ray Pershall, whose term expired.

KTVB television station takes pictures of Silver City

Silver City was buzzing with activity over the weekend, according to Mildretta Adams.

Nancy Clerk and her staff from KTVB television station were there to complete the filming of scenes for their new Treasure Valley Expedition series.

Interior scenes of some of the buildings were taken earlier in the fall.

The feature on Silver City will be shown on the last Saturday in May, 1961.

Films taken last weekend included the old townsite of Fairview on War Eagle mountain, the Cumberland Mill building, the Golden Chariot, Ida Elmore, Empire City and Poor Man mines.

Sunday, the group journeyed to Dewey, Wagontown and Delamar, filming such historic spots as Discovery Bar, Boonville and Happy Camp. Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Statham of Boise acted as guides.

75 attend historical society meet at Murphy

Approximately 75 persons attended the meeting of the Owyhee County Historical Society at the courthouse in Murphy October 21. The membership of the society was raised to 193 during the meeting.

Time was allotted for four committees to hold open meetings. Reports were given to the society by the chairmen, who are as follows: Mrs. Mildretta Adams, museum; Mrs. Joyce Ford, pioneer families;, Mrs. Wilma Statham, historical sites and buildings; and Mrs. Elizabeth Grant, library.

A program was initiated for a society newsletter. The first issue will be published during the spring of 1961. Mrs. Mary Grammar is chairman of the publishing committee.

Owyhee County territorial centennial committee chairman, Walter Yarbrough of Grand View, was present and spoke to the group on possibilities of the 1963 celebration.

A committee volunteered to work with the centennial group. Volunteers were Mr. and Mrs. Vic Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Adams, Mrs. and Mrs. Gerte Damina, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Parkins. Mrs. Ford is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Hugh Nettleton presented a program for the group, and the refreshment committee served under the direction of Mrs. Orville Soper, chairman.

WHO SAYS WE ARE POOR? The total amount of property, real and personal, in Owyhee County, according to the census returns, foots up the snug sum of one million seven hundred and forty-seven thousand, three hundred and eighty-eight dollars, which being equally divided among the population, would give to every man, woman, and child in our county the respectable sum of eight hundred and thirty-two dollars. But as we are somewhat in debt, let us settle up and see how we stand: The debt of Owyhee County on the 12th of the present month was forty-four thousand, one hundred and thirty-one dollars and fifty-one cents, being a fraction over twenty-one dollars to each inhabitant. Subtracting this from the eight hundred and thirty-two dollars we have a balance in our favor of eight hundred and eleven dollars, for ourselves, our wives, our babies, our Chinamen, and “our neighbors as ourselves.” We have also twenty-nine establishments of industry, representing a capital of seven hundred and six thousand, six hundred dollars, giving constant employment to about three hundred men. Our agricultural reports show about seven hundred acres under cultivation. The number of families is four hundred and thirty-four; the umber of dwelling houses, five hundred and eleven.

BROTHEL LICENSES. Sheriff’s Office, Silver City, I. T., Oct. 25th, 1870.

Ed. Avalanche: The last number of the Avalanche contains an editorial growl at the Sheriff of this county for not colleting licenses of keepers of brothels and bawdy houses. Had you examined the law, it is probable the article would not have been written.

The revenue law of this Territory, sec. 88, says: “No Chinaman, Malayan or other person of the Mongolian race shall be allowed to take gold from the mines of this Territory – or allowed to hold or work a mining claim therein – or to keep any house, shop, or place (wherein games of chance are played) brothel or bawdy house, unless he, she or they shall have first procured a license therefore.”

Section 90 of the same Act provides amendment that at the present to be paid for such licenses shall be at the rate, &c., &c.

Thus you will see that the law only apples to Chinamen, Malaysans, and other persons of the Mongolian race. I know of no law which requires white persons to pay a license for keeping gambling and bawdy houses. The sections of the revenue law above referred to are repealed by an Act of Congress passed at the last session, which will be found on page 366 of the U.S. Statutes at large, 1869-1870.

