SEVEN SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL ...

Checking out scents for the season

Homedale High School track and field coach Bobby Christensen (right) looks on as his wife Edene samples a scented candle at Homedale residents Vance and Nikki Barowsky's Owyhee Candle Co. booth at the holiday market. The final Homedale Farmers Market holiday market will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Saturday inside the old high school gymnasium. Santa Claus will be on hand for photos beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Friends bazaar draws vendors

Narrow vote increases Marsing mayor's appointment power

The Marsing City Council approved expanded mayoral appointments with a 2-1 vote on a new ordinance last Wednesday.

Mayor James Ferdinand, who is in the final weeks of his term before giving way to Chad Sevy, essentially has appointed city engineer Kirby Cook, deputy city clerk Kim Even, and public works director Joseph Heidt with the publication of Ordinance A-2 13 in this week's edition of The Owyhee Avalanche.

The ordinance expanded the list of positions within the city government that the mayor can appoint.

Previously, by state statute, just the city attorney and city clerk were appointed.

Council members Tony Malmberg and Marie Herman voted for the ordinance. Council president Chris Even abstained from the vote because his wife is the deputy clerk.

Council member Rachael Percifield cast the dissenting vote.

Homedale mayor floats idea of more public works employees

Laundry list of projects prompts manpower observation

Expansion at Homedale's popular riverside RV park may be in the works, but it sounds like Mayor Gheen Christoffersen is skeptical in-house work can be pulled off at the current level of public works department manpower.

During last Wednesday's final regular city council meeting of 2019, public works supervisor Bret Smith submitted a proposed design that would expand the camping area in Riverside Park to 22 sites.

In addition to adding RV spots, the plan would add two fire pits and also bring in an upgrade in electricity that Idaho Power Co., estimates would cost between $3,500

Mtn. Home councilman will seek Dist. 23A nomination

Bundy joins Grand View woman in GOP race

A Mountain Home city councilman will jump into partisan politics and seek a spot in the Idaho Legislature.

Mountain Home City Council

president Matthew Bundy last week announced his bid for the Republican nomination for Dist. 23, Seat A in the Idaho House of Representatives.

Bundy's run for May's primary vote is an attempt to succeed Christy Zito (R-Hammett) as a representative for the district covering Owyhee County, Elmore County and the western portion of rural Twin Falls County.

Bundy announced his candidacy with a press release and a post on his "Matthew Bundy, Mountain Home City Council" Facebook page.

"I will still focus on and do my council duties during the process," Bundy wrote on his Facebook page.

Grand View resident Andrea

Owens has announced her candidacy for the Dist. 23A position, too. Owens' hat has been in the ring since sometime in October apparently.

Zito has passed up a re-election bid to the Idaho House in an attempt to win the GOP nomination for the Dist. 23 state Senate seat

Marsing council delays proposed City Hall auction

The Marsing City Council has decided unanimously to hold off on selling City Hall.

The decision came on the heels of a public hearing about the intent to sell the building at 425 Main St.

There was no public comment about sale parameters for the building, but council members discussed setting the minimum price (market value of $106,500) and originally suggested that the advertisement for auction be advertised today and sealed bids taken until Dec. 26.

But it was ultimately decided to postpone the sale process until the remodel of the Sandbar Restaurant, where city offices would relocate, has been completed, or an estimated date for completion has been received. An architect already has begun redesign plans.

According to Mayor James Ferdinand, early tentative estimates place the project's completion date as sometime this spring.

"The thought process we've been going through is that the building will be done before May," Ferdinand said.

The remodel is expected to cost between $130,000 and $150,000 and funding will come from the city's capital outlay budget. The council set the capital outlay line at $447,000 for fiscal year 2020.

The city paid $160,000 for the Sandbar building earlier this year, using the $100,000 AMVAC Chemical Co., paid for city-owned land on Simpson Lane as part of the funding.

City attorney Stephanie J. Bonney pointed out that if the city wanted to sell the Sandbar, it has a fairly limited market value because the building can only be sold for public use in the next two years.

"It can only be sold for public use, so to like another government entity," she said. "It is restricted, so you can't sell it for commercial or residential."

The city can sell the building to any interested party after two years when it absorbs the Idaho Community Development Block grant that Marsing Senior Citizens Inc., used to purchase the restaurant in 2016.

The city must keep the Sandbar available for community events to honor the intent of the block grant.

Homedale Police look into recent burglaries

Chief reminds citizens of package protection program

The Homedale Police Department is investigating cases of theft from earlier this month.

Two burglaries took place on Dec. 7 on opposite sides of town.

Homedale Police Chief Jeff Eidemiller said a shotgun was stolen from a residence in the first block of North 1st Street West on Dec. 7.

During the early-morning hours of the same day, a “smash-and-grab” burglary took place at a business near the corner of U.S. Highway 95 and Industrial Road.

Eidemiller said Thursday that authorities are still combing through video footage and other evidence to identify the “young man” involved in the cash theft.

Eidemiller asked anyone with information on these incidents to call the police department at (208) 337-4642 or the Owyhee County dispatch at (208) 495-1154.

• A black 1998 Chevrolet S-10 pickup reported stolen from in front of the Family Dollar Store on Dec. 3 has been recovered, the chief confirmed Monday.

• As a public service to deter “front porch pirates,” HPD will accept mail shipments that folks deem sensitive. Citizens can call the department and set up a parcel shipment to City Hall instead of their home address and also schedule a time to pick it up from police custody.

Although the service was advertised on social media for the Christmas shipping season, Eidemiller said the department is willing to provide the service year-round.

Folks picking up packages must present a driver’s license or identification card with photo to claim the shipment, Eidemiller said. — JPB

Senate PILT funding bill moves forward

A key piece of legislation to provide security to Owyhee County and other governments that rely on federal property tax replacement programs has moved out of committee.

The Small County PILT Parity Act, co-sponsored by Idaho U.S. Sens. Mike Crapo and Jim Risch, was reported out of the Senate Committee of Energy and Natural Resources.

Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) provides revenue to Owyhee County each fiscal year in place of the money lost because of a large swath of federally managed (and tax-exempt) lands.

“Idaho is almost two-thirds federally-owned, severely limiting our tax base for roads and schools because federal lands contribute no property taxes,” Crapo said. “These county payments programs are critical for Idahoans.”

Owyhee County is about 70 percent Bureau of Land Management public lands.

The Secure Rural Schools legislation for forested counties also moved out of committee.

Additional revisions were secured to make the programs more timely and reliable.

Sponsored by Crapo with co-sponsorship from Risch, S. 430 would reauthorize the Secure Rural Schools and Community Self-Determination Act of 2000, securing payments for two years. SRS payments expired in 2018.

S. 2108, the Small County

PILT Parity Act, is sponsored by Sen. Steve Daines (R-Mont.) with co-sponsorship from Idaho’s senators. This legislation would modify the current PILT formula to increase the amount of funding counties with fewer than 5,000 people can receive.

The bills now move to the full Senate for consideration.

In the meantime, Crapo, Risch and Democratic Sens. Ron Wyden and Jeff Merkley of Oregon announced Monday that a two-year authorization of the SRS program is included in the year-end funding that Congress will consider this week.

Risch worked with committee members to incorporate language into SRS to create a pilot program for Resource Advisory Committee (RAC) appointments to improve the timeliness of disbursement of funds and discontinue the annual decrease in SRS payments.

“Idaho’s rural counties deserve stability and relief. They shouldn’t be subjected to the annual guessing game of whether they’ll be able to provide critical county services like road maintenance and education,” Risch said. “Insufficient or delinquent SRS and PILT payments aren’t simply an inconvenience for these communities. It threatens their entire way of life.”

“Congress must support our rural communities and reauthorize SRS and PILT.”

√ Dist. 23A: Elmore, Owyhee Republicans set to battle for House seat Zito will vacate currently held by Bert Brackett (R-Rogerson). Brackett will not seek re-election.

Former Owyhee County Treasurer Brenda Richards, a Reynolds Creek rancher, also has announced a run to succeed Brackett.

According to Bundy’s press release, the candidate has extensive experience in Mountain Home’s local government and other civic boards.

The retired Air Force veteran is an Urban Renewal Agency Board commissioner and is also active in the Military Affairs Committee, Mountain Home Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Bundy moved to Mountain Home more than 20 years ago and completed a 20-year military career there.

Serving on the B-52 then the B-1 Bomber during his career, Bundy deployed to the Middle East with the 366th Wing at Mountain Home AFB after the Sept. 11, 2001 terrorist attacks.

After his military career, he has become active as a coach and educational leader at Mountain Home High School, earning various awards and accolades. He also has been active in Scouting.

“My local government experience will help in determining which issues are best addressed at the state level and which issues should be reserved for local communities,” Bundy said.

He taught English in Mariupol, Ukraine as part of a foreign teacher exchange through the State Department. He also taught in South Korea, Germany and Jordan.

Bundy thinks his expertise in public education gives him unique insight into educational choice, funding and advanced educational opportunities.

Bundy was the first high school teacher associated with Boise State University to have his American Government class recognized as a college-level concurrent credit class. He continues to be a proponent of state-funded advanced learning initiatives.

Additionally, he said his military background will be a factor in continuing the positive relationships with local military facilities and personnel.

According to his press release, Bundy subscribes to the Republican ideal that government is of the people, by the people and for the people.

He envisions his role as a state lawmaker to protect liberties and freedoms and to legislate in a way that enhances citizens’ ability to choose their own endeavors and be successful.

“I love Idaho,” Bundy said. “The support I have received while making this decision to run has reinforced my desire to serve at the state level of government.”

“I have also been working with constituents from all three counties, and I feel I have the background that will represent all three counties in a very positive way.”

✓ Marsing: Councilperson calls move “favoritism”

Percifield said that she voted against the ordinance because she felt that it could potentially tie the hands of future mayoral administrations.

“I don’t think it was for the continuity of the city,” she said, referring to the stated reason for the ordinance.

“It seems like, since the deputy clerk is not a supervisory or department head position, it feels like favoritism for the councilman’s wife.”

City attorney Stephanie J. Bonney made the suggestion that, because the positions are already occupied, a motion be made to appoint those individuals when the ordinance is published.

New water hookup testing fees adopted

The city council passed a resolution amending water-testing fees for new hookups. Previously, the property owner would pay for the initial testing of water quality in new lines when they paid meter hookup fees. If the test failed, the city would pay for subsequent analyses.

The tests look for E. coli and other coliform bacteria in new or extended water hookups.

City clerk Jolyn Green recently said that the desire was to put that expense back on the owner and not on the taxpayers.

According to Heidt, the test runs about $20, but it costs the city considerably more because of manpower and transportation of the water sample to a Boise lab for analysis. He recommended a fee of $100 for subsequent testing to cover the city’s costs.

He had originally suggested an escalating fee for subsequent failures, but Bonney pointed out that the fee can’t be punitive. The city can only charge what can be established as necessary to cover its cost of testing.

“A hundred dollars is not actually covering the cost, when you consider that there’s probably five hours of somebody, including everything involved, $100 is not covering the cost,” Heidt said. “It’s probably more like $200.”

Mitigation includes flushing chlorine through the pipe.

Heidt said that after a third failed test, the owner has to take the line apart and redo it.

✓ Homedale: Council approves purchase of machine to stripe town’s crosswalks and $4,200.

“I like it,” Councilman Steve Atkins said. “Let’s move forward.”

No authorization vote was taken. Smith brought the design to the council in the latest step to plan for the spending.

Smith brought two options regarding the park’s septic dump to the council. One would call for the realignment of the curb on the south side of the park to allow a larger turning radius, and the second option would be to move the dump altogether.

Smith also said that water lines would have to be rebuilt to connect to the water system on the west side of town. Right now, there are two dead-end service lines running into the park.

Smith suggested a 6-inch water main and adding fire hydrants at 500-foot intervals as required by code. The main would tie into West California Avenue’s water infrastructure or a line could be run from the 12-year-old 6-inch main near the Riverside softball field.

Smith told the council that the job would take six to eight weeks.

“Bret, I’ll be honest with you, we don’t have the manpower for a six- to eight-week project,” Christoffersen said.

The mayor pointed out that there are other projects in town that are being completed slowly, including the playground equipment in another part of Riverside Park. The project has inched forward since the city bought the equipment with a High Five Initiative! grant in March 2017.

Smith said last week that the playground work is nearly finished (there was some donated labor from the city’s police officers earlier in the progress), but the council will have to decide what type of surface (bark or a rubber product) it wants for the area. A two-year-old estimate put the cost of the rubber at $20,000, Smith said.

Regardless of what work is upcoming, Christoffersen implied more public works hires would have to be made.

“If we’re going to do more projects like this, we’re going to have to give more manpower to that department,” the mayor said.

Councilman Mike Aebischer acknowledged that the RV park project would be expensive, but it would also mean more money with additional camping rentals.

“With the added revenue ... yeah, it’s going to be expensive ... (but) it’ll pay for itself pretty quick, even if we have to get a contractor,” Aebischer said.

Christoffersen pointed out that the construction boom in the Treasure Valley has made contractors less inclined to take on “small jobs.” Contractors will bid the job, but they’ll place a prohibitive price on the work, the mayor said.

“The reason we bring up the big-picture items is because we want to get these spots in before spring,” Smith said.

Christoffersen said not all the proposed spots would have to be built at once, but they could be added as the city gets more infrastructure installed.

• In another public works issue, Christoffersen brought up the idea of paving the areas in front of some of the newer hangars at the municipal airport.

When the airport was expanded and new hangars built, only gravel was put down in the new area. The mayor pointed out that pilots who own the newer hangars at the airport run the risk of damaging props and engines while taxiing to the runway because the force of the propeller can suck gravel into the aircraft’s engine.

Asphalt could cost between $20,000 and $150,000 depending on whether the work is done in-house or contracted out.

Councilman Aaron Tines said that a new cycle of FAA grants will be open soon, but the city has to have an engineering firm with an aviation background to qualify.

• Even while discussing the workload for the city’s maintenance crew, the council unanimously approved $7,000 to buy a paint striper so the crew can reline crosswalks and parking spaces around town.

“The more we do, the more we take our guys off other projects,” Christoffersen reiterated. “It will sure be nice to have if we have an intersection that needs done.”

Atkins saw the acquisition as a chance to improve pedestrian safety, especially for the town’s youth.

“We could keep the crosswalks at the schools plenty visible,” he said.

The city typically spends $3,000 to $3,500 annually for painting contractors.

“It’s the convenience of getting stuff done when it needs done instead of waiting to schedule a larger project,” Atkins said.

City Clerk and Treasurer Alice Pegram said she was able to negotiate 25 gallons of white paint (10 more than the dealer had originally offered) and a 50-pound bag of reflective beads when she called to finalize the sale the morning after the council meeting.

Smith also asked the council to start thinking about buying a newer small dump truck to replace the aging vehicle now in use.

4-H helps youth build character through behavioral expectations

A goal of the 4-H program is to provide opportunities for children and youth to build character.

4-H supports the six pillars of character: TRUST-WORTHINESS, RESPECT, RESPONSIBILITY, FAIRNESS, CARING AND CITIZENSHIP.