I am advised by the District Attorney for this Judicial District, through his deputy for this county, that the above mentioned sections of our revenue law are a nullity, and until I find some plain and positive authority for the collection of such licenses I shall not attempt it.

I am well aware that some of my friends (?) are greatly troubled at my seeming negligence in the matter, but I presume they are not fully posted on the law, or that they doubt the power of Congress to repeal an Act passed by a Territorial Legislature.

I shall at all times endeavor to do my whole duty as an officer. If I fail to do so, I shall not feel offended at having my delinquencies called to the attention of the people.

W. S. Stevens, Sheriff Owyhee County.
MR. SHERIFF: Might it not be possible that you presume too much in supporting that we did not read the law before writing the article in question? You distort friendly fact into fancied injuries. Bless your wounded conscience! We didn’t growl at all. Here is a brief recapitulation of the argument used in the obnoxious editorial, which we defy any one to prove inconsistent with the law bearing upon the case: First – The statutes of Idaho provide that keepers of brothels shall pay license. Second – Congress prohibits any discrimination between Chinese and other races. Third – If license can be legally collected from white brothel keepers, it can be collected from Chinese, and vice versa. Now then, where is the “growl?”

PUBLIC NOTICE OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Four amendments to the Idaho Constitution will appear on the November 2, 2010 general election ballot. These amendments have been proposed to the people for ratification following action by the legislature. The proposed amendments, the Legislative Council's Statements of Meaning and Purpose and Result to be Accomplished, and the Statements For and the Statements Against are listed as follows:

S.J.R. 101
Text of Proposed Amendment
IN THE SENATE SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 101 BY STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION 10, ARTICLE IX, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO TO PERMIT THE BOARD OF REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO TO IMPOSE RATES OF TUITION AND FEES ON ALL STUDENTS ENROLLED IN THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AS AUTHORIZED BY LAW; STATING THE QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORATE; DIRECTING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO PREPARE THE STATEMENTS REQUIRED BY LAW AND DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO PUBLISH THE AMENDMENT AND ARGUMENTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

SECTION 1. That Section 10, Article IX, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows: Section 10. STATE UNIVERSITY--LOCATION, REGENTS, TUITION, FEES AND LANDS. The location of the University of Idaho, as established by existing laws, is hereby confirmed. All the rights, immunities, franchises, and endowments, heretofore granted thereto by the territory of Idaho are hereby perpetuated unto the said university. The regents shall have the general supervision of the university, and the control and direction of all the funds of, and appropriations to, the university, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The regents may impose rates of tuition and fees on all students enrolled in the university as authorized by law. No university lands shall be sold for less than ten dollars per acre, and in subdivisions not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, to any one person, company or corporation.

Ballot Question

“Shall Section 10, Article IX, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to permit the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho to impose rates of tuition and fees on all students enrolled in the University of Idaho as authorized by law?”

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning, Purpose and Result to be Accomplished S.J.R. 101

This proposed amendment will clarify that the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho may charge students tuition, as authorized by law. Currently, the University of Idaho charges student fees to undergraduate students, but not tuition. Student fees cannot be used to pay for classroom instruction. All of the other state-supported colleges and universities in Idaho have the authority to charge tuition, and this amendment specifies that the University of Idaho will have the same authority.

Legislative Council's Statements FOR the Proposed Amendment

1. Currently the University of Idaho can charge student fees, but those fees cannot be used to help pay for the cost of classroom instruction. This amendment will allow the University of Idaho to charge tuition, which can be used to pay for classroom instruction, a practice that is allowed at all other state-supported Idaho colleges and universities.
2. This amendment will not establish any rates of tuition or fees. The authority for determining rates of tuition and fees will continue to rest with the State Board of Education, sitting as the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho.
3. This amendment allows all Idaho's higher education state-supported institutions the uniform authority to charge tuition.

Statements AGAINST the Proposed Amendment

1. The University of Idaho is Idaho's land-grant university and predates statehood. The framers of the Constitution envisioned a free education for University of Idaho undergraduate students, and that historic precedent should not be changed.
2. Rather than amending the Constitution, the state could provide the additional funding to cover the costs of classroom instruction at the University of Idaho.
3. Changes to the Constitution should be made only for major issues of interest to the state or in the event of a constitutional crisis.

H.J.R. 4
Text of Proposed Amendment
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4 BY REVENUE AND TAXATION COMMITTEE

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION 3C, ARTICLE VIII, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, RELATING TO HOSPITALS AND HEALTH SERVICES TO AUTHORIZE PUBLIC HOSPITALS, ANCILLARY TO THEIR OPERATIONS AND IN FURTHERANCE OF HEALTH CARE NEEDS IN THEIR SERVICE AREAS, TO INCUR INDEBTEDNESS OR LIABILITY TO PURCHASE, CONTRACT, LEASE OR OTHERWISE ACQUIRE FACILITIES, EQUIPMENT, TECHNOLOGY AND REAL PROPERTY FOR HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS, PROVIDED THAT NO AD VALOREM TAX REVENUES SHALL BE USED FOR

SUCH ACTIVITIES; STATING THE QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORATE; DIRECTING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO PREPARE THE STATEMENTS REQUIRED BY LAW; AND DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO PUBLISH THE AMENDMENT AND ARGUMENTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

SECTION 1. That Section 3C, Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows: SECTION 3C. HOSPITALS AND HEALTH SERVICES AUTHORIZED--ACTIVITIES AND FINANCING. Provided that no ad valorem tax revenues shall be used for activities authorized by this section, public hospitals, ancillary to their operations and in furtherance of health care needs in their service areas, may: (i) incur indebtedness or liability to purchase, contract, lease or construct or otherwise acquire facilities, equipment, technology and real property for health care operations as provided by law; (ii) acquire, construct, install and equip facilities or projects to be financed for, or to be leased, sold or otherwise disposed of to persons, associations or corporations other than municipal corporations and may, in the manner prescribed by law, finance the costs thereof; (iii) engage in shared services and other joint or cooperative ventures; (iv) enter into joint ventures and partnerships; (v) form or be a shareholder of corporations or a member of limited liability companies; (vi) have members of its governing body or its officers or administrators serve as directors, managers, officers or employees of any venture, association, partnership, corporation or limited liability company as authorized by this section; (vii) own interests in partnerships, corporations and limited liability companies. Any obligations incurred pursuant to this section shall be payable solely from charges, rents or payments derived from the existing facilities and the facilities or projects financed thereby and shall not be secured by the full faith and credit or the taxing power of the county, hospital taxing district, the state, or any other political subdivision; and provided further, that any county or public hospital taxing district contracting such indebtedness shall own its just proportion to the whole amount so invested. The authority granted by this section shall be exercised for the delivery of health care and related service and with the prior approval of the governing body of the county, hospital district or other governing body of a public hospital. No provisions of this Constitution including, but not limited to Sections 3 and 4 of Article VIII, and Section 4 of Article XII, shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority granted under this section.

Ballot Question

“Shall Section 3C, Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to authorize public hospitals, ancillary to their operations and in furtherance of health care needs in their service areas, to incur indebtedness or liability to purchase, contract, lease or construct or otherwise acquire facilities, equipment, technology and real property for health care operations, provided that no ad valorem tax revenues shall be used for such activities?”

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning, Purpose and Result to Be Accomplished H.J.R. 4

This proposed amendment will allow public hospitals to acquire facilities, equipment, technology and real property through a variety of means that aid the public hospital operations, as long as the acquisitions are paid for solely from charges, rents or payments derived from the existing or financed facilities and are not funded by property taxes. Under current Idaho constitutional provisions, public hospitals, as subdivisions of the state of Idaho, have limited ability to incur debt without the approval of a two-thirds vote at an election held for that purpose. This proposed amendment will provide a limited alternative to that two-thirds vote requirement. The use of tax dollars to finance these kinds of investments is prohibited.