Janelle Thompson

In order to ensure that 4-H programs provide positive environments for all individuals to learn and grow, 4-H participants agree to abide by these expectations of behavior.

"I will be worthy of trust, honor and confidence."

"I will be a model of integrity by doing the right thing."

"I will be honest in all my activities."

"I will keep my commitments."

"If I am not feeling well or have a schedule conflict, I will inform my chaperon or a person in charge."

4-H does not permit dishonesty by lying, cheating, deception or omission.

"I will be respectful."

"I will show respect, courtesy, and consideration to everyone, including myself, other program participants and those in authority."

"I will act and speak respectfully."

"I will treat program areas, lodging areas, and transportation vehicles with respect."

"I will not use vulgar or abusive language or cause physical harm."

"I will appreciate diversity in skill, gender, ethnicity and ability."

4-H does not tolerate statements or acts of discrimination or prejudice.

"I will be responsible, accountable and self-disciplined in the pursuit of excellence."

"I will be accountable by accepting responsibility for my choices and actions."

"I will be responsible for any damage, theft or misconduct in which I participate."

"I will be fair."

"I will be just, fair and open."

"I will participate in events fairly by following the rules, not taking advantage of others and not asking for special exceptions."

"I will be caring."

"I will be caring in my relationships with others."

"I will be kind and show compassion for others."

"I will treat others the way I want to be treated."

"I will show appreciation for the efforts of others."

"I will help members in my group to have a good experience by striving to include all participants."

"I will be a good citizen."

"I will be a contributing and law-abiding citizen."

"I will be respectful to the environment and contribute to the greater good."

Research shows that the 4-H Youth Development Program plays a special and vital role in the lives of America's young people.

According to "Waves of the Future — the Study of Positive Youth Development," when compared to other youth, 4-H'ers excel and are:

- 25 percent more likely to contribute to their families, themselves, and their communities

- More likely to see themselves going to college

- 41 percent less likely to engage in risky/problem behavior

Behavior expectations are procedures and rules that are taught to encourage positive behavior and are important building blocks for our youth.

First property tax deadline looms

2015 delinquencies not paid by Dec. 31 face deed process

First-half property tax payments are due at the Owyhee County Treasurer's Office on Friday.

But Treasurer Annette Dygert wants property owners to review their tax bills and assessment notices because of new software.

"This is the second year we have used our new program UADWEB, and we are still seeing some issues that haven't been resolved," Dygert said. "It is important to check your tax bills and also your assessment notices when they are sent out to ensure we have up-to-date and correct information in our program."

The treasurer's office mailed 2019 tax bills on Nov. 14, but Dygert said several bills have been returned because of incorrect addresses.

She said county property owners should call (208) 495-1158 or toll-free (833) 337-5522 to update their mailing address or to get tax bill questions answered.

Tax payments are accepted by mail, over the phone or by credit card at www.owyheecounty.net.

Credit card and debit card payments are processed by third-party Access Idaho, so there is a 2.5 percent fee.

A checking account can be used via phone by providing the routing number and account number, but there is a $1 fee, which is also collected by Access Idaho.

"When paying with your credit, debit or e-check please keep in mind your statement will show a charge from Idaho Gov," Dygert said.

She added that property owners can pay "the old-fashioned" way by mailing a check or visiting the treasurer's office at the Owyhee County Courthouse in Murphy.

"The two ladies on staff (Tami McGrew and Gentry Stoumbaugh) are a great asset to this office and are efficient and work well with the public," Dygert said.

"The office is running smoothly, and I invite anyone with questions to please call or come to Murphy. You are always welcome."

Payments must be in the mail by Friday, but Dygert said mail postmarked by Dec. 20 will be accepted as well.

Dygert also supplied a history of recent tax charges and how much has been collected. All figures are through Dec. 6:

2019 — $7,753,544.88 tax charge on 10,194 parcels (14.5 percent received)

2018 — $7,493,762.18 (95 percent collected with 419 of 10,177 parcels outstanding).

2017 — $7,088,638.52 (96 percent collected with 268 of 10,388 parcels outstanding).

2016 — $6,902,427.98 (98 percent collected with 178 of 10,373 parcels outstanding).

2015 — $6,627,114.10 (98 percent collected with 61 of 10,365 outstanding).

Outstanding tax bills must be paid by Dec. 31.

Once the Dec. 31 deadline passes, the county will begin the tax deed process on unpaid 2015 taxes. Dygert added that property owners are making payments on the 2015 bills. That process could include an auction of the property to satisfy the tax lien.

"We also accept monthly payments for those behind on their taxes or those that want to pay monthly so they don't have a big amount due in December," Dygert said.

After the first of the year the tax deed process will add up to $500 per parcel for advertising and research, Dygert said.

Only two parcels went to tax deed last year.

Two men arrested for suspicion of DUI

A Nevada man was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence after a sheriff's deputy followed up on a tip phoned into a Homedale Police officer last Wednesday.

Someone near U.S. Highway 95 and Idaho highway 55 reported a possibly impaired driver heading toward Marsing.

Owyhee County Sheriff's Chief Deputy Lynn Bowman said a deputy arrested Timothy Elordi, 40, of Elko, Nev., after locating the 2007 Toyota pickup parked at the Extra Mile truck stop west of Marsing.

Bowman said Elordi admitted he had been drinking. The deputy also reported Elordi slurred his words, Bowman said.

The man registered a blood-alcohol concentration of .113 percent. The legal limit in Idaho is .08 percent.

Elordi was booked into jail in Murphy on a misdemeanor charge of drunk driving. He bonded out Thursday and will be arraigned at 9 a.m. on Dec. 30 in the Magistrate Judge Shane Darrington's Murphy courtroom.

• Matthew Landa, 34, of Homedale, was arrested Saturday night for misdemeanor DUI, after being pulled over for speeding in his 2002 Toyota passenger car.

Bowman said Landa was also spotted driving in the wrong lane near U.S. 95 and Y Road south of Homedale.

Landa blew a .170 BAC at the jail.

He bonded out of jail. No court dates are listed on the state court's repository.

Homedale Laundromat project OK'd

A Boise-based real estate developer has the green light to revamp the old Homedale Laundromat.

The city council unanimously approved a mixed-use permit for JADE Investment Group LLC, after last Wednesday's public hearing.

Company principal Jesse Denton said the plan is to test the existing footings in the building on the first block of West Owyhee Avenue to make sure they can withstand the addition of a second story. There are also drainage issues near the building's frontage.

He said his firm would move forward with engineering after the approval of a special use permit. A permit is required because city code prohibits mixed-use buildings.

The plan is to build three 500-square-foot apartments upstairs from a separate commercial space, Denton said.

Denton said there is much work to be done in preparation to creating a space that would include "affordable, nice housing." He said the proposed one-bedroom apartments could each rent for $500 to $600 per month.

No citizens spoke up during the public hearing, and City Clerk and Treasurer Alice Pegram said her office received no negative comments about the proposal.

Library update

Craig Erickson from Great

West Engineering arrived from Montana to tell council members that the new city library building is nearly complete.

Erickson, Tony Tenne from the Idaho Department of Commerce, library administrator Sharla Jensen, and Mayor Gheen Christoffersen toured the library before last Wednesday's meeting.

"And it looks great," Erickson said.

Among the "loose ends" needing attention before closing the grant is meeting Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements, including a survey of the city's assets for compliance. A self-evaluation is part of the ADA transition plan, Erickson said.

Pegram was appointed the city's ADA coordinator. Erickson said her job is to field community complaints about the lack or hindrance of access to the town's public buildings.

The city must also notify the town's residents of their rights under the ADA, and also review a grievance process that will be adopted.

Erickson plans to present the council at completed ADA plan for adoption at its Jan. 8.