Legislative Council's Statements FOR the Proposed Amendment

1. The proposed amendment will allow Idaho's public hospitals, which are primarily located in small towns and rural areas, to invest in new medical equipment, facilities and technology to better meet the health care needs of patients in their communities, strengthening Idaho's entire health care system.
2. The proposed amendment will help give public hospitals the resources they need to attract the best medical personnel, spur the economy by creating jobs, and increase operational efficiency through long-term contracts.
3. The proposed amendment keeps in place the safeguards provided in the Idaho Constitution in two ways. First, no tax dollars can be used to finance these investments. Second, the amendment strictly forbids obligating taxpayers or any state, county or other governmental entity with these investments.

Statements AGAINST the Proposed Amendment

1. The existing Idaho constitutional requirement mandating a two-thirds assent of the voters before a public hospital can enter into long-term debt is an important safeguard for all Idaho citizens.
2. Adoption of the proposed amendment will limit the right of voters to approve certain debt incurred by the public hospitals.
3. Changes to the Constitution should be made only for major issues of interest to the state or in the event of a constitutional crisis.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 5 BY REVENUE AND TAXATION COMMITTEE

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VIII, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, BY THE ADDITION OF A NEW SECTION 3E, ARTICLE VIII, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, RELATING TO REVENUE BOND FINANCING OF POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS OF THE STATE AND REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITIES TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF REVENUE AND SPECIAL FACILITY BONDS BY POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS OF THE STATE AND REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITIES AS DEFINED BY LAW, IF OPERATING AN AIRPORT TO ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT, INSTALL, AND EQUIP LAND, FACILITIES, BUILDINGS, PROJECTS OR OTHER PROPERTY, WHICH ARE HEREBY DEEMED TO BE FOR A PUBLIC PURPOSE, TO BE FINANCED FOR, OR TO BE LEASED, SOLD OR OTHERWISE DISPOSED OF TO PERSONS, ASSOCIATIONS OR CORPORATIONS, OR TO BE HELD BY THE SUBDIVISION OR REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITY, AND MAY IN THE MANNER PRESCRIBED BY LAW ISSUE REVENUE AND SPECIAL FACILITY BONDS TO FINANCE THE COSTS THEREOF, PROVIDED THAT ANY SUCH BONDS SHALL BE PAYABLE SOLELY FROM FEES, CHARGES, RENTS, PAYMENTS, GRANTS, OR ANY OTHER REVENUES DERIVED FROM THE AIRPORT OR ANY OF ITS FACILITIES, STRUCTURES, SYSTEMS, OR PROJECTS, OR FROM ANY LAND, FACILITIES, BUILDINGS, PROJECTS OR OTHER PROPERTY FINANCED BY SUCH BONDS, AND SHALL NOT BE SECURED BY THE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OR THE TAXING POWER OF THE SUBDIVISION OR REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITY; STATING THE QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORATE; DIRECTING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO PREPARE THE STATEMENTS REQUIRED BY LAW; AND DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO PUBLISH THE AMENDMENT AND ARGUMENTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

SECTION 1. That Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a NEW SECTION, to be known and designated as Section 3E, Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho and to read as follows: SECTION 3E. AIRPORTS AND AIR NAVIGATION FACILITIES--AIRPORT RELATED PROJECTS--REVENUE AND SPECIAL FACILITY BOND FINANCING. Political subdivisions of the state and regional airport authorities as defined by law, if operating an airport, may acquire, construct, install, and equip land, facilities, buildings, projects or other property, which are hereby deemed to be for a public purpose, to be financed for, or to be leased, sold or otherwise disposed of to persons, associations or corporations, or to be held by the subdivision or regional airport authority, and may in the manner prescribed by law issue revenue and special facility bonds to finance the costs thereof; provided that any such bonds shall be payable solely from fees, charges, rents, payments, grants, or any other revenues derived from the airport or any of its facilities, structures, systems, or projects, or from any land, facilities, buildings, projects or other property financed by such bonds, and shall not be secured by the full faith and credit or the taxing power of the subdivision or regional airport authority. No provision of this Constitution including, but not limited to, Sections 3 and 4 of Article VIII and Section 4 of Article XII, shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority granted under this section.

Ballot Question

“Shall Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended by the addition of a new Section 3E, to provide for the issuance of revenue and special facility bonds by political subdivisions of the state and regional airport authorities as defined by law, if operating an airport to acquire, construct, install, and equip land, facilities, buildings, projects or other property, which are hereby deemed to be for a public purpose, to be financed for, or to be leased, sold or otherwise disposed of to persons, associations or corporations, or to be held by the subdivision or regional airport authority, and may in the manner prescribed by law issue revenue and special facility bonds to finance the costs thereof; provided that any such bonds shall be payable solely from fees, charges, rents, payments, grants, or any other revenues derived from the airport or any of its facilities, structures, systems, or projects, or from any land, facilities, buildings, projects or other property financed by such bonds, and shall not be secured by the full faith and credit or the taxing power of the subdivision or regional airport authority?”

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning, Purpose and Result to be Accomplished H.J.R. 5

Currently, local governmental entities that operate airports and regional airport authorities cannot incur indebtedness without the approval of a two-thirds vote at an election held for that purpose. This proposed amendment will allow local governmental entities that operate airports and regional airport authorities to issue revenue and special facility bonds to acquire, construct, install and equip land, facilities, buildings, projects or other property. Voter approval will not be required to incur such indebtedness, as long as the bonds are paid for by fees, charges, rents, payments, grants or other revenues derived from the airport or its facilities. The use of tax dollars to repay such bonds is prohibited.

Legislative Council's Statements FOR the Proposed Amendment

1. Public airports should have the ready ability to construct needed facilities, such as terminals, runways, parking structures and hangars, which provide travelers with better services and accommodations and attract industries to Idaho as long as the users pay for these facilities.
2. Political subdivisions and regional airport authorities need the ability to efficiently address operational needs as they arise. Adoption of this amendment will provide this ability without the use of tax dollars to repay any debt or liability incurred.
3. The inability of political subdivisions and regional airport authorities to incur indebtedness and liability without voter approval has been a contributing factor in driving regional aviation-related industries to conduct business in neighboring states. If the proposed amendment is not adopted, Idaho could continue to lose similar economic development opportunities.
4. Public airports are a vital part of economic development and commerce in the state of Idaho. In 2009, aviation contributed an estimated $2.1 billion to Idaho's economy. Properties and facilities funded by special facility bonds will attract and expand industries, such as maintenance, manufacturing and cargo operations, which will create new jobs and foster economic development in Idaho. Modern and efficient airports are essential to Idaho's prosperity.

Statements AGAINST the Proposed Amendment

1. The existing Idaho constitutional requirement mandating a two-thirds assent of the voters before a political subdivision or regional airport authority can incur debt is an important safeguard for all Idaho citizens.
2. Adoption of the proposed amendment will allow political subdivisions and regional airport authorities to acquire, construct, install and equip land, facilities, buildings and projects that are not specifically limited to airport operations.
3. Buildings and land owned by the government are not taxed and therefore provide no revenues to schools, cities, counties or other levying authorities. Adoption of the proposed amendment could result in an increase in property exempt from taxation.
4. Changes to the Constitution should be made only for major issues of interest to the entire state or in the event of a constitutional crisis.