Erickson also said that a discussion with Tenne and Jensen revealed that there will be some money left in the city's Idaho Department of Commerce Block Grant with which fixtures for the new 3,900-square-foot library can be purchased.

He speculated that the project would be closed out no later than February.

Erickson congratulated the council on the community's ability to parlay the block grant with in-kind work and more than $120,000 in private contributions. The family of longtime library board member Gypsy Jackson donated $100,000 (the new library will bear the late Homedale resident's name). The family of Opal Nash contributed $20,000 (a children's reading area will be named in her honor).

"It's a great community effort," Erickson said. "There's been a lot of people who helped out."

"Homedale can be proud of the library."

"The Community Development Block Grant was an important part, but there was a 25 percent match and the community contributed to that."

During last Wednesday's meeting, Councilman Mike Aebischer announced that Homedale concrete contractor Matt Shaffer will donate the labor and material to complete stairs in the front section of the new library that apparently weren't included in the original plans.

"It's a great project," Erickson told council members. "It really looks nice."

"I thought the old library was small, but the new library seems just massive compared to the other one."

State champ back in the fold for Trojans

CALHOUN CLASSIC

Huskies' Arriaga nabs historic title

Two Trojans capture medals in Oregon

Local wrestlers came away with three medals at the weekend's Calhoun Classic in Nyssa, Ore.

Marsing High School junior Isai Arriaga walked away with a gold medal in the 170-pound division Saturday.

Arriaga capped a 3-0 weekend with an 8-4 championship match victory over Dominic Bush-Bly of Vallivue.

Arriaga sailed into the final with pins against Baker/Powder Valley's Gauge Bloomer (5 minutes, 40 seconds in the semifinals), and Deano Rodriguez of Payette (4:11 in the quarterfinals).

coach, said he believes this is the first time any of his wrestlers has won a Calhoun championship.

Two Homedale wrestlers reached their third-place match in their respective weight classes.

Sophomore Willie White routed Caldwell's Ezra Hernandez, 13-5, for the bronze medal at 160 pounds.

White rode two pins into the semifinals then fell into the consolation semifinals. He pinned Carter Torres of Kuna in 3:43 to reach the third-place match.

Homedale junior Joseph Egusquiza finished fourth at 145 pounds.

Herolled into the semifinals with a technical fall (17-1) against Braigen Hansen of Borah and a 29-second pin against Hector Dominguez from Baker/Powder Valley.

Egusquiza staved off elimination in the consolation semifinals by beating Melba's Zane Helm, 9-3.

HHS win over Melba ends two streaks

Homedale High School's first boys' basketball victory of the season ended Melba's five-game winning streak.

Senior Daniel Uranga led all scorers with 18 points during the Trojans' 61-57 triumph in a non-conference game played on the Mustangs' floor.

Henry Clark led the Mustangs (5-1 at week's end) with 16 points.

Homedale (1-4) put three players in double figures to offset a deficiency in free-throw attempts. Joining Uranga were senior Arnulfo Llamas with 15 points, and freshman Mason Strong with 12 points.

Llamas connected on six of eight field goals and two of three foul shots.

"There were lots of contributions from so many guys tonight on offense and defense," HHS first-year coach Cam Long said. "They played tonight how I envisioned them playing. I'm just so proud of all them."

Melba players were successful on 15 of 24 free throws, while the Trojans went 9-for-20 from the line.

Melba's Joe Reiber reached double digits with 13 points after dropping four of six shot attempts. Teammate Easton Bunnell grabbed eight rebounds.

Strong and Ricardo Hernandez nailed two three-point goals each as the Trojans drained six as a team.

Nampa Christian hits shots down stretch, beats Homedale boys

A late scoring drought doomed Homedale High School in a boys' basketball showdown against Nampa Christian.

Nampa Christian went on a 15-5 run through the fourth quarter to secure a 45-35 non-conference victory Dec. 10 in Homedale.

The teams played even through 24 minutes. Homedale forged a 21-21 deadlock at the break, and the score was tied, 30-30, after three quarters.

Homedale missed all eight of its three-point attempts in the second half, and Nampa Christian made the most of its foul shots, going 5-for-7.

Nampa Christian was 9-for-13 from the free-throw line in the game, while Homedale went 12-for-23.

Nampa Christian's Russell Vander Woude was 5-for-6 from the charity stripe and led all scorers with 15 points.

Nelson Lomeli hit half of his eight free-throw attempts, but was 1-or-11 from behind the three-point line. He led Homedale with 11 points.

Hayden Kincheloe grabbed a team-high nine rebounds and was 5-for-7 on free throws. He scored seven points for

Trojans' Turners split title tries

Savannah Turner coasts in girls' tournament

Homedale High School's Turner sisters wound up in championship matches at the inaugural Calhoun Classic girls' wrestling meet.

Savannah Turner pinned Payette's Arimiah Egner in 2 minutes, 58 seconds to win the 125-pound championship in the girls' tournament in Nyssa, Ore.

Kaydince Turner was runner-up at 135, losing the title bout by pinfall to Caldwell's Marissa Jimenez. Jimenez prevailed in 2:29.

Savannah's road to the final included a 21-second pin of Ontario, Ore.'s Amy Cerezo in the semifinals, and it began with a pin in 3:17 in the quarterfinals against Cerezo's teammate Jordan Barrett.

Kaydince racked up three pins to reach her championship chance.

State returners, wrestlers restarting careers fuel Trojans

State champ, heavyweight seek more medals

Football success may slow Homedale High School's wrestlers to start the season, but coach Jake Levinski hopes his charges can build on the momentum.

"When the football team makes it to the state championship game (as they have the last two years), the football players that also wrestle miss the first week of the wrestling season," the coach said.

Then again, with 120-pound 3A state champion Joseph Egusquiza leading five returning state qualifiers, the Trojans may have perpetual motion on their side.

"I'd love to take more wrestlers to the state (tournament) than we did last year," the fourth-year coach said. "Each consecutive year I've been the coach, more wrestlers have earned a state berth.

"That tells me the kids are getting better, and the program is growing as well."

Senior 285-pounder Gage Northrup, a football player, returns after finishing fourth in February's state tournament.

Fourth-place 145-pounder Jaegar Rose graduated as did another four-time state qualifier, Jorge Vega, and three-time qualifier Robert Nix.

Joining Egusquiza and Northrup as state qualifiers in the wrestling room are sophomores Willie White and Rhyalee Nix, and senior Brady Trout — three more football players.

Trout and Egusquiza are two-time state meet qualifiers.

Levinski describe Egusquiza, the son of HHS assistant coach Joe, as "natural leader" who is a "talented hard worker."

Trout carries the team concept that permeates the football program over into what many see as an individual sport.

"He has a big heart and cares for his team," Levinski said. "He's a good leader and has a great attitude."

White is the son of second-year assistant coach Josh White.

"Willie is hungry, energetic, has a tough mentality and wants to learn everything," Levinski said. "He doesn't give an inch — ever."

Junior Jace Love is another gutsy wrestler in Levinski's stable.

"He came back this year on a mission to find more success," the coach said. "He had a difficult year as a sophomore but stuck it out.

"When there's a kid in the room with heart, and he/she can't seem to get a break but keeps getting up, no matter how many times he/she has been knocked to the ground, that's Jace."

If Love is the picture of determination and grit, junior

Owen Houser is a relaxing presence with his wit.

"Owen has improved greatly here at the varsity level," Levinski said. "He's funny. He'd be our team clown. He's always making people laugh."

There are freshmen and first-year wrestlers or athletes returning to the wrestling after a few seasons off.

Senior Jose Flores is back on the mat for the first time in two years.

"He seems hungry in the practice room," Levinski said. "His technique is coming back quickly."