Text of Proposed Amendment
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7 BY REVENUE AND TAXATION COMMITTEE

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VIII, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, BY THE ADDITION OF A NEW SECTION 3D, ARTICLE VIII, RELATING TO AUTHORIZED INDEBTEDNESS FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC SYSTEMS, TO PROVIDE THAT ANY CITY OWNING A MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC SYSTEM MAY ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT, INSTALL AND EQUIP ELECTRIC GENERATING, TRANSMISSION AND DISTRIBUTION FACILITIES FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUPPLYING ELECTRICITY TO CUSTOMERS LOCATED WITHIN THE SERVICE AREA OF EACH SYSTEM ESTABLISHED BY LAW AND FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST THEREOF, ISSUE REVENUE BONDS WITH THE ASSENT OF A MAJORITY OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS VOTING AT AN ELECTION HELD AS PROVIDED BY LAW AND INCUR INDEBTEDNESS OR LIABILITY UNDER AGREEMENTS TO PURCHASE, SHARE, EXCHANGE OR TRANSMIT WHOLESAL E ELECTRICITY FOR THE USE AND BENEFIT OF CUSTOMERS LOCATED WITHIN SUCH SERVICE AREA AND PROVIDED THAT ANY REVENUE BONDS, INDEBTEDNESS OR LIABILITY SHALL BE PAYABLE SOLELY FROM THE RATES, CHARGES OR REVENUES DERIVED FROM THE MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC SYSTEM AND SHALL NOT BE SECURED BY THE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OR THE TAXING POWER OF THE CITY, THE STATE OR ANY POLITICAL SUBDIVISION; STATING THE QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORATE; DIRECTING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO PREPARE THE STATEMENTS REQUIRED BY LAW; AND DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO PUBLISH THE AMENDMENT AND ARGUMENTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

SECTION 1. That Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a NEW SECTION, to be known and designated as Section 3D, Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho and to read as follows:

SECTION 3D. MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC SYSTEMS--AUTHORIZED INDEBTEDNESS. Notwithstanding the limitations and requirements of Section 3, Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho, any city owning a municipal electric system may: (a) acquire, construct, install and equip electric generating, transmission and distribution facilities for the purpose of supplying electricity to customers located within the service area of each system established by law and for the purpose of paying the cost thereof, may issue revenue bonds with the assent of a majority of the qualified electors voting at an election held as provided by law; and (b) incur indebtedness or liability under agreements to purchase, share, exchange or transmit wholesale electricity for the use and benefit of customers located within such service area; provided that any revenue bonds, indebtedness or liability shall be payable solely from the rates, charges or revenues derived from the municipal electric system and shall not be secured by the full faith and credit or the taxing power of the city, the state or any political subdivision.

Ballot Question

“Shall Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended by the addition of a New Section 3D to provide that any city owning a municipal electric system may: (a) acquire, construct, install and equip electric generating, transmission and distribution facilities for the purpose of supplying electricity to customers located within the service area of each system established by law and for the purpose of paying the cost thereof, may issue revenue bonds with the assent of a majority of the qualified electors voting at an election held as provided by law; and (b) incur indebtedness or liability under agreements to purchase, share, exchange or transmit wholesale electricity for the use and benefit of customers located within such service area;

provided that any revenue bonds, indebtedness or liability shall be payable solely from the rates, charges or revenues derived from the municipal electric system and shall not be secured by the full faith and credit or the taxing power of the city, the state or any political subdivision?”

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning, Purpose and Result to Be Accomplished H.J.R. 7

This proposed amendment has two parts. The first part will allow any city owning a municipal electric system to acquire, construct, install and equip electrical generating, transmission and distribution facilities for the purpose of supplying electricity to customers within its service area. The city will be authorized to issue revenue bonds to pay for such facilities, with the assent of a majority of the qualified voters, provided that these bonds are paid for by the electrical system rates and charges, or revenues derived from the municipal electric system, and not with tax dollars.