Senior Gus Bromanter, a Swedish exchange student, is transitioning from the cross country team. Levinski calls him coachable, adding that he's calm, eager and learning quickly.

There are more ninth-graders out this season, including

- Brayden Rosa, whose long frame will make him a challenge on the mat, Levinski said

- Gabriel Hurtado, who is the smallest wrestler in the room, but Levinski warns, "Don't judge him by his size. He's vicious. It will be exciting to watch this kid wrestle kids his weight."

- Levi Jamison: "This kid is mentally tough. He comes in the room everyday works hard."

- Chase Cooper: "He's the biggest and strongest freshman I've seen in the room ever. When his technique catches up with his strength, he should be unrelenting."

"I want these young wrestlers to learn that internal worth doesn't come from how you performed in the last match," Levinski said. "I want them to learn that they are important because of who they are.

"When the team knows they are important, an environment of hard work and trust is fostered and success is obtained more readily."

Levinski concedes that Homedale will struggle to score points in dual meets because there aren't wrestlers in every weight class. But he also says the Trojan Way is about more than Ws and the final score in a dual.

"I want to instill in my kids that they have value because of who they are, not by how they performed," Levinski said. "I want my team to come together and find strength in unity.

"I want my team to make goals and strive for them. They need to get up when they fall, and bask in the glory while it is there and before it fades away. I will do all in my power to coach, support and love each one of the kids that I've been blessed with in our program."

Early in the 2019-20 wrestling season, both the Marsing and Homedale high school squads have shown they have reason to be hopeful.

Huskies bring experience to mat

Medalist among 7 returning state qualifiers

Marsing High School brings back a great deal of experience from the squad that placed 21st of 32 teams at the 2A wrestling state championships in February at Pocatello's Holt Arena.

Ninth-year coach Jon Nelson lost just one athlete to graduation this spring, 160-pounder Kadin Goins. Goins missed a large chunk of the season because of a concussion he suffered in January.

This year's team of 15 features three seniors: Justin Ineck (138), Jedediah Fuentes (220), and newcomer James Lafleur (285).

Lafleur's younger brother, sophomore Solon (106), wrestled as a freshman and enjoyed some success in the 98-pound class, splitting four matches at State in February.

Nelson expects a strong season from his group, particularly brothers Evan (126) and Troy Miller (126) and Isai Arriaga (160), all of whom are juniors.

Arriaga medaled at the state tournament in the 170-pound class, finishing with a 6-2 decision in the fifth-place match against Wendell's Kyler Lukesh.

Arriaga, Solon Lafleur, Ineck, Fuentes (wrestling as Jedediah Crandall), Edgar Flores, and the Millers all represented the Huskies at last season's state tournament.

In addition to James Lafleur, the Huskies have first-time wrestlers in juniors Domminik Dreyer and Harlee Liles.

Nelson said that sophomore Jonathan Ineck is on course for a good season, too. Jonathan is the younger brother of senior Justin, and wrestling alum Joseph, who graduated in 2018.

The coach also looks for a repeat for Arriaga this season, perhaps with a deeper run at the state tournament.

"Isai is looking to better himself at State," Nelson said.

Nelson said that he is really looking forward to the three dual meets that the team will host this season. The first one was last Wednesday; the other two will be held tonight and on Jan. 22.

"We're also really looking forward to the Magic Valley Classic (Jan. 17-18 in Wendell) to see how we stand as a team," he said.

Nelson is assisted by Jake Ryska, who is in his first year with the high school squad and second with the middle school, and 2014 Marsing graduate Austin Williams.

Other 2019-20 wrestlers include junior Jacob Goins (195), sophomores Trayton Jacobi (170), Edgar Flores (195), and Jaristian Fuentes (140), and freshman Matthew Goins (120).

Melba girls stretch streak to 6 games

Four basketball players scoring in double figures lifted Melba High School's girls to their sixth consecutive victory Thursday.

Kate Clark scored 12 points as the Mustangs routed Weiser, 52-21, in a non-conference game played in Melba.

Owyhee County resident Jordan Dayley scored 11 points and picked up six steals for the Mustangs (9-1 overall).

Kendall Clark added 11 points and five rebounds, while Keylee Wilson tossed in 10 points.

Maddi Erickson led the Wolverines with eight points.

Last Wednesday: Melba 57, McCall-Donnelly 33 — Kate Clark poured in 23 points and snagged four rebounds in the Mustangs' home-court 2A Western Idaho Conference win.

Melba (2-0 in conference) also received 11 points, five rebounds, three steals and three assists from Kendall Clark.

Junior center Jaeda Moyer led the Vandals (5-3, 2-1 at week's end) with 11 points.

Mustangs trounce 3A SRV foes

Melba High School's defense became stingier early last week.

The Mustangs held two non-conference opponents under 40 points to establish new season-low point totals allowed in boys' basketball.

Thursday: Melba 68, Weiser 36 — Joe Reiber scored 15 points, and Henry Clark added

13 as the Mustangs crushed the host Wolverines from the 3A Snake River Valley conference.

Ande Jensen led Weiser with 12 points.

Dec. 10: Melba 55, Parma 38 — Reiber scored 15 points, and Michael Huntsman pulled down 10 rebounds for the host Mustangs.

Kyle Powers scored a game-high 18 points, and Panthers teammate Joe Shaw added 10.

✓ Title: Melba wrestler gets three pins

From Page 12A

Gideon Lowen ended Egusquiza's tournament with an 11-4 decision in the third-place match.

One other Homedale wrestler picked up a victory:

Julian Ramos, 145 — He beat Vale, Ore.'s Colt Cummings, 16-9, in the second round then saw his tournament end when Helm came up with a pin in 3:45.

Marsing's Miller brothers accounted for four wins:

Troy Miller, 120 — Miller went on a run after losing in the quarterfinals. He pinned Emmett's Mason Yancy (1:57) and edged Vale's Logan Cox, 8-6, before losing to Middleton's Brody Kemble. Miller reached the quarterfinals with a pin of Middleton's KC Osmus (2:31).

Evan Miller, 126 — Miller went 0-2 after reaching the semifinals by injury default against Baker/Powder Valley's Isael Duran.

Helm posted three consecutive pins in the 145 consolation bracket before running into the Trojans' Egusquiza.

Helm pinned Middleton's Bowdy Heck in 2:20, Homedale's Julian Ramos in 3:45, and Borah's Braigen Hansen in 2:40.

Liberty Charter trips Marsing boys on road

A bevy of missed shots and a rough first quarter led in large part to the Marsing High School boys' basketball team dropping its first game of the year.

Host Liberty Charter (2-3) burst out of the gates, dropping 21 points on the Huskies in the first eight minutes of a 42-32 non-conference victory Thursday in Nampa.

It was the Huskies' lowest point total since a 38-31 loss to Bear Lake in the 2A Real Dairy Shootout consolation final in March. It was the lowest combined point total for a game involving Marsing since the Huskies' 36-31 win over New Plymouth in February.

Marsing struggled with tempering the Patriots' energy, Huskies coach Tim Little said.

"(The team) had a difficult time matching the intensity Liberty set right off the start of the game," Little said.

The Huskies (3-1 overall) topped the Patriots (2-3) to open the season, 47-35.

Marsing junior post Jacob Ankeny struggled with his shot, hitting 33 percent of his shots (4-for-12) from the floor, finishing with eight points. He went 0-for-5 at the free-throw line.

Ankeny did pull down 11 rebounds to go with a pair each of assists and steals.

Senior wing Merrick Hall led the Huskies with 12 points. He also added six boards and a pair of assists and steals.

Roger Valadez added eight points, including the team's only successful three-pointer in 13 tries. He also led the squad with three assists.