The second part of this proposed amendment will allow any city owning a municipal electric system to enter into agreements to purchase, share, exchange or transmit wholesale electricity to customers within its service area, without voter approval. Any indebtedness or liability from these agreements will be paid for by the electrical system rates and charges, or revenues derived from the municipal electric system, and not with tax dollars.

Legislative Council's Statements FOR the Proposed Amendment

1. This amendment will clarify that a city owning a municipal electric system may enter into contracts or agreements for the purchase of wholesale electricity, helping to ensure that its citizens have low-cost and stable electric utility rates.
2. This amendment will allow a city owning a municipal electric system to responsibly upgrade and modernize electricity-related facilities and help to stabilize electric rates. Such cities will be allowed to issue revenue bonds, with the assent of a majority of voters, in order to finance investment in electric generation, transmission and distribution infrastructure.
3. This amendment provides that voter-approved revenue bonds and other indebtedness or liability shall be payable solely from the revenues derived from the municipal electric system. The amendment specifically provides that the revenue bonds and other indebtedness or liability shall not be secured by the taxing power of the city, state or any political subdivision.

Statements AGAINST the Proposed Amendment

1. The existing Idaho constitutional requirement mandating a two-thirds assent of the voters before a city owning a municipal electric system can enter into agreements resulting in debt is an important safeguard for all Idaho citizens.
2. Currently, the Constitution requires two-thirds assent of the voters of a city to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by a city owning a municipal electric system. If adopted, the proposed amendment will require only a majority of the voters to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by the city to finance electric generating, transmission and distribution facilities.
3. Changes to the Constitution should be made only for major issues of interest to the entire state or in the event of a constitutional crisis.

ATTENTION:
RESIDENTS OF GRAND VIEW
INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER:

Effective January 1, 2006 the US Environmental Protection Agency reduced the drinking water standard for Arsenic from 50 parts per billion (ppb) to 10 ppb. The two Well’s supplying water for the Grand View Water & Sewer Association, Inc. was tested on October 4, 2010. The Arsenic concentration for Well # 1 is 0.32 ppb and Well # 2 is 0.22 ppb of which both well’s are above the 10 ppb Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) set forth by the EPA. This is considered to be at the violation of the federal drinking water standard. Although this is not an emergency, you have a right to know what is happening, what you should do and what your water association is doing to continue to keep in compliance. The Grand View Water & Sewer Association, Inc. is still required to provide quarterly public notice of this excess EPA standard Arsenic level. Until such time as Idaho Department of Environmental Quality (IDEQ) notifies the Association that this notice is no longer required you will continue to receive this notice quarterly.

What happened? Arsenic is a natural deposit occurring element thought to enter the water source from contact with natural rock formations.

What health effects? Arsenic can cause adverse health effects, including cardiovascular disease, diabetes mellitus, skin changes, nervous system damage, and various forms of cancer.

What is being done? On the second Wednesday of each month there are regular Water & Sewer Board and the City Council meetings at City Hall – 425 Boise Ave. at 7:00 pm. Questions are encouraged concerning your drinking water and other issues.

IDEQ has approved the Draft for our Design Phase Plan of the Water System Improvement Project to remove Arsenic from our drinking water. Both bids were published and we have received bids for the project and the generator. The bidding process is now closed and under consideration with the funding agency – DEQ and Idaho Department of Commerce.

The water test well has been closed of at the same level as our other well’s, and will be used as a third well in the future.

What should I do? It will be each citizen’s choice to use alternative drinking water (e.g., bottled) or drink Grand View Association’s Water the choice is the total responsibility of each citizen. However, if you have specific health concerns, consult your Doctor.

For more information, please contact Grand View City Hall - Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday from 8:00am to 5:00pm, lunch 12:30 to 1:30 – (208) 834-2700 - Closed all major holidays.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly. The City of Grand View has notified owners of properties to supply copies to their residence. (For example, people in apartments, manufactured home parks, businesses and schools) You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.