Senior post Cash Sevy sank a pair of foul shots and accounted for six boards, three from each end of the floor.

"I will break down film, and we will work on issues to get ready for league," Little said.

The Huskies opened 2A Western Idaho Conference play Tuesday after deadline against visiting McCall-Donnelly.

The team will tip off the three-day Truckstop.com Christmas Classic with Ontario, Ore., at 5:30 p.m., on Thursday at The College of Idaho in Caldwell.

✓ HHS: It all clicks during Trojans' first win of season

Uranga struggled from the free-throw line, hitting just one of six attempts, but he kept possessions alive with three offensive rebounds. He had a team-high six boards overall.

Melba rallied in the second half with a 56 percent field-goal percentage, but Homedale's defensive rebounding helped keep the Mustangs at bay. All of Strong's five rebounds came on the Mustangs' glass as Homedale held a 16-10 edge on Melba's end of the court.

Homedale built an 18-11 lead after eight minutes.

"It was multiple guys stepping up that made the difference," Long said.

✓ Trojans: Hergesheimer starts tourney with quick pin

Stanfield in the semifinals (4:01), dispatched Vale, Ore.'s Maycee Delong in 47 seconds in the quarterfinals, and stopped Nyssa's Vanessa Ruiz in 3:48 of their second-round match.

Gracie Rotter finished fourth after losing the third-place match at 105 to Caldwell's Jocelyn Bautista, who prevailed in 1:13.

Rotter reached the bronze-medal bout with a pin in 2:03 against Nyssa's Neveah Ortega in a consolation semifinal.

Lizzy Hergesheimer cruised in her three victories but saw her tourney end in the consolation semifinals.

Hergesheimer pinned Nyssa's Monica Ibanez in 46 seconds to start the tournament then followed that up with back-to-back pins in the consolation bracket. She put Nyssa's Dyandra Pack on the mat in seven seconds, then needed just 13 seconds to defeat Ontario, Ore.'s Angelica Scott.

Trevor Fillmore led the way with six of the team's 30 rebounds.

Jordan Valley recognizes fall athletes

The Jordan Valley High School fall sports awards were handed out on Dec. 3.

Middle school football players and volleyball players from the middle school and high school teams were recognized during the potluck dinner.

High school volleyball coach Katelyn Moore celebrated her team's season, which concluded one victory away from the 1A Oregon state tournament.

"I am so proud of my girls for their determination and grit this season. We put together a tough schedule against the best teams all over the state, and they played with a ton of heart and passion," Moore said. "Qualities like that are a dream come true since they cannot be coached into a player."

The team finished third in the 1A High Desert League and parlayed that No. 3 seed into a runner-up showing at the 1A District 8 Tournament.

Senior co-captain Baylee Davis earned the team's Best Defense award for her work at libero, and fellow senior and co-captain Becky Mackenzie was named first-team all-district tournament and second-team All-1A HDL.

Moore said the team's three seniors — Davis, Mackenzie and Sandy Brown — "each had a fantastic year."

Taylor Eiguren was named to the all-league first team, while fellow sophomore Kelsey Gluch was a second-teamer.

Honorable mention went to junior Kiana Quintero and sophomore Cassity Gluch.

Kelsey Gluch joined Mackenzie as first-team all-district players, and Eiguren was a second-teamer.

The Mustangs earned the sportsmanship award at the district tournament, too.

"It was so rewarding to watch each member of the team grow and mature together while honing their skills to peak performance," Moore said, adding that she and the players are thankful for the community's support.

"I'm honored to have been a part of this team and am excited to watch them in the future as they continue to grow and mature as all-around athletes and become competitive young adults."

Rounding out the varsity team awards were:

Most valuable — Eiguren
Best offense — Kelsey Gluch

Most improved and most inspirational — Jill Gammett

Team spirit — Quintero
The middle school football team awards included:

Three Creek School ready for Christmas program

Three Creek School has packed a lot of learning and analysis into the first few months of the school year.

Upcoming is the annual Christmas program at 6 p.m., on Thursday.

The PTO will serve ham, hot rolls and mashed potatoes during the program. Guests are asked to bring a side dish or a dessert to share as well as an item for the silent auction fundraiser.

The Three Creek School scrapbook will be on display, and PTO members will take orders for those who would like to be a copy.

The students embarked on a fun and educational field trip to the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls.

Some of the educational highlights included learning about embryonics and dissecting a calf as well as identifying the bones on a horse.

In her monthly newsletter, teacher Dena Pollock also reported the children visited CSI's technology department and watch 3-D printing using both metal and plastic. The students brought home artifacts from the visit.

The field trip also included a museum visit while the Three Creek teachers were in training on campus.

• Three Creek School earned $215 when the teachers participated in an Idaho Lottery Scratch for Schools on Oct. 23.

• The children wore T-shirts adorned with hand-painted, glow-in-the-dark skeletons when they danced during the school's Harvest Festival on Oct. 24.

The children also played basketball, corn hole, Indian corn toss and pumpkin ring toss. Pollock thanked Samantha Brackett and Marc Seamans for the games.

• Halloween was celebrated in class with the story "It's the Great Pumpkin Charlie Brown" by Charles Schulz and the movie by the same name. The children also watched "The Haunted Mansion" starring Eddie Murphy.

• "Student-led conferences were a great success," Pollock reported. "Our new kindergarten students were able to show their parents what they had learned."

"Other students had some great things to share from our map-making in September at Newcrest (Mining Co., in Jarbidge) to their Fantasy Maps of lands they created from their imaginations."

• To mark Veterans Day, the children learned how to fold the American flag during a Nov. 14 visit from veterans from Jerome. The children also learned about flag etiquette.

• The PTO announced that a new cellphone app is available for the "Box Tops for Education" program. To use the app:

1. Download the Box Tops

for Education App from the Apple Store or Google Play

2. Enroll in the program — Choose sign up free and pick a password

3. Designate the school — Three Creek Elementary (choose this name exactly)

4. Begin scanning in receipts that have box top purchases. Open the app, press scan and follow the instructions.

On the edge of common sense Little Christmas Cowboy

He got his first horse at Christmas this year from good ol' Uncle Stephen.

For Wrangler-in-Charge, he looked pretty young, but looks can be deceivin'.

He topped out his bronc 'fore cook lit the fire with lots of loud Ty Yi' in'

And if he laid off or slighted the horse it weren't for lack of tryin'.

He rope broke him quick and taught him to back and hold tight any bad actor.

No critter escaped the reach of his loop; Pooh, Big Bird or the tractor.

They covered the range from sofa to rug and ruled the carpet nation.

The dog and the cat soon gave him wide berth, such was his reputation.

Sometimes he would take his quiver and bow and wear a turkey feather.

"Me Indie," he'd say and chased buffalo. The plains went on forever.

When Sonny would buck, and he could sure buck, the kid might come unseated.

"Me rodeo, Dad," then get right back on, scuffed up but undefeated.

Last night after chuck he readied for bed but since he'd not unsaddled

He patted his horse and asked, "Okay, Dad, me, Sonny, check the cattle?"

I mighta been green but I could detect a sucker play unfoldin'.

Just any excuse so he could stay up, each second saved was golden.

"Sure, git on yer horse," I prompted the kid. He sorta hesitated.

He wasn't quite dressed to mount up and ride, his inner mind debated.

He gathered his rope and steadied the horse then looked back for permission.

The boss held his gaze, then gave him a nod. He swung into position.

He let out a whoop and rode off to give the herd a quick inspection.

To be a top hand you go by the rules, the height of circumspection.

He'd already learned that young buckaroos must check in with their mamas,

'Cause she'd always said that real cowboys don't ride in their pajamas.

Letters to the editor

Remember what is important this time of year

How lucky we are! Christmas is coming, kids out of school, college kids home for the holidays, big Christmas dinner, with ham and turkey and five side dishes.

What a glorious time of the year! Just in time for news from the United Nations World Food Program. In Zimbabwe, one of the poorer nations, 2 million are facing starvation, 70 percent of children younger than 2 suffer from anemia, the nation faces its 10th year of drought and famine, they have food and water shortages, high unemployment and a 490 percent inflation rate. And the hardest hit — the elderly, women and children.

Perfect time for a Christmas story. How about a modern adaptation of the Gospel of Luke or what it called the Mary-Martha dichotomy?

Jesus is in the house of Martha having Christmas dinner. Well, no — it would not have been Christmas dinner. Back then — maybe Passover? Or better yet Hanukkah, which comes in December. Anyway, Martha is in the kitchen laboring over a hot stove, and Mary is in the front room listening to Jesus.

Visibly wrought, Martha comes out and says, "Lord, don't you care that my sister has left me to do the work by myself? Tell her to help me."

Jesus answered, "Martha, Martha! You are worried about many things, but few things are needed — indeed, only one. Mary has chosen what is better."

Does Martha go back in the kitchen? Or does she stay and listen to Jesus?

If she stays, the turkey will burn, the gravy will boil over — who wouldn't rather stay in the front room and listen to Jesus?

That ending has always bothered me. How about you? I will let you write your own ending to this story. Maybe talk about it over giblets and gravy.

Meanwhile, back in our own Owyhee sheepherder's cabin, have a very Merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Steps can be taken to improve Idaho Ave. pedestrian safety

I share the concern of another reader about the street crossing at Homedale High School at the corner of Idaho Avenue and 2nd Street. ("Motorist worried about pedestrian safety near HHS," The Owyhee Avalanche, Dec. 11).

Around noontime during the sunniest summer/fall seasons, the crosswalk and students using it become nearly invisible on Idaho Avenue to eastbound drivers who are moving from sunlight to deep shadow over such a short distance. Out-of-town visitors just passing through must find this hazard point an unexpected shock.

It would help to assure student and adult pedestrian safety to trim back overshadowing trees so the crosswalk remains in fully visible daylight.

Impeachment

Legal leaps without bounds

I've read the transcript of the phone call between President Trump and President Zelensky. I don't see any ties or even implications of America being willing to assist President Zelensky only if he helps President Trump with any specific actions.

The only time aid is mentioned relates to the European Union's apparent lack of support for Ukraine and a reminder that the U.S. is very supportive of Ukraine. It is widely believed that President Trump wanted the EU to pay more of its share of aid and that he was waiting for evidence of that before releasing the full amount of U.S. aid. That is a common tactic in U.S. foreign policy.

So, in order to make a case for impeachment beyond hearsay, personal opinion and sheer hatred of President Trump, I believe Congress must be able to prove that the president illegally or maliciously 1) withheld foreign aid, 2) did so in exchange for cooperation with an investigation into potential corruption involving a former U.S. official and ... 3) that the president wanted that cooperation only because the subject was a potential political opponent.

All three of these elements must be true AND such egregious violations of the powers of the president that they rise to the level of high crimes and misdemeanors that result in his removal from office.

Let's start with the first. Did he withhold foreign aid? Congress approves foreign aid for a certain fiscal year. This makes the deadline for disbursement Sept. 30, 2019. I think the president usually has some discretion as to when to release the actual funds within the fiscal year. There are usually conditions and criteria established by Congress that have to be met for the funds to be allocated. But beyond conversations and expectations, if the aid is distributed before Sept. 30, 2019 it is not actually withheld. This should be the end of the story, but ...

The second element is that the president withheld aid in a quid pro quo exchange for Ukraine's cooperation with an investigation into potential corruption by a former U.S. official. The irony of this is that the alleged corruption involves a more obvious quid pro quo by former U.S. Vice President Joe Biden, who appears to have secured a multi-million-dollar board position for his son using his power of vice president. But nowhere in a phone call transcript, communication or other medium is there verifiable evidence of withholding foreign aid in exchange for any special personal or political favors.

The allegation that the president wanted cooperation into the corruption investigation requires confirmation or affirmation of intent — not just that he wanted cooperation, but that he wanted that cooperation for his own personal gain. It should require Congress to prove that the President of the United States was concerned about a U.S. official using his position to enrich himself or his family ONLY because that same official is a potential political opponent.

The real question isn't whether President Trump requested or desired cooperation from Ukraine's new president because that's a fair and reasonable

Budget for Christmas to avoid debt, layaway

DAVE Says
by Dave Ramsey • www.davesays.org

Dear Dave,
I've never heard you talk about store layaway programs. With Christmas coming, I wanted to ask your opinion of using layaway for buying gifts.
— Meg

Dear Meg,
If you know me, you probably have a good idea what's coming next. I'm not a huge fan of layaway programs, because they're not the answer to a problem. I mean, Christmas comes at the same time every year. It's not like it snuck up on you. What's wrong with just saving up money for Christmas ahead of time?

Here's a good rule of thumb: If you don't have the money on hand, you can't afford it. Now, sometimes there are instances when certain popular items are on sale, and you can take advantage of them through layaway if you don't have enough cash at that very moment. I don't have a huge problem with this sort of thing, as long as it's not habitual behavior, and you're already saving money and living on a budget. Still, I would never, ever recommend using a layaway plan with fees attached.

It may be too late to budget for this Christmas, but I want you to make plans to start living on a written, monthly budget in January. Make it a resolution! Give every dollar a name, on paper, before the upcoming month begins. You can include Christmas spending in those monthly budgets, too. If you set aside a little bit each month from January until next December, you won't have to worry about layaways or Christmas debt.

Remember, Christmas is about God, and it's about love.

There are many, many ways to bless people and make them happy without overextending yourself financially!

expectation by any U.S. president or diplomat involved in foreign relations. It's whether he did so in exchange for foreign aid AND for cooperation expressly for a certain investigation AND for the express purpose of pursuing a potential political opponent. All of these elements (should) have to be true and proven for the case for impeachment to proceed. The entire case appears to be built on the opinions, assumptions and large leaps of logic by some very biased staffers and bureaucrats.

I'm just a private citizen and political observer with no legal training. I write this because almost all of the analysis by so-called journalists and paid observers seems to follow the typical establishment bread crumb trail that continues to march to the beat of the drum that simply hates Donald J. Trump. And that, my friends, seems to be the best case for impeachment... all in unison because he's not supposed to be president in the first place.

Handling the holidays Keep a healthy, good-hearted focus this Christmas season

The holidays can be glad, sad or bad. Take your pick and choose a direction.

I choose glad. Who wants to be sad and who needs bad? I don't want either one, and neither do you. There is enough in life that confronts us every day that has the propensity to get us down.

Don't go crazy eating this holiday. I hear every year from people who say, "I'm going to eat whatever I want during the holidays, and I'll change in January." These are the people who gain five to 10 pounds between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day. There are reports that some people only gain a pound during the holidays. You and I know better. I know personally that I have gained 10 pounds during the holidays. My scale might be off a pound or two, but it does not lie. The sad, staggering number tells me what I don't want to see, and there have been times it has been bad and sad! Who needs to start January 2020 10 pounds heavier?! You don't need it! Who does?

People literally go crazy eating during the holidays eating "pounds" of candy, cookies and eating the dining room table. You don't have to eat the kitchen just because you can. Make a determination now how you are going to conduct your eating this holiday. You can have a good plate of food and even splurge on a dessert without busting your waistline. You don't need three plates of food and four desserts. You'll be glad if you approach the holidays with some discretion or you will be sad and feel bad in January if you eat your head off. Now, don't be mad at me, because you have total freedom on what you put in your mouth.

Participate in Christmas. It's more fun if you participate in life. Visit some elderly people who can't get out much. Visit the nursing home. People are lonely in those places. Last Christmas Eve, my wife and I went to the local nursing home and visited the residents. Not one room in that nursing home on Christmas Eve had any family or visitors. It was a very sad, lonely place. If you want to feel good, do good. Take some of your food and give it away before Christmas. Don't take people leftovers. Maybe there is a family or two that you might help in some tangible way? Think about it, and God will lead you with some good charitable ideas.

This year, remember who and what the seasons are about. Focus on joy, peace and goodwill toward all. Say good words to people. Be kind. Wish the best for others. Help others if and when you can. Don't say bad things about people, and give people second chances.

Make your holiday strategy today for a season of gladness.

A Christmas Story...

Anonymous donors in Homedale make this Christmas a holiday to remember

Christmas almost didn't happen for a number of underprivileged youths in Homedale this year.

Time was winding down before the local charities distributed food and gifts to area families, and some 35 tags were still waiting to be filled from the trees of the Wishing Tree Organization.

Fortunately for the kids, that's when the Christmas spirit infected a pair of Homedale businessmen.

"I'd heard that their drive wasn't going too well," said one of the men, speaking on condition of anonymity, "that there was a lot of names left. I got on the phone with (the other businessman) and we got fired up."

That afternoon the pair went from store to store in Homedale, collecting an estimated 20 Wishing Tree tags, then went on a whirlwind shopping trip in which price was no object.

"Yeah, well, it's Christmas time," they say. "We didn't even really keep track. We just went on a wild shopping spree."

Marsing residents to pay city for irrigation

A legal notice which appeared in the Dec. 14 issue of the Owyhee Avalanche may be causing some confusion among Owyhee County residents who used to pay bills to the Gem Irrigation District, Marsing City Clerk Janice Bicandi says.

The city of Marsing has taken over the district's billing in Marsing and some of the surrounding area, and according to Bicandi, customers in those areas still need to send their payments to Marsing City Hall.

Barlow again leads Chamber

The Homedale Chamber of Commerce came under new leadership Tuesday, Dec. 13, and consequently may be heading in some new directions in 1995.

Kevin Barlow, owner of both the Homedale and Marsing locations of Ferdinand's Pizza, was elected president at the group's last meeting and will serve for a year, until elected vice-president Eric Wilson fills the position.

"We're trying to make some changes, and they voted me in as president," Barlow says. "In time we're going to have some board meetings and get some direction about where we want to go."

"We need to decide what we feel is most important to do in the community as a Chamber," he states. "We're trying to just bring it and make it a better thing."

Extra board meetings in the coming months, he says, will help the group set its priorities.

Also, the Chamber president in 1993, Barlow says some of his early goals this time around will be to increase attendance at the group's meetings (it now meets the first Tuesday of every month), and to help the organization keep a balanced point of view.

HHS hounds Huskies 89-45

Homedale was too tall, too fast, and too strong for a shorthanded Marsing Husky team Tuesday, Dec. 13, which lacked the stamina to keep up with the deeper bench and bigger bodies of the Trojans and lost 89-45.

"We were just tired," Marsing coach Stu Barrus said afterward. "Our legs were gone."

With their height and high-pressure defense, the Trojans put on quite a show, actually, making the Huskies pay for their fatigue on both ends of the court.

New Homedale bridge well on way to completion

The new Homedale bridge was approximately 74 percent completed by Dec. 1, according to Dean Headrick, engineer for the state highway department.

He said the schedule calls for completion of the bridge contract except for painting by early March. Painting can be done later, even after the bridge is in use.

Work can continue through the winter of pouring concrete on the deck, although cold does pose a problem, he said.

The concrete must be kept above 70 degrees for three days after pouring, or above 50 degrees for seven days. Concrete was being poured this week in ideal fall weather.

Visqueen and plywood sheeting is used to contain heat around the concrete while it is curing. A high wind such as the one last Thursday whips the Visqueen to pieces and causes considerable damage, he said.

The bridge has an overall length of 687 feet, 2 inches, he said, with two 16-foot travelways and a 5½-foot sidewalk on the downstream side. Overall width is 41 feet, 2 inches.

The finished grade is 25 feet above the average high-water mark in the center of the bridge. There is a 1.4 percent slope from the north (Canyon County side) to the south (Owyhee County side).

Bottoms of the pier footings (center piers 2 and 3) are approximately 11 feet below stream bed, and set on blue silted clay, well compacted.

The steel bridge girders weigh a total of 708,600 pounds. They are 6 feet, 8 inches high. End spans 1 and 5 (Owyhee to Canyon) are 105 feet, 4 inches long. Spans 2 and 4 are 145 feet, 9 inches long, and the center span (No. 3) is 185 feet long.

Almost a Fire.

About half-past eight o'clock last night, Silver City was startled by that dreadful of all cries, "Fire ! Fire ! ! Fire ! ! !" and flames were seen bursting from the roof of Leslie's photograph building adjoining the AVALANCHE office on the north. Fortunately the night was calm, and the crowd that instantly collected soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames before much damage was done. Had the wind been blowing as it frequently does here, the greater portion of our town would doubtless now be in ashes. The fire caught from the stove-pipe and was the result of carelessness in letting it fill up with soot which sooner or later was bound to burn out. If people will not be more careful, the expenses of a City Government had better be inflicted on our town in order that measures for mutual safety can be enforced. Silver City has had many miraculous escapes from the fire fiend, but will fall a prey to the devouring element one of these days, if something be not done to check the criminal carelessness that so extensively prevails.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.-

The old Board of County Commissioners held its last meeting yesterday afternoon and accepted the official bonds of the incoming Sheriff, C. M. Hays, and of the Assessor elect, R. S. Miles. Several bills against the county were allowed, and an order made to procure firewood for the use of the Court House and jail. The new Board will hold its first meeting on Monday, January 5th, 1875

BACK AGAIN.-

That jovial old resident of Owyhee, Mike Phelan, arrived from Boise City on last evening's stage. Since leaving here over two years ago he has visited nearly every camp in this Territory, as well as Utah and Montana, and at last, like most of those who go away, he has drifted around this way again, convinced that Owyhee is about as good a place to stick to as any.

THE TELEGRAPH PETITION.-

Platte Burr went over to the Capital this morning with the names of over 300 of our principal citizens attached to the petition praying for Territorial aid to extend the telegraph line from Silver City to Rocky Bar, Boise City, Quartzburg, Idaho City, and other points in the Territory. In signing the petition the citizens of Owyhee have again manifested the liberal spirit for which they are so justly celebrated. In common with all well wishers of our Territory, we sincerely hope the Telegraph Bill will pass.

MASONIC ORATION.-

J. L. Hall, of Silver City, has been chosen to deliver the oration at the public installation of the officers of War Eagle Lodge, No. 6, A. F. & A. M., in Masonic Hall, on Christmas afternoon. Few men are better posted on the history and workings of the Order than Mr. Hall, and a very interesting oration may be expected.

A JAILOR.-

Mr. Moore has given notice that he will introduce a bill to provide a Jailor for Owyhee County. It is to be hoped such a bill will pass, as it is to the interest of the county to have its Jail attended to whether there be any prisoners in it or not. It is small business to require a Sheriff to act as his own Jailor, and pay him a mere pittance, and that, too, only when there are prisoners in Jail.

What makes newspaper notice superior to other forms of notice?

Newspapers are more than just the traditional medium for notices. Newspapers watch government closely and report on government activities.

Newspapers are credible, independent, and can guarantee readership. Newspapers are passed along to other readers, and can provide affidavits of publication.
